

Category 1 SupportPacs

SupportPacs in this category provide material to be used by, or in association with, IBM Systems Specialists as the basis for fee earning services contracts with customers – e.g, application migration, systems management and performance tuning engagements. They are advertised in the SupportPac library but the content is only available to IBM personnel or via a separate contract. Customers interested in obtaining services based on the material must contact their IBM representative or the address given to negotiate delivery and service terms.

The WebSphere MQ service organization cannot help with questions on these offerings.
