NOMINATION OF THE NATIONAL CONVENTION
FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM H. HARRISON,
OF OHIO.
FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JOHN TYLER,
OF VIRGINIA.

NEW-ORLEANS:
FRIDAY MORNING, FEB'Y. 28 1840.

THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT, under the corrupt rule of the reigning dynasty, is a stupendous instrument of executive power. A banded corps of thirty-five thousand unscrupulous placemen is retained by the administration, on the express condition that it shall contribute, by its zeal and activity, to the promotion of the interests of the party. Among the signal services rendered by this department to the cause of loco-focoism, is the sedulous care which it displays in the dissemination of every speech, pamphlet and news-paper calculated to benefit Mr. VAN BUREN; and the habitual and doubtless intentional neglect to forward why documents of every kind to their destination.

As an evidence of this alarming fact, we have the authority of the Madisonian that large packages of that valuable journal have been lately returned to the office, with the direction destroyed, and the paper rendered worthless by mutilation. Our subscribers, say the editor, complain and threaten bitterly. What is to be done! One post-master writes us that such a man don't want the Madisonian; the same subscriber complains that he don't receive the Madisonian. The Globe sends its thousands of circulars to every post-master in the Union; and they attend to them wil alacrity. If we should attempt the same thing, our papers would either be burnt, or returned with double postage. Thus has the government fallen into hands which administer it for the benefit of one party,—the reign of terror, like that when Mr. JEFFERSON declared he would not trust a letter in the post-office, he returned upon us.

To what a tale of corruption and crime is this simple statement the clue! The general government and its agents systematically engaged in the attempt to keep the people in the darkness of ignorance, by suppressing every document that may tend to enlighten them.—This is not the first time that the whig press has exposed the shameful outrage upon popular liberty, and it is only among the many means devised by the tools of power to perpetuate their influence, and hide their dark doings from the public gaze. Last summer the post-master-general suppressed two post-offices in Simpson county, Miss., because they were the medium through which the independent whig journals of the state diffused important information, in regard to the misdeeds of the administration. The loco-loco functionaries who presided over these offices, wrote to Amos KENDALL, that there were received four whig papers to one democratic journal, whereupon the magnanimous Amos immediately Amos issued his imperial mandate, commanding the discontinuance of the offices.

was a high crime and misdemeanor on the part of the citizens of Simpson county, to prefer the clumsy editions of the whig journals to the "democracy undefiled" of the executive's retainers, and they were punished for their offence, by being deprived of the privilege of a post-office.

Take another instance of this infamous system. In Tennessee the Madisonian and National Intelligencer enjoy an extensive circulation. During the violent political excitement preceding the election last August, not a Madisonian nor an Intelligencer could be found. The subscribers complained warmly of being neglected. The editors assured their patrons in Tennessee that their paper were regularly forwarded. But still they were never received. Not a copy of the Madisonian, of which the vigorous and well timed articles were especially headed, was to be encountered throughout the breadth and length of the state. The elections once over, and locofocoism triumphant, the voice of murmur was stilled. The whig papers were allowed free passage.

Comment upon this tyrannical curtailment of the rights of the people is unnecessary. If the freemen of this country are unwilling to tolerate this unmitigated knavery and high-handed usurpation of power, let them answer at the polls.

The resolutions said to have been adopted by the locofoco convention, on the 22d inst., have at length been prepared for publication, and last evening adorned the columns of the Courier. The convention see ms to have been more occupied in culling from the Globe the stale slanders and choice morceaux of unadulterated vituperation which that flagitious press has vomited upon General HARRISON, than in setting forth the claims of VAN BUREN to the confidence which he now disgraces.

These resolutions are deemed to sink into the lowest abyss of detraction without serving other purpose than that of disgusting many of the partizans of the administration from a cause which requires to be propped up by heaping abuse upon a long tried and faithful public servant. There is one of them that must live exciting the risibles of the committee whilst drafting it. It commends upon the equivocal relations between the United States and Great Britain, and states that the democrats would be disheartened and humiliated if at such a crisis Gen'l H. should be president. What kind of a war president would VAN BUREN make? Let the Florida war answer. In case of difficulty with Great Britain the energy would be found without the use of Van's "dogs of war."

ST. CHARLES THEATRE.

The performances at this establishment for the last week or two have been very creditable. Madame Lecorsin with her troupe de ballet, and Mr. Sinclair have been delighting the theatre goers on alternate nights, with splendid dancing and exquisite singing. The theatre has now an additional attraction in that most graceful and accomplished performer Balfe.

