The Canvass in the City.

We place at the head of our paper the names of those gentlemen who have been thus far, selected by the Whigs as candidates for the House of Representatives. The First Municipality has done its duty. Nobly, faithfully and promptly have the Whigs of that section rallied at the call of their leaders, and completed their preparations for the contest. The ticket throughout the Municipality is a full one, and comprises the intelligence, zeal and devotion of the Whig party.

What blight has fallen upon our fellow-Whigs of the Second Municipality! Do they intend listlessly to fold their arms and allow that glorious rampart of Whiggery, which last April breasted the shock of Locofocoism and beat back its legions, to surrender to the enemy now from dastard supineness and apathy? Why have our friends not yet spurred one step in the canvass? Must they be taught enthusiasm and energy from those whom erewhile they were wont to reproach for lack of zeal? We trust not. Arouse Whigs of the Second Municipality! The time before you is scant and must be profitably employed. Rally at your ward meetings during the present week, nominate your best men and let us complete our ticket, and continue the work of organization—never more needful, and which alone is wanting to secure to us a brilliant and decisive triumph. Remember, the next Legislature will have a United States Senator to elect. Would you fill the seat now occupied by HENRY JOHNSON with a Locofoco; even as one of that party, by your luke-warmness, has been suffered to succeed the lamented BARROW! If not, attest your principles by your deeds.

The Policy to be Pursued.

The purposes and plans of the Administration, now that the failure of all attempts to negotiate a treaty with Mexico has become palpable, is a subject of constant speculation. The able and usually well informed Washington Correspondent of the Charleston Courier furnishes some inklings of the probable policy of our Government, which events will, we think, realize. He says:

"The question is, what is to be done next? Now that General Scott is in possession of the Mexican Capital, the first thing to be done is to prepare to sustain General Scott in his position, and some three thousand men have already been ordered to Vera Cruz for that purpose, and an additional force will reach that place in November.

"The next thing to be done, will be to organize, in Mexico, a territorial government of our own; with which we can more make a peace."

There is one thing that may be done, adds the writer, and has been warmly and repeatedly urged upon the Administration, viz: To adopt a boundary-line and withdraw our troops to that line. We have chastised and humbled Mexico, and our national honor does not require us to continue a war of butchery upon her people. As Mexico has refused to treat upon reasonable terms, we can now, without derogation to our dignity, take such territorial indemnity as we please, and act only on the defensive.

We are told that the Administration is not united in opinion on this subject. One only of the Cabinet is said to be in favor of taking a line and withdrawing the troops. Mr. WALKER is for conquering all Mexico. The majority are in favor of prosecuting the war in the hope that Mexico will yet be forced to make a peace on our terms. It is evident enough to all who have reflected on the subject, that the crisis of the war question has now arrived, and that the only alternatives remaining are to prosecute hostilities with vigor, expending the national revenues and the life blood of the citizens in the effort, hitherto bootless, of bringing the Mexicans to terms; or from the National Palace of the Capital to proclaim the amount of territory which we mean to take as indemnity; to define the boundary that shall hereafter separate the possessions of the United States from those of Mexico, and to fill back upon that line, suspending offensive operations altogether.

Of these alternatives it is not difficult to surmise which will be preferred by the Administration. If the Washington Union correctly represents the tone of the government, the following passage from one of its articles, penned immediately after receiving intelligence of the rupture of the armistice, will clear up all doubts upon the subject:

"We must now change the character of the war. We must talk less of the exercise of humanity, less of the olive-branch, and less of armistices. We must bear down upon Mexico with all our force, and wage a war that is more like a war, and less like a peace. We must cause it to be more felt by Mexico, levy requisitions upon her, and make it her interest to sue for peace. In a word, we must go on, and the energies of the country are to be exerted to a greater degree than ever."

It is nevertheless, a matter of considerable dubiety whether a majority of the members of Congress will be prepared to sanction the aggressive policy advocated by the government paper. We deem it more than probable that the views originally suggested by ZACHARY TAYLOR, for terminating the war, by proclaiming a boundary line and defending it, will find favor with Congress. As the session is no near at hand, the President, while providing for present exigences, will, doubtless, throw upon the National Councils the responsibility of the ulterior measures to be adopted. It would puzzle any impartial observer to decide whether public opinion throughout the country approves most of the offensive or defensive policy. Congress, as its representative, will no doubt, deliberate calmly and determine wisely.

