NEW POLITICAL MOVEMENT.

[illegible] body adhere on the part of [illegible] conservative men in all sections [illegible] organize a national opposition [illegible] the Democratic party. This feeling [illegible] is decidedly encouraged of late by [illegible] weakness of the administration [illegible] evinced by the failure of some [illegible] measures in Congress, and [illegible] of popular elections. [illegible] has forfeited a portion [illegible] to be conceded by every [illegible] but it does not thence [illegible] opponents will be enabled to [illegible] national party. Nevertheless [illegible] to effect this object has [illegible] though by whom, and under [illegible] purely conjectural. An [illegible] has been prepared [illegible] transmitted to various [illegible] It consists of proposals [illegible] of a political party [illegible] The People's Party of the [illegible] is the programme [illegible]

[illegible] men must have perceived, [illegible] must admit, that, [illegible] causes, some of which have [illegible] years, and others of which [illegible] origin, there is no political [illegible] existing us, co-extensive [illegible] everywhere asserting [illegible] the same political principles [illegible] from sectionalism and [illegible] necessity for such a party [illegible] patriots are [illegible] it. [illegible] QUARTERLY REVIEW.—We are indebted [illegible] Scott & Co., publishers, through [illegible] Exchange Place, for the April [illegible] of this sterling publication.

[illegible] in Parliament has passed to a third reading bill to amend the naturalization laws, reducing the period of residence, [illegible] which foreigners can claim [illegible] from five to three years.

[illegible] MISSISSIPPI.—The Memphis Eagle, [illegible] says: The steamer Vicksburg, which arrived here on Thursday, in the short time of two days, sixteen hours and fifty minutes from New Orleans, had on board two men that had taken a coal boat to New Orleans, and were coming up as passengers on the Vicksburg, one was named Joe McIntire and the other Andy Stone. About midnight on Monday, when the boat was near Bob's Bluff, Stone, who was drunk at the time, jumped on McIntyre, and, with a bowie knife, cut him in twenty seven places. The man's life is despaired of. They will both be taken to Louisville.

[illegible] Jackson.

A Mr. Starkevant, of Cleveland, Ohio, asserts that he can bring bees forward two months earlier by the very simple process of feeding them with unboiled rye meal, placed on boards near the hive. They "pitch into it at once." As of late years bee keeping has become a favorite and great source of amusement with thousands—as no class of "pets" can, in these respects, be compared to them—it is not impossible that a knowledge of the facts above mentioned may prove acceptable to many. Bees are like trees—it costs very little to start them, they maintain themselves with very little attention, they are pleasant to observe, and in the end profitable.

Throughout the rest of the city, and on the general ticket, the Americans have prevailed.

CRIME OR POLTROONERY.—Hearing it intimated that some of the disreputable characters who have been filling "a large space in the public eye" as thieves and scoundrels, for some time past, were even now needing out the regular police, we took the pains, yesterday, to question Col. Jacquemin, the new Chief of Police, on the subject. He answered almost positively, that such was not and would not be the case—that no such characters would be countenanced among the police force of the city. This announcement the new Chief of Police only confirmed that report which has begun to circulate throughout the community, to the effect that the Vigilance Committee would not be disbanded, but that its organization would be perpetuated by the Mayor elect, and that the Vigilance Committee would be recognized and generally recognized, by the Mayor elect, on the morning of the 3d, 4th, 17th, 23d, and 24th.

the most trying circumstances, where courage, prudence, and all the other qualities of a commander were essential.

Without disparagement to other aspirants, we may say that we know of no one who would make a better Chief of Police, particularly at the present juncture, than Colonel Jacquemin. Gentlemen, we think, should always administer in public offices, and we can think of no one just now who would fill all the duties of the Chief of Policeship with more of the manliness in mode and the further ex ne than Col. Jacquemin. We certainly desire to see some such gentleman called to so responsible a position.

We are sorry to add in this connection that Captain John Youngs, than whom no gentleman could be selected of better qualifications for taking charge of the police, and perfecting a thorough system of its organization, declines the position, though every inducement has been held out to him of ample remuneration by doubling the usual salary of the office. We are pleased to add, however, that Captain Youngs has voluntarily proposed to lend a large portion of his valuable time and talents to co-operate for the public good, with whatever gentleman Colonel Stith may appoint to the Chief of Policeship. This argues nobly for his interest in the city's welfare, and is, we hope, an index of the general feeling on the subject of the preservation of law and order.

RECORDER BRONN'S COURT.—The Mayor elect being in his place, Assistant Recorder Rolland entered his plea. George Hagan was committed for examination on the charge of having murdered the German on Thalia street, on Tuesday night. William Davis was also held to answer the charge of having killed Patrick Waters, on Tuesday night. Revere Highlands, arrested by Lieut. Lagarde, of the Third District, was discharged from the jail, committed for examination on the 15th instant.

RECORDER.—We hear it rumored that Judge Hunt, of the Criminal Court, intends to charge his jury against the members of the Vigilance Committee; that members of the Vigilance Committee, if they continue now in the contents of the Third District, is a starving and dying condition; that members are call the Vigilance Committee and the Vigilance; that Recorder Bronn, of the Third District, has decided to hold his office any longer; and that some of the records of the Sixth District Court have disappeared from the Vigilance which is in possession. Time will show whether these rumors are well-founded or not.

We allude to this rumor about the destruction of the Court records only as something to be borne in mind, not by way of reflection upon the Vigilance Committee. We would be far from charging that Committee, and, with what we think perhaps the unquestionable respect a few of its members, who were perhaps unnecessarily interrupted in some two or three cases, of which the records are said to have been destroyed, and recalled discussions of the organization of the Vigilance in other their destruction.

[illegible] Mr. Brown, Clerk of the Sixth Criminal Court, had brought into Court the keys of the Vigilance, and claim, or claim has [illegible] Committee of New Orleans, [illegible] for damages against the Committee, and has entered, by attachment in the premises, upon the court used by the Vigilance Committee, and has ordered the Committee to hear all the damages sustained by the recent disturbance, having recovered, however, against the Vigilance, or whatever body appears to have acted beyond the pale of law and authority.

STOP "BONNER."—The rumor which obtained some wide conjectural importance in the city yesterday, that a German had been "bonnered" and killed at the corner of Thalia and Tchoupitoulas streets, Tuesday night, was found to be a mere fabrication. Coroner Delaney, to have been utterly unfounded. The deceased, who is an entire stranger, he says, to any one in the city, was found dead on the sidewalk, and from the appearance of the wounds, he concludes that he was knocked down by a heavy blow, or blows, and then, in the darkness, fell from the sidewalk, and thus received the injuries which caused his death
