Agile Software that Fits Rational Team Concert Game Transcript
flexible * affordable * modular

Audio/Narration

Welcome to IBM Rational Team Concert…modular Agile software solutions…the software that fits you…and gives you the affordable and flexible modular capabilities you need when you need them…to run your business your way.

Hello. My name is Maestro Agileini and today I'll be giving you a quick tour of how IBM can help you use Rational's modular Agile capabilities and Team Concert to your best advantage.

Some light please. Ah yes…the business world is like a concert hall in many ways. And in the concert hall we hear music of all forms and complexities.

A melody can be lean and beautiful played on its own…one instrument and one musician is often all you need.

But music of more complexity requires an additional instrument or more…still small, but more robust…as in a duet.

Or a trio…

A string quartet…

A chamber orchestra…

Or even full blown philharmonic.

As with music, the needs and scope of your business can vary from month to month and project to project. Budgets and staffing needs ebb and flow. Teams may be geographically dispersed, growing fast, small, already large, in the process of scaling up or scaling down. Or integration may be your concern.

Whatever your needs, simple or complex, there's a Rational Agile capability to help…within your budget, or even free, when you need it.

Now it's your turn to put together and conduct your own orchestra and find the Agile capabilities that are right for you.

Drag each instrumental puzzle piece in the area below into the matching section in the symphony orchestra on stage.

As you place each piece into its proper spot, you'll hear music…

Hit the wrong spot, and the sound you hear won't be quite as melodic.

Complete the puzzle successfully to collect a special prize….

Afterward, you'll have a chance to learn more about the Agile modular capabilities that are right for you and order your free software, free trials, and more.

Here you go….

Agile Integrate…
I have open-source SCM and need to add Agile planning.

Add Team Concert Contributor for $630 per license to easily integrate your existing Subversion or Git projects and gain full Agile practice coverage daily. Agile Planner provides you with daily, iteration, and release planning capabilities, including workload balancing, reports, and dashboards for your team stakeholders. Also included are change management capabilities for tracking bugs, defects, change requests, and enhancements.

Agile Grow…
I have FREE Team Concert Express-C but need to add more Agile planners or change management users beyond the included 10 developers.

You may add Concert Contributor licenses for $630 per license and Change Management Express licenses for $349 per license to expand the capabilities for your team lead, project managers, and stakeholders. Add as few or as many licenses as you need to your Express-C server…there is no limit. If you are scaling up, it's also easy to upgrade to a larger Team Concert Express Server.