Georgia Election.

An election was held in Georgia on Monday last, the 4th inst., for Governor and members of the Legislature. The candidates for Governor were Gen'l Clinch (w) and Mr. Towns (d). Local questions entered into the canvass, and have probably influenced the result. We have received the following reported returns which we compare with the Governor's election in 1845, when Crawford (w) had 1,751 majority in the whole State.

1847	W.	D.	1845 W.	1845 D.
Richmond	150		273
Muscogee	146		220
Troup	560		565
Meriwether		60		138

If the above returns are correct, there is a Whig loss of 84 votes in these counties. Sanny as these returns are, they indicate a close and doubtful contest.

JUDGE SAUNDERS.—This gentleman has entered the canvass in earnest against Col. Harmanson. In a letter to a distinguished citizen of Iberville, which, says the Rough and Ready, we had the pleasure of reading, he says that he will advocate the following principles.

1. The election of Gen. Taylor.
2. A Judicious Tariff.
3. Internal improvement for National purposes.
4. A vigorous prosecution of the Mexican War.
5. The extension of the Missouri Compromise to all territory to be acquired beyond the Rio Grande.

CONCERT FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE HOWARD ASSOCIATION.—By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the Philharmonic Society of New Orleans, will give a Concert on Wednesday evening next, 13th inst., in aid of the "Howard Association." The occasion appeals powerfully to the sympathy of a benevolent public. This noble fraternity has lavishly expended its resources in affording succor to the indigent sick during the recent epidemic, and its means now require replenishing to enable it to continue in the good work.

☞ We perceive by the Charleston papers that a public meeting of the citizens was to be held on the evening of the 6th, for the purpose of paying a proper tribute of respect to the memory of those of the Palmetto Regiment, who fell in the late battles near the walls of Mexico, and to offer also proper congratulations to those who have survived that bloody but glorious conflict.

NEW WORKS.—Our thanks are due J. C. Morgan, of the Literary Depot, Exchange Place, for the following new publications: "A Year of Consolation," by Mrs. Butler; "Legends of Mexico," by George Lippard; "The Struggles and Adventures of Christopher Tadpole," by Albert Smith; "The Countess of Morion," a novel, by Frederick Soulie; "History of the Consulate and Empire under Napoleon," by M. Thiers, Part 7th; "Destiny and Ion," No. 11.

From the Brazos.

By the arrival of the schooner Panama, Capt. Porter, we have been put in possession of the Matamoros Flag of the 25th ult. Capt P. reports that all of Gen. Cushing's brigade left the Brazos on the 20th ult., for Vera Cruz, on board the U. S. steamer Telegraph, the steamer Ohio, the brig May. Eastland, and one other brig, name not recollected. Col. Hays arrived at the Brazos on the 20th, and was to leave the next day, with five companies of his command, on board the steamer Fanny, for Vera Cruz.

The Panama lost a seaman overboard on her passage down to the Brazos. It was on the 22d ult. His name was B. T. Wadleigh, who has left a wife and two children in this city.

The Panama spoke on the 8th inst. the schooner Antoni, from this port for Corpus Christi. She brought over the following passengers: W. C. Tennesson, Dan Comstock, J. D. Rose and lady, Dr. Jos. G. Roberts, U. S. A., Dr. Centochol, F. Eugene Rivier, Patrick Boland and Christopher Boland.

The city of Victoria de Tamaulipas is represented as suffering for the common necessaries of life. Since the occupation of Tampico and Matamoros by American troops, Victoria has been cut off from legalized communication with the seaboard.

The Flag contains little of interest. In relation to Texas affairs, we learn from it that Gen. Lamar has been announced as a candidate to represent the counties of San Patricio and Nueces in the State Legislature. The Governor of Texas has authorized a company of mounted volunteers to be raised, to be stationed at Laredo and supply the place of that now there under the command of Gen. Lamar, whose term of service expires in a few weeks. Also, another company to be stationed between the Nueces and Rio Grande, to supply the place of that recently commanded by Capt. Gray.

