THE CALEDONIA'S NEWS.

The steamer Caledonia arrived at Boston on the 31st inst. Her intelligence would present many prominent points of interest, but for the fact that advices seven days later have been received. Of what possible avail would it be, to publish copious accounts of Hungarian triumphs, and speculations on the probable speedy liberation of the Magyars from the Yoke of Austria, when we unfortunately know by more recent information, that the struggles of Hungary have been fruitless, that her patriots have been slain or captured, and her bondage secured by fetters she may strive in vain to break. We shall, therefore, avoid copying the details of Hungarian news contained in the Northern papers, and await with anxiety the full advices by the subsequent steamer, when we will lay before our readers the narrative of the final struggle, and the success of the unholy alliance.

The miscellaneous intelligence by the Caledonia, furnishes a few items which the Telegraph has either failed to report, or which merit fuller notice. We find in the London Times the following account of an awful explosion from fire-damp, by which no less than seventy lives were lost.

On the 10th instant, at Aberdare, near Merthyr Tydvil, South Wales, a dreadful explosion of fire-damp, that dread and destructive agent, occurred at William Thomas's colliery. The shock was felt for miles round. Soon after the fatal event a most melancholy scene took place—mothers hurrying in search of sons, wives in search of their husbands, their cries rending the air as corpse after corpse, blackened and mutilated, was brought to sight; soon sixty disfigured corpses were brought from the pit, and then, it having become fatal to descend to the pit, the brave men who had, in such a praiseworthy manner, rescued the few that escaped, gave over, though it was believed that there were a great many others down, living or dead. One hundred and five men and boys were in the pit at the time of the explosion, very few of whom have been brought out alive. Seven horses also were killed. It is confidently asserted that the cause of this most awful catastrophe was the negligence of one of the colliers in going to a dangerous [illegible] without a safety lamp. It [illegible] years ago since twenty eight [illegible] were destroyed by an explosion of the same nature, and near the same pit.

France.

A Scene in the French Chambers.

On the 10th instant, an application was received from the Attorney General of [illegible] for leave to prosecute two representatives, M. M. Sommier and Richardet, for the publication of [illegible] articles in the Democratie Pacifique [illegible] of which the latter is editor, gave rise to a long and stormy discussion, the two members [illegible] protesting strongly against the [illegible]. M. Daroste read one of the articles, entitled "Restoration of the political scaffold." When he came to the following passage, referring to the execution of the assassin of General Bréa, "where was the President? he was resting from the fatigues of the ball the night before, and recovering strength for the ball of the next night. What was it to him? Had he not his 600,000 francs a year to spend?"—M. Gastier, an aged representative belonging to the left exclaimed, "That is quite true!"—M. Pierre Bonaparte, who happened to be sitting near him, immediately addressed him and said, "Oh, you do not know my cousin, or you would not say so. It is not true." The other retorted, "Oh, I know better; it is quite true."—M. Pierre Bonaparte then said, "No, I say it is not." On which M. Gastier hastily exclaimed, "You are an imbecile," which was replied to on the instant by a slap on the face from M. Pierre Bonaparte.

The members of the left immediately rushed to the assistance of M. Gastier, and those of the right to protect M. Pierre Bonaparte. The ushers ran up to stop the tumult, but the crowd had in a moment become so compact that they were unable to effect their object. A number of members were then seen struggling together, and the confusion was one of the most painful description, so that the President at once put on his hat, to intimate that the sitting was suspended. The struggle, however, went on, until, at about the end of ten minutes, the members of the dense crowd gradually unclosed their hold, and with disarranged dress and heated faces, withdrew to their places. On the resumption of the sitting M. Dupin, the President, suggested the appointment of a committee to inquire into the facts, and apply to the two members the penal enactments of the 12th regulation of the Assembly, namely, censure and temporary exclusion. This proposal was received with cries from the left, "There was no provocation!" At this moment M. Pierre Bonaparte re-entered the hall, and having ascended the tribune, said—"I beg pardon from the assembly, and deeply regret a moment of vivacity, which was excited by the most violent and personal provocation. I hope the Assembly will not follow the affair any further.—It will be settled elsewhere."

