PRINTED AND PUBLISHED [illegible]

[illegible]

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 4, 1833.

FOR GOVERNOR:

J. B. DAWSON.

[illegible] of persons who are in the habit of [illegible] paper, send their advertisements to this office [illegible] them placed on [illegible], without the number of insertions being marked, or any responsible name [illegible] future, they will [illegible] without, they [illegible] responsible name endorsed [illegible].

The [illegible] of the house of representatives [illegible] body [illegible] the resignation of [illegible] Dunbar [illegible] day, and will [illegible] to-morrow [illegible].

We have been [illegible] to announce Messrs. J F C[illegible] notage, Louis Allard, John N. Dunmar, L[illegible] and [illegible] as candidates.

The mail failed from Mobile yesterday. [illegible] have, by Saturday's mail, [illegible] papers of the 21st, supplying Washington dates of the [illegible] February. While on this subject, we [illegible] state that we committed an error in announcing the failure of the mail, from Mobile, on Saturday last. [illegible] the steamboat has arrived regularly. Quere: [illegible] laboratories of [illegible] called mail-boats, on the principle of the horse, a [illegible].

The house of representatives have rejected [illegible] of eleven votes, a [illegible] to adopt the [illegible] committee of [illegible] government [illegible].

By the politeness of Captain Benjamin F. H[illegible] of the schooner [illegible] favored with the following [illegible] from [illegible].

The new congress entered into office on the 1st January General Pedraza was acknowledged by [illegible] president, and accordingly on the 2d, entered the capital with generals Santa Anna and Bustamente. The political aspect of the country is at present tranquil, but [illegible] that it will not last longer than the month of April, when the new president (to be elected in May) [illegible] raised, as the Bustamente or Spanish party [illegible] only yielded for a time; they [illegible] advantage of the first [illegible] vor to regain their ascendancy.

New offices and commands have been conferred throughout the country, and individuals from each [illegible] ly chosen to fill them, this government [illegible] liberality, [illegible] compelled by necessity [illegible] cateeas, Jalisco, and San Luis, are said [illegible] with the [illegible] which [illegible] and in fact, the same [illegible] the two parties, as was shown [illegible] revolution. The financial affairs [illegible] deplorable condition; all its [illegible] importations, having been [illegible] for some time to come.

Business [illegible] The [illegible] had arrived from M[illegible] hundred thousand dollars, seven hundred [illegible] shipped to England, by the British [illegible] part of the residue was destined for New Orleans [illegible] conducta was expected on the 20th [illegible].

In the house of representatives on the 13th February, the day appointed by the constitution for the opening of the votes [illegible] vice president, the senate attended in the [illegible] house, and in the presence of the two [illegible] the votes of the electors in the several states [illegible] Messrs. Grundy, of the senate, and D[illegible] of the house of representatives [illegible] committee to read and canvass the votes, and the whole having been gone through, the result was reported to be as follows:

FOR PRESIDENT.

For Andrew Jackson of Tennessee 219

For William Wirt, of Maryland . . . . . [illegible]

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

For Martin Van Buren [illegible]

For John Sergeant [illegible]

For William Wilkins [illegible]

For Amos Ellmaker [illegible]

For Henry Lee [illegible] 11

Whereupon, the president [illegible] proclaimed that Andrew Jackson [illegible] Tennessee [illegible] a majority of the whole number of votes, was elected president of the United States for [illegible] from the 4th of March next, and that Martin Van Buren, of New York, having a majority of the votes therefor, was elected vice president of the United States for [illegible].

In conformity with his previously expressed intentions, Daniel Webster [illegible] the senate, on the 13th ultimo, offered a body of resolutions, which were ordered to be printed. On perusal of those resolutions, we find them to be materially at variance, if not directly in opposition to Mr. Clay's bill. The resolutions were to have been taken for consideration on the 14th of February. The tenor [illegible] the whole of the resolutions may be fairly inferred from the concluding one [illegible] as follows:

Resolved, [illegible] law ought to be passed on the subject of [illegible] any stipulation, express or implied, [illegible] or assurance, direct or indirect, which shall [illegible] congress [illegible] the full exercise, at all times [illegible] its constitutional powers, in giving reasonable [illegible] American industry, countervailing the [illegible] and maintaining the substantial independence of the United States.

