

The data mart without the wait. Visual Warehouse™ for Windows NT™ can be up and running in days, not months. It connects all leading databases on the back end and runs your favorite query software up front. The “middleware,” including DB2® for Windows NT, is integrated right out of the box, saving techs months of work. Cost savings versus most competitive products are equally dramatic. # The Software Minute

New ways to leverage IT assets in a connected world.

“...Aberdeen notes that IBM customers who desire pure Microsoft NT application environments or best-of-both-worlds can turn to IBM for integrated systems solutions.”

A quicker way to extend existing systems to the Web. VisualAge® for Java™ is the first enterprise-aware, incremental-compile application development environment you can buy. Extends existing server data and apps to Java clients anywhere without rewriting existing code. Underline “without rewriting,” InfoWorld (4/7/97) called it “the best visual designer on the planet.” But you can get a copy and make up your own mind at www.software.ibm.com/vajava

New eNetwork™ Communications Suite brings together enterprise-class communication infrastructure with leading communications clients. (As in PCOMM, the most widely used emulator; Lotus® Notes Mail®; FTP 32-bit TCP/IP protocol stacks; Netscape Navigator browser; and more.) Comm Suite delivers access and single-source support to virtually any desktop, over any network, with the same reliability you have in your enterprise network. Visit www.software.ibm.com/ecs for complete eval kit.

This free Java courseware on the Web is getting a ton of hits. From fundamentals (What is Java?) to business cases (How do we put it to work?) to resources for developers (How can I improve my skills?), you'll find most of what you're looking for in one place at www.ibm.com/java. Along with new product highlights from IBM, Sun, and others.
