We understand, also, that the General has removed both Boards of Levee Commissioners

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY NAVIGATION COMPANY.—At a meeting of the Directors of this Company, held at their office in this city yesterday, additional Directors were elected, constituting the Board as follows: D DeHaven, Leo Crandall, F Baker, J. D. Strong, Thomas G Rhett, D C Martin, John A. A West, R Alex McCombie, J Benj Chandler, Ed H Castle, W. Evelyn, O E Hall, J. W. Fairfax and H. Peralta.

Capt. De Haven is President of the Company, Mr Strong Vice President, Col Crandall Treasurer, Mr D C. Martin Secretary, Mr Baker Superintendent, and Judge Alexander Walker Attorney.

Capt. De Haven, the leading spirit of this enterprise, and we know from his long experience in boating, leaves this evening for our Western and Northern cities, and wherever he goes we bespeak for him the attention of capitalists and the good offices of the press in furtherance of the undertaking in which he is earnestly enlisted, one which we have carefully investigated and believe to be eminently calculated to succeed in effecting a wonderful and desirable revolution in the great interests of our river navigation

We understand that over $100,000 of the stock of this Company has already been taken in this city. It is attracting considerable attention abroad, and we shall certainly hail the advent of the proposed first steamer of the line, the Alpha, as a great event in our commercial progress.

A BENEFIT—Among the first to come forward to aid the sufferers by overflow, were Messrs. Spalding & Bidwell of the Academy of Music, who have offered a benefit to the land able object. An "Academy" benefit must produce a handsome sum. No announcement has yet been made, but we are informed that Monday evening next has been designated as the benefit night. The money will go to the Relief Committee, we presume, probably the best way of relieving immediate and pressing wants Let us give the Academy a jam on this occasion

AMUSEMENTS.

VARIETIES THEATRE—To-night, we regret to state, closes the theatrical season of this excellent establishment The worthy and enterprising manager, Mr Floyd, takes his farewell benefit, appearing in his great role in the popular Irish drama of "Arrah na Pogue," in which Mrs. Chanfrau assists in her excellent rendition of the character of Arrah. We expect to see the Varieties crowded to its utmost capacity.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC—There will be a noon and night performance at the Academy, including the new feature of a grand promenade concert in the Museum Hall just prior to the raising of the curtain. Alex Zanfrola repeats his inimitable representation of the affecting character of "Jocko the Brazilian Ape." Miss Eva Brent sings some of her exquisite airs—Harry Mac rthy and Miss Estelle appear in their popular and attractive personation concert selections; Johnny Thompson in his capital songs and dances; Lacy and Miss Reynolds in comic duetts, and the charming Zavistowski and Chiostop Sisters in several fascinating bijou divertisements.

By the way we hope there will be an overflowing house for the benefit of the Inundated sufferers of the State Monday night

The prize silver trumpet offered last night was drawn by Mechanical Fire Company No 6

MURDER IN GALVESTON—Last Sunday two white men, Green and Parker, quarreled about a colored girl who had played the mistress of both, and the result was that Parker drew a revolver and killed his rival in the girl's presence He was arrested by the military and turned over to the civil authorities.

Terrible Disaster.

STEAMER SARAH IS STRUCK BY A SQUALL AND LOSES HER CABIN—ONE LIFE LOST.

[From the Mobile Advertiser of May 1.]

We received, at a late hour, last evening, the following letter from Capt. Stone, of the steamer Sarah, which details the disaster so clearly and fully, that we can do no better than publish it, as received

The Sarah arrived about nine o'clock, last evening. Capt Stone writes as follows:

OFF BOARD STEAMER S. SARAH, Mobile, May 1, 1867.

Messrs Editors—Yesterday afternoon, at 5 45, the steamer Sarah was struck by a violent tornado near Pascagoula. The steamer was blown down over two feet under water, and being broadside to the wind, the engines and rudder had no effect upon her She remained in this position perhaps a minute, and then her entire cabin and upper works were blown over board, carrying ten persons with it One of these ten clung to some portion of the wreck and was pulled on board again One other was pulled up on a piece of floating wreck Eight lives were lost, viz: Mr. George Jones, pilot, Chas Mettee, steerman, James M Galahan, clerk; Miss Jennie Tibbets and Mrs Geo O Farrell The chambermaid was also lost, and two passengers, whose names are unknown to us, as the list was lost with the clerk Our waiter boy, who had been to visit her sick in Mobile, and the other was a Frenchman The tornado, or squall, struck the boat without any warning whatever, and everything was done to secure the lives of those overboard A boat was sent after the wreck as soon as possible, and diligent search was made over every portion of it, but the steward was the only one who had succeeded in gaining a place on it. Doubtless the cabin in its fall stunned the unfortunate people, and they were not able to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the wreck to save their lives. A boat was dispatched to Pascagoula to convey the sad tidings to General O'Ferrell, who was there awaiting his wife, and shortly after daylight this morning several boats were out visiting the various localities in search of the missing ones, but with no success.

