THE NORTH FOR CUBA.

The South has for years been nearly unanimous in desiring the acquisition of Cuba. The conservatives have been anxious to see that island pass from the dominion of Spain to that of the United States by peaceful negotiation and purchase; the filibusters were for war for Panama, but the Tribune, of the 22d instant, declares the report untrue, and adds that Walker has been concealed in that city for the past month, consulting with a prominent steamship owner. Next we have a dispatch stating that General Walker had arrived at Savannah on the 22d on board a steamer called the Catherine Maria. The Savannah papers themselves have no allusion whatever to him, but publish without contradiction a telegram stating that he passed through Louisville on the 23d.—Finally, we hear from Cincinnati that he was in that city on the 22d—so that Walker was in New York, had left New York for Panama, had reached Savannah, passed through Louisville, and arrived at Cincinnati, all on the same day!! This is the most astounding piece of traveling we have ever heard of. It more than equals Baron Munchausen's celebrated voyage across the Mediterranean from the muzzle of a thirty-two pounder.

TROUBLE BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND PARAGUAY.—A correspondent of the New York Express, writing from Buenos Ayres, under date of July 30, states that difficulties may be apprehended between Lopez and England, as well as between the United States and Paraguay. Mr. Christie, the British Minister, we received by Lopez in a manner not relished by the former, inasmuch as Lopez wore his hat. Christie complained officially. Lopez responded that Queen Victoria wore her crown and robes of State when she received foreign ministers, and the President of Paraguay considered that he had a similar right to wear his hat, which took the place of the ensign of royalty displayed by the Queen. The Minister demanded his passports and took passage in a small English merchant steamer, the Little Polly. On its way down the river it was run into, apparently by design, by the Tacuari, a Paraguay war steamer. The Little Polly sunk immediately, the passengers saving their lives by clambering on board the Tacuari, the British Minister being at the time not only in unofficial, but in undress costume (it was night.) The feelings of the British Minister may be more easily imagined than described, and if a British fleet visits this country, Mr. Christie will be very apt to find plenty of employment for it.

CENSURABLE.—Not a few days ago Collector Schell, of the New York Custom-House, addressed a letter to the several administration members of Congress in that city, requesting them to transmit to him the names of such friends as they wished to be appointed to office, and of such persons as they desired to be removed. This very discreditable letter has been sharply rebuked in various quarters. Even the well known Democratic correspondent of the Baltimore Sun speaks of it in the following merited and indignant terms:

As business men in great establishments apply to their selection of agents or operatives not their partisanship, but only their of honesty and capacity, so also should the business of governments, whether general, state or municipal, be subject to the same law. The whole people of this country desire that those performing their business in the Departments here, and in custom houses otherwise, should be fit for their duties, and that no partisanship should override the facts of ability, integrity, and experience. In this view, what man of character is not thoroughly disgusted by a publication from the chief of an office at New York, (which belongs to the whole people of the country, not to the city or State of New York even, and much less to partisan leaders) in which a publication sounds the depths of political and personal subordination, by asking three or four partisan Congressmen for lists of persons whom they desire to have appointed to office, and also lists of names of persons whom they wish removed. Can partisanship essay a lower depth of debasement than this, or can public interest and sense of right be more flagrantly outraged?

MOSBY AND HARRWITZ.—The reported defeat of our chess champion by Mr. Harrwitz, at Paris, proves to be simply the loss of the first game in the match, after a contest which lasted three hours.

TEXAS.—By the steamer Matagorda, from Sabine Pass, via Galveston, we have received Texas papers to the 24th inst., one day later. The fever still lingers in Galveston, but the mortality is declining. The journals contain but little news. The Cretian has the following:

The contract for erecting the railroad bridge was awarded by the City Council to Mr. Carwin, for $100,000. Messrs. Kyle & Terry's bid was $80,000, and Mr. Cooper's $105,000.

A man named W. K. Harris was killed at Post Oak, Bexar county, a few days since, by another named Bennett Bell, in a dispute about a horse race. The weapon used was a pair of blackstraws of tongs. Bell was arrested.

YELLOW FEVER AT THE BALIZE.—The Plaquemines Rice Planter says:

We regret to hear that many of our friends at the Balize and Southwest Pass have been called to their last accounts by this enemy of mankind. It is said that the disease has been principally confined to those who were most exposed to the inclemency of the weather. We sincerely hope that it may soon disappear from amongst them, and that the few warm-hearted and generous souls that still exist in our parish.

