THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. We have not yet figured out the precise position of the two political parties in the popular branch of Congress, and we have some doubts that we can ever do so with certain calculation could we even see through nine-tenths of the mere [illegible] Whigs or Locofocos, there [illegible] a spirit of hybrid politicans called Free Soilers, who in themselves inconsiderable, [illegible] enough to hold the balance of power between the two parties, which are nearly equal in numbers. As compete returns from one or two other States are yet wanting, it would be difficult to ascertain the exact strength of the Whigs in the next House, but knowing as we do, that in Tennessee we have lost one member, that in Kentucky we have gained nothing, and that in Indiana we have probably lost one or two Congressmen, it may be reasonably presumed that the Whigs will be unable to command a working majority. Distinguished, however, will have gained nicely, and yet they will be quite as far from [illegible] as the Whigs. Nevertheless, they with which Locofocism could [illegible] the odds and ends of factions may [illegible] the Speakership in Congress, [illegible] in the Northern States, [illegible] merged its identity with [illegible] and, we may it, upon the meeting of Congress, effect a corrupt bargain with the Free Soilers in the House, and thus [illegible] the Whigs into an absolute minority. [illegible] wielding some degree of the nature of a Weigh power in a majority in the House, [illegible] to render certain a counterfeit [illegible] and monopoly legislation on the part of a decidedly Locofoco Senate, we must [illegible] that we experience no very pungent [illegible] of sorrow at the prospect. Had the Whigs gained the control of the House, they [illegible] have exercised but a negative [illegible] which it was an impossibility [illegible] Senate continued Locofoco; and the Whigs would consequently have been [illegible] to have served with a responsibility [illegible] disproportioned to their strength. A [illegible] in power for a party cannot well [illegible] to make it accountable for [illegible] administration cannot secure, or its [illegible] Now, at least the Whig party [illegible] the extent from the trials and dangers of [illegible] which the opposition may be [illegible] better the country with an array of measures adopted by a Congress hostile to the administration, and upon the excellence of which the people will be required to pronounce. Let Locofocism forward its batch of measures for the evils of the body politic—let it [illegible] Sub-Treasury system, under [illegible] including robberies of the public treasury, have been perpetrated—let it adhere to every jot and tittle of its disjointed Tariff act of 1846—let it refuse to cooperate with the Whigs in the necessary and salutary reforms called for by the people, and it will then have accumulated enough of tangible legislation that the masses will [illegible] The judgment of the masses is not to be doubted, and the Whig party will be willing [illegible]

[illegible] of a Whig House will, in another point of view prove an advantage to the party. Whatever abolition tenets may find favor with the majority must be shouldered by it. Should [illegible] of Congress enact the Wilmot Proviso, [illegible] know upon which party the responsibility devolves. We shall soon be [illegible] practice by the terms and conditions of the compromise between Locofocoism and Free Soilism; and the South, which [illegible] seemed blindly impelled to affiliate with a party that elsewhere is united by the common bond of ferocious hostility to slavery, [illegible] understand and deplore the futurity that has [illegible] her with her direst foes.

Henry Clay.—We learn from New York [illegible] that Mr. Clay still remains at Saratoga, [illegible] very terrible health. That paper says. He has been employing until Friday, when he was induced to visit Baltimore and attend the class of the examination of Mr. Fowler's Law School, [illegible] with a deep interest, and addressed [illegible] the close. The day was stormy, [illegible] fatigue and damp overcame him, so [illegible] complained of illness on his return to [illegible] where he arrived about 5 P. M. He [illegible] hurried off to a friend's dinner, which he had promised to attend, [illegible] return to Saratoga in season for a meet before the dinner hour.) Here he was detained several hours, and, though rigidly abstinent, under the direction of his physician, he [illegible] seriously ill, and had a painful and [illegible] night. On Saturday he rigidly refused [illegible] and had in good part recovered at 5 P. M. and will we trust wholly regain his usual health if he can only be let alone. But he is [illegible] stricken in years, is feeble, strongly predisposed to cholera, and will be killed outright if the multitude of starers and hand-shakers cannot be induced to keep away.

