THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 19, 1832.

GOVERNOR.

J. B. DAWSON.

☞ We are authorised to announce BENJAMIN FELIX CANONGE, Esq. as a candidate for the State legislature, in the election which takes place next Monday.

We are authorized to announce Mr. CHARLES F. DAUNOY, as a candidate for representative at the next election.

The northern mail of yesterday only furnished southern papers. Their contents are uninteresting.

Fire.—A fire originated last night, in a smoak house, belonging to F. McManus, situated in Commerce street, which was entirely destroyed. Two slaves who slept on the loft, are missing, supposed to have fallen into the fire while attempting to remove some of their goods.

The surrounding buildings were saved by the prompt exertions of the company belonging to Engine No. 2.

The late Piracy.—The individuals who furnished us with the account relative to the late piracy near the Balize, which we briefly noticed in our paper of yesterday, gives us now some additional particulars of that most daring affair, which they had before neglected to mention.

The captured vessel was an American schooner, painted black, with a white gunwale and green bottom. No papers of any description were found on board. The windows in the cabin were all broken, and the furniture lay scattered in every direction. The fire was communicated to the quarter deck and had not burnt more than five or six feet when extinguished. There was not, at the time of their going on board, more than two feet and a half of water in her hold. The day after her capture she drifted off to the west of Barrataria, about one league from the shore. There were no indications to ground the belief upon, that the pirates had murdered her crew. A great many men were seen on board of the piratical vessel as she was moving off. It is to be feared that she will lurk around the coast of Barrataria in order to seize the vessels coming from Mexico. The most speedy measures should be taken to secure these desperadoes, and give safety to our commerce.

GUBERNATORIAL ELECTION.

Sometime has elapsed since the announcement of the nomination of Judge DAWSON to the chief magistracy of the state. An opportunity has thereby been afforded to test that gentleman's popularity, which is proved to be immense, from the fact that no one has, as yet, ventured to enter the lists against him, to oppose his high claims. From all quarters of our state the nomination has been received with the highest expressions of gratification. Judge Dawson's merits are duly appreciated in every district. No one individual can boast of enjoying the confidence of his fellow citizens generally, without regard to party claims, to so high a degree as he does. Indeed, from the "signs of the times," we should not be much surprised to see no candidate brought out in opposition to him; not because there are not individuals who deserve to share place with him, the popular support, but because these individuals would not suffer themselves to be run in a hopeless contest.—Their amour propre would revolt from such an unequal trial of the popularity, as their claims and those of Judge Dawson would present.

The distinguished gentleman who now fills the office of chief magistrate of our state, has since his accession to it, discharged its functions with great credit to himself. It is not only proper, but necessary, that his successor should be alike distinguished for talents, energy and honesty, and an intimate acquaintance with the true interests of the state. No other would be a fit successor to the present incumbent. Under these circumstances, is it not peculiarly fortunate that Judge Dawson, possessing these requisite qualifications, stands in so fair a way of being elected? We say it is, and we feel confident that a majority will agree with us in opinion.

A correspondent of the Charleston Courier, under date of Washington, 3d April, states that the committee to examine into the affairs of the United States' Bank, had returned from Philadelphia.

At a medical commencement of the University of Pennsylvania, held in Philadelphia on the 29th ultimo, the degree of Doctor of Medicine was conferred upon the following gentlemen from Louisiana, viz: John P. Davidson, W. W. Picton, S. D. McNeil and T. B. Percy.

To the editor of the Bee.

An editorial article, curious indeed, in answer to the communication of the undersigned, inserted in your paper of the 16th instant, appeared in the Argus of the following day.

The editor of the Argus should, in my humble opinion, previous to accusing an article of containing foolishness, make it appear that he possesses intellectual faculty to understand.

