Official Journal of the State,
AND COUNCIL OF MUNICIPALITY No. 2

NEW-ORLEANS,
SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 31, 1845.

ALEXANDRE DUMAS.—While the press literally teems with translations of the frothy ephemera of French literature; while Paul de Kock's demoralizing pictures are freely rendered into English, and even the ineffable observatires of Faublas done into the vernacular for the improvement of public morals; while the most trashy productions of Frederick Soulié are given an English dress, we are somewhat surprised that so very few of Dumas' really clever, sprightly and genuine French novels ever see the light through the medium of a translation. Are "les Mohicans" Dumas takes precedence of Sue, Janin, de Bernard and the whole tribe of writers of light literary wares. His style is inimitably fresh, sparkling, graceful and naïf. His fancy is absolutely boundless, and he mixes up history and romance almost as skilfully and quite as attractively as Sir Walter Scott. His plots have always about them a consistency, well marked design, and fine development. His characters are most vividly and graphically delineated—occasionally they exhibit great power both of conception and expression. With all the indomitable merit of Eugene Sue, he is heavy and tedious when contrasted with the life like and brilliant pages of Dumas—Yet as far as we know, while the Mysteries of Paris and The Wandering Jew are perused by countless thousands of English and American readers, neither the admirable Count Monte-Christo, nor the humorous and piquant history of the Three Musqueteers, nor the sequel, entitled "Vingt ans Après," nor the charming Sylvandire, have ever been perused in any other than the language in which they were written.

CONSOLATORY.—The London News says, it would disabuse the public mind of a vulgar error in relation to the sufferings of those who are hung. They are generally very slight. In the act of execution, "the tooth of the sixth vertical vertebra, which in life is held from pressing on the spinal marrow by a ligament, is jerked out, the ligament broken, the fatal pressure indicted and life and sensation are extinguished together."

We find the above paragraph in most of our exchange papers. If it be intended as a species of consolation to convicted scoundrels, for the purpose of divesting their minds of the horrors of painful death, it may be well enough to express its efficacy. In cases of hanging, death sometimes ensues immediately upon the falling of the drop, in consequence of the presence of the cervical vertebra on the spinal marrow. When this occurs the sufferings of the criminal are instantaneously arrested, and he passes into another world with scarcely a pang. But in a majority of cases, death does not follow suspension lightly, but is the result of a double process of strangulation and apoplexy. Any one who has attended many public executions must be convinced of the fact, from having witnessed the convulsive shuddering and struggles of the suspended felon. Immediate dissolution is very apt to occur when the rope is long, the fallow high, and the fall heavy. Before the French revolution, when the cord preceded the guillotine, it was remarked that the criminals executed in torments, died without an apparent pang; while those hung at Paris seemed to struggle and suffer long. An enquiry into the cause, established the fact, that at Lyons the scaffold was lofty, and the rope long—the fall being heavy, in vulgar parlance broke the neck of the condemned man and killed him on the spot. At Paris a shorter cord and a low gallows were in use, and the sufferings of the criminal were consequently protracted.

NAVAL.—The Columbus, 74, lies at the Quarantine, New York, with a crew of 714 men, including her band. The Vincennes was to follow her on Wednesday or Thursday, having received an addition to her crew by a small draft from the North Carolina. The story that she was unseaworthy is utterly untrue. She is in fine condition. The Spanish frigate Gerona is expected to arrive in a short time. We learn, from the New York Tribune, that a most respectable committee of gentlemen of this city, in co-operation with the Naval Officers on the station, propose giving a complimentary ball to the officers of the Gerona previous to their sailing, and that it will come off at Castle Garden.

United States frigate Constitution, Capt. Percival, was at Singapore, February 8th, to leave for Canton in about a month. Midshipman Mason and two of the crew had died of dysentery. Several of the officers and about sixty of the crew had been sick, but were mostly recovered.

Mr. Duval, who came passenger in the schr. Lark, Capt. Allen, thirty days from Charles, left the U. S. ship Levant at Pensacola, April 12th—officers and crew all well. No other American vessels in port. U. S. store ship Relief was at Callao, 20th February—officers and crew all well.

THE EXPLORING EXPEDITION.—The Narrative by Lieut. Wilkes, constitutes but a fifth part of the volumes that are to be embraced in this truly great work. Besides the five volumes already published, there are to be, one on physics, by Mr. Hale—three on mineralogy, geology, &c., by Mr. Dana—with two volumes of plates—two on ornithology and mammalia, Mr. Peale—four on botany, by Mr. Rich—two on ichnyology, by Mr. Pickering—two on conchology, by Mr. Dayton—one, with two volumes of charts, on hydrography, by Capt. Wilkes.

