Customers

Customers are moving to the cloud

'After email, with 58% saying they'd be using a cloud solution of some type in the next 24 months, overall collaboration was the second most important workload, with 48% saying they'd be looking to build out an internal cloud, or use a public solution.'

"IDC North American Cloud Survey" - Robert Mahowald, January 2011

Business value drives customer momentum

Triple digit growth in NEW customer signings

General Milling Corporation (GMC) is one of the largest integrated food companies in the Philippines with offices and plants located throughout the country.

- In business for 50 years, the company was looking for a reliable and cost-effective collaboration platform as a foundation for growth as they aim to become one of the top food producers in Philippines.
- LotusLive Collaboration Suite will provide its employees with cloud-based e-mail and advanced collaboration tools.
- Moving e-mail to the cloud with LotusLive Notes helps the company to expand IT resources while still having access to business-class messaging and the latest technologies from IBM. Part of the Collaboration Suite, LotusLive Engage will help enable GMC to promote greater collaboration among its widely dispersed work-force, its partners and vendors.
