NEW ORLEANS, FRIDAY NIGHT,
November 18, 1842.

There is no important feature to notice in the general [illegible] of affairs since our review of last Tuesday, business on the whole has been rather dull, a state of things mainly attributable to the low stage of water in the rivers, which prevents large quantities of produce from coming to the city.

Money matters continue tolerably easy, although within the past two days exchange has declined, and the supply is at present larger than the demand.

[illegible] the weather, the wind has veered to the northward, and it is now intensely cold. Last night we were visited with a severe frost. The river remains at the same stage previously noticed.

COTTON. Arrived since the 15th inst. of Louisiana and Mississippi, 3,375 bales; Tennessee, 544; Arkansas, [illegible]; together, 13,998 bales. Cleared, in the same time, for Liverpool, 5,625 bales; Trieste, 1,241; Boston, 1,806; together, 8,672 bales, making an addition to stock of 5,317 bales, and leaving on hand, exclusive of all on shipboard not cleared this day, a stock of 90,647 bales.

In our review of Tuesday last we noticed that the Cotton market closed firmly, having entirely recovered from the effects of the news received by the Boston steamer. On Wednesday a few days later intelligence by the "Great Western" came to hand, which was of a more discouraging character than that previously received; but nevertheless its influence was not much felt, and the sales of the day reached about 2,400 bales. Yesterday holders appeared to meet the market freely, in consequence of which buyers came forward and took 8,500 bales at pretty steady prices, although in some instances a little irregularity was perceptible. To day only a moderate business was transacted, the sales embracing about 2,900 bales; and the market closes quite firm at our quotations.

SUGAR.—A good enquiry has prevailed for this article since our last, and several parcels have changed hands for shipment to the north, at previous rates. The stock on sale is very light, as most of the parcels lately offered have been bought up immediately. We quote 5@[illegible] as the extremes of the market. We have not heard of any transactions on plantation.

MOLASSES.—There is a moderate demand for this article at previous rates,—say from 15@17c ₩ gallon. We notice some inquiry for lots on plantation, but have heard of no sales.

FLOUR.—The market has exhibited no change since our last, the demand, as we then observed, is very limited, and is confined to bakers. We quote superfine, $3.75 a [illegible] brands, $3.87½.

WESTERN PRODUCE.—The Provision market remains in the same state of inactivity previously noticed, the stock of all descriptions are very light, and the demand limited. Prices, however, are well maintained in consequence of the small receipts. We quote Mess Pork $9.50 ₩ brl, prime $[illegible]; M. O. $6.25 @ 6.50; P. O. $4.00@$4.25. Mess Beef $8.00@$9.00 ₩ brl. in very limited request. Prime $7.00 ₩ brl. and very scarce. Lard—prime leaf, 7c; ordinary to middling qualities, 6@6½c. Bacon, uncanvassed Hams, 7, Sides, [illegible]; Shoulders, 4c.

WHISKEY.—Owing to the light receipts holders have been enabled to obtain a further advance, and we now quote [illegible] ₩ gallon. The demand is confined to small quantities.

BAGGING AND BALE ROPE. The market has experienced no change, although we observe a slight falling off in the demand. We quote Kentucky Bagging, 13 @ 14c cash, and 15 for time. India Bagging, 13 @ 17c, according to terms. Kentucky Rope, 5 @ 6c.

COFFEE.—Within the past few days the transactions have been very light at previous prices. We cannot expect an active demand until a rise in the upper rivers occurs.—We quote Havana prime green, 9@9½ ₩ lb.; inferior and ordinary, [illegible]; Rio Coffee, [illegible] ₩ lb.

SALT.—Prices have undergone no alteration since our last. We quote from store, Liverpool coarse, $1.37½ ₩ sack; [illegible] $1.62½.

CANDLES. We quote New Bedford sperm, 27 @ 28c; Nantucket, 25 @ 26c. The inquiry is very limited, and sales are effected with difficulty.

EXCHANGE.—The rates have again declined since our last, in consequence of the large amount of bills offering. We quote New York 60 ds 2@2½ ₩ cent. discount; Sight Checks, 1@1½ ₩ cent discount;—Sterling, 3 @ 3½ ₩ cent premium; Francs, 5.50.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,
HENRY CLAY.
(Subject to the decision of the American People.)