M. Odilon Barrot observed that the police of the hall exclusively belonged to the President and the bureau, but he assured the Assembly that no later than the following day judicial proceedings would be taken. The President then announced that he had written to the Attorney General to commence proceedings, and M. Gastier with great difficulty obtained a hearing. He protested vehemently against the outrage offered to him. M. Dupin observed that the moment he had heard of the incident, he had ordered both parties to be taken into custody. This statement elicited another explosion on the left, and M. Dupin, being unable to re-establish silence, again covered himself, and invited the Assembly to adjourn to the bureaux. In a few minutes the hall was completely cleared. When the sitting was resumed, the authorization to prosecute MM. Sommier and Richardet was granted by 462 to 63. Several money bills were afterwards passed.

On the 11th the President presented a requisition for the authority to prosecute M. Bonaparte, for the outrage committed the previous day. This was granted unanimously.

Defeat of Garibaldi.

The "Milan Gazette," of the 5th, officially announces the defeat of Garibaldi, near San Marino, by the Austrian troops. Eight hundred of his men were made prisoners and transported to Rimini. Accounts in the "Milan Gazette" of the 7th, state:

"That Garibaldi, after escaping from Cezanatico, on board some fishing boats, was attacked by some Austrian ships, and forced to take refuge at Magnavacca, near Commachio, where some of the band escaped into the forests, with which that part of the country abounds. Several of Garibaldi's fishing boats were captured and sunk, and numbers of his followers were taken or perished, but Garibaldi himself was among them who escaped.—[illegible] were immediately sent from Ferrara, and succeeded in taking some of Garibaldi's followers, but Garibaldi himself is still in flight."

The last report is, that he succeeded in escaping to Venice.

Gen. Oudinot having resigned in Rome civil power, a commission, composed of three, Cardinals Altieri, Vannicelli, and Della Genga, have been empowered by the Pope to form a ministry, and restore the temporal authority of the supreme Pontiff, and have arrived at Rome.

"The first acts of the commission were to annul all the laws made since the 16th of November, to re-constitute the tribunals, and to re-instate the functionaries who had been dismissed. Great dissatisfaction was created in Rome by a measure, by which all the paper money put in circulation during the existence of the provisional government, was lowered in value to the extent of 35 per cent., or, in other words, the 100 piastre note was brought down to 65 piastres. This measure gave the greater annoyance because it fell principally on the middle classes and on the retail storekeepers, who, for several months past, have had no other money for the carrying on of their ordinary business. The Government has also cried down the base coin issued by the republican authorities."

THE QUEEN'S VISIT.—The London Times says:

The Queen's visit to Ireland has terminated with the same enthusiastic delight with which it commenced. Her Majesty, after visiting the Duke of Leinster at Carlton on the 10th inst., returned to Dublin and then proceeded to Kingston, where she embarked in the evening. The farewell of the Dublin folks seems to have been of a most animated and chivalrous character. The Queen acknowledged the testimonials of loyalty expressed by the multitudes who witnessed the embarkation with more than accustomed warmth. She waved her handkerchief in token of the satisfaction she experienced, and again and again was the royal standard lowered as the signal of her acknowledgment of the parting reception she had experienced. The regal entry into Glasgow took place on Tuesday. The authorities presented the accustomed Address, and the Scotch [illegible] as much enthusiasm as the Irish.

The Latest Foreign News.

BY ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH FROM LONDON TO LIVERPOOL.

Dreadful Conflict at Hamburgh between the People and the Prussian Soldiers.

HAMBURGH, August 14.

Yesterday, when the second battalion of the 15th Regiment of Prussian Infantry arrived, the people gathered in great masses and pelted them with stones; another party tried to shut the gates, by which they were entering, against them. The soldiers used their arms against the people, and a serious conflict took place.

The loss of the military was trifling, but that of the people considerable. Ten soldiers were carried to the hospital,—30 or 40 people were wounded; during the night some of the National Guards united with the multitude and erected barriers close to the riding school, where the battalions were quartered.

At these barricades fresh conflicts ensued. Towards the morning the barricades were cleared, and a little later everything was quiet.

A letter received in Paris from Vienna states positively that the government had resolved to negotiate with the Hungarians.

