Having together with the greatest care in the back of the rest of this Country, the entire production of the most excellent results in vexatious affections of children, we have succeeded in extracting in its entirety the active principle of the rich cotton root plantations which are nearly all indigenous to Louisiana have arrived at excepting the Mexican Cotton root, which is the best of all, and has been the shadow of a doubt.

The Syrup, of an agreeable flavor, can be administered without the slightest apprehension to the most delicate constitution. Its use cannot, in any case, do harm, but being given at shorter intervals as the child may be older and stronger, will infallibly expulse all those intestinal worms which are the cause of so many fearful dangers and are often fatal to children.

Physicians, acquainted therewith by the frightful results of the various vermifuges hitherto employed, have given it the highest praise, and have prescribed it in this line, in such cases, without the other incompatible, and which, instead of expulsing the worms, have killed several of our most experienced practitioners, by habitually prescribing it and regularly taking it, and yet, by the different ages tested and established its excellent virtues.

To avoid debilitating the little patients by too severe a diet, we have modified the dose originally prescribed, in the following manner:

Children 2 to 5 years old, three tea spoonfuls a day, at an interval of from 1 to 2 hours. Above five years old, three table spoonfuls at the same intervals. No nourishment to be given between the first and third dose, nor within an hour after the third.

The SYRUP must be administered during three consecutive days. Constipation, a necessary consequence of the Vermifuge does not produce any of the pernicious effects which have often followed the use of those inferior to ours.

DR. EDOUARD MARTIN'S

HYGIENIC ELIXIR,

Against Sea-Sickness.

FOR a long time past the scientific world, medical men especially, appear to have been struck with the remarkable fact, that among the innumerable collection of curative agents discovered, not one had been found to counteract or even mitigate the dreadful effects of sea-sickness. Several remedies have been tried to attain this end. Those remedies, whether simple or compound after many trials, have hitherto proved signal failures. An idea was lately formed by the perusal of the annals of Pharmacy, Chemistry and Medicine of all countries, published within the last ten years.

The inventor of the "Hygienic Elixir," has at length made this invaluable discovery. After numerous trials, changes and alterations in the proportions of the substances composing this Elixir, he is enabled to offer it to the travelling public, as a perfectly innocuous, not decomposed or altered either by climate or age.

The Elixir checks sea-sickness immediately, and restores the stomach to its healthy state. However obscure the first causes of the sea-sickness may be, it is equally infallible, and procures a general feeling of ease and comfort. The insane causes as if by magic, calm and sleep are restored the appetite awakened and the digestion effected promptly under the influence of this tonic.

The inventor having had an opportunity during a recent sea voyage, to make personally a final trial of his Elixir, has made up his mind to offer it to the public. He could corroborate the above statements by testimonials from several sea-captains, but will appeal only to the opinion of one of the most intelligent and