FOUND DROWNED.—The Red River Republican of 12th instant, says:—The body of a man who called himself A. C. Phillips, was on learn, found in the raft a few days since. He lost his life, it is said, while attempting to cross the raft in company with two others persons, by a portion of the raft he was on giving way and precipitating him underneath. Phillips was here a short time ago and stated he had a large lot of bacon on a steamboat at the mouth of Red River, which he was expecting to come down the raft and left him. After staying here four days, he took French leave of his landlord and has not been heard of since. We do not know where he resided.

STRANGE RECOGNITION.—The Boston Times says a young gentleman in the public streets of that city slapped a young lady around the waist, and uttering a cry of joy, printed several kisses upon her with the quickness of thought. On coming to an explanation, it was found that the young gentleman had mistaken the lady for her twin sister, whom he was courting. The Times thinks it dangerous to marry a lady who has a twin sister, as a man may be kissing somebody else's wife when he thought he had his own.

☞ We learn, says Thursday's Mobile Advertiser from a passenger, arrived yesterday in the schooner Freedom, from Pensacola, that the brig Franklin, an Atlantic Whaler, four months out from Princetown, Mass., put into that port on Friday last, in distress, the crew having mutinied a short time since. The mutiny, we understand, occurred in the bay of Campeachy on the coast of Yucatan. Immediately upon the arrival of the vessel in the port of Pensacola, the mutineers were given up to the civil authorities. Yesterday was the day set for their trial.

☞ The New York papers record the sudden death of one of the most esteemed and respected individuals of that city, ROBERT C. CORNELL, Esq., who died after a brief illness of only a few hours duration. He had stood high in the confidence of the people of New York, and had occupied honorably several places of trust and emolument—among them the post of Receiver-General under the Sub Treasury law.

☞ Two boys about 18 years of age, of bad character, have been arrested in New York, on suspicion of having murdered a comrade named Jesse Burtis. The facts of the case lead to the belief that Burtis had been enticed out of his lodgings, and that he was subsequently waylaid and assassinated by his companions, for the purpose of obtaining his ill-gotten booty.

AN ADVERTISING FIRM.—The Worcester Ægis states that Messrs. Harbin Hunt & Co., a firm doing an extensive business in that town, during the past year said about one thousand dollars for advertising their goods, and we satisfied that by this outlay, they have received a rich harvest in return.

☞ We mentioned a day or two since the mysterious disappearance of Mr. Bremer, of New York. The dead body has been since made that he was drowned—the body has been picked up on the shore of North River.

QUININE VS. SALICINE.—Quinine is about to be superseded by Salicine, a preparation, in powder, from the bark of a willow tree, and said to have surpassing medical qualities. It is to be tried in the United States Army.

THE WARREN MURDER.—The motion made for a respite of the sentences of Joseph Carter and Peter W. Parke, convicted of the murder of Cazenor, in New Jersey, has been overruled, and the prisoners will short be executed.

☞ The Richmond Star has changed Editors. Mr. Streeter, the able and witty Editor retires, and is succeeded by A. Judson Crane, of whom the Richmond papers speak very favorably.

TO PREVENT STEAMBOILERS EXPLODING.—A correspondent of the Morning Journal, (Eng.) says that steam-boiler explosions may be prevented by the very simple plan of having a small hole drilled in the plate immediately over the fire place, and filled with a leaden rivet, which will melt only when the water gets below the proper level.

ROBBERY.—We learn that the house of the Curate of the Cathedral Church of St. Louis, was broken into on Thursday night and robbed of about $500.

☞ During the thunder storm on Thursday, the electric fluid struck the flag-staff on the St. Charles Theatre, and shivered it to pieces. No damage was done to the building.

OFFICIAL
APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

Robert McKelly, Register of the Land Office at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, vice Abner Blunt, removed.

Christian Huber, Receiver of Public Moneys at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, vice Moses H. Kirby, removed.

Ephraim D. Dickson, Register of the Land Office at Fayetteville, Arkansas, vice James H. Burman removed.

The Marvellous.—We find the following in the New York correspondence of the Cincinnati Gazette:—

"Among the thousand and one strange stories and wonderful revelations I have listened to, none has interested me more than one related to me the other day by one of the chief men of our city, Dr. Gray, the head homeopathist of New York, who believes in clairvoyance, and uses a clairvoyant to teach him the diseases of his patients. The other day he was to be present at a council called over Mrs. Brevort, a lady belonging to the highest class in the city, but just before the hour appointed for consultation, he was questioning the clairvoyant on another patient, in the next room. Taking his watch, he saw it was time to go, as they were expecting him. The clairvoyant replied yes, and told who were waiting for him, and mentioned among others, Dr. Mott. He then requested the door bell rung, and a card was handed to Dr. Gray from Judge Edwards. On it was written an invitation from the Judge to Mr. Brevort to come down in the next day if he would be so good as to bear his first charge, as he was then to deliver his charge to the jury in the case of Polly Bodine. Dr Gray as personal friend of Judge Edwards, which was the cause of his presence in Rhode Island, and Mr. Brevort's friend, soon after taken prisoner at South Bay, by the English, and confined as a prisoner in the city of New York, until it was by them executed. Mr. Apple is well known to the people of our city, having been employed for a number of years on board vessels in this port.