A number of local election are to be shortly held in the district comprised between the Nueces and Rio Grande, such as Justices of the Peace, Constables, Chief Justice, Coroner, &c.

DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENCE.—The Baltimore American of the 2nd inst., contains a translation from the Comercio of Lima, of the 7th August, of the correspondence between Mr Buchanan and Jose G. Paz Soldan, the minister of foreign relations of Peru. Mr. Buchanan, in his letter of 22nd March last, informs the minister that, at the repeated request of the Peruvian government, the President of the United States had withdrawn Mr. Jewett, the charge d'affaires of the United States, and had named as his successor, Mr. John Randolph Clay, late acting-secretary of legation at St. Petersburg. At the same time, he respectfully but earnestly reminds the Peruvian minister that his government had failed to meet two instalments due to our citizens, with interest on each from the 1st of January, 1842—each instalment being $30,000.

The Peruvian minister acknowledges the obligations which his government owes us for withdrawing Mr. Jewett, and at the same time says that, on the 9th March, Senor Osma, minister of Peru to the United States, was directed to inform Mr. Buchanan that the first instalment had been paid to, and received by, Mr. Jewett.

A note appended to the foregoing, says:

"Mr. Jewett sailed for Europe on the 22nd July, and the second annual payment and the interest have already been paid."

AFFRAY AT MOBILE.—An affray took place on Thursday night last between a citizen of Mobile and a Captain of one of the Georgia volunteers now encamped near that city. The volunteer, says the Herald, in the melee drew a bowie knife and rather severely wounded the other. He was afterwards disarmed and taken to the calabouse, and yesterday morning was examined before his honor the Mayor. Several witnesses who were present at the affray testified on the occasion, and the result was that the prosecuting attorney, before the evidence was exhausted, moved for a dismissal of the case, and the prisoner was discharged.

JOSEPH R. CHANDLER, Esq., delivered a lecture on Monday night before the Catholic Institute of Pittsburgh. The Gazette speaks of it as a chaste and finished performance. It says—There were earnest and just eloquence of woman of her mission and her deeds of mercy, of man, the true object of life and particularly of our national and social greatness. The lecture closed with an elegant panegyric upon O'Connell and the present pope of Rome, in connection with the attempted mastery of Austria over the Pope's dominions.

LA PATRIA.—We acknowledge the courtesy of an invitation from the Editors of La Patrie, to attend an entertainment given yesterday, by them at Milneberg, by way of inauguration to the first daily Spanish Paper published in the United States. The pressure of our avocations prevented us from availing ourselves of their polite invitation. The Editors have our cordial wishes for their success and prosperity.

HEALTH OF BATON ROUGE.—A rumor prevailed at Clinton and elsewhere, that the Yellow Fever had broken out at Baton Rouge. The Advocate says it is all a fiction of the first magnitude, and that Baton Rouge throughout the summer, and up to this time, has fully maintained her well known reputation for general good health.

SUGAR MAKING COMMENCED.—We had the pleasure, says the Iberville Rough and Ready, of witnessing the operation of rolling at the plantation of Messrs. RITA and BAUDIN, who commenced rolling last Saturday, at noon. Their sugar is of a good quality—grains well, but the yield is only tolerable. They are the first who have succeeded in making sugar in this parish, this season; but before another week passes, twenty or more mills will be in full blast.

THE REVENUE.—The amount of goods imported and entered at the Customhouse, New York, exclusive of those sent to the warehouse, during the week ending 24th Sept., was $8,543,466, being an increase of $1,295,439, or nearly double the import of the corresponding week of last year.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER.—We learn from the officers of the steamer Highlander, that the steamer Col. Clay, from Louisville for this port was sunk to her boiler deck, above Golconda on the Ohio River. Her mails were brought to the city by the Highlander. The boat it is thought will be a total loss.

A FIRE occurred on the night of the 3d inst. in Augusta, in a negro house in Reynold street, immediately in the rear of the Eagle and Phoenix Hotel, which destroyed the Hotel stable, (unoccupied,) and several small wood buildings adjoining. The property destroyed was of little value, and we believe was not insured.

THE WEATHER just now is remarkably beautiful—not two warm for comfort not too cool for summer habiliments—pure serene and balmy. The city is rapidly filling up the cautious of the press to the country notwithstanding.

