NEW-ORLEANS, FRIDAY NIGHT, APRIL 15, 1842.

The market is in about the same condition noticed in our previous review, since which the amount of business transacted has been unimportant. The subjoined remarks contain all that it is worth noticing.

The weather continues fair and favorable to out-door pursuits.

COTTON—Arrived since the 12th instant of Louisiana and Mississippi, 2,989 bales—Tennessee and North Alabama, 2,101—Arkansas, 632—Texas, 11—Lake (from 1st October to 12th inst. inclusive, as per returns furnished by Mr. Leslie, Secretary of the Pontchartrain Railroad), 7,363; together, 12,997 bales. Cleared in the same time, for Europe, 2,969 bales—Boston, 730; together, 3,729 bales; making an addition to stock of 10,330 bales; and leaving on hand, inclusive of all on shipboard not cleared this day, a stock of 163,486 bales.

The transactions in Cotton since our review of Tuesday embrace 7,000 bales, of which 2,000 on Wednesday; 2,000 yesterday; and 3,000 to-day. The demand, although steady, is by no means animated, and the inferior description have given way, particularly on the low Tennessees and North Alabamas. The operations have been chiefly divided amongst English and French buyers.

TOBACCO—The Tobacco market during the past three days has again maintained a fair degree of activity, and the sales reach about 600 hhds. of which the larger portion changed hands to day. Prices are the same as last quoted, say for fair running lots, 2, 2½ and 3½c—Ordinary parcels, 1½, 4 and 5c—Selections and fine lots, a fraction higher. We notice 40 hhds at 2½, 4½, and 6½ by c. for sc, Seconds and Firsts; 19 hhds Selections, at 2½, 4½ and 5½; 45 hhds at 2½, 4½ and 5½c. at which figures the greater part of the business has been transacted.

Arrived since the 12th instant, 1,601 hhds; cleared in the same time, for Boston, 7 hhds.

SUGAR—The market during the past three days has exhibited a little animation, and although holders are evidently desirous of realizing, the sales have only reached 400 hhds. In prices no change has taken place. We quote extreme qualities 3½@4½c; very choice lots of which at present there are none in market, would command a fraction more. We are not in receipt of any Havana Sugars, quotations—Havana Sugars continue dull at our previous figures.

MOLASSES—There has been some demand for this article within the past few days, and a considerable quantity has been taken for shipment to the north. We have no improvement to report in prices, which still continue very low—say from 13½@14c, according to the condition of the barrels. We have not heard of any sales on plantation.

FLOUR—The market has experienced no change since our last, and we continue to quote superfine at $5 00 @ $5 12½. The transactions have been chiefly in view of for consumption. For shipment we hear of about 1,000 bris having been taken, principally at $5 00.

WESTERN PRODUCE—The Provision market still continues in a very unsatisfactory condition, with the face of large arrivals and daily accumulating stocks, together with the advent of the warm season, it is out of the question to look for any improvement. We still hear of no sales, but we are informed that our figures are again in many instances reduced. We quote Pork, Mess, 17 00@18 00; Prime, 15 00@16 00—Prime, 14 50@15 00; Cargo, 13 00@14 00—Lard, $3 75. Beef, Mess, in bbls, $10@10 50; half bbl, $5 50@6 75—Prime, in bbls, $8 00; half bbl, $4 25@4 50 according to quality. Bacon, Hams, 4c—Sides, 3½c—Shoulders, 3c.

WHISKEY—The market has been very inactive since our last, owing to the large stock on sale, coupled with continued heavy receipts. We quote rectified 19 to 19½c, with a more retail business.

BAGGING and BALE ROPE—We have no change to notice in prices, and the market still continues under the same degree of dullness as often noticed—Kentucky Bagging, 16c @ 17c—India Bagging, 17@18c.—Kentucky Rope, 6 @ 7c.

COFFEE—The demand has been very limited since our last. We quote Havana prime green, 9 @ 9½—Ordinary and middling, 8½ @ 9½—Rio, 8½ @ 9c.

