PENMANSHIP, PRACTICAL & ORNAMENTAL—Taught at DOLBEAR'S WRITING ACADEMY,—at the corner of Canal street and Exchange Place—

Ladies are taught a delicate and rapid epistolary style; also, various styles of Ornamental Writing, adapted to any business, or fashionable fancy.

Gentlemen are taught a free and expeditious Handwriting, calculated to facilitate business transactions, by dispensing with the delay incident to deciphering the hieroglyphical scrawl of most men of business, and imparting to the clerk a style at once rapid and elegant.

The hours of attendance are so arranged as to suit the convenience of each pupil, and for the accommodation of those whose business does not admit of their taking lessons during the day, there is a NIGHT CLASS, beginning at 7 o'clock.

The number of lessons is not limited, but every person who enters is desired to remain until he writes sufficiently well for any kind of business. This is the interest of both teacher and pupil.

A liberal deduction in charge made to families and to classes formed in any part of the city.

Ladies who prefer it, can receive lessons at their own residences. j28

A PROCLAMATION TO THE CITIZENS of NEW-ORLEANS.—WHEREAS, in consequence of the great value and sale of LADY MONTAGUE'S COMPOUND CHINESE SOAP, it is deemed necessary in addition to all that has been done that every other possible effort should be made to put an end to the villainous and gentlemen and all citizens: to protect the public against spurious imitations, I do hereby summon the commissioners to convene on the 30th day, at 10 o'clock, at the Council Chamber, to make arrangements for a strict examination of all counterfeiters, and to the adoption of such other means as they deem expedient; I do also hereby require the agents that sell the genuine to ascertain the counterfeiters names throughout the United States of America, and to advertise them to the world as guilty of felony, and to caution the public against purchasing such imitations. I also hereby require every agent to have my family arms and seal that sell the genuine article. I do also hereby give notice that arrangements have been made to supply the country druggists and merchants throughout the U. S. of America with the genuine article, at the wholesale and retail office, No 96, Customhouse street, New-Orleans. I do also hereby notify all druggists, apothecaries, storekeepers of any kind whatever, if detected in counterfeiting this soap, they will be dealt with according to law! I do also hereby earnestly call upon the ladies and gentlemen generally, and more so to examine Lady Montague's Compound Chinese Soap, and let the simple and wholesome precaution be taken by them never to purchase only at one place in New-Orleans, viz—96, Customhouse street, and then you have the best and genuine article.

GEORGE NORMAN LOUDON, Importer.
HENRY LEE BAINE, clerk.

THE FASHIONABLE AND SPORTING WORLD and LADIES and GENTLEMEN of NEW-ORLEANS recommend it; indeed royalty, nobility, the press, and the gigantic balance of all things, public opinion, has eulogized it, and placed the efficiency beyond suspicion. It is recommended as an emollient Shaving Soap or Compound for gentlemen, for beautifying the complexion. The aristocratic distinction of a soft and white hand, is with many an object of considerable interest. Exposure to warm climates, the neck, face and hands become tanned or hardened, and the inventions of the modern chemistry have been rendered subservient not merely to the necessary and every day arts of life, but even to its luxuries and elegancies.

LADY MONTAGUE'S COMPOUND CHINESE SOAP is patronized under the express encouragement of Her Majesty, and more than 50,000 cakes have already been sold; Her Majesty, as we before stated, was graciously pleased to extend her patronage to the Soap; it is a beautifier of the complexion, a fact which ladies will do well to bear in mind.—Brighton Herald.

With regard to its scent, it is delectable, and the Soap is superior in virtue to any other soap the world ever saw. The Queen's gracious patronage of it deserves to be imitated.—Literary Gazette.

It cannot be too highly recommended. No ladies or gentleman's toilet should be without it.—World of Fashion.

The most popular and highly appreciated Soap in naval and military circles is LADY MONTAGUE'S COMPOUND CHINESE SOAP.—London Standard.

We cannot do less than call the attention of our readers, particularly the ladies, to the advertisement of Lady Montague's Compound Chinese Soap.

Messrs. LOUDON & Co, of this city, beg to caution the public, that none can be warranted genuine, unless furnished by their appointed agents, who are supplied direct from the manufactory, prepared by Mrs. Le L. Montague at her Laboratory, No. 33, Queen street, Cheapside, London, 1796, price $1 each, or $9 per dozen.

The aristocratic distinction of a soft and white hand, is with many an object of considerable interest. Exposure to warm climates, the neck, face and hands become tanned or hardened, and the inventions of the modern chemistry have been rendered subservient not merely to the necessary and every day arts of life, but even to its luxuries and elegancies.

LADY MONTAGUE'S COMPOUND CHINESE SOAP is patronized under the express encouragement of Her Majesty, and more than 50,000 cakes have already been sold; Her Majesty, as we before stated, was graciously pleased to extend her patronage to the Soap; it is a beautifier of the complexion, a fact which ladies will do well to bear in mind.—Brighton Herald.

With regard to its scent, it is delectable, and the Soap is superior in virtue to any other soap the world ever saw. The Queen's gracious patronage of it deserves to be imitated.—Literary Gazette.

It cannot be too highly recommended. No ladies or gentleman's toilet should be without it.—World of Fashion.

The most popular and highly appreciated Soap in naval and military circles is LADY MONTAGUE'S COMPOUND CHINESE SOAP.—London Standard.

We cannot do less than call the attention of our readers, particularly the ladies, to the advertisement of Lady Montague's Compound Chinese Soap.