COUNTERFEIT Five dollar notes of the Planters' and Mechanics' Bank of South Carolina are in circulation in Charleston. The signatures are very good imitations, and their general appearance well calculated to deceive.

JACOB BARKER.—This gentleman put forth some days since a political manifesto, in which while developing his views on various subjects of national concern, he omitted to state whether he was to be considered a candidate for Congress in the second district. Is Mr. BARKER up as the "Independent Candidate?" We only ask for information.

AN IRON MAN—SINGULAR INTERPOSITION.—On Saturday last, a gentleman brought into Portsmouth, from the Bloom Furnace, Scioto county, a part of an iron man, found in the ore bed! The part we saw was the foot and a part of the leg. Having been converted into iron by a gradual process, the minutest divisions, as between the toes, &c., were not visible; but the general outlines of the feet and ankle were palpable. The spreading across the toes, the general outline of the toes, the heel, ankle, &c., were perfectly plain. We were told that the hands and arms were still more perfect. There could not be the least doubt of its having been a man. Nor is there much doubt of the manner in which it came in this condition. The body, perhaps, may have been purposely placed in him; but the geology of the matter only the outside formation, which will crumble off. What was the cause, we know not. By some natural process, he was taken from earth, out of the lime; and, left to a period if he can rise again, how did this chance happen? Is he one right, and the dozen equal to have no rights? No doubt, this iron man would afford one of the most beautiful subjects for geological lecture. The iron man, in spite of himself, is called into existence for the purpose of proving the antediluvian formation. The study—Cincinnati Chronicle.

City Intelligence.

☞ The First Municipality Council will meet this evening at six o'clock, after a recess of nearly one month.

Jose Maria Corbajal, the Mexican arrested for shipping a quantity of powder to Vera Cruz, is still in prison, being unable or unwilling to pay the $3,200 fine to which he was sentenced by Recorder Genois, for depositing on the wharf a large quantity of the explosive article.

MYSTERIOUS.—On Saturday morning, a white woman named Mary Amboss was found dead in a well in Benjamin street, 2nd Municipality. She had on her night clothes, and a folded handkerchief was tied around her eyes. There were but about three feet water in the well, and the body, when taken from it, was still warm. There is something mysterious about this strange occurrence. That a crime has been committed can scarcely be the object of a doubt. We hope the police will use their best exertions to discover the perpetrator, if any there be, of such a monstrous deed.

DEATH FROM INTEMPERANCE.—Some time ago a man by the name of Eugene Fleury was taken to the watchhouse for, if we mistake not, getting tipsy and disturbing the public peace. Day before yesterday he was found dead in his cell. An inquest was immediately held, and a verdict rendered that he died of congestion of the brain, the result of repeated indulgence in strong liquors.

RECORDER BALDWIN.—In the absence of the committing Magistrate of the 2nd Municipality, Mayor Crossman presided on Saturday morning. Nothing of any interest took place before his Honor, a few loafers only were disposed of.

A PICKPOCKET.—John Augustus Tighe arrived in this City, from Brazos St. Jago, last Friday, and went to board at Mr. Johnson's, No. 82 Gallatin street. The next morning, when he awoke, he found that $97 in gold, had been taken from his pocket while he was asleep. But the thief was known; Mrs. Johnson had seen a young man named Benjamin Manchester in the act of possessing himself of the contents of the sleeping man's pockets. The landlord, immediately got on the track of the thief, and brought him back to this City, where he was lodged in jail. Yesterday, he was examined before Recorder Genois, and committed for trial before the First District Judge.

Fifth Representative District.

At a meeting of the Whigs of this District, the following candidates were nominated for the State Legislature: Messrs. A. BODIN, P. PECQUET, and J. MOLAISON.

MESSRS. EDITORS OF THE BEE:

Please call a meeting of the Whigs of the Fourth Representative District of New Orleans, on next SATURDAY EVENING, October 16th, at 7 o'clock, at Canterbury's Coffee House, to select three candidates to represent said district in the House of Representatives at the next session of the State Legislature. This measure seems to be desired by the party, because it is thought by several Whigs of the district that the meeting on Saturday evening was announced at too short notice. The candidates then and there nominated agree to this call.