NEW-ORLEANS:
SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 19, 1842.

CLAY CLUB.

The members of the Clay Club are requested to meet in their new room, at the corner of Customhouse and Exchange Place, on Monday evening the 21st inst., at half past 6 o'clock.

A full attendance is expected, that arrangements may be made for the reception of Mr. Clay, and other business of importance may be disposed of.

By order of the President.

MEXICO AND TEXAS.

The war between these states,—if the predatory incursions of Mexico upon the defenceless frontier of Texas, may be distinguished by that appellation—has assumed a character at once disgraceful to the Mexican arms and injurious to those nations that have amicable relations or commerce with Texas. It is high time that Mexico should assert her claim upon Texas by a serious and decisive invasion, or abandon her ridiculous pretensions to the proprietorship of the soil of the young republic. In no part of Europe, we venture to assert, would the conduct of Mexico be tolerated, in this enlightened age. A state of war is not only injurious to the countries engaged in it, but also to surrounding nations; and it becomes those states whose rights are injured or whose citizens are compromised by the conduct of the beligerants, to interfere in case of oppression towards any of their people, if the war is not followed up by suitable hostile demonstrations.

The Mexican government, since the Independence of Texas has been declared, has kept open the question of sovereignty as an excuse for frequent irruptions. In some of these forays, citizens of the United States have been taken prisoners and their property destroyed. We contend that no nation has a right to be respected as beligerent, when warlike preparations have been kept in abeyance for a series of years; and that if in a sudden foray or predatory incursion, sanctioned by the government and led on by commissioned officers, the citizens of neutral powers are imprisoned or their goods confiscated, it behoves those powers to interfere at once and have justice done in the premises.

The lapse of time since the Texan nation has assumed the character of an independent state, has given her the standing of a permanent power, and the mother country has no right to hold her in vassalage as an open question, to be arbitrated by combat in this century or next, as her internal strength and condition may indicate, with the privilege of making incursions upon her defenceless towns and capturing traders, foreigners as well as others, whenever she thinks fit. Since the battle of San Jacinto there has been no serious attempt made to subjugate Texas to the Mexican yoke—whether so long a period has been suffered to transpire without a regular invasion, in consequence of the intestine feuds of Mexico, or from other cause it matters not. Mexico was unable or unwilling to reconquer Texas, and in either event her rights of sovereignty over the territory claimed and occupied by the revolutionary party became extinct—and any injury she may do other nations in irregularly reasserting her lost pretensions, she ought to be made to account for.

If Holland should at this time return upon the conquest of Belgium as a part of her territory illegally dismembered from her, would France or other powers, quietly look upon the disruption and subjugation of the Belgians? More especially would they not permit Holland to enter the territory of Belgium in a predatory and marauding manner whenever she felt disposed to do so, and thus disturb the intercourse of surrounding empires and breake up the relations of trade and commerce.

Texas as a nation is nearly as old as Belgium, and Holland is at least as respectable a power as Mexico. Yet Mexico is suffered to push her "rash levied" troops upon Texas, capture the citizens of neutral powers trading in Texas under treaties duly entered into by their governments, and destroy their property, and this too upon the plea that Texas belongs to her—a pretension which she has not been able to maintain with any show of serious purpose. It is trifling with the interests of all those countries that have treaty engagements or commerce with Texas, for Mexico to hold the assumption of Texan dependence in terror over their citizens any longer, and it is ridiculous for a nation to acknowledge the independence of another and yet permit a deferred question of vassalage to keep the intercourse predicated of a formal acknowledgment of sovereignty, in perpetual confusion. Texas is or is not an independent state—such nations as have taken the affirmative of this proposition ought to maintain the rights of their citizens from all molestation upon the ground of her being a colony of Mexico.

SUMNER LINCOLN FAIRFIELD.—The lady of this distinguished American poet is now in New Orleans, and will shortly call upon our citizens to obtain subscription to a work—embracing the metrical and prose compositions of her gifted husband, which will be speedily be issued from press, and from the proceeds of which she expects to educate an interesting family, and sooth the declining years of her ill-fated husband.