Judge Chase [illegible] impeachment for official predilection [illegible] incapacity, and legal deficiency, has been fully acquitted by the senate of Missouri.

Judge Smith, recently impeached by the house of representatives of Illinois, has also been duly acquitted of all the charges, preferred against him. When we shall hear of a judge found guilty of official malversation, we shall at the same time announce the discovery of longitude, the quadrature of the circle, and perpetual motion. All men, in all situations, must err at some time or other; it is the condition of humanity; but our [illegible] judges share with the papal prerogative, in the enjoyment of a patent of infallibility.

A fire broke out in the building Nos. 25 and 27 Cedar street, New York, on the 12th inst., which destroyed nearly all the goods of the occupants, and damaged the house considerably [illegible] Chesapeake, containing [illegible] were destroyed by fire [illegible] loss [illegible] 45,000.

A great fire [illegible] Tannery and Oil mill, and a [illegible] office, together with a dwelling house [illegible] destroyed—total loss estimated at $45,000.

It is [illegible] the government [illegible] forwarding munitions of war to the new fortifications in Charleston Harbor [illegible] by [illegible] that leaves Baltimore for that place. The [illegible] at Baltimore, was taking on board a number of [illegible] well constructed gun carriages, calculated for [illegible] and twenty four pounders.

Fire [illegible]—A fire occurred in B[illegible] on the morning of 14th [illegible] in the destruction of Peale's Museum [illegible] valuable collection of Anatomical preparations [illegible] Dr. McKenzie [illegible].

[illegible] of the Charleston Courier.

"WASHINGTON, [illegible]

[illegible] to whom Mr. Clay's bill to modify the [illegible] referred, are Messrs. Clay, Calhoun, Grundy, [illegible], Clayton, Rives, and Dallas. Mr. Clay has given [illegible] in the bill itself, to [illegible] the South, and for [illegible] the principal of protection [illegible] Mr. Calhoun [illegible] "Amen," to that part. Mr [illegible] will not have many scruples about bringing down [illegible] of the manufactures. I scarcely know whether [illegible] will sanction the Tariff or not, but I should expect [illegible] he will. Mr Webster has also expounded his [illegible] the resolutions which he laid on the table this morning, and will still further expound them when these resolutions shall come up in their order for discussion. Mr R[illegible] Tariff will, on that score, vote in favor of reduction, consequently in favor of the bill. Mr Dallas, it is thought, will sail, on this occasion, under the flag of Mr Webster. At least this is the natural inference from certain [illegible] in the Senate Chamber. The committee will [illegible] first meeting to-morrow morning, and will probably report on Saturday or Monday morning, the arrangement of the [illegible] are few [illegible] both Houses [illegible] harmony, but are [illegible] prepared to go the length of this [illegible] whether it will be universally [illegible] South of the Potomac. At any rate, I [illegible] opinion that its passage in any form, through [illegible] at this very late period, is extremely problematical. There are but fifteen working days left of the session, and how a measure of such magnitude, so [illegible] involving the destiny of so many [illegible], and [illegible] vast amount of capital, can be [illegible] and [illegible] law, though both Houses, [illegible] three [illegible] impracticable, when I look at the [illegible] of the materials of which Congress is composed [illegible] the peculiar circumstances in which it is [illegible]. The South Carolina Senators appear like [illegible] whose shoulders an intolerable load [illegible] their air, countenance, their [illegible] conversation, [illegible] buoyant, and expressive of [illegible] satisfaction. The conflict with South Carolina may be deemed as terminated, because, even if the bill should not [illegible] this session, the [illegible] which it contains, of a [illegible] on the part of the friends of the Tariff, to [illegible] the South, will be taken [illegible] of as a sufficient text from which to preach down the [illegible] doctrines."