From his own statement he has drank nothing stronger than an occasional glass of cider for the last forty years; from the belief that strong liquor did not agree with him. The old man was in something of a hurry, as he said, having engaged to dine with a friend, before leaving the city.

There is going to be a very fierce fight between the United State Journal (Madisonian) and the Richmond Enquirer. The latter published, what the Journal characterizes as an "unscrupulous and unwarrantable attack" upon the Journal, Thereupon, the Journal takes fire, and threatens a war of extermination.

It appears that for some time previous to this attack of the Enquirer, the Journal had meditated ceasing to "exchange" with, it had gone so far as to mention the matter in a number of friends;" but now, that war has been declared, the "exchange" is to continue "till the storm pass-s by."

It can scarcely be that a fight between such combatants should be devoid of interest. We shall watch its progress; in the mean time, however, declaring our belief that the Journal will be the victor.—Balt. Pat.

OREGON.

Our neighbors, in Canada, are getting alarmed, lest the Oregon question should go by default. We see the following, indicative of such fear, from the Kingston Gazette, of the third of May inst.:

"We learn from the United States papers that a large party of emigrants have already started for the Oregon, and it is said that at least 1500 will cross the Rocky Mountains this summer. There can be no doubt whatever that these emigrants receive assistance and encouragement from the United States Government, as our neighbors are very naturally desirous of having good foothold in the country. This was the plan adopted for the acquisition of Texas. And we may therefore not unreasonably fear that the same effectual way to defeat our scheming opponents will be to bring the boundary dispute to a final settlement at once. A few years more will give the American Government advantages for the acquisition of the Territory, which would more than counterbalance the efforts of a large fleet and well disciplined army. We trust the British Government will urge a final decision of the dispute immediately."

The following items of information are gathered from the New York correspondent of the Washington Intelligencer:

NEW YORK, May 21, 1845.

An important case was decided yesterday in the United States Circuit Court before Judge Betts—it being an action brought by the United States against G. T. Ferris, late collector of the port of Newburg, but residing in this city, for a balance of Henry Eckford, deceased, to recover $150 000, being amount of bond for Mr. Swartwout as collector during his second term. It was contended that the defalcations of Mr. S. took place after the bond of Mr. Eckford had expired; and, after a patient investigation, the jury decided that there was no default the first five years of Mr. Swartwout's Collectorship, and that consequently there was no claim on the sureties. It was further decided that there is due to Eckford's estate from the United States twenty thousand five hundred and fifty-five dollars, for sums expended by Mr. E. for the Government at Sackett's Harbor during the last war.

The last steamer brought us some new literary works of interest, which will be issued in a day or two from the press of the Messrs Harper. Among them is "Philip" by young Willmott, author of "Vivian Grey" and "Contarini Fleming"—the last a very stupid political novel intended to glorify the party known as "Young England." It is to be hoped that "Sybil" will be better more of the genuine displayed in the author's early fictions. "Sybil" by the author of "Cecil," is also announced, and we are promised a new American novel called "Wyoming."

There was no improvement to-day in prices at the Broker's Board. The "inactive" fell, and there was slight advance in two or three of the dividend paying stocks.

The Rev. Mr. Hershell, a converted Jew, who visit this country by invitation from the American Home Missionary Society, to the conversion of the Jews, is to lecture at the Tabernacle this evening, on the prospects of Palestine and of the Jews there. He speaks as an eye-witness of what he is to describe.

AN ALBUM OF CRIME.—In the possession of a man named Harrison, convicted of a highway robbery near Leeds, England, and sentenced to transportation, a diary has been found, consisting of a record of all his robberies! The book is small and neat, in gilt edged, and forms in fact a sort of robber's album.