The communication alluded to treats of the duties of recorder since the creation of the city court; the section of the law by which the mayor, recorder and aldermen are made justices of the peace, is therein copied in full; the author manifests the regret that the recorder, up to this time, have not complied with the law, and rejoices at the information he received, that Mr. N. Moorse, our recorder, will comply with it, and exercise the jurisdiction and do and perform all acts, in criminal cases only, that the justices of the peace are now authorized and required to perform, all which, we are informed, he pledged himself to do. Where is the foolishness, Mr. Editor, of the Argus?

I feel satisfied that Mr. Morse will serve as a justice of the peace during the time for which he has been elected recorder, and that his zeal and punctuality in the performance of those duties will permit the mayor to devote all his time to other more important duties of his office. I feel also satisfied that the legislature will not increase the salary of the recorder, for it is now the fourth part of that of the mayor at this time.

What the editor of the Argus considers to be true, "that the recorder and all the aldermen are by a law of 1827 or 1828 made conservators of the public peace, but not justices of the peace" is incorrect; and the assertion I do consider as foolishness on his part. A justice of the peace, in criminal cases, being nothing more than a conservator of the peace.

If the editor of the Argus will be so good as to read the nineteenth section of the act of 1826, relative to the city court, he will, after a better reading than that he made of the communication to which he alludes, no doubt, find himself more qualified to answer.

LAW OF CONTRACTS.

WASHINGTON, April 5.

In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. Poindexter laid a resolution on the table, proposing to discharge the Committee on Manufactures from the further consideration of the several subjects referred to them on the 22d inst. and on which they have not yet reported, and to refer the same to a select committee. After the transaction of a portion of the usual mornings' business, the Senate, at an early hour, went into the consideration of executive business. When the doors were opened, the Senate resumed the consideration of the bill making appropriations for the support of Government for the year 1832; the question being on the amendment proposed by the Committee on Finance, to increase the appropriation of the House for the judicial expence of the United States, from 190,000 to 250,000 dollars.—This amendment was supported in debate, by Messrs. Smith and Marcy, and opposed by Messrs. Tyler, Hayne, Miller, and Webster; and the question having been taken by yeas and nays, on motion of Mr. Miller, the amendment was adopted, yeas 20, nays 19.—The next amendment considered, was to insert the appropriations providing for the diplomatic intercourse of the United States, by adding an appropriation of twenty thousand five hundred dollars for the return of the Ministers from France and England. On this amendment a debate ensued, in which Messrs. Holmes, Foot, Smith, King, Clayton, Webster, Marcy and Clay, took part; but before any question was taken, Mr. Clay, at a late hour, moved an adjournment, which was carried.

In the House of Representatives, leave of absence, until the 1st of May, was granted to Mr. Branch, on the motion of Mr. Carson. Numerous petitions were presented, and among them one by Mr. Mercer, from certain British subjects residing in the Kingdom of Great Britain, on the subject of slavery, suggesting or recommending, as facts on which gather from the debate, the propriety of being paid, the appropriation of funds for the colonization of free blacks, through the medium of the Colonization Society." Upon this memorial a warm and animated debate ensued, in which Messrs. Polk, Mercer, Drayton, Burges, Arnold, Bergroll, Sumter, Blair of S. C., Dickinson, Patton, and Briggs, participated. The subject was ultimately disposed of, after a discussion of three hours, by the withdrawal of the petition. The business before the House appertaining to the District of Columbia, to which this day and to-morrow had been allotted, was, on motion, postponed till the same days in next week; and, at two o'clock, the House adjourned.

BALTIMORE, April 16.

Unparalleled Rapidity.—The Union Citizen steam boat left Philadelphia yesterday morning, at 5 minutes past 6 o'clock, and arrived here at 5 minutes past 2, making the whole passage in nine hours, and put us in possession of the morning papers of that city at fifteen minutes past 3 o'clock.

MOBILE, April 10.

