[COMMUNICATION.]

IN THESE DAYS OF PATENT QUACKERY, when it seems every hour brings forth some sovereign cure for all the ills to which flesh is heir to, it is a great cause of congratulation that a medicine possessing real merit has been able to make its way into popular favor and that the abilities seen in the medical profession have stamped it with their cordial approval. The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the commercial metropolis of the South, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertions or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half million bottles, and from its unusual and rapid increase for three years past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold for the mere medical properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to the effect in all cases of systematic debilitating nature and the diseases resulting therefrom. This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of puffing the qualities of the bitters, but a solid estimation of a valuable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

During the summer and fall the vicinity of most of our American streams is rendered extremely unhealthy by the deadly malaria. In the south and West this is especially the case. In those sections of country where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have constituted the chief ailments, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a blessing to all who have tried them. Testimonials innumerable have been given, establishing the fact that the magical powers of the bitters in conducting the system safely through the ensuing one digestive organs and strengthen the whole system and thus arming the body against the inclement weather and its attendant evils.

The summer in all parts of the Union brings with it certain complaints, the most prominent of which are those of the bowels which greatly increase the discomfort and danger of the season. The summer is apparently flushed with health and vigor, to all the extent in fruits of various kinds, and thus superadded to the fatigue of the season, but the fruit of itself will operate upon the system of those who are sanguine and cause such an excitation that disease is sure to follow. The bitters have been found a speedy and certain remedy for affections of this description and when used regularly during warm weather a positive preventative against sickness from such causes. Indeed, it is entirely on account of its tonic properties which are particularly efficacious in cases in diarrhea and dysentery, that Hostetter's Bitters has achieved such a wide reputation; hundreds of persons have been restored to health by the timely use of this remedy, when all others known to physicians have failed. It operates upon the stomach, liver and bowels, and regulates them mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature. As a cure for diarrhea and dysentery, there is nothing that can be compared with these celebrated bitters for certainty of relief. Persons of sedentary habits are often driven to the use of intoxicating liquors by bodily weakness, and the lack of some harmless stimulant, but many of our fellow citizens will find in Hostetter's stomach bitters precisely the article they require. It is potent as a tonic, and quite palatable to the most fastidious taste and is free from the enfeebled faculties of the system with a stimulating effect, chase the spirits, dispelling that melancholy feeling which is too apt to attend physical lassitude, and yet without creating a natural appetite for drink. Literary men and others whose occupation compels them to do mental labor, require exercise and fresh air, will do well to try this gentle stimulant before having recourse to stimulants that are more dangerous. None of the best and brightest men who have contributed to the glory of this country would have seen spared a great deal of suffering and reserved from untimely graves if they had resorted to the cup of sorrow to HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS. In the hour of prostration of spirits and nervous debility, resort to it. By to the maddening bowl, in which they find but poison. As a subtle foe, to cure, the bitters must be considered invaluable.

The ailments incident to old age are numerous and extremely trying. The majority of them, however, are the consequence of the weakening effect of years upon the organs concerned in digestion. A stomach which has been too severely tested by lucigous or in epicurean gratification, especially when we attain the steady side of life, and such disorders that follow can only be corrected by the use of some antidote, such as people such as are contained in Hostetter's Bitters. The most powerful remedies will accomplish the desired end, without leaving results more to be dreaded than the disease. Elderly persons may use the bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a salutary protector against the ever-forming infirmity years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic and rejuvenating generally. We know of a number of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from kidney disease, dyspepsia and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of the bitters. If the bitters had a decisive and vital influence in the matter, they would place Hostetter's Bitters among the greatest blessings medical science has ever conferred upon the human race. A few words to the reader are sufficient. There are certain periods when the ill effects are so harrassing that many of them sink under the pain. There are no mother and child is so absorbing tender, that the mother is so anxiously desirous of her young to spit to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Both the period of maternity arrive during the summer, and the wear of body and mind is generally aggravate. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to support her exhausting trials and keep sickness at bay. Hostetter's Bitters will answer the purpose better than any other medicine with which we are acquainted, and to prevent the prostrated pale sufferer having recourse to pernicious drugs, which then endanger the health of both mother and child. Nursing mothers generally prefer the bitters to all other medicines and receive the endorsement of physicians because it is accessible to the taste as well as it is certain to give a permanent increase of bodily health.