In speaking of Mrs. FAIRFIELD's enterprise, PRENTICE, of the Louisville Journal, himself a poet of brilliant eminence, uses the following language:

"She deserves success, if ever mortal woman deserved it. Wedded to a bright, but erratic son of genius, she has for years labored to support herself and family through his writings, with an enduring perseverance to which we know no parallel. The history of her struggles, her toils, her privations, and her conjugal and maternal devotion through all, is more like a wild tale of romance than a story of real life. Repeatedly, in the performance of the arduous work of necessity and of love, she has travelled alone through the United States, and once she has gone to Europe, upheld in her long and weary pilgrimages by the holy and undying fortitude that has its home in the heart of women.

Heartily and most earnestly do we recommend Mrs Fairfield to the patronage of all our friends here and elsewhere. The work which she offers to the public will be found to possess very great merit. There are poets who have a more general popularity than Sumner Lincoln Fairfield, but there are none in this country who possess more genius and power."

The writings of Mr. FAIRFIELD are not so familiar with our reading public as they should be, owing to the too greedy appetite of our people for the productions of foreign genius. His is not the only instance in which native talent has been suffered to languish in comparative obscurity, whilst we lavish fortunes upon the ephemeral effusions of transatlantic authors—many of whom repay our partiality with invectives against our institutions and reproaches upon our manners and republican habits. Mr. BULWER, the most popular writer of Great Britain with the American reader, has paid a glowing tribute to the inventive genius of Mr. FAIRFIELD, by imitating in the 'Last Days of Pompeii,' his best work, a composition of his so closely as to render himself obnoxious to the charge of plagiarism—this too after Mr. F. had sent him his poem, upon the same subject, for friendly criticism.

But we are vain in imagining that any thing we may say can add to the persuasion of an accomplished woman upon so eloquent a topic. Commending her to the kind consideration of our citizens, we leave the enterprise of Mrs. FAIRFIELD to her own abilities—knowing that the cause of the afflicted or the interests of literature could not find a more worthy or more successful advocate than in her.

THE WEATHER—to indulge a remark upon this truly original topic—has been as coquetish of late as a beauty in her teens. Within the last three days we have had summer and winter, sunshine and showers in rapid transitions. At the present writing it is as cold as a miser's charity. A blustering north-wester is saluting the way-fairing man with rough greeting, and rustling the silks of the fair pedestrian with malicious impertinence. Old Boreas seems to have come south for his health—we bespeak the interference of the Tropic in this behalf.

ARREST OF THREE ROBBERS.—Last evening three scoundrels were detected by Messrs. Vincent & De Feriet, in the very act of robbing their store in Chartres street, and were safely conducted to close quarters in the Calaboose. Messrs. V. & De F. had received information of the intended robbery, and being in the neighborhood, were enabled to frustrate it, ere it could be consummated.

Mr. SHERIDAN, harbor master of the third municipality, requests us to state that the brigs Globe and Huntingdon, which were robbed on Wednesday night, were not moored within the limits of the third municipality.

☞ Excellent tobacco, nearly equal to the James River article, has been lately raised in St. Louis.

☞ It is amusing to note the exultation of the Tyler squad at the success of the locofocos. We have beaten the whigs, say they. The elections prove the President's overwhelming popularity, the firm hold he has on the affections of the people. One would really imagine from their tones of triumph, that Mr. TYLER's friends, and not the locofocos, had defeated the whigs—that the former had secured all the governors, members of Congress and State Legislatures for which elections have been recently held. Now if the Tyler party will point out one solitary Tyler man yet so chosen in all the political contests which have taken place during the summer and fall, we shall begin to admit the validity of their boasts. But they know as well as we do, that the locofocos who have triumphed in these elections, care not the paring of an apple for Mr. TYLER, or his handful of office-holding supporters, and will send them very quietly to Coventry after squeezing every thing out of them that they possibly can. We suppose the next thing will be the advocacy of Mr. TYLER's claims to the nomination of the locofoco convention, entirely on the ground of his popularity as evinced by the elections.