POLICE OFFICER MURDERED IN BALTIMORE.—We take the following from the Baltimore Clipper of the 24th instant:

A second murder for the present week took place shortly after 11 o'clock on Wednesday night, at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Biddle street. At the hour above named, a number of persons, of unenviable reputation, assembled and proceeded to a house on Biddle street, near the avenue, where, from the effects of too much liquor, they began to riot and disturb the parties engaged dancing therein. One of the company jumped into the window of the house, which caused the occupants to run into the street and call for the police.

A number of officers, among whom was Benjamin Benton, responded to the call and arrested several of the rioters. Officers Benton and Rigdon took hold of David Hook, and were forcing him along to the station house, when a man named Henry Gambrill came up and discharged his pistol at Benton, the ball from which passed through the back part of his neck, below the base of the brain, and produced instant death. The party committing the act, with Mr. Gambrill, has been arrested as the murderer.

A YOUTHFUL MAIL ROBBER.—The Indianola (Texas) Courier, speaks of the arrest of the German youth, Dammert, who has been detected as the perpetrator of the heavy robberies of the mails for San Antonio, thus describes this young robber, who is only fifteen years old:

A more simple, unsophisticated creature we have rarely ever seen. He is a German, who as parents life in San Antonio, and not speaking even the rudiments of an English education, and why the Postmaster at San Antonio should have ever employed him at that department we have never yet learned. He was frequently interrogated as to why and how he had abstracted the drafts, &c., which he had cashed in this city, but he responded without hesitation. He said that it was his intention to go back to his uncle in Germany, and that use the drafts in this country, believing they would be converted into money there without any sort of difficulty. He was handed a sealed letter by one of our citizens, and asked to show how he opened letters without mutilating them. He took out his knife and in a moment's time opened it with the greatest dexterity, not mutilating it in the slightest. He was frequently asked if he had not accomplices. He stated most positively that he human being except himself knew any thing of his speculations.

The usual way of making money out of a spree is that described as follows by the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table, in the story of a Massachusetts "King of the Shoe Dealers:"

Years ago, when lived at Milford, not half as rich as he is now, and of course not half as respectable, he went to a militia training at Worcester. The Maine Law was not then thought of in the "Bay State," and the liquor circulated freely. Our friend entering into the spirit of the scene, "treated" every body—himself not excepted. Two or three days after, he returned to Milford, and putting a bold face on the matter, walked into Deacon T——'s shop, and cried out: "Well, Deacon, I made $150 by going to Worcester!" The strong Yankee curiosity kept back the solemn lecture in store, and looking at him, as his appearance gave more signs of an aching head than a full pocket, the Deacon asked, "How?" "Why," said the returned prodigal, "I had a spree worth $250, and it only cost me a hundred." (He doesn't take account of stock in that way now a days.)

SWAPPING WIVES.—The Danville Transcript says: A friend informs us that an occurrence in Patrick county came to his knowledge a few days since, which we consider decidedly rich. Two of the citizens of that county had State, having each about a half dozen children, concluded to make a swap of an unheard of character. One proposed to exchange wives, but the other, thinking his wife the most likely woman, said he must have something to boot. It was finally agreed that the one should give the other two and a half bushels of potatoes, and the swap was made. This, we doubt not, is a fact to which our friend can furnish vouchers.

She is red-bottomed, but a screw steamer. The only other steamer from New York likely to be in that locality is the North Star, which sailed on the 11th, and she is copper-bottomed.

Great Cure, after the Physicians had Failed.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ohio, July 10, 1858.

Dr. C. M. Jackson: Dear Sir—We would inform you that we are out of Hoffman's German Bitters, which are very ready sale. One of our neighbors has been doctoring for some time (we think about two years, and all the doctors in the country), but all to no avail. He looked as much like a dead man going about, as any thing we can compare him to. His disease appeared to be an complaint of the gall. With hard persuasion, we prevailed on him to try your Bitters, with the promise to him, that if it did no good, we would charge him nothing for it, provided he took six bottles according to the direction, which he has done, and is now entirely cured, and has become a well man. This cure has created a great sale in this neighborhood." Respectfully,

EDWARDS & BENNER.

Ask for Hoofland's German Bitters, and take nothing else. See that the signature of C. M. Jackson is on the wrapper of each bottle. These bitters are manufactured by Dr. C. M. Jackson, No. 418 Arch street, Philadelphia, and are sold by druggists and storekeepers in every town and village in the United States, Canadas, West Indies and South America, at 75 cents per bottle.
