

IBM Software Group Solutions for SAP

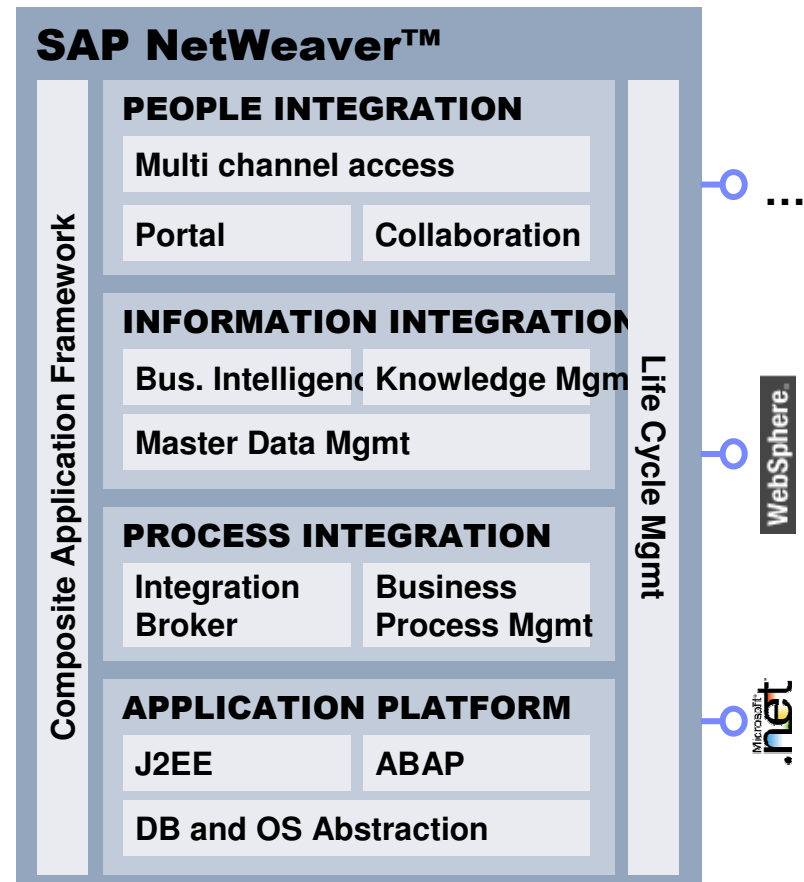

SOA for SAP Customers

Accelerating Customer Value with SOA

Lloyd Adams, Global Software Group Executive, Solutions for SAP
July, 2007

IBM and SAP are partnering to deliver SOA solutions for customers

- SAP is IBM's largest partner. IBM is SAP's largest partner
- Until SAP NetWeaver was introduced, life was simple
 - SAP provided packaged applications
 - IBM provided hardware, services, and middleware software
- Customers were asking many questions
 - IBM Software Solutions for SAP Team was formed
 - Team of 50 dedicated professionals globally
 - Lloyd Adams, Martin Arnoldy (WW Sales), Gary O'Leary (UK)
- Customers are selecting both IBM and NetWeaver

Four areas of interoperability were reviewed...