The acquisition to the regular company, comprising as it does such performers as J. M. Field and his charming wife, Barrett and Barton, and Miss Melton, have rendered the St. Charles very attractive. And, taking into consideration the hard times and the absence of the usual allowance of visitors from abroad, the proprietor has been tolerable patronized. The pieces which have been lately got up were such as permitted the manager to dispense with the services of some of the stock company, whose habitual obliviousness and inattention marred every performance in which they took a part.

Mr. and Mrs. Field have grown space in the good opinion of the New Orleans audience. Mr. Caldwell could not do better than engage them for the next winter's campaign. Mr. Melton, too, has many admirers. Brown in comedy is sometimes quite good and one or two others occasionally get through their parts (when they try) in passable style. Of the balance—the least said is soonest mended.

LADIES COMPANION.—We are informed by Mr CURNS, No. 13 Exchange place, for the February number of this agreeable periodical. The eleventh volume complete may be secured at his esta lishment.

At a meeting of the whigs of Catahoula, held at Harrisonburg, on the 15th inst., SAM'L. GLENN and CHARLES JONES were appointed delegates to the state convention, to convene in this city, on the first Monday in March.

SAM'L GLENN was selected as a candidate to represent the parish of Catahoula in the next legislature.—The meeting unanimously in the nomination made by the parish of Rapides, of Mr. BAILLIO, as candidate for the senate.

Messrs. GEO. S. GUION, AUBIN THEODEAU and D. POYFER BIBB have been appointed by the whigs of Lafourche delegates to the state convention, to be held in this city on the first Monday in March.

At the whig meeting in Mobile, on the 22d, Maj. MAYRANT stated that whilst at the White Sulphur Springs, a short time before the last presidential election, GEN'L HARRISON bring there at the time, a committee was appointed by a number of southern gentlemen to interrogate him concerning his views in relation to the domestic institutions of the south. The committee consisted of GEN'L WADE HAMPTON, Hon. WILLIAM S. ARCHER and himself (Maj. MAYRANT.) They waited upon the OLD HERO, and ascertained that his opinions and sentiments in regard to the slave question were perfectly orthodox, and all that the south could wish!

ALABAMA.—The whig meeting in Mobile on the 22d inst. was a brilliant affair. Governor GAYLE, Mr. LANGDON and Maj. MAYRANT, delivered addresses upon the occasion. There is to be a state convention at Tuscaloosa in June. The whigs of the state seem to be animated with a noble determination to do or die at the presidential election.

The enthusiasm of the great west for HARRISON, is increasing daily. Preparations were made at Columbus, Ohio, for the reception of ten thousand delegates, expected to attend the state convention, on the 22d inst. We learn from a private letter, that 25,000 copies of Judge Burnett's speech have been circulated among the people. They do business with a big auger in the west.

The Harrison electors in Tennessee, have already taken the field, and are addressing the people in every part of the State.

Attempts have been made to fire the city of Pensacola. The Gazette, of the 22nd, says that the authorities are about to organize patrols, to secure the place against the hellish designs of incendiaries, who are infesting that place.

CRAWFORD A. BROWN, the mail rider, who robbed the Southern Express last summer, near Elyton Ala. has been arrested and lodged in jail.

NAVAL.—The U. S. sloop of war Erie, Wm. V. Taylor, esq., commander, arrived at Pensacola on the 20th inst., from a cruise down the Gulf, and last from Vera Cruz. She reports the affairs of Mexico to be in a quiet state.

BRUNSWICK.—The schr. Pioneer, Butler, (of this port,) from Matanzas, for Charleston, with a cargo of sugar, coffee and fruit, was lost on Sanibore Key, on the 13th inst., at 8, A. M. Part of the coffee, hides and fruit, saved, and taken to Key West by the wreckers, equal parts last, —vessel and cargo insured.—Charleston Mercury.

[FROM OUR WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, Feb. 15th, 1840.

The House of Representatives has had before it for several days a resolution, instructing the committee of ways and means to report bill making appropriations for the continuance of the Cumberland and other roads within the state of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois.

The discussions that have taken place while the subject was pending have been chiefly of a general party and political character, and by no means confined to the expediency of giving the aid of the national treasury to this great work. The Globe with its usual disregard of truth, attempts to fasten upon the gentlemen of the opposition who have taken part in the debate, the fault of giving it this complexion. There is not the slightest ground for the imputation. Mr Wick, of Indiana, was the first to "get up" these political discussions, by entering on a long and elaborate eulogium of the policy of the administration, under pretence of making an explanation personal to himself. The course which he began was followed up by his political friends; and now, because the opposition have met them, and returned blow for blow the government organ comes out and accuses them of burdening the question as to the Cumberland appropriation road with a load of politics.