Highly Important to settlers on the Choctaw lands.—A letter from the Choctaw agency in the state of Mississippi, addressed to a gentleman in this city, under date of April 8th, states that "an order has just reached the agency, ordering all the white people out of the Chickasaw nation, and advising the approach of troops up the Tombigbee, to enforce the order."

"It is estimated that from seven to eight hundred, and perhaps a thousand families from Alabama, South Carolina, Georgia, and other states, have moved into the fertile spot since the negotiation of the late treaty, and have commenced cultivating the lands under the expectation of acquiring titles when they shall be brought into market. If the order of the government is enforced, it will be one of the most disastrous loss and distress to these emigrants." It will be recollected, however, that by the provisions of the treaty it is stipulated that no white persons shall be permitted to enter upon any of the lands for a period of three years from the date of the ratification, and the settlers sought to have been aware that it would become the duty of the government to remove them—at any rate, should the Indians require it. It is understood that many of the Indians have encouraged the settling of the whites among them, as it afforded them the opportunity of disposing of their crops to advantage. We cannot but indulge the hope that some compromise may be effected, that will protect the emigrants from the utter ruin that must await their expulsion.—Register.

A modern historian,—Simond—describes Germany in the following terms:—

With the loss of liberty is lost also that free and animated intercourse which warms the soul, and diffuses noble sentiments even among classes enlightened by the knowledge of the past, or by the experience of foreign nations. In Italian countries, the prince alone speaks, an idle universal silence; he dictates the proclamations of authorities, the sentences of the tribunals; he even inspires the language to be uttered from the pulpit or the confessional; because the disposal of the revenue is at his will, he appears as a dispensing providence; and makes the people believe he gives all that he does not take from them. The indigent are grateful to him for the public charities; the laborer, for the justice and police which protect his property. The populace of towns applauds the rigor which falls on the higher classes. The national pride takes offence at the foreigner who expresses his pity for an unhappy and ill governed people; and the vanity of the vulgar is interested in the support of what exists. Slavery, it is said, so debases man as to make him love it; and experience confirms the maxim. Nations every where appear attached each to its government in proportion, to its imperfections; what is most vicious in institutions is every where most liked; and the most obstinate resistance is that which the people oppose to their moral advancement.

In reading this passage, we cannot but think of Spain and Portugal. How true are the concluding sentences, and how directly applicable to these unfortunate kingdoms. It was but a few weeks ago that a writer in the National Intelligencer, who certainly must have been a subject of either the Spanish or Portuguese government, expended a multitude of words in order to prove that these two nations were well governed and happy.—Philadelphia Gazette.

LACONICS.

The little short sayings of wise and excellent men are of great value, like the dust of gold, or the least sparks of diamonds.

A brave man thinks no one his superior who does him an injury; for he has it then in his power to make himself superior to the other, by forgiving it.

Whenever you think anything, think well, and look narrowly what you speak; of whom you speak; and to whom you speak, lest you bring yourself into great trouble.

There are few families but what are at one end related to the greatest princes, and at the other to the meanest beggar.

Politeness seem to be a care, by the manner of our words and actions, to make others pleased with us and themselves.

Tis often easier as well as more advantageous, to conform ourselves to other mens opinions, than to bring them over to ours.

Who can beat this?—On Thursday last, an old veteran boatman, Mr. John Nicholas, returning from Philadelphia with his Durham boat, in attempting to cross from the basin above the dam opposite this place, owing to a strong north west wind, was forced over the dam, a distance of about 10 feet, and that too without shipping a gallon of water. The boat contained a return load from Philadelphia, and there were on board five persons, all of whom came off safely. This specimen of sampachism, we hope may never again be exhibited.—Norristown paper.

Another Phenomenon.—A letter from Palermo, Jan. 3, 1831, states, that in the place of the volcanic island which had existed for some months in the Mediterranean and disappeared lately, is now seen a column of boiling water, about twenty-four feet in diameter, arising from ten to thirty feet above the surface of the sea, and exhaling strong bituminous odors.