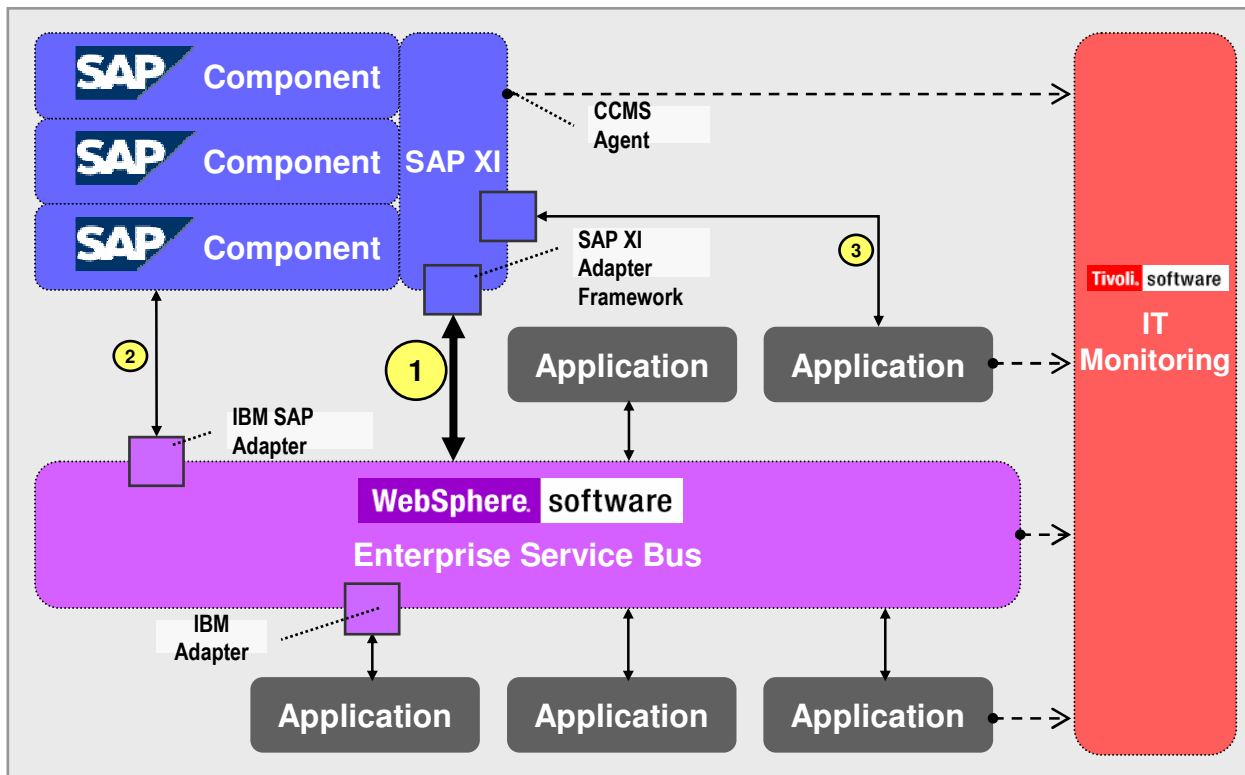

- Enterprise Application Integration
 - ▶ SAP XI is the preferred interface to future SAP Applications
 - ▶ IBM WebSphere is the integration tool for all heterogenous applications
- Business Process Management
 - ▶ SAP XI will be used to coordinate intra-SAP processes
 - ▶ IBM WebSphere will be used in the heterogenous environment
- Portal
 - ▶ SAP NetWeaver Portal will be used as interface to SAP applications
 - ▶ IBM WebSphere Portal will be the overall portal, providing access to all applications
- Application Development
 - ▶ Netweaver Development Studio for SAP Application Development
 - ▶ IBM Rational Tools Suite for development outside SAP