S G STONE,
Captain of steamer Sarah.

P S—The same squall tore up the wharf at Pascagoula, and tore up trees in the adjacent woods. It also capsized a sloop, by which accident six lives were lost S O S.

THE INJUNCTIONS—OPINIONS OF CHARLES O'CONOR AND CALEB CUSHING—Mr Charles O'Conor expresses himself as thoroughly satisfied that an injunction will issue to restrain the commission of the Reconstruction measures against the parties embraced by the Georgia bill, and he declares that the court cannot evade the question without disgrace. The Southern States, he argues, have the same constitutional status as before the war; that to maintain that status was the object of the war, as repeatedly resolved by Congress, and it is as idle for any person or persons to attempt to impair the fact as it would be to question the fact of the existence of the Union itself. Mr Cushing advances the opinion that the Supreme Court will issue against the Secretary of War, more than it can against the President himself, because the official acts of that Secretary are the executive acts of the President, and the Secretary is the executive agent of the President; hence it is that the courts have always held that the writ of mandamus will not lie against the heads of any of the executive departments to do any act in the performance of which is within the official discretion.

The London Times remarks that the recent treaty for the relinquishment of Russian territory to the United States, "is the first time that such a cession has been concluded from a territory which it has once acquired."

Two young Indian holding canvasses over the visages of a new dress: "And does it fit your noble son?" "Fit! Yes, as if I'd been nailed and painted on it."

Reclaimed women to the number of 1,200 have been provided for by the London midnight movement.

Washington, May 3.—Judge Underwood, District Attorney Chandler, and Mr Davis attorney, Mr O'Conor, are in the city, for the purpose of consulting Stanbery regarding the habeas corpus for Mr. Davis.

If the Government obeys the writ, which is expected, bail will be tendered, and the prisoner enlarged.

Internal Revenue receipts $1,300,000.

Stanton is better to-day; attended Cabinet meeting.

Walker addressed the Supreme Court three hours to day His speech was a masterly effort. He said Constitutional liberty and self government are now on the ballot, and it was about to be decided for posterity and all the world whether written Constitutions were parchment scrolls, or words written in sand to be swept away by the first angry surge of popular passion, and whether they can be evaded by technical issues on plea of want of jurisdiction.

A broader bill of attainder and pains and penalties had never been passed reducing ten millions of loyal and disloyal people to territorial bondage and substituting the gleaming sword and bristling bayonet for Constitutional guards and courts of law

The case was continued till Monday when Stanbery will reply.

Mobile, May 3.—The colored mass Convention of the State which has been in session here two days, adjourned to-day

Delegates stated that negroes, in many instances, had been cheated out of their earnings, and molested and badly treated in the districts they represented, but in some places they had been treated well.

In many instances delegates declared themselves Radicals.

The preamble says: "Whereas, lately the right of suffrage and equal rights have been bestowed on our race, but, before field in boundage In order to secure future political knowledge and protection in our new acquired rights, and Whereas, It seems to be the policy of our political oppressors to use fair or unfair means to prevent our organization as part of the Republican party in Alabama

Resolved, That we pledge ourselves part of the Republican party of the United States and State of Alabama, and that it is with a view to harmony and good understanding, and not to establish a seperate political party, that we are assembled here

The second resolution expresses confidence in the acts and orders of Gens. Pope and Swayne in the discharge of their duty.

The third resolution, in the event of the discharge of colored people by their employers for declining to become their political tools, calls for a standing army for their protection, and declares they will make the condition of the people known to Congress, asking further legislation for their protection even to confiscation.

The fourth resolution declares for peace between the races, and deprecates conduct on the part of employers that necessitates further legislation for protection of the negroes, or further rebellion against the flag and country

Other resolutions recommend establishment of schools, supported by a tax on property, the appointment of military commissions for trial of violations of the Civil Rights bill, the establishment of Union leagues in every county, and that the next convention be held in Montgomery, in June next, and close by declaring that the above represents the sentiments of the convention, pledging their lives, fortunes and sacred honors to the faithful observance of them, and the principles of the Republican party.

The following was then adopted: It is our made table right to hold office, sit on juries, rule in all public conveyances, and sit as public tables and places of amusement.

New York, May 3.—No noticeable change.—Money closed easy, 5 to 6 on Stock, and 4 to 5 on government collaterals. Exchange thirteen hundred dollars, part in gold and part in currency Then, they proceeded to ransack the whole house, carrying off all provisions, meat, ranges, flour, &c. &c

And now commences the tragedy—one before whom humanity should pale with horror!

A young girl, just twelve years and two months old is brutally assaulted by the largest three brutes in human form. Malicious violence is attempted upon the innocent victim, and—we call not relate it further—but the knife of the heartless murderer is called in to aid the satisfaction of his ferocious passions.