P. W. FARRAR,
THEODORE ZACHARIE,
GEO. K. RODGERS,
G. B. DUNCAN.

DISASTER AT SEA.—A letter received in New Bedford, from W. H. Lane, first officer of the whaling ship Congress, of Mystic, dated Western Islands, Aug. 15, says that about three weeks previous, Capt. Thomas Taylor, of Mystic, Conn., aged 30, and the steward went into the run of the vessel to prepare a keg of paint, and in passing it up on deck the steward accidentally broke a can of turpentine, the contents of which took fire from a lamp, and in an instant the entire ship was enveloped in flames. They immediately rushed on deck, their clothing having also taken fire in consequence of the turpentine which had attached to them, and which Mr. Lace vainly endeavored to subdue by pouring water upon them. The clothes of the steward had become saturated with the inflammable liquid, and were literally burned upon him, so that he died in agony, suffering on the following day. The crew exerted themselves in pouring water down the trunk light, and succeeded in removing four bags of powder from the transom of the ship, and finally extinguished the flames. Captain Taylor was badly burned, chiefly at his feet, ancles and hands, and was confined to his bed until the arrival of the ship at Fayal, a few days after the accident, when he was removed on shore for medical attendance. Mr. Lace was slightly burned. Mr. Lace shipped four hands at Fayal, and proceeded to cruise for whaling in vain without success, and returned to Fayal about the 15th of August for Captain Taylor, who had so far recovered as to be able to resume his duties in proceeding on the voyage. The Congress had taken no oil.

DREADFUL DEATH ON THE RAILROAD.—Mr. Hiram S. Stedford, a married man of 27 years, working on the Planking business at the corner of Magazine and Michigan streets, in this city came to his death in a shocking manner last night. He was a passenger in the 11 1-2 p. m. train of cars from Jersey City, and his body was partly thrown out of the window, lying about eighteen inches from the railroad track, nearly a mile from the market street depot, on the way to Elizabethtown. His hat was found, uninjured, about a quarter of a mile this side of the place where his body lay, and there was evidence on the ground between these two points that he had been dragged that distance. There were various bruises all over his body, and a severe compound fracture on his head; and part of one of his hands was cut off by the wheels of the car. The wound on his head undoubtedly caused his death. From these and other circumstances it seems probable that he had been asleep when the train stopped at Newark, but waking shortly after attempted to step off, when his foot might have caught in the step—there being a deep indentation in the sole of his shoe, and his hip leg being broken at the ancle. In this position he was dragged, his head striking against the sleepers of the track, until he was thrown off lifeless and mangled. He was a steady, industrious man, very respectably connected, and leaves a young wife and one child.—Newark Daily Adv. Sept. 30.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—Yesterday morning about half past 1 o'clock, a most destructive fire broke out in Mr. Isenbray's Steam Mahogany Saw Mill, in Pear street, near Dock. The fire originated in the eastern part of the building among a pile of old boards and rubbish, and in a short time the flames spread with amazing rapidity, and enveloped the whole building. In a time before the firemen could get into operation, the flames spread to the Mall House of Messrs. "Abbott & Newlin," which adjoined the same roof, and although our firemen made every exertion to subdue the raging element, the building and their contents were entirely consumed. The flames from the east of the Saw Mill, occupied by Mr. Wm. Green as a manufactory of hair seat cloth, fringe, &c., was also partly destroyed. The stock and fixtures of Mr Green were entirely destroyed. His loss is estimated at $2500, of which $1500 worth was insured. Mr. Isenbray was insured in the amount of $5090, but his loss was a total one; he had a large amount of Mahogany in his place, the greater part of which was destroyed, and nearly all, considerably damaged by fire and water. His machinery was all broken, or fell down during the raging of the fire. His loss is estimated at $3000. Messrs Abbott & Newlin's part of the building was completely burnt up, including all the stock and fixtures. The exact extent of his loss we could not learn, though we understood that they were not insured to the full amount. The flames raged with great fury until three o'clock, when the danger of the flames spreading to any other buildings ceased, as our firemen had pretty well drenched the surrounding property. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.—Philadelphia Bulletin, 1st inst.