SAP & IBM Interoperability: EAI Overview

Example architecture

SAP XI is the strategic tool to integrate SAP Applications

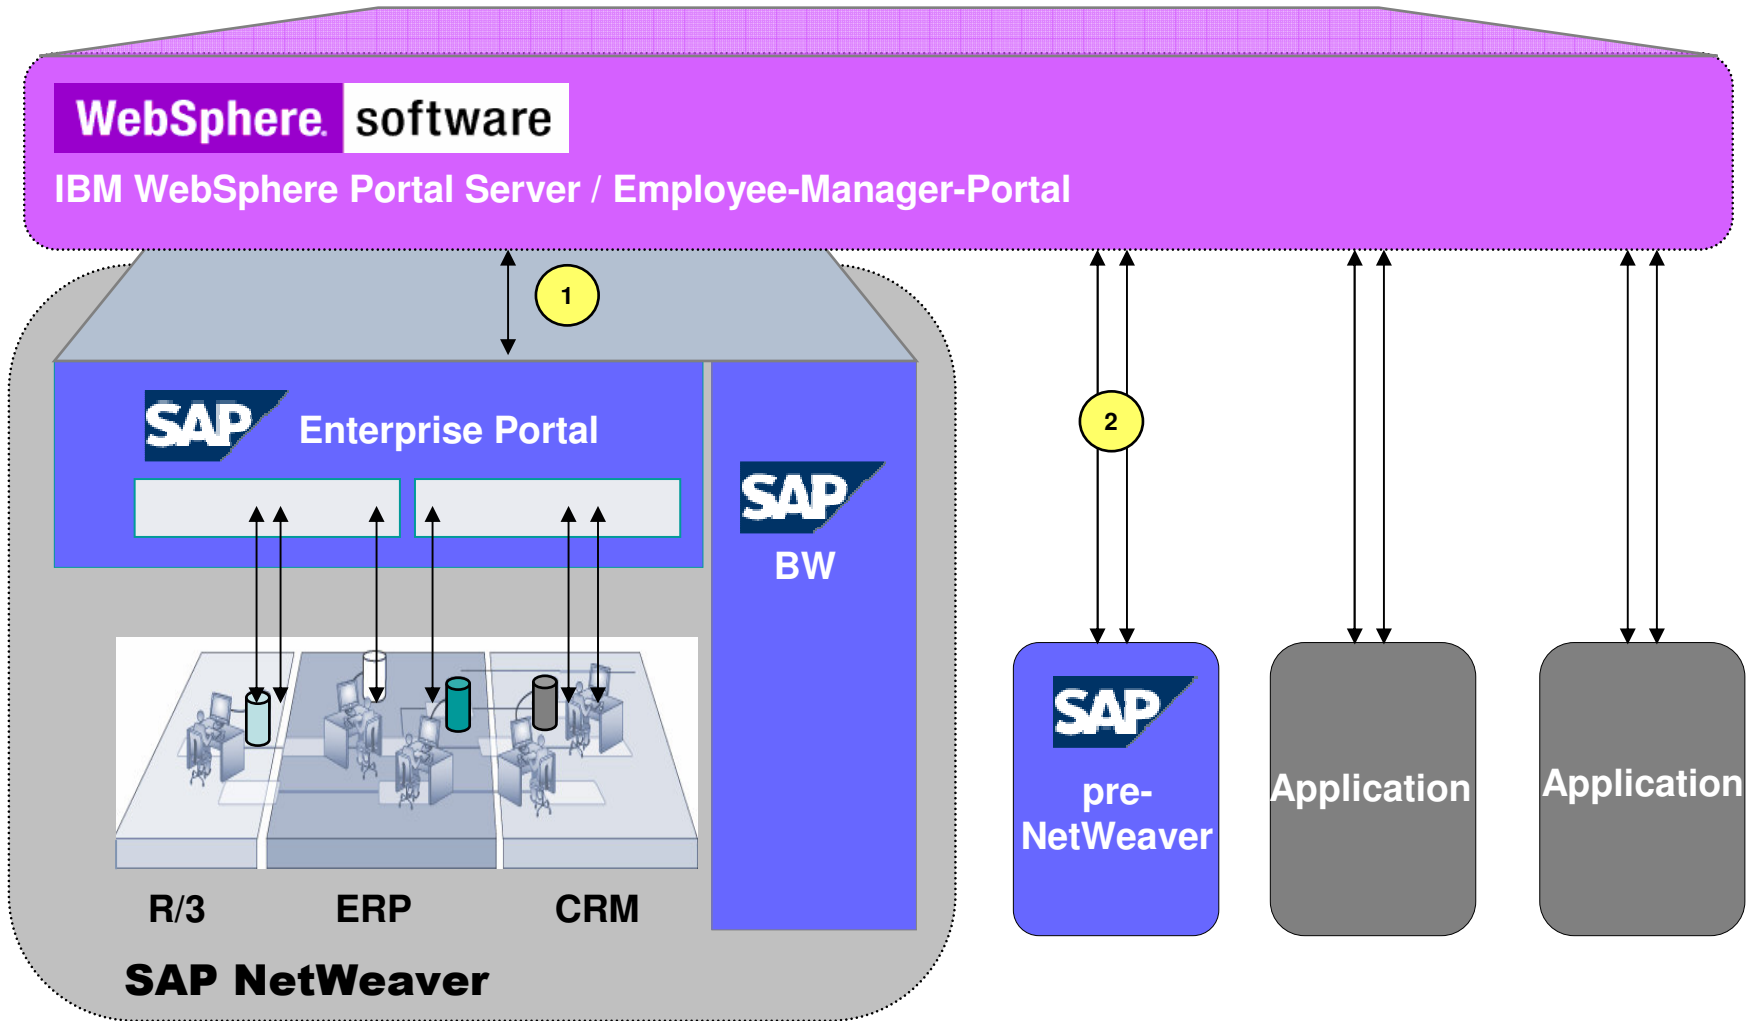

IBM WebSphere is the strategic tool to integrate the heterogeneous environment

- 1 Open standards based connection SAP XI ↔ IBM WebSphere
- 2 IBM Adapter and open-standards based connection IBM WebSphere ↔ SAP Application
- 3 SAP Adapter based connection SAP XI ↔ Legacy Application