The St. Louis Bank Defalcation.—Mr. Choate, the party implicated in the large defalcation in the Bank of Missouri, has been arrested after a full investigation of the case, it has been sent before the Grand Jury of the city of St. Louis.

☞ A writer over the signature of "Heroic Age," in the Washington Union, says: He would as soon steal a sheep, should office under Zach Taylor.

Not doubted. The one will suit his inclination—the other is above his capacity.—Savannah Republican.

The weather.—Since our last, the weather has been extremely hot, interspersed with pleasant breezes and occasional shower. As to the crops, we are unable to say anything, though the change in the weather is certainly better for the planters. Sickness prevails to some extent in this parish, occasioned by the wet weather we have had since some two or three months.

[Point Coupee Tribune.

Japan.—The China Mail states that the U. S. ship Preble has returned from Japan, whither she was despatched by Commodore Geisinger, for the purpose of bringing away some men belonging to the American whaler Lagoda. In this Captain Glynn has succeeded, having recured thirteen of the whaler's men, and one seaman, Macdonald, who a year ago, at his own request, received his discharge from the Plymouth, whaler, and was put ashore at Massimai. Shortly after landing he was made a prisoner and conveyed to Nangasaki, where he was kept in close custody, and underwent frequent examinations, but without being aware that for many months a number of his fellow-countrymen were confined within a short distance of his cell. Neither Captain Glynn nor any of his officers or crew were suffered to land, but otherwise they received no discourtesy, on the contrary, everything they were supposed to want was tendered, but declined, solely because the Japanese would accept no payment.

Bank Note.—The safety of this vessel and her crew and passengers has been definitely ascertained.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 19.

The Markets.

New York, Aug. 18.—Since the reception of the steamer's accounts cotton has been rather dull, and operations are slightly in favor of buyers. Fair Upland is quoted at 10½c.; Orleans and Mobile at 11c. The sales of the week amount to 9650 bales. The imports since the 1st inst., have been ten thousand bales.

Flour is unaffected by the foreign advices, and is still buoyant, with an upward tendency. Mixed and common western command $4 44 to $5 50; Ohio sells at $5 56-100 to $5 81 100; extra Ohio $5 87-100 to $6 12-100. Southern brands are looking up Georgetown flour ranges from $5 50-100 to $5 69 100.

Western Pork has recovered from its decline and is now firm. Mess is quoted at $10 70-100; Prime at $9 62. Beef remains steady at previous rates. Bacon is in active demand, but at rather unsteady rates, and holders are anxious to meet the inquiry. New Orleans varieties range from $4 75-100 to $5 37 100.

Stocks are drooping. The New Loan is at 14¾ prem. Treasuries, 14¾.

From Mexico.

By the arrival of the British Steamer Trent, at Mobile Point, from Vera Cruz, we have files of Mexican papers a week later than those brought by the Tiff. They add but little to the previous intelligence.

The war upon the insurgents of the Sierra Gorda still continues, but in consequence of the advanced age of Gen. Bustamente, it is said that Gen. Minon is to assume the command of the Government troops. Various skirmishes have taken place between the rebels and the forces of the Mexican authorities, but with no decisive result.

Messrs. Manning and McIntosh have refused to surrender to the Government the contract for constructing a road across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

The Chamber of Deputies has passed a decree authorizing the Government to borrow $500,000 on the pledge of the import duties.

The cholera still rages in Durango, and is extremely fatal.

The Mexican papers contain later intelligence from Guatemala. The rival military leaders Carrera and Mariano Paredes have become reconciled.

The Picayune has the following:

The agreements recently entered into between the Mexican Minister of Finance and the agent of the English bond holders, will not probably be carried into effect, owing to the refusal of the House of Representatives to approve it.

