

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

P R E F A C E.

IN presenting this work to the Public, the Author offers his humble thanks to God, for having enabled him to accomplish it. He was aware, when he first set his hand to it, not only of its importance with regard to Abyssinia—its character, religion, history, and destinies—but also of the difficulty of the task which he had undertaken. There was previously no Amharic Grammar extant, except Ludolf's* ; which, however it attests the superior talents of its author, considering the circumstances under which it was compiled, is but a feeble aid in the grammatical exhibition of the language. Nor was there any other literary source, on which the Author of this Grammar could draw, except the Amharic Bible, and those Amharic works which he himself had prepared. Under these circumstances, he had very often to feel out his way, by a recollection of the living language, in which he conversed with the Abyssinian people while residing among them. This recollection, however, was kept alive by the Author's having been, without interruption, occupied with the Amharic press, from his arrival in this country from Abyssinia up to this day. The preparation and publication of the Lexicon, immediately preceding his commencement of this Grammar, was peculiarly suited to prepare him for this work ; for whilst, on the one hand, it laid open to him the whole of the materials of which that language is composed, as far as they are at present known, it furnished him also with ample opportunities to investigate the grammatical rules by which it is regulated. Every one, who has a judgment in these matters, will discover, when comparing the Dictionary with the Grammar, that the Author's own knowledge of the language has improved as he has advanced in his editorial labours. But although he is aware of the imperfections of his own works, he feels confident that a diligent study of this Grammar will, under the blessing of the Almighty, materially assist any Student in acquiring an accurate knowledge of the Amharic Language.

Although there is, as yet, no literature in the Amharic Language, its study is of considerable importance to Orientalists. Its Semitic origin cannot be questioned: it is evident in every feature. A little attention to what is said in this Grammar on the Nouns and Verbs, shows that it possesses a vigour and flexibility capable of expressing any idea; and that it may be very useful in throwing light on many subjects of difficulty in the cognate languages, especially the Hebrew, Syriac, and Coptic. Such a language, it is but reasonable to suppose, will be found rich in words. The Dictionary, which gives only those words which we at present possess, contains about 7000; and we may anticipate that a longer and more intimate acquaintance with the people of Abyssinia will furnish us with a great many more, and lead to important results, not only in reference to the Semitic, but also to the African Languages. With the latter the Amharic has much mutual interchange; as the Author has had opportunities to observe, in respect to the languages of the Danakil*, the Somal, the Gallas†, the Argobbans, the natives of Harrar (or Arargê), and those of Garaguê. But the advantages to be derived from the study of this language, which should be accompanied by that of its parent language, the Ethiopic, are not merely of a scientific nature. When the covetous Abyssinian offers his hidden treasures to the speculating European—when he opens his barriers to the travelling naturalist, to explore his Ambas and his K'wallas—when that country, which stands single in the whole history of Eastern Nations, as a Christian State that was not overwhelmed by the sweeping floods of Islamism, attracts different and, in some measure, conflicting interests of religion, philanthropy and politics—the study of the living Abyssinian Languages, among which the Amharic stands foremost, will become indispensable; as is already experienced by those whom various motives induce to travel in Abyssinia.

With regard to the Church Missionary Society, the Author begs to repeat the same expressions of sincere gratitude, respect and solicitude, which he has uttered in the Preface to his Dictionary. Whatever the result of the present movements concerning Abyssinia and its future destinies may be; whether that nation is still to remain in its present uncivilized condition; whether it be doomed to fall a prey to that Spiritual Power which is assiduously endeavouring to regain the influence which it formerly possessed for a time, or whether it will open itself to the sound of the Gospel and its accompanying temporal and eternal blessings, and emerge into the light of truth and civilization; this Society has been the first instrument, in the hand of God, to offer the hand of Christian assistance and fellowship to them. If it pleases God to prosper their labours of love, they will be amply rewarded for all the difficulties and disappointments they have been subjected to, or which may be still awaiting them. May His blessing be upon them!

AMHARIC GRAMMAR.

INTRODUCTION.

ON THE AMHARIC LANGUAGE IN GENERAL.