KELLY, of the St. Francisville Chronicle, thinks that his parish has lately exhibited infallible signs of the truth of MILLER's prophecy that the world is rapidly coming to an end. Among the portents significant of the approaching consummation, he mentions the fact that potatoes grow above ground, and turnips that not only grow above ground, but already washed and ready for the pot. No doubt, says he, the next improvement will be for vegetables to grow ready cooked! —all these indicate the coming of a better state of things. But the most prominent sign of all, was the phenomenon of a litter of puppies, one of which was born with a tail so short, that it amounted to an abstract idea only. We would also add, says this sagacious observer, that a thorough-going and unterrified democrat has acknowledged, that he lately bought in New Orleans twelve numbers of the Democratic Review for one dollar, and got badly cheated. This is more alarming than the turnip.

THE NEW AMERICAN THEATRE.—MR. CALDWELL informs us that the New American is nearly completed. His arrangements are such that he confidently anticipates opening the theatre to the public—on the night of the 5th December—thus consummating the resumption of specie payments by providing an entertainment for which specie ought to be cheerfully disbursed.

"We are glad to have it in our power to state" observed the Tropic of yesterday, "that Judge Watts decided, last evening, in the contested election case, that the witnesses would not be compelled to state for whom they voted, unless they should choose to do so. This decision reflects great credit upon the judgment, and integrity of the Judge of the Commercial Court."

☞ We rejoice right heartily at the growing popularity of the Tropic and are well pleased with the prospects of its worthy proprietors. They deserve success and will most assuredly attain it. But gentlemen this is most antropical weather you must allow. Look to it.

FIRE.—The dwelling house of Mrs. PERRAULT, in Washington, Parish of St. Landry, was destroyed by fire about a week since. The fire was doubtless caused by an incendiary, who first robbed the dwelling and then set fire to it. The house and property destroyed were worth about $2,000.

NEW-YORK ELECTIONS.

The mail of yesterday brought no New-York papers, and our returns are derived from the journals of Baltimore and Washington.

From the Commercial Advertiser of Wednesday Evening.

In the first Congressional district (Queens and Suffolk) Selah B. Strong is elected by a large majority over John A. King, Whig.

In the second district Henry C. Murphy has about 400 majority over B. D. Silliman, Whig.

In the third district J. P. Phenix, Whig, is elected by about 900 majority over E. H. Nicoll.

In the fourth district William B. Maclay is elected, by a majority much under that for the State ticket, over John H. Williams, Whig.

In the fifth district Moses G. Leonard is elected over John B. Scoles, Whig.

In the sixth district there is but little doubt that Hamilton Fish, the Whig candidate, is elected to Congress by about 100 majority over John McKeon.

From the river counties we have nothing positive beyond the result in the city of Albany—which elated our friends so much in that place that they were hoping for a Whig victory throughout the State.

A gentleman from Watervliet, who came down in the six o'clock line, assures us that no doubt was felt in Troy last evening that Rensselaer county had been carried by the Whigs.

At Poughkeepsie, at 12 o'clock last night, the result in Duchess was considered very doubtful.

In this county the probability is that the Whigs have elected one member of the Assembly and their opponents twelve. This, however, is not certain, but from the returns which we have seen we think that Michael Walsh received more than votes sufficient to lose Van Dyke, his opponent for the nomination, his election. There are also rumors that two or three others of the loco candidates have lost their election, but this we do not credit. In the returns that we have seen, Robert Smith was ahead of his associates on the Whig ticket, and the chances are in favor of his election to the Assembly.

With the general result in this city the Whigs have no cause to find fault. They are positive gainers of two members of Congress, and Bouck goes out of the city with some three hundred less majority over Bradish than he had in 1840 over Seward. If the rest of the State has done as well as the city of New-York, Luther Bradish is Governor elect of the Empire State.

We give the returns as far as heard from—comparing them with those of 1840:

	1842.		1840.
	Lo. Fo.	Whig.	Lo. Fo.	Whig.
New York	2000		2257

In 1840, SEWARD's (whig) majority in the whole state, was 5,285.

DELAWARE.

This glorious little state has, as usual, gone for the whigs.

From the Delaware Gazette, Extra, Thursday morning, Nov. 10.