"I [illegible] select committee [illegible] the Tariff, and there [illegible] to be a good deal of difficulty before the bill will be in such a shape as will [illegible] to be reported.—[illegible] is any danger that the bill will not be reported, [illegible] reported soon, [illegible] there will be sturdy efforts made by the minority to get [illegible] protection for certain interests, [illegible] now [illegible] by the bill as it stands. I [illegible] the [illegible] in the committee on the most important [illegible] leaving the manufacturing interest [illegible] any mode can be devised of producing [illegible] action in the two Houses as will prevent [illegible] of time in discussion, what with short speeches [illegible] the sittings, wearing out the physical power of [illegible] of one House, and checking the [illegible] of the other, the bill may be [illegible] Congress during the fortnight which still [illegible] the session. A saving of time would be effected [illegible] the Senate bill [illegible] of the House [illegible] and thus sending it up to the Senate [illegible] shall have commenced its action upon it. But I [illegible] how a measure of such vast importance, looking to such wide, and permanent consequence, involving [illegible] interests, and requiring such deliberate investigation, [illegible] passed through the two Houses in so short a time. It would be an anomaly in our legislation: a point in the history of our parliamentary proceeding. But if it can be effected, it will be an evidence of the determination of Congress to do all that may be done to remove all those [illegible] irritation which have produced the present [illegible] in South Carolina. [illegible] be made by [illegible] East, by the [illegible] must look [illegible] recompense in the [illegible] who have hitherto [illegible] under his flag [illegible] the system of [illegible] been esteemed [illegible] falling away from [illegible]. The principle of [illegible] which held them to [illegible] dissolved for ever.—[illegible] view him as faithless to their interests, and denounce [illegible] recreant to his own [illegible] to him a moment of imminent peril. Still, if he shall be able to heal the wounds [illegible] country, to abate the disaffection which now [illegible] to substitute contentment for heart burnings, and [illegible] for sorrow, he will find other friends to solace [illegible] the desertion of those with whom he has [illegible].

To-morrow will be [illegible] in the Senate. Mr Calhoun [illegible] the floor this evening at the last moment [illegible] signified his determination to go [illegible] trial of conclusions, which has been [illegible] between him and Mr Webster. He announced [illegible] in a few words, after stating that he had [illegible] till the last moment, in the expectation that [illegible] member of the judiciary committee might have desired to speak on the bill. There are many well-wishers to Mr. Calhoun, who think it would have been wise, at the moment when conciliation is offered to South Carolina, [illegible] altogether from a contest which must be productive of irritation and of feelings which may interrupt the harmonies of things. This contest will close the [illegible] the bill in the Senate, and we may [illegible] have a [illegible] vote on the bill by Saturday night. It is believed [illegible] will be not more than fourteen votes recorded against its passage.

Commercial.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.

[illegible]—The cotton market has undergone a decided improvement. Sales since the 9th reach 2500 bales, viz. 2000 Uplands at 10 a 11 cents, 300 New Orleans at 11½ a 12 cents, and 200 Florida and Alabama at 11¼ a 12. Colonial produce fully maintains its price, but the weather has been unfavorable to out door transactions, and in consequence, little has been done in [illegible] sugar.—The flour market is dull, little doing, and, our quotations of Saturday with difficulty obtained.

[illegible] CHARLESTON, Feb. 21.

THE MARKET.—Cotton.—We have had a good demand for this article since our weekly review, more particularly since [illegible] of the favorable accounts from Liverpool. [illegible] the sales were large, at something of an advance [illegible] previous quotations—we should have said fully one quarter of a cent, had it not been for an advance in the freight of freight, which operated as a check. On the inferior to middling qualities, however, we can safely quote [illegible] of a cent higher than last week. Yesterday, the unfavorable state [illegible] prevented operations to any considerable [illegible] several hundred bales were disposed [illegible].