I. THE Amharic Language (አምሃርቲ፡ ቋንቋ፡), a grammatical delineation of which the following pages propose to give, is that Abyssinian Dialect, which is spoken by the greater part of the population of Abyssinia: it prevails in all the provinces of Abyssinia lying between the Taccazê and the Abay or Abyssinian Nile, and in the kingdom of Shoa; and enters besides, extensively, into the languages of Argobba and Harrar. Its next cognate dialect is the Tigrê Language (ጥገርቲ፡ ቋንቋ፡); which is spoken by the inhabitants of Tigrê or the N. E. part of Abyssinia, and has its modifications in the Dumhoeto Dialect at Massowa, and the coast N. of that island, and in the language of Gurāguê. Both the Amharic and the Tigrê Languages are modifications of the Ancient Ethiopic or Gēez (ልዩነ፡ ግዕዝ፡), to which they bear nearly the same relation as some of our Modern European Languages to the Latin; viz. that of origin and derivation. However, the present language of Tigrê has preserved a greater similarity to the Ethiopic, and received much less mixture from other languages than the Amharic; the Amhāra people being of a more changeable character, and having had intercourse with a greater variety of foreign nations than their Tigrê brethren.

II. The denomination "Amharic," which this language has received, is obviously attributable to the province called Amhāra, situate between Shoa, Godjam, Bagammeder, Lasta, and Angot. That province, which is now the seat of the Yedjows, Argobbans, and other Galla tribes—who partly speak the Argobba dialect, partly the Galla language—must have been considered the chief province of Abyssinia at the time the language obtained that name: for not only have all the countries in which the same language is spoken—excepting Shoa and Efat, i.e. all the N. W.

countries of Abyssinia to the W. of the Tacczê—been called Amhāra, but the natives also frequently apply it to their religion; so that the appellation Amharic is used synonymously with Christian, although at present the greater part of the population of that province are Mohammedans. But in what the superiority of that province consisted, and the time when it was so pre-eminent, remains still a matter of inquiry: for the reasons which Ludolf assigns, that Amhāra was in the neighbourhood of Shoa, from which the Royal Family of Solomon, which spoke this language, was restored, after the downfall of the Zagæan line; and that Amba Geshen (better Gëshê), where subsequently the Princes of that family were confined, was situate in Amhāra—seem rather unsatisfactory; nor have we at present to offer any thing better in lieu of them.

III. From the fact of the Amharic Language being a descendant of the Ethiopic—which will be evident, from a superficial knowledge of both—it claims the same affinity to the Semitic family as its parent; although it has adopted other forms and words from surrounding nations, which bear no relation to that family. A knowledge, therefore, of any of the Semitic Dialects, such as the Hebrew and the Arabic, facilitates, to a great extent, the study of the Amharic. We shall, in the course of this work, have frequent occasions to refer to the Arabic and the Hebrew; although it will be our endeavour also to suit the capacity of those who may have had no opportunity of learning any but European languages.

IV. According to the nature of a Grammar, this work will be arranged under the following heads: 1. Phonology; 2. Etymology; 3. Syntax:—treating, in the First Part, on the Sounds and Letters; in the Second, on the different Parts of Speech; and in the Third, on the Grammatical Construction of Words into Sentences. There is, as yet, no occasion to speak on Amharic Prosody; but instead of this, we shall annex a variety of Amharic expressions, and a few Exercises.

PART I.—PHONOLOGY.

ON THE SOUNDS AND LETTERS OF THE AMHARIC LANGUAGE~~~~~
CHAP. I.

ON THE AMHARIC ALPHABET.

THE Amharic Language is written with the same letters as the Ethiopic; each letter varying in seven different forms, in order to express different sounds; Vowels and Consonants not being separated. But besides the Twenty-six Ethiopic, the Amharic Language has seven peculiar Orders of Letters, which serve to express sounds not existing in the former: they are the following:

ሰ:	ሱ:	ሲ:	ሳ:	ሴ:	ስ:	ሶ:
ሸ:	ሹ:	ሺ:	ሻ:	ሼ:	ሽ:	ሾ:
ሸ:	ሹ:	ሺ:	ሻ:	ሼ:	ሽ:	ሾ:
ሸ:	ሹ:	ሺ:	ሻ:	ሼ:	ሽ:	ሾ:
ሸ:	ሹ:	ሺ:	ሻ:	ሼ:	ሽ:	ሾ:
ሸ:	ሹ:	ሺ:	ሻ:	ሼ:	ሽ:	ሾ:
ሸ:	ሹ:	ሺ:	ሻ:	ሼ:	ሽ:	ሾ:

These, added to the 26 Ethiopic orders, give to the Amharic Alphabet the number of 33 orders of letters; that is, each order consisting of 7 forms or characters, 231 different characters. Add to these the 4 times 5, i.e. 20 Diphthongs, you have 251; which, to commit to memory, call for the close application of the student. The Alphabetical Table opposite embodies them all; giving a correct exhibition of the numerical arrangement of the letters, with their names and value; and the phonical order, power, and Ethiopic designation of the seven different orders, with the pronunciation affixed in English to each character.

The Abyssinian Ciphers are as follow:

፩: 1. ፪: 2. ፫: 3. ፬: 4. ፭: 5. ፮: 6. ፯: 7. ፰: 8. ፱: 9. ፲: 10.
፳: 11. ፷: 12. ፷፫: 13. ፷፬: 14. ፷፭: 15. ፷፮: 16. ፷፯: 17. ፷፰: 18. ፷፱: 19. ፸: 20.
፹: 30. ፺: 40. ፻: 50. ፼: 60. ፽: 70. ፾: 80. ፿: 90. ፀ: 100.
ፂፂ: 200. ፂፂፂ: 1000. ፂፂፂፂ: 2000. ፂፂፂፂፂ: or ፂፂፂፂፂፂ: 10000. ፂፂፂፂፂፂፂ: 100000.

NOTE.—A greater number of Diphthongs might have been added; as the Abyssinians, not being accustomed to write the language they speak, like to contract several sounds together, and to express them by single characters. Ludolf has given, in his Amharic Grammar, several specimens, showing how they apply this to foreign languages. We observe, here, that we have seen several instances of the same mode of proceeding in their own language: especially do they like to combine the fourth with the sixth form; e.g. ጥ: twā, for ጥፍ:: ፍ: fwā, for ፍፍ:: ሞ: mwā, for ሞፍ: &c. But as those figures have not been generally adopted, and the number of characters is already large enough, and suited to express almost any sound, we have abstained from mentioning them in the Alphabet; noticing them here only, in order to put those on their guard who may happen, in their intercourse with Abyssinians, to meet such uncouth figures, that they may not be frightened.

CHAP. II.

NUMERICAL ORDER, AND NAMES OF THE LETTERS.

1. For the general Order, in which these letters follow each other, no reason can be assigned; as it has no analogy in other languages, nor any foundation in the natural development of sound from the organs of speech, but seems to have been arbitrarily put together. Exceptions are, the succession of ሰ: and ሰ።:: ጥ: and ጥ።:: ኀ: and ኀ።:: ከ: and ከ።:: ዘ: and ዘ።:: ጸ: and ጸ።:: ጠ: and ጠ።:: and ጸ: (for the resemblance of figure) ጸ: and ፀ።::

2. The Names of the letters have been delivered to us from remote antiquity; and as most of them, if not all, are significant, we think it but proper to preserve them. They must have been formerly in general use among the Abyssinians, else it is not conceivable how they should have been transmitted to Europeans: but the natives of the present day know nothing about them, except from the schools of the Missionaries.*

3. The signification of most of the names of the letters is clear: they refer to the sound they express, adding the adjective termination āwi, contracted into āi, or mis-spelled oi, for the masculine, and āwit, āūt, āit, or ūt, for the

---

* This, however, is no reason to omit them; because the Abyssinians do not at all dislike to have names put to their hitherto unnamed letters; many of which are the same as those which they know, from the Psalms, to belong to the sacred language of the Old Testament. Many of the most learned Abyssinians have applied to the Missionaries for the express purpose of learning the names of their own letters; and thought to have gained an invaluable treasure, when they had learned them.

feminine gender. A short analysis of these names, as far as it can be given, will establish this statement.

