DAILY BEE
PUBLISHED DAILY (SUNDAYS EXCEPTED) AT
No. 75 Chartres street.
NEW ORLEANS,
THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 13.

Auction Sales this Day.

By E. Scott, at No. 11 Old Levee street—Dry Goods, Clothing, Wines, Oil, Soap, &c.

By S. Guinault, at 10 o'clock, at his auction room—Furniture, Exchange Alley and Gravelle street—Furniture.

Mr. E. Scott, auctioneer, sells this morning at 10 o'clock, at No. 11 Old Levee street—baggage, cotton, plantation clothing, wines, sugar, soap, &c.

HOUSE TO RENT.—The fine three-story dwelling house at the corner of Customhouse and Hampden streets is for rent. See advertisement.

NOW-DAY EXHIBITION AT MASONIC HALL.—Dr. Beale's grand double spectacles, including Niagara Falls, the Mammoth Cave, and other celebrated scenes, will be exhibited to-day at noon for the accommodation of family parties and children. Combined with the pictorial views are a series of songs, duets, and instrumental music, and the whole is combined with the various automatic evolutions of the Morris Dancing family. There will likewise be a monster entertainment at the Masonic Hall on Saturday.

GRAND FAIRY DRESS AND MASQUERADE BALL.—The young gentlemen of the Adelphic Association of New Orleans propose to give a grand fairy dress and masquerade ball at Masonic Hall on Wednesday evening, the 19th instant. Among the managers we note the names of A. Dalhamer, L. Oppenheimer, C. Miller, L. Kaufman, and others, under whose direction the occasion promises to be directly conducted refreshing and agreeable. We acknowledge the courtesy of an invitation.

Millard Fillmore has declared in favor of Gen. McClellan, but refuses to make speeches, saying that he has retired permanently from politics.

Additional via Mobile

[illegible] H.C. Hartman has been [illegible]

A Rumor from Pensacola.

The Mobile Tribune, of the 3d, says:

Yesterday evening and the morning there was a rumor that Pensacola had taken Pulaski, Tenn., and with it two or three thousand prisoners. The telegraph up to the time of our writing, has not got us to confirm this rumor.

We published on Monday a dispatch of the Mobile Nashville, which said nothing of the capture of Pulaski. Intrenched that harrest, with 800 men, was at Stone's Hill, a point halfway between Stone's Hill and Pulaski, which place it was feared would probably reach Mobile sooner than Nashville.

Description of the Blockade Runner.

We learn from the Williamsburg Journal that the steamer of the same name, the blockade runner, which was lately burned in Hermanus, with a cargo of over 1000 bales of cotton, was lost on this account account. She had on board 1000 bales belonging to the Government. Some of the cotton was saved, pilfered and burned. It is said that the steamer, and the cotton, cost the Government more than it cost.

Sentence of Mr. Burns.

We learn from the Williamsburg Journal that the sentence of the case of the time, the blockade runner, Burns, was yesterday received. Mr. Burns had paid in gold, and bonded for Hermanus, with a cargo of over 1000 bales of cotton, on his own account account. She had on board 1000 bales belonging to the Government. Some of the cotton was saved, pilfered and burned. It is said that the steamer, and the cotton, cost the Government more than it cost.

Desertion of the Yankee Steamer.

We learn from the Williamsburg Journal that the steamer of the same name, the blockade runner, Burns, was yesterday received. Mr. Burns had paid in gold, and bonded for Hermanus, with a cargo of over 1000 bales of cotton, on his own account account. She had on board 1000 bales belonging to the Government. Some of the cotton was saved, pilfered and burned. It is said that the steamer, and the cotton, cost the Government more than it cost.

Sentence of Mr. Burns.

We learn from the Williamsburg Journal that the sentence of the case of the time, the blockade runner, Burns, was yesterday received. Mr. Burns had paid in gold, and bonded for Hermanus, with a cargo of over 1000 bales of cotton, on his own account account. She had on board 1000 bales belonging to the Government. Some of the cotton was saved, pilfered and burned. It is said that the steamer, and the cotton, cost the Government more than it cost.

Office 73 Chartres street.

NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 13, 1864.

Vol. XVII—New Series, Vol. XXVI—Whole No. 13,254.

Order for the Non-Consumption, Frugal and Public Employment and Support of Refugee Negroes.

HEADQUARTERS, MILITARY DIVISION OF WEST MISSISSIPPI, New Orleans, La., October 11th, 1864.

General Orders No. 38.

The subjoined extract from a dispatch from Henry W. Allen, flying hither from Opelousas, in Louisiana, to the Rebel Secretary of War, is published for general information.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Shreveport, La., September 26, 1864.

Hon. James A. Seddon, Sec'y War, Richmond, Va.

My dear Sir—

The Cajuns have begun to put out flags in every white-looking house in my district. They should be from immediately, or Cajuns, should, as the coming report, Cajuns, is the most important question. This negro labor that he cannot remain nonsupporting is the power of the enemy. He must depend on capital, and the enemy, if he cannot get it, will have to feed the negroes. We must rely