We have the unofficial returns from the whole state, and by these the vote stands as follows:

	Jones (L. F.)	Rodney (Whig)
New Castle County	215
Kent	"	142
Sussex	"	77
	215	219
		215
		4

We understand that several votes were cast in some of the Hundreds of this County, for Mr. Jones, in which his name was misspelt, and consequently were thrown out by the whig judges, but which, no doubt, will be given to him by the Return Judges to-day.—Hence it is impossible to say whether Mr. Jones or Mr. Rodney has succeeded until the official returns are received.

From the Philadelphia U. S. Gazette.
DELAWARE ELECTION.

As our correspondent in yesterday's paper anticipated, the rain did up the whigs in New Castle county. Those who would go to the polls under all circumstances, had their action neutralized, (so far as it regards the county,) by the absence of those who would not go. The Locofoco majority in New Castle is about 190.

In Kent, the whig majority will about balance the Locos in New Castle. The whigs have carried Sussex, so that the State stands as it did before for the whigs.

THE CROPS.—For more than a month past we have been blessed with remarkably fine weather. Our cotton planters, who, in the beginning of the season, had despaired of their crops, so much injured by the rains and the worms, have, since the fair weather has set in, with renewed hopes and vigor, been continually gathering in cotton, and we can now state with confidence that two-thirds of a good crop, at least, will be made this year.

As for our sugar planters, they have been particularly favored so far. A finer crop of cane, and more favorable weather for grinding, could not be desired. The sugar manufactured is all of a superior quality. We believe Attakapas will get the palm for good sugar, this time; and all we may wish for now is good prices and plenty of purchasers. The crop will be larger than any ever made in this part of the State.—Attakapas Gazette.

MURDER.—On the night of the 11th instant, in the parish of Lafourche Interior, a negro slave, belonging to the plantation of Wm. Field, junior, murdered Mr. Summers, the overseer, by striking him on the back of the neck with a crow-bar. Summers expired instantly. The murderer took flight, but was pursued into the town of Thibodeauxville, captured by the sheriff and conveyed to jail.

☞ A fellow by the name of John Barley, working at Waterloo Ferry, Louisiana, in the employment of an old and feeble man, named Wells, robbed his employer of $50, sewed up in a bag, and succeeded in making his escape.

AMERICAN NOTES.—Morgan, of the Literary Depot, Exchange Place, has received a supply of DICKENS' Work on America. Those who want copies had better apply at once, for they go off like hot cakes.

STEPHEN W. HERRICK.—The editor of the Hebdomadal Enquirer—the democratic organ at Opelousas, died on Saturday the 5th inst.

CHARLEY GYLES, the indefatigable, has furnished us with a batch of river papers for which he has our thanks.

☞ A man named Frank Dickers committed suicide in Mobile on Wednesday by stabbing himself with a carving knife.

THE FRENCH THEATRE.

We attended the representation of Robert the Devil last evening at the Orleans Theatre. The house was crowded from pit to ceiling, and the performance gave general satisfaction. The operatic troop is generally the best—except the Italians—which has ever graced the French Theatre. The tenor, Mr. Allard, though laboring under evident indisposition, gave promise of a rich and manly voice.—The bass is sonorous, full and of great compass in the lower scale. The first prima dona Mdme. Plane, possesses a peculiarly sweet and musical voice of little power, moderate compass, rare flexibility; and cultivated to the highest point of art. Her execution of chromatic passages is very brilliant. Mdme. Logier, the second prima donna, if we may use the term, has a fine, powerful mezzo soprano voice verging on the contralto—it possesses much force, clearness and compass. Although we were infinitely pleased with the operatic corps, they doubtless will achieve many triumphs like that of last evening.

FROM TEXAS.

By the arrival of the steam packet New York, late last night we received Galveston papers to the 16th inst. The journals contain very little intelligence of interest.

Fine sugar cane is grown on some of the plantations on the Trinity river.

Wm. J. Province, an associate of the notorious "Tiger Jim," was killed near the Sabine, on the 29th Sept. An officer named Welsh attempted to arrest him, whereupon Province seized his rifle, and was in the act of levelling it, when Welsh discharged both barrels of a gun loaded with buckshot into his body, which took immediate effect.

A Mr. Tanner has commenced the manufacture of stone ware in Harrison county, where the materials are abundant.