1. U: Hoï, ሆደ: for ህደ: or ህዋ: the h letter.
2. A: Lāwī, ላዊ: the l letter.
3. h: Hāüt, ሐውት: (f.) for ሐዊት: the h letter.
4. m: Māi, ማደ: for ማዋ: the m letter.
5. W: Sāüt, ሠውት: for ሠዊት: (fem.) the s letter.
7. s: Sāt, ሰት: for ሰዊት: the s letter.
8. ſ: Shāt, ሸት: for ሸዊት::
11. t: Tāwī, ታዊ::
12. ጥ: Tshāwī, ትዊ::
19. w: Wāwī, ዋዊ::
21. H: Zāi, ዛደ: for ዛዋ: ::
22. ገ: Zāi (French j), ገደ: for ገዋ: ::
27. m: Tāüt, ጣዊት: for ጣዊት::
28. ጬ: Tshāüt, ጬዊት: for ጬዊት::
29. ጸ: Pāüt, ጸዊት: for ጸዊት::

The following names are derived from the cognate Semitic Dialects, probably from the Hebrew, since they have the names of the Hebrew letters in the Psalms:

6.	ረ:	Rě-ēs,	ረዕሰ:	Heb.	ך	Rěsh.
9.	ቀ:	Kāf,	ቀፍ:	..	ק	Kof.
10.	በ:	Bêt,	በት:	..	ב	Bêt.
16.	አ:	Alf,	አልፍ:	..	א	Alef.
17.	ከ:	Kāf,	ካፍ:	..	כ	Kāf.
20.	ዐ:	Āin,	ዐይን:	..	ע	Āin.
26.	ገ:	Geml,	ገምል:	..	ג	Gîmel.

With regard to their significations, the student is referred to the Hebrew Lexicon.

Concerning the rest, the signification of which is not so clear, we leave them for the amusement of such as will take the trouble of searching in the Ethiopic and the cognate dialects.

CHAP. III.

ON THE VIRTUE, ORGANICAL CLASSIFICATION, AND PRONUNCIATION OF THE LETTERS, CONSIDERING THEM AS SIMPLE CONSONANTS.

1. As to the VIRTUE of the letters, we must state, first of all, that Consonants and Vowels are combined in the same characters; and on this account, each letter is able to present a syllable by itself. But laying aside, for the present, the Vowel question, we proceed at once to CLASSIFY the letters according to the organs chiefly concerned in their pronunciation.

2. According to the organs, the letters are divided—

A. In Gutturals: U: ḥ: ʕ: ḥ̣: ḥ̣̣: ʕ̣::

B. In Palatals: Φ: ḥ̣: P: ʕ̣::

C. In Linguals and Dentals: Ḥ: W: ʕ: ḥ̣: ḥ̣̣: T: ʕ: ʕ̣: H:
ḥ̣: ʕ̣: ʕ̣̣: M: ʕ̣̣: X: ʕ̣̣::

D. In Labials: ʕ̣̣: P: M: X: ʕ̣̣: T::

E. Nasal: ʕ̣̣̣::

3. In speaking on the PRONUNCIATION of these letters, we must refer to the Ancient Ethiopic, the various dialects of Abyssinia, especially the Tigrê, and the cognate Semitic Languages.

A. The Gutturals.—In the present Amharic, U: ḥ: and ʕ: are pronounced alike, like h in horse, and are often exchanged for ḥ̣:, thus entirely dropping the aspiration. The Tigrê language shows us, however, that each of these letters must have formerly expressed a distinct and different sound; for in it, U: sounds like our h in horse, and answers the Arabic ḥ, and the Hebrew ḥ. ḥ̣: is pronounced with a pressure in the lower part of the throat, like the Arabic ʕ; ʕ: like the Swiss ch, the Arabic ʕ̣, and the Hebrew ḥ̣; and ḥ̣̣: like the Scotch and German ch, in loch, nicht, and answering the Hebrew ʕ without the Dagesh. This pronunciation of the ḥ̣̣: is equally in use in the Amharic language.

ḥ̣: and ʕ̣: are both pronounced alike, as the Greek Spiritus lenis ('); but in the Tigrê they are different among each other, ḥ̣: being like Spiritus lenis, l, or N, and ʕ̣: like the Arabic ç and Hebrew y, with the same pressure in the throat as the ʕ, but without the aspiration.