Great excitement prevailed in Vienna, in consequence of the speech of Count Brandenburg. Lloyd's uses even hostile language. "It is remarkable, says this paper, that the name of Austria is not once mentioned in the opening speech. It wants now to control Prussia in reality at the head of Germany.

There was a report in Paris that the Pope had been assassinated, but there was no truth in the rumor, for the Times in a 3d edition, on Friday, does not even mention it.

From 3d edition of London Morning Herald.

A council of Ministers was held in Paris, on Friday morning, for the consideration of important questions of foreign policy. They have had information of the intention of the Bavarian government to march 50,000 men to Vienna, to cover the capital while the Austrian troops were operating in Hungary.

RHODE ISLAND.—The majority of Dixon, (W.) in the Western District of Rhode Island, is 625. The Providence Journal, commenting upon this result, says:

THE REASON OF IT.—Such a change as the result in the western district indicates is not accomplished without some powerful cause. Two years ago, Mr. Thurston carried the district; in April, he received more votes than the Whig candidate; and now, after the accession of all the strength that the Free-Soil leaders could bring him, with great exertions on both sides, and with an increase of fifteen per cent. in the vote, he is beaten by over six hundred. What has done this? Mr. Dixon's great personal popularity has doubtless done much, but Mr. Thurston is the strongest man of his party in the district. The Whigs made extraordinary exertions, but so did the Locofocos; they were never more active, and they were abundantly provided with the "sinews of war." What, then, has made this great change? What has aroused the whole district, giving a Whig gain in every town but two, and swelling Mr. Dixon's majority to over six hundred? It is the depression of the manufacturing and mechanical business in this State, and the conviction that this could not be relieved without a change in the present revenue laws. It was a tariff vote that was given on Tuesday in the western district; it was an expression of the sentiments of the people upon the subject of protection. It is this which has called out so great a vote, and such unusual exertions, and which, added to the popularity of the candidate, has given us such an unprecedented majority.

THE CROPS.—The Lake Providence (La.) Journal of the 4th inst., has the following:

While riding over the adjacent country during the last week, we made it our business to enquire of every planter for some information respecting the crops. We noticed that rust had done a great deal of injury to all the cotton sown on old lands. All the cotton looks unhealthy and stunted growth, no one expecting to make more than two-thirds of an ordinary crop. The cotton worm was doing considerable mischief on two or three plantations on the Lake, and we heard that it was committing more fearful ravages in the neighborhood of Monticello, on Bayou Mason, in this parish. It had not then made its appearance on Jose Bayou, or on the upper portions of Bayou Mason; it it does visit these districts there will be scarcely half a crop made in the parish. The corn crop is in nearly as bad a condition as the cotton, and planters everywhere shook their heads and talked very despondingly.

Wonderful Discovery.

Mr. DANIEL KIRKWOOD, of Pottsville, Pa.—a very clever astronomer—has made a discovery so astounding, that we almost fear to excite the incredulity of our readers by its mention. We give it, however, in all the simplicity and intelligibility with which it is stated by its author; so that boys of ten years of age, without the least tincture of mathematical science, may readily comprehend this marvellous law of the starry world. Here it is:

The square of the number of a primary planet's days in its year, is as the cube of a diameter of its sphere of attraction in nebular hypothesis.

People used to say that the scientific definition of chloroform (the Perchloride of Formyle) was particularly intelligible; but the above explanation is far more so. It is indeed "clear as mud."

SIXTH REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT.—At a meeting of the Whigs of the Sixth Representative District, held on Saturday night at George's Coffee House, T. W. COLLENS, Esq. presiding, the following Delegates were appointed to attend the Whig Convention to be held on the 22d inst. They were left uninstructed:

1st Ward 1st Municipality Whig Meeting.

At a meeting of the Whigs of the 1st Ward, 1st Municipality, held at the Conti Street Hotel on the 10th, George K. Rogers, Esq., was called to the chair, and E. Solomon appointed Secretary.

The American Consulate at Tunis.

We have a letter before us from a gentleman at Marseilles, under date of the 13th August, which states that the United States steamer Mississippi, Commodore Morgan, arrived at that port on the 9th, with the United States consul, Dr. HEEP, on board, who is on his way home.

