2) If you need to create an IBM ID, move to step 2a. If you have an IBM ID already then move to step 3 and register your company for a membership as an ISV.

a. Create an IBM ID:

The screenshot displays the IBM PartnerWorld website's registration page. The header includes the IBM logo, a 'Worldwide [change]' link, and a search bar. The navigation menu on the left lists various categories like Marketing, Selling, Technical, and Products. The main content area features a large banner titled 'Join PartnerWorld' with the text 'To join PartnerWorld it's as easy as 1-2-3' and an image of four people. Below the banner, there's a 'Why join?' section and a 'Step 1: Register for an IBM ID' section. The 'Step 1' section contains a link 'Register for an IBM ID' which is circled in red. The right sidebar includes a 'Membership' section with links to 'Join PartnerWorld', 'Go to member resources', and 'Need assistance?'. It also has a 'Select a country/region' dropdown set to 'United States' and a 'We're here to help' section with 'Contact us' and 'FAQ' links. At the bottom of the sidebar is a 'Becoming an IBM Hardware reseller' section with a link to 'How to Become an IBM Hardware Reseller Guide'.

5) Read the IBM PartnerWorld Agreement – International Basic General Terms. If you agree to the terms specified in the agreement, click 'I agree'.

The screenshot shows the IBM PartnerWorld 'Application to PartnerWorld' page. The left sidebar contains a 'PartnerWorld Profile' menu with options: Worldwide enterprise, Country enterprise, Location, Employee, Agreements, Benefits and relationships, and Add a benefit. Below this are 'Related links' for Contact services and User manual. The main content area is titled 'Application to PartnerWorld' and contains the following text:

The first location you provide must be your Headquarters location for the Country where you do business. You can later add additional locations within the country.

Read and print \(if required\) the PartnerWorld Agreement.
You MUST accept the PartnerWorld Agreement to be approved for the PartnerWorld program.

You accept the terms of the agreement for the legal entity of which you are a part by clicking on the "I agree" button. By doing so, you agree that you have read and agree to the terms and conditions of the IBM PartnerWorld agreement and that you are authorized to execute contracts for the legal entity of which you are a part. Acceptance of the terms, together with the completion of the registration process, constitutes application for participation in PartnerWorld.

Acceptance of the PartnerWorld agreement by IBM is contingent on acceptance of your PartnerWorld application by IBM. The terms of this agreement are not in effect until you receive written notification from IBM of the acceptance and activation of your PartnerWorld membership.

You accept the terms of the agreement for the legal entity of which you are a part by clicking on the "I agree" button. By doing so, you agree that you have read and agree to the terms and conditions of the IBM PartnerWorld agreement.

Step 1: Register for an IBM ID

If you already have an IBM ID, advance to step 2. If you are an IBM employee, see instructions below.

➔ Register for an IBM ID

IBM ID is a single ID and password you can use across the ibm.com domain

Step 2: Register your company

If you know that your company is already registered in PartnerWorld, advance to step 3. If you're not sure, choose from the help resources listed in the "We're here to help" box on the right to contact your PartnerWorld team.

➔ Submit a PartnerWorld program application for your company

Applications must be completed by an individual authorized to sign agreements on behalf of the legal company. The individual registering the company will also register themselves during this step. Once you've applied for membership as a new company, allow 2 business days for e-mail notification of approval.

➔ Apply to sell IBM products and services (optional)

PartnerWorld membership allows you to access the information and support you need to work with IBM products and services; however, you must submit an additional application in order for your company to become authorized to sell or resell selected IBM hardware, software, services, training, and financing. Allow 7-10 business days for approval of the Reseller application.

Step 3: Add employees to your company's membership

If your company is already registered in PartnerWorld, you can add yourself to your company's membership profile.

➔ Submit a profile application to add yourself to your company's membership

You must know your company's unique token first. The 16 alphanumeric character token can be obtained from your company's Authorized Profile Administrator (APA). The APA is the person within your company who is responsible for administering your company's relationship with IBM.

Not sure who your APA is? Choose from the help resources listed in the "We're here to help" box on the right to contact your PartnerWorld team.

After your APA approves your association with your company, you will receive a welcome e-mail from PartnerWorld.