B. The Palatals:

Φ: corresponds with ḥ̣ in the Hebrew, and with ç in the Arabic Language. On account of its peculiar pronunciation, we may call it an explosive letter, such as M: ʕ̣̣: and X: in the third, and ḥ̣̣: in the fourth class: it is a sudden explosion of breath from the palate, after the latter has been spasmodically contracted. We have endeavoured to represent this pronunciation, after the example of Ludolf, by writing K', but it must be heard before it can be conceived. This pronunciation, however, is not uniform, although general. In Tigrê, it is besides often pronounced like the Arabic ك, often like ق; in Shoa generally, like a mere Spiritus lenis ('), similar to the ق as pronounced by common people in Egypt. Thus the word ተቀበለ: is pronounced in three or four different ways: in good language, Tāk'ab/bälä; in Tigrê, Täghäb/bälä (تَغَبَّل) and Tākab/bälä (تَقَبَّل); and in Shoa, Tü-äl/bälä.

Ḳ: sounds like our k, or c before consonants.

Ṗ: is pronounced like y as consonant, or like the German j &c.

Ḡ: is pronounced like our g before a, o, u, and before consonants.

C. The Linguals and Dentals:

Ḍ: like our l.

Ṭ: and Ḥ: may originally (perhaps answering ص and س, Ḍ and Ḥ) have sounded differently from each other: at present, they are pronounced alike, sounding like our s.

Ṣ: sounds like our r.

Ḷ: formed in the Amharic by the accession of the i sound to the Ḥ: and Ṭ:, is the same as ش, Ṣ, and sh.

Ṭ: is pronounced like ت, Ṭ, and t.

Ṭ: formed by combining a soft sibilation with Ṭ, sounds like tsh, or rather like t with a German j.

Ṣ: is the same as our n.

Ḥ: is like z.

Ḥ: like the French j.

Ḥ: is the same with our d.

Ḥ: sounds like the English j, or rather like the German dj: it is often used to express the Arabic ج.

Ḥ: Ḥ: and Ḥ: are the same sort of letters in this class as the Ḥ: in the Second, which we call Explosive; because they, as it were, explode from between the fore-part of the tongue and the roof of the mouth or the root of the teeth. We have in the Alphabet represented them by writing l', tsh', and ts'. But as some more or less hissing seems to accompany this explosion, Ḥ: and Ḥ: frequently interchange.

Ḥ: is pronounced like ts, or the German z.

D. The Labials:

Ṣ: is the same as our m.

Ḇ: the same as our b. In Tigrê, it generally sounds like v, Ḇ, or the Modern Greek  $\beta$ : and this pronunciation must have been formerly more general; for otherwise it seems unaccountable, how it could have been turned into a mere vowel o, as in ṢḆḆ; whereas the soft b, our v, being a mere condensation of that Vowel, was more liable to that change.

Ḫ: is the same as w.

Ḳ: the explosive letter of this class: the breath puffs off from between the lips, before the vowel is heard.

Ḳ: is the same as Ḫ, Ḇ, and f.

Ṭ: our p, merely used for foreign words.

E. The Nasal Ḥ: is pronounced similar to the French and Italian gn, or rather like the Spanish ñ.

4. The letters are to be further divided, as in other Semitic Dialects, into Radicals and Serviles. Servile letters are those which are employed in the process of grammatical formation, derivation, and flexion: the radicals are never so employed. The serviles are often radical, though Radicals are never servile. The Servile Letters are,

CHAP. IV.

ON THE SEVEN VOCAL ORDERS OF THE ABYSSINIAN LETTERS.

1. As the Abyssinian Languages differ from the other Semitic Dialects (except the Coptic), in being written from the left to the right; so they are likewise different from them, as well as from most other languages, in the manner in which the Voices or Vowels are expressed.

2. This is done in the Abyssinian Languages, not, as in the other Semitic Dialects, by any smaller points or figures written above or below the line; nor, as in other languages, by a distinct sort of characters of equal value with the Vowelless Consonants; but by a system of changes which the original letter itself undergoes; each letter expressing Consonant and Vowel in the same figure, and assuming seven different forms, according to the Vowels which are attached to it; which forms (after Ludolf) we call Orders of Letters.

NOTE.—The terms “Consonant” and “Vowel” are not quite suitable to the Abyssinian Alphabet; as the Vowels themselves are but con-sonant, being inexpressible by themselves; and the Consonants being, as appears from the Sixth Order, in form more independent than the Vowels: but to be understood, we must use the expression.