Yesterday, after Mr. Barnard of Albany, finished his able, eloquent, and statesman like speech, on the subject of internal improvements by the general government—an effort which was in every respect worthy of his unanimitated powers of argument and extensive information.

Mr. Crary of Michigan, rose, and spoke for a considerable time, chiefly against the military character and services of General Harrison. This illiberal attack was promptly denied to the general, the possession of any skill or talent, and demonstrated this so completely to the satisfaction of that important personage, Mr. Crary himself, that he retired to his seat in the shade of the Potomac and the Thames, that the friends of Harrison must forever bewail and deplore the abasement to which he was reduced!

To day the debate was renewed; and Mr. Gorde of Ohio, replied to the Michigan representative in a long, elaborate, and impressive speech, during which he took occasion to refer to the assaults on the fine "Old Hero," and made a noble vindication of his character for ability, and enterprise, and services in war, and his integrity, intelligence and ability in the pursuits of civil life.

Mr. Corwin, of Ohio, followed his colleague; but gave way, at the suggestion of the speaker, in order to allow a message to be received from the president, in relation to pensions.

Mr. Jones, of Va., also obtained leave to report from the committee of ways and means, a bill providing for abolishing the office of commissioner of pensions, and transferring to the war department the business heretofore in charge of that commissioner. It was read, and referred to the committee of the whole.

Mr. Corwin, of Ohio, then went on with his remarks, and never was there an unfortunate wight so thoroughly cut up than the Mr. Crary, by his friend, and fellow speaker. He ridiculed, and effectively the pretensions of the Michigan member to criticise military talent and services of Harrison; and then went into a general refutation of his remarks against the conduct of the general.

If the loco-focos were not sick of the undertaking of the fair-weather, sunshine militia officer, who attempted to deprive a brave man of his honors, their looks belied them. I trust the whole speech will soon be consented to withdraw it this year, and now, that the merits of the question were sufficiently known, he hoped that his voice should be heard in that body, and that no more objections should be made against the bill, the passage of which the interest of his constituents loudly called for.

Both motions of Mr. Hoe were then taken up and adopted, viz: the rejection of the amendment, and the concurrence in the additional section.

Mr. BOSSIER moved for the concurrence of the senate, in the amendments adopted by the lower house, to report of the committee of conference on the bill to incorporate the City Hospital, in the Parish of Natchitoches; and this motion being adopted, Messrs. Bossier and Downes were appointed on said committee.

The bill to incorporate a Methodist Episcopal Church in the city of Lafayette, passed at its third reading.

The bill which was under debate yesterday when the senate adjourned, was taken up, and upon the motion of Mr. Downes, and a motion of Mr. Hoe, it was rejected.

The following bills were adopted at their second readings and passed:—

1st, A bill to amend the charter of the Roman Catholic church of St. Francis, in the parish of Pointe Coupee.

2d, An act to amendatory the act granting to the person therein named the privilege of keeping ferries, approved March 14, 1838.

3d, An act for the relief of Alexandrine Deville.

4th, An act to create a sinking fund policy, in and for that portion of the parish of Orleans, situated on the right bank of the river.

The senate took up the bill for the relief of James Normant and —— English. This bill had already been discussed, and was laid over at the last sitting of the senate. The arrangements were reproduced upon the unconstitutionality of the provisions of the act, the objection to which is entertained by gentlemen therein named from the effects of a judgment of one of our courts of justice.

Small talk was reported by the committee of the president, the following vote having been given:—

For the adoption—Messrs. Briscoe, Crow, Ducros, Scott (of Ascension) and Thibodeaux—8.

Against—Messrs. Bossier, Downes, Hiriart, Hoe and Winn—7. The president voting in the affirmative.

Mr. Downes introduced a petition of the inhabitants of the town of Monroe, parish of Washita, asking for some modifications in the charter of said town; which petition was referred to a special committee.

The senate then adjourned until to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Sitting of Thursday, February 27th.

On motion of Mr. Davidson, the bill appropriating a fund for internal improvements was made the special order of the day for Tuesday next.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. RATLIFF reported unfavorably in regard to the petition of Lyman Fairbanks, asking an exclusive privilege for a new method of clarifying sugar.

Mr. DAVIDSON, from the committee on public education, reported in favor of an act to incorporate the Union Academy, in the parish of Union.

The obligations from the parishes of Rapides and Natchitoches, which had been referred the petition of property holders in the first ward of the first municipality, praying that that ward should be annexed to the second municipality, reported unanimously that it was inexpedient to grant the petition. The report was adopted.