IBM & SAP Portals Interoperability – Overview

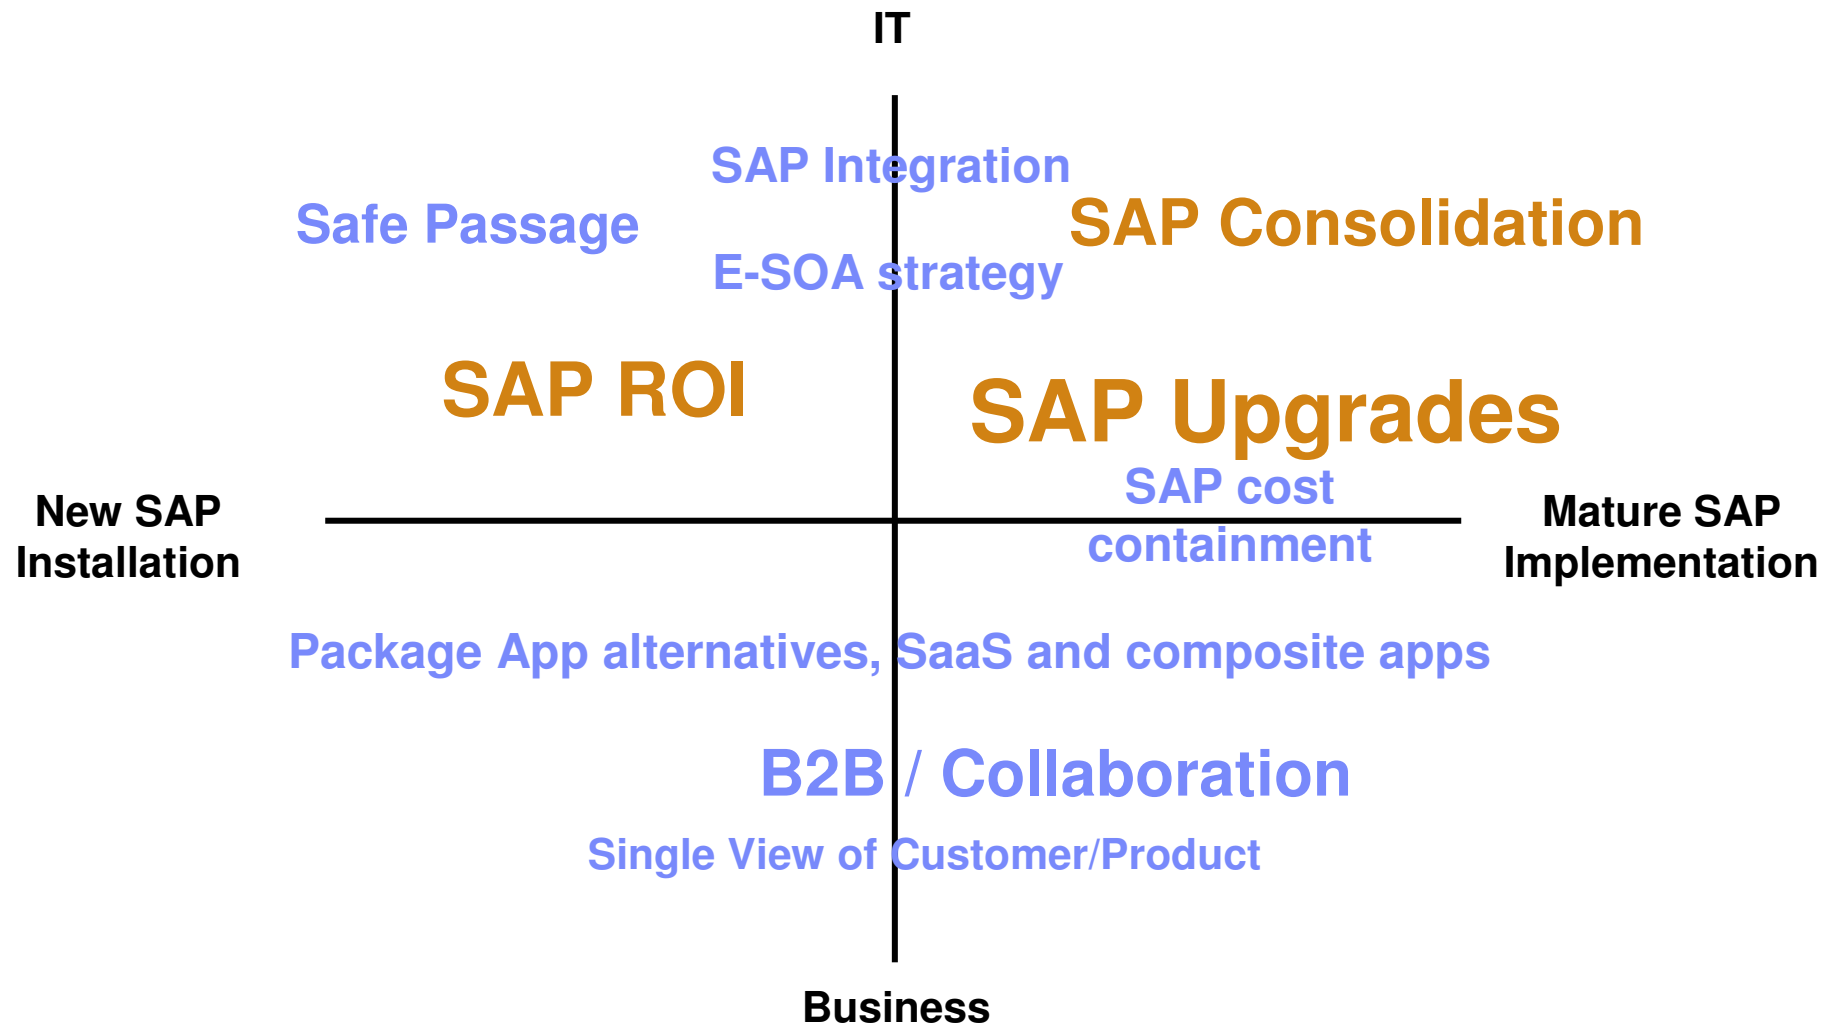