MURDER ON THE HIGH SEAS.—The brig Orleans, Captain William Long, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon, from Santa Cruz, having on board the body of James Hammond, ordinary seaman, who was murdered about 8 o'clock, on the morning of the 9th instant, when off Cape Henry, by John Johnson, (mulatto) the cook of the vessel. The facts of the case are, we believe, substantially as follows:—On the morning in question, as the crew were in the act of getting their allowance of coffee, a few angry words occurred between one of them and the cook, when the unfortunate deceased stepped up to the caboose to take the part of his fellow seaman. He had in his hand a chalk hook, with which, in the language of one of the witnesses before the jury of inquest, "he attempted to poke the cook," when the cook drew a large knife and stabbed him in the left breast, penetrating the heart and causing instant death. He was immediately put in double irons and confined below. Captain Long left the brig below Fort McHenry; came to the city about 3 o'clock, and made the facts known to Capt. Field, of the United States Circuit Court, who immediately issued a precept for the committal of the accused to Baltimore county jail. The precept was placed in the hands of Deputy Marshall Hazza, who, on the arrival of the brig, boarded her, and conveyed the accused to prison. An inquest was held over the body of the murdered man, by James Mullen, Esq., Coroner, and the Jury returned a verdict that "the deceased came to his death by the hands of John Johnson." The deceased was the brother-in-law of the chief mate of the brig.

Baltimore Patriot.

☞ During the thunder storm on Thursday, the electric fluid struck the flag-staff on the St. Charles Theatre, and shivered it to pieces. No damage was done to the building.

MOLASSES.—Some enquiry has prevailed for the last few days, and prime continues to range as then quoted, say from 24@26 cents ⅌ gallon for lots in good condition. Quite inferior parcels have been sold at 18@20 cents ⅌ gallon. There is none for sale on plantation.

FLOUR.—Since our last the Flour market has remained in the same inactive condition then noticed, there having been scarcely any demand for export, and the few sales making are to consumers at prices ranging from $4 87½@$5 06 for Ohio and Common brands of Illinois and Missouri Lots that have been stored for some time past are selling at $5 25@$5 50 ⅌ barrel. Favorite St Louis brands command $4 12½@$4 50 ⅌ barrel

WESTERN PRODUCE.—The transactions in Pork in the past week have reached some 1500 barrels, and in a limited scale and in view of which prices continue to exhibit a drooping tendency. The demand for Pork has been quite dull and prices are now well established, we quote Mess at $13 25@13 50; M. O. $12 75@13 00; Prime $11 25@11 50 ⅌ barrel. Bulk Pork is quoted at 5c. but we have not heard of any sales to order lot. The trade need only in Bacon very little, prices ruling very nearly unchanged, we quote Mess in barrels $10 75@10 50—half barrels $6 50@6 75; Prime $8 50@8 50 ⅌ barrel. There has been no movement for Lard since our last, and the week ending yesterday, we find a sale of 100 barrels at 7@7½ cents ⅌ ℔ for inferior to strictly prime qualities. Sacks in demand, and we quote at 6½@7 cents ⅌ ℔ for soaders 4@5c. Uncanvassed Hams 6@7 Canvassed do and extra cured 7@10 cents ⅌ ℔.

WHISKEY.—There has been a moderate demand for Whiskey since our last, and the market has a somewhat firmer tone than before noticed. We quote Rectified from 21@23 cents ⅌ gallon Common 2 @28 cents ⅌ gallon.

BAGGING AND BALE ROPE.—The market for these articles has presented the same appearance of dullness which we noticed in our former report and there have been scarcely any transactions within the last few days—In prices there is no change, and we quote Kentucky Bagging at 11@11½ cents ⅌ yard, cash and Rope 4½@4¾ cents ⅌ ℔.

GRAIN.—We have again had a dull market for Corn during the past few days, but prices have not undergone any further change. White selling from 31@32 cents, and Yellow from 32@33 cents ⅌ bushel. Corn in the ear is worth 45 cents ⅌ barrel. Oats sin in moderate request at 28@29 cents in bulk, and 31 cents ⅌ bushel in sacks. We have no inference of any sales of Rye or Wheat.

COFFEE.—The transactions in the Coffee have been in a limited extent of late, but not less than the previous range of prices, say from 7@7½ cents ⅌ ℔ according to quality. No change is done in other descriptions

SALT.—There is no Liverpool Salt remaining in first hands. Turks Island prices are nominally 18c. ⅌ bushel for cargo, and $1 25@$1 30 per sack for do. There is nothing doing in Turks Island Salt.

BUTTER.—Good qualities of Butter are in very good request, prime Goshen is selling at 12@13c ⅌ ℔ and Western at 11@12 cents ⅌ ℔.

CANDLES.—The enquiry for Sperm Candles is at present very limited, Prices remain unchanged and we quote New York ⅌ ℔ at Boston 30@32c ⅌ ℔. Mould Candles 9@9½ cents ⅌ ℔.

RICE.—Limited sales are making at former prices, viz:—$2 50@2 75 ⅌ 100 ℔s.

PEA HANGE.—We have had a moderate demand for Pea Hange—we quote Ohio and Western at $1 75@1 87½ ⅌ bushel. Boston 30@32c ⅌ ℔. New York 30@32c ⅌ ℔. New York 30 days 4@5 per cent discount. Cash 2 per cent.
