Extension and integration of your existing applications

An Open Applications Foundation

Lotus Notes 8 software is

- built on Eclipse.org open standard -- enables composite applications
- Extends existing applications
 - Lotus Domino-based
 - 3rd party
- Fully extensible and customizable

Technical article – Extending the client with Eclipse: http://www.ibm.com/developerworks/lotus/library/notes8-mail/index.html?S_TACT=105AGX13&S_CMP=EDU

Lotus Domino 8: Improved Out of Office Service

The screenshot shows the 'Out of Office - Hannover' configuration window. The window title is 'Out of Office - Hannover'. The menu bar includes File, Edit, View, Create, Actions, and Help. The toolbar contains various icons for file operations and editing. The font settings are set to Default, Tahoma, 11 pt. The window has buttons for Turn On, Save Settings, Cancel, and Check Calendar. The 'Out-of-Office Notification Status' is set to Off. The 'Leaving' date is November 14, 2005, at 9:00 AM Local, with a checked box for 'Specify hours'. The 'Returning' date is November 18, 2005, at 9:00 AM Local, with a checked box for 'Mark as busy time on your free time schedule'. Below this, there are radio buttons for 'One time only' (selected) and 'Every time you receive a message'. The 'Alternate Notification' tab is selected, showing a 'To:' field, a 'Subject:' field with the text 'Samantha Daryn is out of the office until November 18, 2005', and a 'Body:' field with the text 'I will be out of the office starting 9:00 AM on 11/14/05 and will not return until 9:00 AM on 11/18/05'. There is also an 'Additional body text:' field.

Viewing Unprocessed Calendar Invitations

The screenshot displays the IBM Lotus Notes calendar application window titled "Calendar - Two Days - IBM Lotus Notes". The interface includes a menu bar (File, Edit, View, Create, Actions, Tools, Window, Help), a toolbar with icons for Open, Print, and other functions, and a search bar. The main calendar view is set to "Two Days" and shows the dates January 29 (Monday) and January 30 (Tuesday), 2007. The left sidebar shows the user's name "Lukas Geiger" and a calendar navigation pane for January 2007, with the 29th highlighted. Below the navigation pane are options for "Views" (One Day, Two Days, One Work Week, One Week, One Month, Lists) and "Other People's Calendars". The main calendar grid shows various events: "Ann's Birthday" (purple bar), "Complete expenses" (orange bar), "Invitation: Discuss Ghosting Feature UITDD" (blue bar, circled in red), "Monthly Market Review Conference call" (blue bar), "Design review" (blue bar), "New prospects" (blue bar), "Lunch with Simone" (blue bar), "Plan campaign Conference call" (blue bar), and "Complete Presentation" (orange bar). The bottom status bar shows "Lan - Firefox".

Coming Soon: Lotus Quickr 8 Personal Edition

Personal Edition provides a "starter set" of Lotus Quickr capabilities

The screenshot displays the Lotus Quickr 8 Personal Edition interface. At the top, there is a search bar and a user profile for Betty Zechman. Below this, the 'Betty Zechman's Content' page is shown, featuring tabs for 'All your content', 'Shared content', and 'Private content'. A list of shared content items is visible, including 'RFP Samples', '2007 Tradeshow schedule', 'Planning the perfect event', 'Proposed change', 'Quarterly Sales In', 'Logo for tradesho', and 'Brochure for Las'. An 'Attachments - IBM Lotus Quickr' dialog box is overlaid on the content, asking 'What do you want to do with the attachments?' and offering options to 'Send Attachments' or 'Save and Send Links'. The dialog also includes a 'Save to:' section with a folder icon and the text 'Please select a location.', along with a 'Change Location' link and an 'Advanced' button.

- Fast & easy on-line personal content library
- Familiar folder metaphor
 - Personal Place has two types of content:
 1. Private (for storage)
 2. Shared (URLs sent in lieu of attachment)
- Access Places through Lotus Notes or Browser
- Includes Lotus Quickr Connectors
- Currently planned to be available 1H 2008

IBM and Novell push out new SLED

A viable Vista alternative?

IBM and Novell have announced an integrated open collaboration client for SUSE Linux Enterprise Desktop that includes IBM Lotus Notes, IBM Lotus Sametime and IBM productivity tools to deliver advanced email and calendar capabilities, unified communication & collaboration and lightweight yet powerful word processing, spreadsheet, and presentation capabilities with OpenDocument Format support.

The client is built on the Eclipse open framework, which makes it capable of supporting business-ready social networking, team collaboration and portal technologies such as IBM Lotus Connections, IBM Lotus Quickr and IBM WebSphere Portal, all of which can easily be added to the user's desktop. In addition, the server components required to support the open collaboration client are also available as one-click install solutions and include IBM Lotus Domino and Lotus Sametime servers powered by SUSE Linux Enterprise Server 10.

The companies collectively noted specific benefits for channel partners. VADs can benefit from the one-click installation image that significantly reduces installation, implementation and testing time for customers while receiving sales and technical enablement resources. ISVs can prepare their applications for the open collaboration client bundle with technical resources and best practices from IBM Linux Integration Centers and Novell. Regional SIs and Solution Providers can access technical and sales enablement on user segmentation, pilots, value assessment, application migration, installation, and deployment from IBM and Novell as well, helping customers to experience faster ROI through simplified installation, migration, testing, and deployment. The integrated open collaboration client is now available through IBM and Novell business partners.

The world of Linux has, for the most part, been a server-centric one. Although there have been many attempts to create a viable desktop alternative based upon Linux, these efforts have often run aground for a couple of reasons, namely the lack of device drivers and the lack of parity, desktop productivity and specialized applications. While device drivers are increasingly more available for the Linux faithful, in the commercial sector having to accept standard productivity applications has ultimately proven to be a larger impediment than previously thought. Happily, significant improvements have been made over the past year in this regard with new releases of OpenOffice and other applications that support the functionality required in a competitive business-oriented desktop offering. With this announcement, we see the needs of the business desktop being addressed at a higher level than past solutions.