During the oppressive and exhausting heat of the day, it is always healthful and pleasant even as a beverage, especially when taken with ice water which it seems to neutralize and prevents any bad effects from over-indulgence in which is too often the case in excessive warm weather.

The Bitters have been thoroughly tested in the most it portions of the South, where the sun has a most debilitating effect, and it is extremely pertinent to indulge in the kind of spirituous stimulants such as we now have.

All those persons to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhea, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases of derangements of the stomach, supernatural in valid, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own psychical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters the same trial which they have received in other regions of the Union, and after such a test we have no doubt they will accord the preference to any other medicine.

Caution should be exercised by persons purchasing Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to see that every bottle has the fac simile of the Proprietor's signature on the label which, no doubt, the fear of imposition must has prevented being put on any of the counterfeits that for brought to notice. Also notice the name, Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is blown on the side of the bottles, and stamped on the cap covering the cork.

All orders for the genuine article of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters must be addressed to the proprietors,

HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburg, Pa.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF

Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in Miasmatic emanations, distilled by the malaria of unhealthy countries.

No one remedy is better called for by the necessities of the human people than a cure and safeguard for Fever and Ague. And as we have now perfected an ague cure, with a perfect certainty that it will eradicate the disease, I feel with confidence, founded on proof that no harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

That which protects from or prevents this disorder must be a valuable preventive of the disease, where it prevails. Prevention is better than cure, for the pallid tenants the risk which he must run to violent attacks of his malady disturber. The "Ocean" expels the miasmatic poison of fever and ague from the system and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach or on premonitory symptoms. It is not the best remedy ever yet discovered for this class of complaints, but the best that the large quantity we supply, or a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in bilious districts, where Fever and Ague prevails, every body should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection. It is hoped this price will place it within the reach of all—the poor as well as the rich. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of intermittents is, that it contains no quinine or other injurious ellements, between the commencement. Those cured by it are left in health and not worse than before taking it.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from the same cause, such as Palpitation, Pain, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Gravel, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Colic, Paralysis and Derangement of the Stomach, and of each, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type. Ayer's Ague Cure, or "Ocean" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to be made and persons traveling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will prevent the fever in the system, and cannot contaminate in self and quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and how will any suffer from intermittents if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords are so compound that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or even them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, restoring its healthy action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of their properties, the world who is bowed down with pain or sickness, or is unnatural, is and has been by the energy restored by a remedy as once so simple and loving.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our latest almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache, arising from Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and the numerous ailments arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions. They are an exceedingly attractive for the renovation of the blood and the restoration of health and strength to the system debilitated by disease.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its resources, and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons who have known, who have been restored from alarming and dangerous diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over other medicines of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and as its virtues become known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrown upon the market have failed and been discarded, this has gained ground by every trial, conferring benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and protected cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Ayer's Ague Cure, or "Ocean" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to be made and persons traveling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will prevent the fever in the system, and cannot contaminate in self and quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and how will any suffer from intermittents if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords are so compound that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or even them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, restoring its healthy action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of their properties, the world who is bowed down with pain or sickness, or is unnatural, is and has been by the energy restored by a remedy as once so simple and loving.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our latest almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache, arising from Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and the numerous ailments arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions. They are an exceedingly attractive for the renovation of the blood and the restoration of health and strength to the system debilitated by disease.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its resources, and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons who have known, who have been restored from alarming and dangerous diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over other medicines of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and as its virtues become known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrown upon the market have failed and been discarded, this has gained ground by every trial, conferring benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and protected cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