The unfortunate victim passes insensible from the arms of one to those of two of his brutal companions, while the last of them commits the violence on the unfortunate mother of the dying girl! And the father! shot at three times, knocked into a corner of the room, a loaded pistol presented at his breast, he is made the terrified witness of the disgrace of his family! The other children, one a girl seven years of age, are witnesses of a like brutal treatment. That little girl is, with imprecations, dashed against the wall; the boys are raised off the ground and thrown down, and kicked until insensible, or hung by the heels to make them tell where money can be found. In fine, after four hours of revelry and riot, amidst blood, plunder and outrage, the miscreants retire from the scene of horror, and make towards the swamps!

The remainder of that horrible night was passed with the utmost silence when brought to the trembling inmates of their desolate home, and when daylight broke upon the fearful scene, the hands, injured, ransacking the premises, discovered the bleeding and unconscious victims With a laudable zeal, they gave them the first succor, and hastened to the nearest assistance to the Freedmen's Hospital, situate some distance up the river

On the facts being brought to the knowledge of the officers in charge of that institution, they hastened to repair to the spot with all the means at their disposal, to rescue the victims and trace up the perpetrators of this outrage.

The people of Mobile and vicinity could not be too grateful to Dr Gray, a United States medical officer in charge of the Hospital, whose indignation at the horrible deed was only equaled by the tender, touching and paternal care which he lavished upon the unfortunate sufferers, chiefly on the almost dying girl, whose horrible wound he tended with the tender heart of a m n, and the skilful hand of a distinguished practitioner.

While thus engaged in those good offices, other parties from the camp and neighborhood arrived in hot pursuit of the infamous wretches, and although many hours had elapsed since their flight, the enraged strangers traced out their track through the woods towards Cottage Hill Road, a distance of two miles; there, the fresh trac of a horse gave them new hopes of coming up with the fugitives, whom they traced up as far as the Cottage Hill and Eslava Bridge Road, where the multitude of traveled tracks caused them to abandon the pursuit for the present

Too condition of the Peters family is still very precarious The young girl has ever since remained in a trance, with burning fever. The mother is hardly any better, and the poor children are bruised and crippled from the odious violence to which they have been subjected. Mr Peters himself is, notwithstanding his age, and his great age, in a better state than could be expected

Let us hope that citizens and soldiers will join in the pursuit of these vile wretches, and if caught, and their guilt proven, a terrible and summary vengeance will be dealt out to them.

All honor, we again ask the protection of the Military Government against the cowardly operations who traffic with impunity in the lives and homes of peaceable citizens, who, prompted by their infamous teachings the terrible events of a time of peace, boast openly that they have cajoled the light officers, and assume to speak in the name of the military, to extradition having jurisdiction from those high sources of power.

Washington, May 3—The Judiciary Committee commence work on Monday, with eight matured compons, at 50 to 57.

In Uncurrent Money we notice sales of $2000 State notes at 86¼c per dollar, and $10,000 do at 83½c, the improvement in the latter being predicated in the presumption that the forthcoming decision of the Supreme Court will be in favor of the constitutionality of the Reconstruction law, imposing a tax of ¼ of one per cent. on gross sales. Bank of Louisiana notes are quoted at 41 to 42c per dollar, and State Treasury notes at 85 to 87c. Dealers pay the inside figures for the small sums offered at their counters many retail dealers receiving them in trade at par City Treasury notes rule at the 10 per cent. discount. They are the general medium of exchange in our local and city trade.

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE BEE,
FRIDAY EVENING, May 3, 1867.

COTTON—Under the gold mining telegraphic accounts published in the morning paper, the market opened with a fair and very general enquiry, and notwithstanding the material enhanced pretensions of holders, the inquiry continued to evince a liberal degree of animation, dull about 1 P. M., when the news dispatches came to hand, followed by a reaction in Liverpool and New York. The immediate effect of this intelligence was to cause a partial cessation of active operations, buyers being disposed to go on unless at material concessions, while factors, on the other hand, were decidedly willing to accept some rates, were decidedly averse to submitting to a lower range of prices. Under these circumstances the sales were less liberal than expected in the early part of the day, or equivalent to the large offers of buyers participating in the business. Prices were irregular and toward the close lower, the sales effected before the news reached outside rates, while the late sold subsequently were at a lower ruling to indefinite quotations Referring to the sales remarks, we are quote nominally as follows: Ordinary 20 to 22c. Good Ordinary 22 to 24c. Low Middling 24 to 25c, and Middling 25c. The sales for the past three days comprise 3,500 bales, against 18,500 last week and 14,500 the week before The receipts proper during the past week, including the arrivals from Mobile, Florida and Texas, embrace 21,000 bales, against 16,000 last week, shipments 12,000 bales, against 10,000 last week, and 8125 to foreign ports.