3. The Seven different Voices or Vowels expressed by these Seven Orders are these:

A. Short ä, as in fat, lad, &c.; answering the Fat-ha (◌) in the Arabic, and the Patach (◌) in the Hebrew. Like the former, it is modifiable, approaching the ë sound, or the short Hebrew Segol (◌).

B. û, as in full, put, lucid; or ô, as in move; or oo, as in fool, &c.

C. î, as in pin, finger, hinder; or ee, as in bee, see; or ca, as in read, sea; or e, as in scene.

D. ï, as in far, father, rather.

E. ë or ê; a sharp ê, with a slight ï sound before it, as in the Slavonian Dialects; as the German je, “ever,” or the English yea.

F. ë or ÿ, as in liv-er, ber-rÿ. This order also is often mute or vowel-less, as in the English and French Languages the mute ë. In fact, it completely resembles the Shwa simplex (◌) of the Hebrew Language.

G. ó, generally sharp, as in so; or with w before it, as in wor, wonder.

4. In order to express these seven sounds by each letter, the Abyssinians have adopted the following plan:

A. The Original Form is used for the expression of the First Vowel (ä). It therefore is called, with its Ethiopic name, ገዕዝ: Gě-ěz, which signifies “original”; and is therefore applied to the Ethiopic Language in general (ገዕዝ: ገዕዝ:), in order to distinguish it from any translation. In reference to the letter forms, it means the original, simple, unaltered form, U: A: h: &c.

B. The Second Vowel (û), which is called ካዕብ: Kā-ëb, i.e. “altered,” “second,” is expressed by the affixion of a point (◌) to the right-hand side of the letter, generally in the middle (U: P: OO: X:); in four instances at the bottom (L: O: R: Y:); and in one instance, under the letter (J:).

C. The Third Vowel (î), which is called ሳለስ: Sälës, i.e. “third,” is generally represented by a similar point annexed to the foot of the letter on the right side, and below the line, (A: N: X: Y: R:). Where the original has no foot (i.e. line going downwards), a foot is formed; and in

CHAP. V.

ON SYLLABIFICATION.

1. In the Abyssinian Languages, each letter, being Consonant and Vowel in the same figure, is able to constitute a Syllable; e.g. ነገረ: nā-gā-rā; ነፍታ: nē-fā-k'è. Such syllables, formed by single letters, we may call simple or open syllables.

2. But although this is the case, they can combine two or three letters (not more) together, to form one syllable; which will be called, if consisting of two letters, a closed; if of three, a compound syllable. Thus, e.g. ቃል: k'āl, "word," is closed; ሕዝብ: hēzb, "people," is compound.

3. This is performed with the assistance of the Sixth Order; the vowel of which being short, and rather a semi-vowel, or the same thing as the Hebrew Shwā (·), is liable to become mute. Whenever this occurs, its letter must be added either to the preceding or to the following letter, in order to be pronouncible; e.g. ገር: gā-r, "meek." ብልህነት: bēl-hā-t, "dexterity."

4. The question then is, When is the letter of the Sixth Order mute or vowel-less? A few general rules, which will answer it, shall be laid down here.

A. Letters of the Sixth Order are MUTE at the end of words generally; e.g. ሀር: hār, "silk"; ቃል: k'āl, "word"; ነገር: nāgār, "word," "thing"; ፀሐይ: tsa-hāy, "sun"; ዓለም: ā-lam, "world."

NOTE.—Seeming deviations, but no real ones, are those Ethiopic words which in the Amharic have been abbreviated: in such instances, the final letter of this form is not vowelless, reminding of the guttural letter, which is no longer written, but still pronounced:

ሰም: sū-mē, "wax." Eth. ሰምዕ::

ቦር: bē-rē, "pencil." Eth. ቦርዕ::

እንጅ: en-djy, "but." Eth. እንጅዒ::

A real exception is this, which occurs in Feminine terminations of Pronouns or Verbs, in the Second Person Singular of the Feminine Gender, which are sometimes written in the third, sometimes in the sixth form, and may be pronounced or not; e.g. እንኝ: better እንጅ: an-tshy, "thou (female)!" ቀጅ: or ቀጅ: k'ā-dj, or k'ā-djy, "draw (thou female)!"

B. The same letters remain MUTE, when the words to which they belong, receive such additions at the end, by which their form is not changed: e.g. ነር: tshār, "kind." ነርነት: tshār-nāt, "kindness." ባል: bā-l, "husband," "owner." ባልነት: bāl-tēt, "widow."