A false report prevailed at Galveston that the Mexican fleet had been seen off Velasco. It had frightened the folks for a while, but was soon contradicted.

☞ Gen. Morehouse arrived here on Monday evening from Washington, and proceeded immediately to Galveston on the Lady Byron. It is reported that he has been ordered there by the President, for the purpose of aiding in fortifying that place. He has countermanded the orders published by us a few days ago, for the 1st and 2d classes of this Regiment to rendezvous at this place on the 9th inst.—Houstonian, Nov. 9th.

Mr. WEBSTER has returned to Washington.

SPECIE.—The steamboat Gulnare, from St. Louis, brought $7,728 in specie.

☞ We are indebted to the officers of the steamboat Gulnare for late St. Louis papers.

FELLOW CITIZENS OF THE THIRD MUNICIPALITY.

This day is the day on which you shall be called upon to elect your Recorder, and the respective merit of the candidates is worth your attention. The votes will, it is anticipated, pour on two of them principally namely, Messrs. Augustin Viavant and Charles Cuvellier; between these two candidates there is no room for deliberation; your votes must be bestowed on the former. Augustin Viavant has never deserted us and never will: he has exhibited on several occasions his devotedness to the welfare of our community; and that devotion has never been prompted by ambitious motives. Let us examine whether the same exists in relation to his antagonist: Mr. Charles Cuvellier put himself up a few years ago, as a candidate for the office of Mayor of the city of New Orleans; he was defeated, and subsequent to this unsuccessful attempt, he left our homes, nay, his own hospitable land of adoption, to go and seek fortune in Texas. He probably intended to become a Texian citizen, has he done so? I am not apprised of the fact; but what is certain is, that baffled in his expectations, not meeting, in the new country where he intended to reside, with the resources upon which he had relied with so much of confidence, he was wafted over to the bosom of that country which he had left, and at the hands of which he is now ushered to crave a benevolent welcome—And when this design of abandoning his adopted country has proved abortive by the uncontrolable course of circumstances, Mr. Charles Cuvellier again rises from the crowd to claim public ovation. It must not be dissimulated, fellow citizens, that notwithstanding the facts which I have mentioned above, Mr. Chas. Cuvellier relies upon some assistance.

The council of the third municipality, with the view, I presume, of ensuring the election of that candidate, have appointed that gentleman, Recorder pro tempore, and in this respect they have eluded the letter of the law, which could not be construed so as to permit a recorder pro tempore to be chosen from out of the body itself. The council undoubtedly had the delightful hope that the office being already filled, the electors will acquiesce complacently to the nomination of him on whose election they shall not have been consulted. In this they shall be sorely disappointed; the people will not be directed in the choice of their administrators; they will elect whom they please.

Let us not forget, fellow citizens, how this same council, which so correctly interprets the law, have received a petition signed by more than three hundred respectable citizens! One of their members had moved that the petion should be laid under the table, but after mature deliberation, the majority of the council decided that it should be laid indefinitely on the table. I do ask it of the inhabitants of this municipality—I ask it of those who have signed the petition, is it incumbent upon us? is it consonant with our honor to submit to the imperative dictates which are intended to be enforced upon us by a body which treats us so contemptibly? Certainly not! We shall and must reprotect the freedom of the ballot. We shall endeavor to preserve this precious palladium of our rights, and prove the same by electing Augustin Viavant.

SELF PROTECTORS—TO TRAVELLERS AND HOUSE-KEEPERS.

Patent Self-cocking Repeating Pistols.

WHICH can be discharged six times in a few seconds merely by pulling the trigger—the barrel revolves and discharges in one piece, and therefore cannot blow apart, like some repeating pistols. The construction is very simple, they can be drawn from the pocket and used with one hand without the loss of a moment—six shots can be fired as fast as a person can pull the trigger. They are no longer than an ordinary pocket pistol.

For travellers, house-keepers, captains, planters, public officers and others they are an indispensable article, as persons, both male and female, can with this pistol, protect their lives and property if attacked by many persons at once or them [illegible] of the common kind.

The public are invited to call and examine the same as their simplicity, being warranted not to get out of order and their perfect safety will certainly recommend them over all others.

A large supply of the above just received and for sale low for cash by