It appears that during the last year the American flag, at the consulate in Tunis, had been insulted by the Bey, who had imprisoned the dragoman of the consul. For several years there has also been unadjusted a claim upon the Bey, of John Howard Payne, our former consul at that place. During the last spring instructions were sent to our consul, Dr. Heep, to demand payment of the claim, and, at the same time, proper atonement for the insult to the American flag, to which we have referred. A duplicate of these instructions was entrusted to Commodore Morgan, who, under the order of the President, visited the Bey in the steamer Mississippi. Before the arrival of the Commodore at Tunis, the Bey had agreed to pay the money due to Mr. Payne. The gallant Commodore faithfully obeyed the instructions of the Secretary of State, and has obtained all the atonement for the outrage which was desired.

He called in person on the Bey on the 1st of August, and was received in the most friendly manner; the Bey treating him with the most marked consideration, and assuring him that all he desired was granted before it was asked. The Bey subsequently made a written communication to "Admiral" Morgan, in which he repeated the assurance of his desire to preserve the most friendly relations with the United States, and promised that a like case to that of the dragoman should not occur again, and that all our treaty stipulations should be strictly observed.

We have a large and effective squadron in the Mediterranean, sent there by the President's order, in consequence of the distracted state of Europe. The flag ship of the squadron is the Mississippi, Commodore Morgan.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.—A shocking accident occurred at Kensington a few days ago. Mr. Silverthorn, while arranging some machinery in a sash manufactory, was caught in an India Rubber strap, whirled to the ceiling and carried around the shaft four or five times, when he fell to the floor insensible. His right hand was twisted so as to hang only by the skin, his shoulder and side were shockingly contused and lacerated, his right leg frightfully bruised and mashed, and other parts of his body injured.

THE IRISH PEAT-OIL-TALLOW SCHEME ENDING IN SMOKE.—It is now ascertained that Lord Ashley's simple and confiding nature has been imposed upon. The Irish peat-oil-tallow-candle scheme is a hoax, or a fiction, as we suspected it would prove to be. Mr. Owen has contradicted the statement that he has invested any capital in the bog land of Ireland for the purpose of converting vegetable earth into oil, tallow or gas. He admits that he has been induced by Mr. Reece to make some experiments, which have failed. So there is an end to that.

HEIRS OF A FOUR MILLION ESTATE.—The will of the late Cyrus Butler, of Providence, R. I., was proved on Wednesday. The estate is estimated at four millions of dollars, nearly all of which goes to Mr. Duncan, formerly of Canandaigua, who married the testator's neice. To the eldest son of Mr. Duncan, a young gentleman of twenty, $250,000 is bequeated.

Hungary.

Despatches from Hungary say that the surrender of Gorgey was by negotiation, and was arranged by the French.

It is said that Paskiewitch and Haynau are quarrelling—the latter objecting to the terms of the surrender of Gorgey. Russia refused to let Austria interfere in the matter.

LIVERPOOL.—Cotton was firm at Liverpool, with sales of 8,000 bales, up to the hour of sailing, (2,000 bales on speculation,) at full prices. Flour was also firm.

HAVRE, 23d.—Cotton market active. Sales yesterday about 3,000 bales, at prices from two to three francs higher for middling to fair Orleans. Closed firm, and a further advance was anticipated.

Antwerp, Amsterdam and Hamburg.—Cotton in demand at higher prices; Sugar lower. Previous quotations were correct, except for fair Uplands, which Brown & Shipley quote at 5⅞.

New York, Saturday, P. M.—Cotton selling freely at 10⅜ for fair Upland; 11¼ fair Orleans and Mobile, and in some cases a little higher. Sales to day about 1600 bales. Flour steady, at 5 25 to 5 50 for common brands. Provisions unchanged. Rice-flour and Corn-meal declined—dull.

Newman, member of Congress from Virginia, died at Pittsburg yesterday, after a few hours illness.

THE MAILS.—Both northern mails arrived thorough yesterday.

NEW ORLEANS, 10th September, 1849.

EDITORS OF THE BEE.