CANDLES—The market is dull at 35 @ 38c for New Bedford Sperm; and 34c for Nantucket.

OILS—Our quotations have undergone no change, and the market is very quiet. Winter strained Sperm, $1 15 @ $1 20—Fall, do, $1 10 @ $1 15—Winter Oil, $1 05 @ $1 10—Fall Oil, $1 00 @ $1 10 ⅌ gallon—Tanners' Oil $13 00 @ 14 00 ⅌ brl.

EXCHANGE.—The bill market has presented no new feature within the past few days; the demand has been limited, but the rates generally remain the same as then quoted, viz. Sterling, 9½ @ 10½ per cent prem.—Francs, 5 13½ @ 4 12½—New York, on do 3 @ 3½ ⅌ cent prem.—10 do. 4 @ 5½ do.—Sight Checks, 5½ @ 6 do.

"Truth is omnipotent, and Public Justice certain."

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,
HENRY CLAY
(Subject to the decision of the American People.)

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
WINFIELD SCOTT.

FOR GOVERNOR
HENRY JOHNSON.

NEW-ORLEANS:
SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 16, 1842.

TO THE WHIGS OF NEW ORLEANS.

The whigs of New Orleans who desire to unite in the formation of a CLAY CLUB, are requested o assemble in the DINING ROOM of the CONTI STREET HOTEL, on Monday evening next at seven o'clock.

THE MADISONIAN—MR. CLAY.

We opened the Madisonian, received yesterday, with anxious interest, expecting to find in it the correspondence of the Secretary of State and Mr. ELLIS, as well as the instructions sent by Mr. WEBSTER to WADDY THOMPSON, in regard to the American prisoners in Mexico, which the Advertiser assured us with such a parade, of brimstone and blunderbusses would be forthcoming in due course of mail. Not that we place any special reliance in the general assertions of the Advertiser, but so great was its apparent glee, last Tuesday, when it "hastened to inform" its readers that "war to the knife with Mexico" was to become the watchword of the Administration, and that Mr. WEBSTER was to send to the Senate his instructions to WADDY THOMPSON on the 5th instant, that we confess our disappointment at not finding the documents so anxiously looked for.

Instead of a manifesto of war with Mexico, the Madisonian contained no less than three declarations of hostilities against Mr. CLAY! Perhaps the Advertiser may consider a cartel addressed to Mr. CLAY equivalent to throwing the glove at SANTA ANA, and in that case the Tyler organ may felicitate itself upon the triple fulfilment of its prophecy; but those who do not consider a transfer of the seat of war from the plains of Mexico to the groves of Ashland, as the properest mode of vindicating the national character from insult, and our citizens from foreign outrage, will scarcely feel satisfied with such an issue to so pregnant a prediction.

The Madisonian first charges upon Mr. CLAY the responsibility of the failure to create a National Bank at the Extra Session! If a reward were offered for the silliest and absurdest calumny against Mr. CLAY, we would be inclined to think, that the Madisonian could claim now the prize. And how do you think this accusation is made out? The Madisonian charges that Mr. CLAY defeated the Bank by not blindly accepting Mr. EWING'S bill. Does not the Madisonian know that Mr. EWING'S bill never could have passed the Senate? It was with the utmost persuasion and difficulty that several of the northern Senators were got to vote for the compromise, offered by Mr. CLAY between these Senators and the Secretary of the Treasury. Mr EWING'S bill required the assent of the States as a condition precedent to the establishment of branches of the Mother Bank. Several Senators, who were in favor of a bona fide National Bank, regarded the introduction of such a feature in a law of congress as a dangerous precedent tending to make legislation partial, imperfect and lopsided. When it was ascertained that the Senate bill, as originally introduced by Mr. CLAY, could not become a law, he himself offered an amendment as nearly assimilating the Treasury plan as could be, without driving off the Senators who were opposed to Mr. EWING'S scheme. The opposition to the clause requiring the consent of States to the establishment of branches was one of the principal; and so firmly fixed were several Senators in their objections, that even with Mr. CLAY'S compromise they would not vote for it. The compromise was carried by a majority of one, Messrs. CLAYTON and HENDERSON being absent at the taking of the vote, both of whom would have voted against the amendment had they been present. Mr. CLAYTON, one of the strongest bank advocates in the Senate, would not vote for the bill on the final passage, because the compromise in a manner admitted the doctrine of assent. It is a known fact, that Mr. CLAY did yield to the administration as far as could be done without ensuring the loss of the bill in the Senate.