New-Orleans Market.

[illegible] New-Orleans Price Current.

SATURDAY, March 2, 1833.

The Weather has been very warm during the past week, [illegible] half the time favorable to out-door affairs. The [illegible] is complained of by those engaged in trade with the [illegible] of the Western country, and dealers in Northern or coastwise imports, also remark that it has been duller this week than for some time prior. The Mississippi continues [illegible] slowly, and was yesterday [illegible] feet 6 inches below high water mark.

Cotton.—Arrived [illegible] ult., of Louisiana and Mississippi 9707 bales, [illegible] Pontchartrain 443, North Alabama and Tennessee [illegible] Arkansas 504; together 10,3[illegible] bales. Cleared [illegible] Havre 2368, Stockholm 250, New York 627, Boston 994, Philadelphia 208; together 12,509 bales—[illegible] addition to stock of 6818, and leaving on hand, inclusive of all on shipboard not cleared on the 28th ult. a stock of [illegible] bales. Our last remarks left the market somewhat [illegible] became more animated, and a fair business [illegible] at the rates then quoted. The news from Europe [illegible] markets, particularly from Liverpool, continuing to be favorable, buyers became more confident and liberally [illegible] the views of holders, and sales of about 20,000 bales have been made during the week ending on 28th ult.; prices, generally, remained without change, but the good feeling in the market, in some instances, produced an advance of a fraction, say ¼ cent per lb., though this is not acknowledged as established, nor do we quote it other than as a consequence of an animated market. Our memorandum of sales furnishes, viz: 1735 bales at 10¼, 1252 at 10¼, 1100 at 9½, [illegible] 2150 at 10¼, 600 at 10, 7000 10 a 11¼, 150 at 12, 1400 [illegible] cents round—also, one sale of 7000 bales, the particulars of which we could not learn, but have reason to believe are embraced by the range of our quotations; as much may be said of several other large lots—amounting in to about 46,000 bales of Louisiana and Mississippi. Of other descriptions we notice 110 bales Western District Tennessee at 9¼, and 300 at 9 cents per lb.; these descriptions are now arriving freely, and the market will, it is said, soon immediately—we have no remark to make, other than repeat that which we have every day, that the quantity to arrive will fall short of the receipts of former years to an important amount. The first sales of any magnitude, will furnish us with quotations for our hitherto, in this particular [illegible].

[illegible]—The principal transactions of the week have been in inferior descriptions, at [illegible] cents per lb. in the city; on plantation, prices remain without change, but obtained with difficulty, and for lots of [illegible] quality only. Altogether, we may repeat the remark of the last week—no change in price and dull. Cleared this week, for New-York 117 hhds. [illegible] bbls., Philadelphia [illegible] hhds., Boston 3 hhds. Richmond 33 hhds., Havre 1 [illegible] together 466 hhds. 14 bbls. brown, and of refined 186 hhds. to Philada., and 65 barrels to Boston.

Molasses, on plantation, is not in so brisk demand as it has been; the price, however, remains firm. 19 cents per gallon. In the city there is a better demand, and 23 cents per gallon is readily given, (casks included)—small lots have obtained 24 cents. Cleared this week, for New York 719 hhds, 14 bbls., Philadelphia [illegible] hhds. 130 bbls., Boston 113 hhds. 66 bbls., Savannah 22 bbls., Richmond 20 bbls.; together 1453 hhds. 333 barrels.

Tobacco.—A good feeling exists in the market, and the arrivals find purchasers without difficulty. Sales of about 300 hhds. have come to our knowledge, at 2¾ a 2½ for crossed, 3¼ a 3½ for second, 4¼ a 4½ for first quality, two thirds of which were at the higher rates—more depending on the [illegible] of the buyers, than on the quality of the article [illegible] inspection, as we are informed that there is Tobacco in [illegible] that could not obtain our lowest quotation.