Mr. LEWIS, on behalf of a majority of the committee on the resolutions adopted by the legislature of New Jersey, and transmitted to the governor of this state, reported in favor of the 1st, 2d, 3d and 5th resolutions. The report states that the committee had examined the subject with deep attention, and with a reference to the laws of New Jersey, and the constitution of the United States, and they had concluded that New Jersey had just cause to complain of being illegally and unconstitutionally deprived of her representation in congress. That the house of representatives in congress, when duly organized, are the sole judges of the qualifications of the members, but the constitution of the United States provides that congress has a rightto exclude members presenting the regularly authenticated certificate of election. The certificate of the state was the sole evidence of membership, and an opposite doctrine was subversive of the constitutional rights of the states. The committee did not consider it a fit subject for legislation, that the house of representatives could not be organized while a single representative duly announced as elected, was excluded from his seat, though they viewed, with regret, the course pursued by a portion of congress, as deprive the people of a state of their just representation—a doctrine which, if carried out, would prove destructive of state rights.

On motion, the report was laid on the table, subject to the call of the house.

Mr. BIDDLE, of Pa., as one of the committee, offered a distinct report, to the effect that the approval of the report of the chairman, except as to the exclusion of the 4th resolution. He agreed with the spirit of the resolution. In it lay the whole gist of the complaint of N. J. On motion, his report was also laid on the table, subject to the call of the house.

Mr. MORSE, as one of the committee, said that in a day or two he would present a report, as he differed from both his colleagues.

Several bills and notices of bills were introduced. The member from Rapides moved to take up the bill for on the senate empowering the board of public works to cause a channel to be cut through the fall of Red River at Alexandria, at a cost not exceeding $28,000. The subject was debated by Messrs. Hiriart and Davidson, and gave rise to some discussion, in which Messrs. Ratliff, Davidson, Guion, Morse, and the member from Rapides, participated. The act was finally adopted, after which the committee rose.

Mr. LOCKE moved a suspension of the dispensation of the rules, and introduced an act to incorporate the Phœnix Towboat Company. The act was read section by section and adopted, with slight amendments.

The house not being in quorum, a motion was made to adjourn; and, after a short time, the entrance of several members restored the quorum.

The clerk read a letter from L. C. Duncan, stating that Mr. Elardin, an eminent portrait painter, offered to the house, the picture of the late Chief Justice Marshall, for sale.

On motion it was resolved to accept the offer, and to suspend the picture in the place behind the Speaker's chair.

On motion of Mr. Gaienne, the rules were dispensed with, and the house took up the senate bill to amend the act ammendatory of an act to incorporate the city of New Orleans. It was read section by section. Various amendments were annexed to the different sections. The 1st section provides that steamboats and vessels shall be considered as having discharged their cargoes in the municipality, where they discharge their cargo, and remain 48 hours. The 2d empowers the several counsels to order a new election in case of the mayor's death or resignation, and the counsels of the different municipalities to fill any vacancy occasioned by death or resignation of the recorder. The 3d provides that the powder magazine belongs to all three of the municipalities; that they shall provide keepers, divide the profits arising therefrom, &c. The 4th declares the corporation of New Orleans capable of passing real or personal, by legacy or donation. The words "legacy or donation" were added as an ammendment, after a spirited debate between Messrs. Gaiennie, Conrad and Wadsworth, in which the latter opposed and the two former advocated the section. The 5th section makes it the duty of the recorder to keep a book as a record of criminal cases. The sixth alters the dividing line between the 2d and 3d wards of the second municipality. The seventh empowers the municipalities with a special privilege on the property of property holders failing to pay one-third the cost of paving in front of their property; provided such failure be daily recorded. The eighth specifies the time when the mayor shall have the city census taken. The 9th provides for the appointment of assessors by the different municipal councils. The tenth empowers the municipalities to impose a fine not exceeding $100 on persons guilty of breaking knockers, defacing and destroying signs, &c. Mr. Pichot offered an additional section that the council of the first municipality should be composed of 11 members only—4 for the first ward, and two from each of the other wards. The bill was read a third time and adopted.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

The clerk read various bills from the house, in some of which the senate had concurred, with amendments, in others, without. Among others, the amended bill from the house relative to the powers of the bank committee, in which the senate had stricken out the words of the proviso "unless the delay shall be satisfactorily explained to the committee."

On motion the house concurred with the senate.

In the act creating a sheriff of the criminal court, the senate had stricken out the ammendment providing for the creation of that office, after the term of the present incumbent had expired. In this too the house concurred.

After some unimportant business, the house adourne l.

ERRATUM.—By an error of the press, the reporter is made to say, in speaking of the proceedings of the house of representatives on the 26th, that Mr. Davidson said the sheriff of New Orleans was appointed for ten years. It should have been "two years."