In the House of Representatives there was an equally decided objection to the "consent clause." Mr. ADAMS and THOMAS F. MARSHALL, (who, by the way, has been dubbed by many as Mr. CLAY'S mouth-piece) voted against the bill on the same grounds that Mr. CLAYTON refused to vote for it. So did several others.

But how could Mr. CLAY, or any one else, know that Mr. TYLER would sign one bill and not another? Up to the hour the first veto was read in the Senate, many members of Congress thought the President would sign the one before him. Mr. TYLER'S demeanor pending the discussion of the bill, and whilst he had it under advisement, was inexplicable on any other grounds than that his mind was agitated between conflicting passions, tossed to and fro by duty and ambition, bewildered by the hope of forming a TYLER party strong enough to keep him in power if he vetoed it, and for a season awed by the enormity of the guilt of betraying the people who elected Gen. HARRISON to the Presidency.

But in reviewing the veto of the "Fiscal Bank Bill" are the objections of Mr. TYLER confined to the striking out the consent clause? Not so, they cover ground sufficient to embrace Mr. EWING'S bill. Especially that portion of it which relates to the discount feature. The fact is, Mr. TYLER himself did not know what sort of a bill he would sign; for Congress constructed a second charter with the expressed intent of meeting the objections to the veto, and to give the country a bank of issue and exchange, which Mr. TYLER likewise vetoed. He had contracted a wonderful ambition of office which consumed his vitals and being resolved to set up for himself, he chose to break off from the whigs upon the bank question, as the one most likely to ensure him a support from the opposite party.

Mr. CLAY, in his valedictory address, well observed "the ingenuity of my assailants is never exhausted," and surely the absurd charge of the Madisonian is evidence of the fact. We perceive indications in every quarter, that all those who do not join in the cry of havoc against him are to be ostracised by the Administration. The dogs of war are to be let slip at him and his friends. The public crib is opened to reward the invention of calumny, and treasury feed slanderers stun the general ear with the clamor of denunciation. Rail on; launch your missiles dipped in bitterest gall at his breast; snarl, growl and bark at him, but be assured that were JOHN TYLER robed in triple purple, neither he nor the sycophants whom office collects around him, can penetrate the shield of popular admiration that covers HENRY CLAY in his retirement.—The father of the American System will be called by the American people to restore the policy which can alone make the nation independent of foreign powers either in peace or war. It is not in the compass of demagogues longer to blind the people to the necessity of protecting domestic labor, nucleus is it within the reach of revilers to blast the statesman that for thirty six years has been foremost in the ranks of those who battled for American rights, American agriculture, American manufactures, American commerce, and whatever else is American.

☞ The four first numbers of "The Commissioner, or De Lunatico Inquirendo"—a very humorous and laughter provoking tale, are to be found at Messrs. Norman, Steel & Co., Camp street.

From the same source we have received the two first numbers of Lover's admirable story "Handy Andy." It will be every where popular and every where read. Also, Miss Martineau's "Crofton Boys", written like all that this lady writes, in a most pleasing and instructive style.

SOUTHERN SKETCHES.—We have received the first number of a periodical bearing the title. It contains three interesting and well told tales, embellished by the same number of original drawings. The author, whose name we do not know, has, in the most generous manner, authorised the Consul of Texas at New Orleans to draw for and apply the proceeds of the work to the advancement of her cause. It may be found at Morgan's Library Depot, in Exchange Place, and at the principal booksellers, and we hope every friend of Texas will procure one or more copies.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. JOHNSON, 26 St. Charles street, for the second volume of the Roschenberger, series of works on Natural History. This volume contains a description of the mammiferous animals, and is compiled with great care and every attention to the inculcation of correct general principles. It is well designed for the use of schools and colleges.