Robberies are very frequent even in the day time in the city of Mexico. Three stages were recently robbed at noon, within fifty yards of the principal plaza of Mexico.

A few days since, a stage containing one general, two colonels, and three other officers, was robbed on the route to Vera Cruz, by three men on foot.

At Vera Cruz, the night before the steamer left, many of the inhabitants were very much alarmed by the approach from sea of what they supposed to be some of Col. White's men in boats, to attack the castle and town. The idea was prevalent that Col. White was acting in conjunction with Santa Anna. The alarm was quieted by the discovery that what were taken for boats held with men were merely a few floating logs.

Freshet at Alexandria, La.—We learn this morning from Captain Hinkley, of the steamboat Anna, from Washington, La., which place she left on Sunday last, that the mail order had just arrived there from Alexandria, and that he had received his mail from a skiff, several miles below the latter town. Alexandria was almost entirely inundated, and the plantations on the river, from Alexandria to Bayou Rouge, were almost all under water. Immense damage had been sustained, and the water was still rising.—Evening Pic.

Notice to the Public.

RE-OPENING of Th. Moreau's store, corner of St. Royal and Toulouse streets, No. 151.

Th. Moreau has the honor of informing his friends and the public in general that he has applied his former hair dressing room to the sale of fancy articles, china ware and glassware. He intends to give his attention to this particular branch of commerce and extend his business to every article in the branch. His stock, already considerable, will be augmented by a large number of articles received by late arrivals of ships Brunswick, Charlemagne, Fidele and Jane Gliddon, from Havre, Adrian, from Bordeaux and Caroline from Marseilles.

Having determined to fix his permanent residence in Paris, he will continually offer to the public a description of fancy articles which may be invented in Paris.

His old store, which will be opened on the 25th inst., will contain an assortment of linen, linen and cotton, cotton and colored shirts for men; half hose of different sizes and qualities; cotton and silk suspenders; fancy, common and double parasols; fans, silk and Scotch thread gloves, cravats, &c., &c.

As formerly every description of perfumery will be found in his store.

Th. M. is the sole agent of Fernandez' Powders, Cosmacat vinegar, Botot water, Odontine and Elixir Pelletier, and apparatus for Seltz water of Briest.

N. B.—He has just received from Mr. Briest at Paris an improved apparatus for Seltz water, the use of which have been improved, thereby rendering the latter easier, without any augmentation in the price. Country traders and Hair Dressers are invited to give a call before purchasing elsewhere. They will find at his store a an assortment of articles at such reduced prices, that they will be enabled to make handsome profits.

Finally, Th. Moreau having adopted the motto of "Large sales and small profits" flatters himself he can sell, wholesale or retail, 25 per cent. lower than any other establishment in the city.

He seizes this opportunity of returning his thanks to the patrons of his Hair Dressing Saloon, and informs them in the same time that he continues his Hair dressing for ladies and youths. He will also keep an assortment of plaids, rosettes and bands. One of the best Hair Dressers will constantly be in attendance at the establishment. jy9

Collector's Office, New Orleans,

NOTICE TO OWNERS, CONSIGNEES, AGENTS OF GOODS, WARES AND MERCHANDISE WAREHOUSED.

COMPULSORILY withdrawn from Warehousing Act of 6th August, 1846, that of 3d March, 1849—and with instructions from the Treasury Department.—All goods, wares and merchandise which may remain in warehouse over one year from the date of importation, and on which the duties have not been paid, within that time, must be sold by the Collector, after due notice to the owner, and the duties deducted from the proceeds of such sale, and the balance, if any, paid into the Treasury of the United States.

It results that all goods, &c., which may remain in warehouse over one year, as aforesaid, will not be entitled to the extension of one year under which the 5th section of the act of 3d March, 1849, provides, unless the duties shall have been paid thereon.

Unclaimed goods or such as may be in the public stores, and not entered for warehousing during nine months from the date of importation, must be sold by the Collector under the 5th section of the General Collection Act of 2d March, 1799, after the expiration of that period.
