Mr. Voorhies, in behalf of the Committee of Enrollment, reported as duly enrolled the following resolution:

Resolution requesting the Governor to deliver the proper credentials to A. Porter, Senator to Congress.

[illegible]

[illegible] in behalf of the Joint Committee of both Houses on the Penitentiary, submitted a written report [illegible] with a bill entitled:

An act for the support of the Penitentiary.

[illegible] Committee of both Houses of the Legislature appointed to visit the Penitentiary, beg leave to report:

That they have carefully and minutely examined the accounts [illegible] of disbursements of the [illegible] Penitentiary [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] on hand,	80,890 69
[illegible] Penitentiary	34,910 69
[illegible]	30,075 00
[illegible]	87,862 37

[illegible]

in addition to the above, there is another reason which induces the Committee to urge the necessity of the prompt payment of the appropriations to the Penitentiary. By reference to the report of the Committee of Inspectors, it will be seen that the institution has sustained a heavy loss from having been compelled to make a ruinous contract for the subsistence of the convicts. The loss on this item alone, the Inspectors estimate, for the last six months, to amount to 12 or $1500, and it is apprehended that they will have to submit to a still greater sacrifice during the present year, unless the appropriations are more punctually paid.

The following list will show the number of officers and guards employed in the Penitentiary, and the salaries of each, viz:

One Captain (first officer)	$2,400	per annum.
One Captain of the Guards,	1,500	do
One Clerk,	1,200	do
One Physician,	400	do
Four Assistant Wardens,	45	per month each.
Twenty-two Guards,	30	do do
One gunner,	25	do do

The Committee have carefully examined into the duties required to be performed by the officers and Guards of the Penitentiary, with a view, if possible, to propose a reduction in their numbers, and the Committee have satisfied themselves that it cannot be done without impairing the efficiency of the institution. On the first of January last there were 206 convicts confined in the Penitentiary, and although the law authorizes the employment of thirty guards, only twenty-two have been employed. Distributed as they are in the discharge of their duties all over the premises, it requires them to use the greatest vigilance to check in a moment any improper movement on the part of the convicts; hence the Committee have thought that the present number could not safely be reduced.

Retrenchment being essentially important in expenditure, the Committee find that in order to conform to the present state of the times, and strong [illegible] condition of our finances, a reduction in the [illegible] some of the higher grades of officers attached to the institution might be made, and with a view to the object a bill will be presented.

The annual appropriations by law for the maintenance and support of convicts is | $10,000
For pay of officers and guards, | 15,580

Total of appropriations,	$25,580

The articles manufactured during the year 1842 amount to $36,097 39, as follows:

Of cotton and woollen goods,	$17,104 45
Of shoes of every description,	5,744 85
Of wheelwright, cabinet, carpenters, coopers, blacksmith, founders, &c.	13,848 09
	$36,697 39

By the above statement it will be seen, that of the articles manufactured in the institution, those of cotton and wool are nearly equal to all the others, amounting for the year 1842 to the sum of $17,104 45, whilst all the other branches together only produced the sum of $19,592 94.

And as the convicts are fast acquiring such a knowledge of the work, as will enable them to go on with greater facility in that branch of labor, even with the present machinery, an increase in that department is confidently expected.

The Committee feel proud in being able to state, that upon information received from the officers of the institution, the manufacture of cotton and woollen goods has yielded, during the last year, a profit of thirty per cent.—the maintenance of the convicts being estimated at 40 cents per day, Sundays included. Forty-three convicts are at present employed in the factory, and with the engine producing upwards of cloth per week.

Having adverted to the profits which the manufacturing business is capable of yielding, the Committee feel again the importance of urging upon the Legislature, the necessity of making a sufficient appropriation for the purchase of additional machinery. The steam engine at present in operation is said to be capable of driving at least 14 or 1500 spindles, in addition to the 720 which are now worked, and which would produce thread for at least one thousand yards per day, and would give constant employment to upwards of one hundred convicts—sixty or eighty of whom, it is said, have been, during the last year, unprofitably employed.

It will no doubt be urged as an objection to any appropriation for that object, that the present embarrassed state of the treasury must preclude the possibility of any relief from that quarter; but with due deference to those who maintain that position, the committee think that argument conclusive, in support of the proposition, which they have felt themselves imperiously constrained to urge. It has already been shown that the manufacture of cloth from cotton and wool is profitable, and the demand for goods so great that the institution is unable to supply it. That it is the only branch of labor calculated to give employment to a large number of convicts, and less obnoxious to the objection so often with truth and propriety urged, that the State should in no case come into competition with the industrious portion of its citizens.

Withdrawing, then, so large a portion of the convicts from other branches, and placing them in the factory, would in a great measure at once relieve the community from any dread of improper interference on the part of the institution against the mechanical industry of the place, whilst at the same time the State would have a sure guarantee (tested by past experience) that in about three years more the Penitentiary would no longer be a burthen upon the Treasury.

The Committee again suggest, most respectfully, the necessity of making some legislative provision permitting convicts, in criminal prosecutions, to testify against each other. The safety of the institution demand that such an enactment should be passed.—None will for a moment presume, that a convict will make a confidant of his keepers, and should it be discovered that revolt or any other crime is intended, or perpetrated, punishment could then be inflicted on the guilty.

The infliction of corporeal punishment upon the convicts in the Penitentiary is deemed objectionable, and the Committee take this opportunity to recommend to the Inspectors, to substitute in lieu thereof the system of solitary confinement, for a reasonable time, as a punishment to the refractory.

In most of the older States provision has been made inflicting additional punishment on convicts who have been sent a second or more times to the Penitentiary, and although the subject has already been brought before the Legislature, yet no action has been had upon it. In our Penitentiary many convicts have returned a second and third time, without any power in the courts of justice to increase, in such cases, the penalty. Punishment then, exemplary punishment, seems to be the only alternative to check this seeming insatiable desire or propensity to crime.

The Committee, therefore, earnestly, recommend the subject to the serious consideration of the Legislature.

Eighty-five convicts were received during the year, being an increase of eleven on the year previous. Sixty-six were discharged during the same time, two were pardoned, and three escaped. The Physician reports that 485 cases of disease, occurred during the year, three deaths, two of which by consumption.

Agreeably to the Act of the Legislature, passed at last session, forty convicts of color, both free and slaves, have been delivered over to the Engineer of the State and placed upon the public works.

The Committee report, that the Penitentiary appears to be conducted with great order and cleanliness, and with a due regard to the comfort of the convicts.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Chairman of the Senate Committee.