Our thanks are due to Capt. CLARKE, of the schr. Vigilant, for a Tabasco paper of the 24th March.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE BEE.

Washington, April 6th, 1842.

In sundry memorials innumerable were presented and referred, praying for protective duties; after which several private and local bills were taken up and advanced. At one o'clock the orders of the day brought up the loan bill, and Mr. Wright, in continuation of his remarks of yesterday, occupied the floor for about one hour and a half, chiefly in opposition to the provisions of the bill in detail but not to the loan. One provision he argued, would make the stock a circulating medium—an irredeemable paper currency of the government for twenty years—that is, the provision which dispenses with books of transfer, the possession of the stock itself being the only evidence of transfer required.

Mr. Walker next obtained the floor and offered an amendment in effect recalling the land fund and appropriating the proceeds of the public lands as a pledge to pay the debt and interest. He spoke for about half an hour in favor of this amendment.

Mr. Smith, of Indiana, followed, directing his attention chiefly to a revision of a late speech made by Mr. Allen against the distribution act.

Mr. Allen replied.

After which Mr. Buchanan obtained the floor, but the hour being late, the senate went into executive session, and shortly after adjourned.

In the House of Representatives, on motion of Mr. Warren, a resolution was adopted, appointing a select committee to consider and report on the conduct of the United States troops in Georgia; it having been charged that the said troops have and are committing outrages upon the citizens of that state.

Several other resolutions, calling for information on various subjects from the departments, were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Wise, the house then went into committee, and considered the Senate bill authorizing the construction of an iron war steamer for harbor defence.

After a brief explanation from Mr. Wise, the bill was laid aside to be reported to the house.

The consideration of the General Appropriation bill was then resumed, and continued until two o'clock, when it was discovered that there was not a quorum present.

On motion of Mr. Andrews, the committee then rose, and a call of the house was ordered.

☞ Our thanks are due to the officers of the steamboat Monongahela for Louisville papers, and to those of the Denizen for late St. Louis papers.

CRIMINAL COURT.—The case of S. Davis for vending lottery tickets in contravention of law was begun yesterday, and will be continued to-day.

MELANCHOLY DISASTER.

We understand, says the Madisonian of the 7th instant, that information was yesterday received at the Navy Department, that the U. S. steam frigate Missouri, Captain J. T. NEWTON, in ascending the Potomac river, on her way to Washington, with a pilot on board, ran aground, on Monday, opposite the harbor of Port Tobacco. Every effort was immediately made to get her off, by backing her engines and taking the guns and other weighty articles aft. Lieut. JOHN F BURDEN was sent out in charge of a boat's crew, with an anchor, for the purpose of heaving the vessel off, when, by some means, the boat was most unfortunately swamped and this meritorious officer and fifteen men perished, while in the faithful performance of their duty.

So far as the facts of the case have come to the knowledge of the Department, every precaution usual in such cases seems to have been taken by the officers, and there is no reason to attach blame to them for this deplorable accident. Of course, however, the subject will be fully investigated in the proper manner.

Immediately on receipt of the intelligence, the Mississippi, which had arrived on Monday, was despatched to render aid, if necessary. It was expected that the Missouri would be got off at the next high tide.

A CURRENCY PANIC has been raised in Mobile by a combination of ninety-eight merchants and traders, who have mutually pledged their honor, that from and after the 1st June next, they "will receive the notes of the bank of the state, which are not redeemed in specie on demand, only at the rates at which they can be sold for specie the day of their receipt." The Advertiser opposes this movement as wrong in principle and pernicious in tendency.

THE RIGHT OF SEARCH.—The New York Courier says that "after a careful examination of the late English and French papers received by the Columbia, we are more than ever impressed with the unalterable determination of the English Government to attempt an enforcement of the odious "right of search,"—and of the absolute necessity of this country placing itself in a position to resist such attempt, if it would cling to the only possible chance of peace."