Gentlemen: Having heard that several persons have alluded to our paper, on mentioning the [illegible] which has been circulating since Saturday—[illegible] among the Spanish population of this city—viz: "That a certain SPANISH PAPER in this city has received $1000 from the Spanish Consul here, which amount was sent over by the Government of Cuba, and also an order for 300 copies of the paper, (subscription) to be addressed to Señor Don Crispin Ximenez de Sandoval; and further, that LARGE PARCELS of LA PATRIA were seen on board of the brigs Salvadora and Adams Gray, addressed to said functionary, (Don Sandoval.)" I here beg to state that as far as the rumor concerns La Patria, IT IS NOT TRUE; that there is no person connected with our paper, directly or indirectly, whose opinions could be influenced, in any manner, by MONEY, in whatever shape or form it may come, and that this fact has been sufficiently proved recently.

We are, gentlemen, very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,

Brown, Shipley & Co's Circular.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 17, 1849.

The accounts by the last steamer of still more unpromising prospects for the American growing Cotton crop have produced increased speculative excitement in our market, and a further advance of ⅛d ⅛ ℔ in prices. The business has been large, and though the demand has not been quite so brisk yesterday and to day, the market is steady at the above advance; the quotations being 5⅛d for fair Upland, 5⅜ for Mobile, 5⅜ for fair Orleans, and 5¼ @5⅜d for middling qualities. The transactions for the week amount to 83,190 bales, of which 34,000 are on speculation, and 7,000 for export—and the American descriptions consist of 13,700 Upland, at 4⅝ @5⅜; 33,600 Orleans at 4⅝@7⅛; 11,710 Alabama and Mobile at 4⅝ @5⅝, and 470 Sea Island at 8¾ @21d ⅌ ℔. The import of Cotton into Liverpool since 1st January now amounts to 1,473,000 bales; of which 1,254,000 is from the United States, being an increase of 310,000 bales in the total supply, and of 246,000 of American over last season to same period. The stock in this port is estimated at 653,000 bales, against 561,000 at same period last year. The stock of American is about 492,000, being an increase of 37,000 bales.

The progress of the harvest has been more or less interrupted by a week of unsettled weather, which, however, is not thought to have done any injury of moment to the crops, and consequently produced no amendment in the markets for Wheat and Flour. Prime sound parcels of American Flour 25s 6d @26s, while inferior unsuspected is difficult to sell at less. 6d. @ 25s ⅌ bbl. American Wheat 5s 6d @7s ⅌ 70 ℔. Indian Corn, on the other hand, has advanced about 3s ⅌ quarter, the late extreme depression having brought increased demand from Ireland, with some speculation; the quotation is 27s @ 28s ⅌ quarter for yellow, and 28s @ 29s for white. There are still reports of the appearance of disease in the Potato crop in some localities, but as yet very partial and unimportant.

No change whatever in the market for Naval Stores.

HAVRE, Aug. 15th, 1849.

Cotton—Advices from New York by the Niagara, with dates to the 25th ult., confirming the fears which were entertained concerning the backward ness of the new crop, and the good effect produced there by the advices received from Europe, caused a further rise in prices. On receipt of these accounts, 4000 bales changed hands, and on the morrow the sales reached 9000 bales, with prices well supported, particularly for low descriptions and tres ordinaire; Friday and Saturday, the sales did not exceed from 8 to 900 bales per day, owing to the preoccupation of the public for the reception of the President on Sunday. On the morrow, owing to favorable accounts from Liverpool announcing 78,000 bales sold during the week, of which 24,000 bales on speculation, with ⅛d advance, against only 10,900 bales imports, our cotton market became exceedingly animated and upward of 3000 bales were realized with fully 4f rise, and on Tuesday, 2567 bales at steady rates. The sales of the week reach 14,110 bales, against 3890 bales imports, and we remain with a stock of 45,066 bales in first hands, and about 10,000 bales on speculation. The sales were—

BRANCH—On Notre Dame street, between Tchoupitoulas and Magazine streets.
We are now prepared to receive all description of merchandize and Western produce at low rates. Our establishments are so arranged that each description of goods is kept in a store entirely separate and distinct from that containing any other, and having also a large number of experienced laborers constantly in our employ, we are enabled to offer facilities for the receipt and delivery of goods unequalled by any similar establishment in this city.