Example architecture

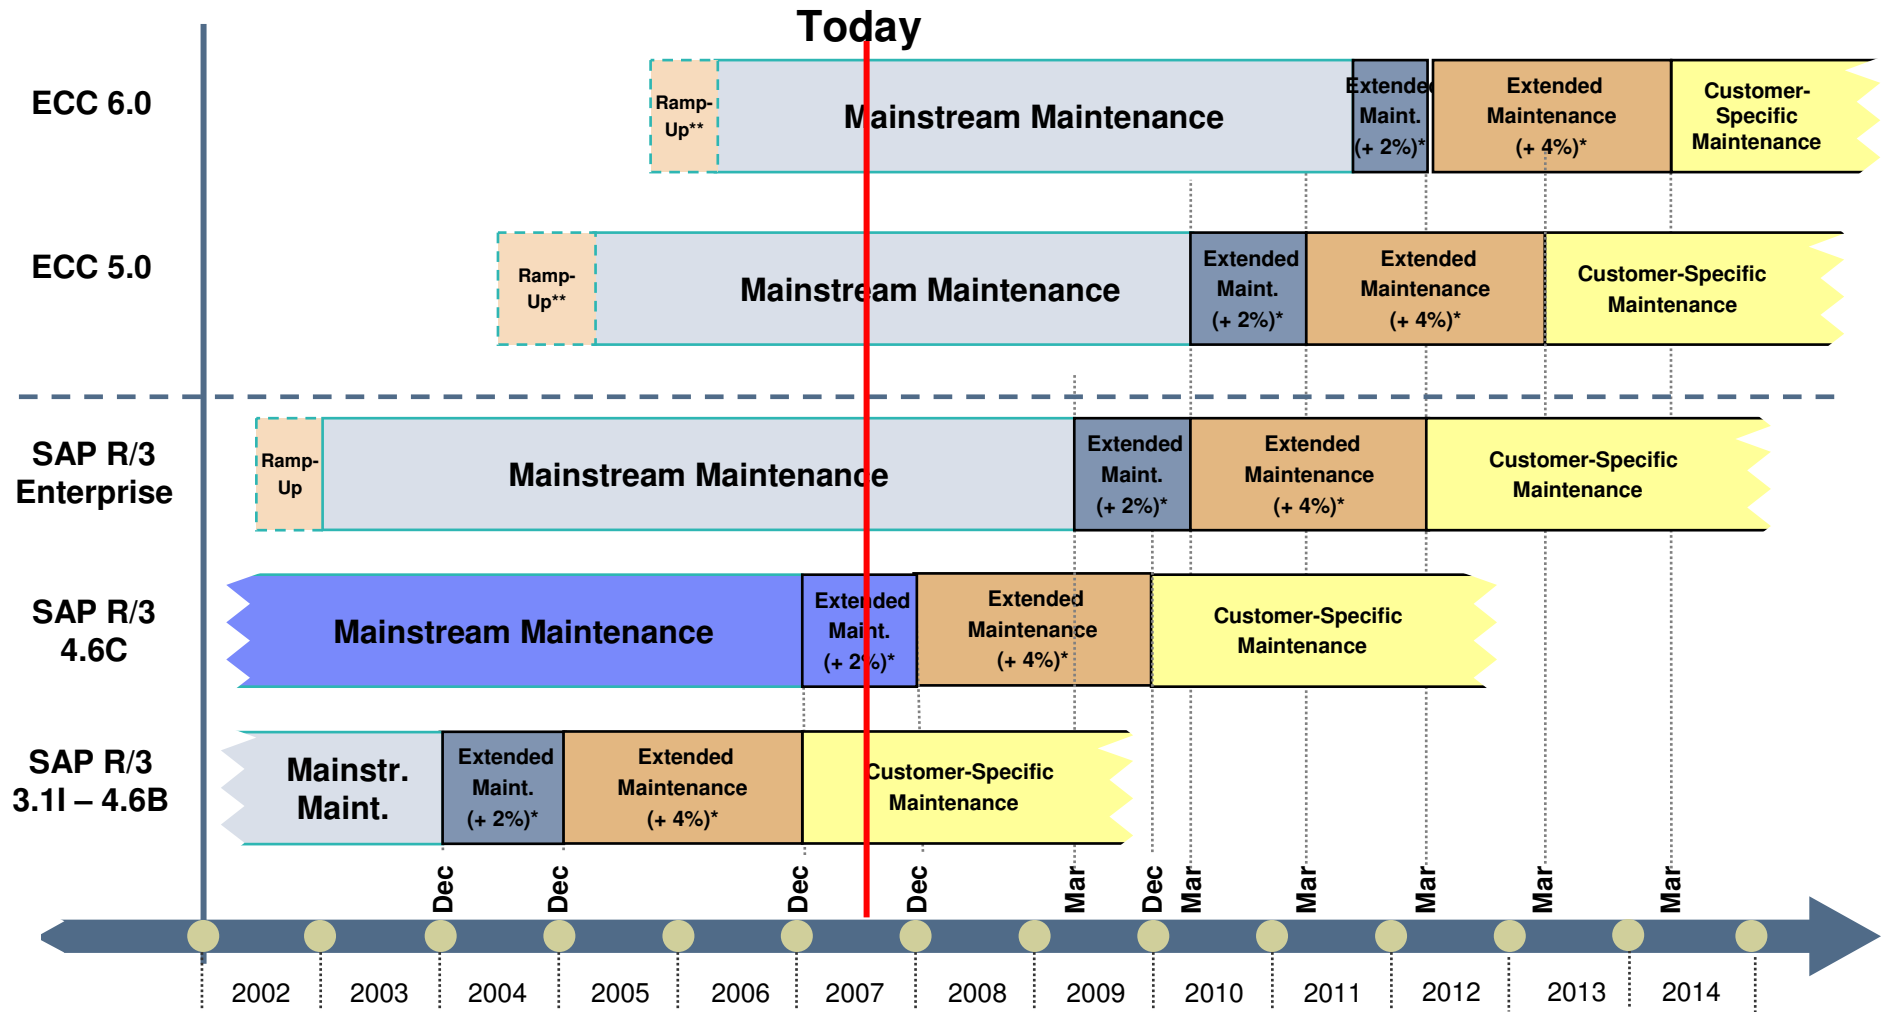

- 1 Portal-in-Portal: iFrame/URL integration of SAP NetWeaver Portal in WebSphere Portal
- 2 WebSphere Portal SAP Integration