There are now three candidates in New York for the mayoralty, viz: Mr. Morris (loco), Mr. Phœnix (whig), and Mr. O'Connor, nominated by the "Independent Democratic Republican General Committee." The latter was nominated for senator last fall by Bishop Hughes' party. The election took place on the 12th.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.—The New York Journal of Commerce of the 5th instant, gives returns from 16 towns in this State, which exhibit a loco-foco majority of 215, and a loco-foco gain of 1,292 since last year.—The whig vote appears generally to have fallen off, and the loco-foco vote is about the same as last year. It is probable the locos have carried the State. This day will settle the question.

RHODE ISLAND.—The Legislature of Rhode Island, by a vote of 63 to 6, have declared all elections null and void, except those held at the times and in the manner prescribed by law, and impose heavy fines and severe penalties for any contravention of this act. This is a blow aimed at the Free Suffrage party, and their organs express great indignation at the passage of the law, and menace violence.

THE CASE OF HOGAN.—The examination of this man on the charge of being an actor in the Caroline outrage, was going on at Rochester at the last accounts It is believed that he will be set at liberty. A special messenger has been despatched to apprise Sir Charles Bagot, the Canadian governor, of Hogan's arrest.

CLAYTON, the pyronaut, contemplates some of the most daring aerial voyages this summer that have ever been attempted. One of which in July or August, will be to launch an open boat down the falls of Niagara, supported and protected by the balloon.

LLOYD, the absconding collector of the city revenues of New York, is a defaulter to the amount of $30,000. His property has been levied upon by virtue of attachments. His sureties are good for $5,000.

BOURCICAULT'S new comedy "The West End, or the Irish Heiress", was to be produced at the Park Theatre, New York, on the 6th.

The locofocos of North Carolina are blowing up Gov. Morehead because he has an ice house and chicken coop!

☞ An eminent citizen of Boston, Hon. DANIEL SARGENT, died a few days ago in that city, aged 79 years.

☞ One more incendiary—a man named Charles Hirst—has been arrested in Baltimore.

SOUTH AMERICAN NEWS.

NEW GRANADA.—Gen. Herran, President of the Republic of New Granada, announces under date of Santa Martha, March 1st, "The authority of the Constitution is re-established in all the Provinces of the Republic; the country is no longer threatened with a cruel anarchy; all the Granadians now enjoy peace and security." Santa Martha was the focus of the insurrection.

CENTRAL AMERICA.—In consequence of the seizure and abduction of Manuel Quijano, by Col. M Donald, British Superintendent of Belize, (British Honduras) the authorities have closed their ports against that colony, and suspended all communication with it.

PERU and BOLIVIA.—Sometime ago we announced that GAMARRA (the President of Peru) had invaded Bolivia with 7,000 men, and that his army was totally routed and he himself killed.

Later dates from Lima to December 20, state that the Bolivians have now in their turn invaded Peru, and are in possession of the southern provinces—embracing Tacna and Arica. The immediate effect of the late battle has been, however, the evacuation of Colija by the Peruvian troops and men of war.

Leaving an actual capital of.. 887,541 98
$2,000,000 00

By accepting the law to work on, it is clearly seen the very diminished active capital the bank has, with an expense of thirty thousand dollars per annum. By rejecting the law, the Attorney General is bound to make short work of the institution.

By accepting the law to liquidate, the stockholders will retain all the Water Works' privileges, as if the bank had continued in existence. The only difference will be the loss of banking privilege, which, with such times as these, cannot be considered as any loss. It is therefore respectfully suggested that the stockholders accept the law to liquidate the bank, and at once give up its banking privileges.

SEVERAL STOCKHOLDERS.

[COMMUNICATED.]

This being the appointed day for the stockholders of the Commercial Bank to determine upon the acceptance or rejection of the Bank Bill and the amendments thereto, recently enacted by the legislature; it is hoped that all those interested in the preservation of one of the best bank charters in the state, and in favor of obeying the laws, will not fail to attend at the banking house and to vote accordingly.

April 16th, 1842. A STOCKHOLDER.
