BAKING HOUSE OF J. CORNING & CO., No. 102 Gravier street, New Orleans, May 1, 1853.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the undersigned until the 1st of June next, at 12 o'clock M., for the delivery of about 8,000 (8,000) barrels Crackers, payable in 1852, at the Baking House, in the City of New Orleans, under the authority of the legislature of this State, and accompanied by mortgage of all the real property of said Company, valued at $6,000; and by a pledge of the policies of insurance on the buildings erected thereon, to the amount of $2,000.

Bids of the holders of the only existing bills issued of the said Company, consisting of Bonds due in 1855, for $50,000, and of Bonds due in 1852, for $50,000, received at par with the interest that shall have accrued thereon to the day of adjudication.

These Bonds present a most delightful, sure and profitable mode of investment for capital. Being perfectly secured as they are by mortgage on the valuable building known as the "Old Marine Hotel," which cost $30,000, independently of the ground on which the same is erected, worth at itself at least $20,000 for which and Bonds have been issued.

Copies of the Bonds in question, and of the Act of the Legislature, in virtue of which the Bonds have been emitted, are annexed for reference.