NOTE.—An exception is ቃልቻ: k'ā-lē-tshā, "sorcerer," "soothsayer."

C. When two letters of this order meet together at the end of a vowel, both are mute, unless want of organic affinity, or gemination, prevents their being so; but when such a word is augmented at the end, the last letter of this order is sounded:

- |                                                  |                                              |
|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| (a) ᠵᠴᠦ : dǎ-rk', "dry."                  | ᠕ᠮᠤᠰᠤ : lä-mts', "leprosy."           |
| ᠰᠴᠬᠢ : mǎ-rz, "poison."                   | ᠬᠠᠨᠳᠤ : k'ǎ-nd, "horn."               |
| ᠶᠡᠨ : ā-yn, "eye."                        |                                              |
| (b) ᠕ᠡᠭᠡᠮᠤ : lě-gēm, "superficiality."    | ᠶᠡᠨᠠᠮᠤ : gě-běz, "hypocrite."         |
| ᠠᠭᠤᠮᠤ : ǎ-k'ēm, "measure."                | ᠠᠲᠤ : ǎ-tsh'yr, "short."              |
| (c) ᠰᠡᠮᠡᠮᠤ : sě-mēm, "harmony."           | ᠬᠤᠯᠡᠯᠤ : ǎ-lěl, "huzzah!"             |
| ᠬᠡᠲᠡᠲᠤ : kě-tět, "perfection," "fulness." |                                              |
| (d) ᠬᠡᠳᠡᠰᠡᠨᠠ : k'ěd-sě-nā, "holiness."    | ᠶᠡᠮᠡᠳᠡᠨᠠ : zěm-dě-nā, "relationship." |

D. When a letter of the sixth form commences a word, its vowel is generally sounded:

- |                                     |                             |
|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| ᠕ᠡᠳᠤ : lě-dāt, "birth."      | ᠬᠡᠼᠤ : kě-fū, "bad." |
| ᠰᠡᠲᠠᠭ : sě-t'āng, "give me." | ᠬᠡᠷᠠᠮᠤ : kě-rāmt.    |

E. In trilateral words, where all the three letters are of the sixth order, the first is generally sounded; the two following art not:

- |                                  |                                            |
|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| ᠬᠡᠰᠤ : hě-zb, "people."   | ᠰᠡᠳᠤᠬᠤ : ts'ě-dk', "righteousness." |
| ᠳᠡᠨᠬᠤ : dě-nk', "wonder." | ᠬᠡᠷᠮᠤ : ǎ-rm, "a thing prohibited." |
| ᠵᠡᠰᠤ : rě-st, "heritage." | ᠮᠡᠰᠤᠲᠤ : mě-sht, "wife."            |

F. In trilateral words, where the two first letters are of the sixth order, the first is sounded; the second is not:

- |                                          |                                           |
|------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| ᠵᠡᠷᠮᠠ : gě-r-mā, "majesty."       | ᠡᠨᠳᠢᠶᠠ : ǎ-n-djā, "I do not know." |
| ᠵᠡᠮᠳᠠ : gě-m-dja, "muslin cloth." |                                           |

But in many cases the second letter also is sounded:

- |                                            |                                      |
|--------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| ᠵᠡᠰᠡᠯᠠ : gě-sě-lā, "brown leopard." | ᠬᠡᠮᠡᠰᠠ : k'ě-mě-shā, "a bit." |
| ᠡᠳᠡᠭᠡ : ǎ-djě-gě, "sleeve."         |                                      |

G. In quadrilateral words, beginning with two letters of the sixth order, and terminating in — ᠲ: feminine, the first letter is sounded; the second is mute:

- |                                       |                                      |
|---------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| ᠶᠡᠯᠠᠲᠤ : fě-l-t'āt, "megrims." | ᠶᠡᠷᠠᠲᠤ : fě-r-hāt, "fear."    |
| ᠨᠡᠼᠠᠳᠤ : ně-f-gāt, "avarice."  | ᠨᠡᠪᠠᠷᠠᠲᠤ : ně-b-rat, "state." |

H. In quadriliteral feminine adjectives, whose letters are all of this order, the first and second letters are sounded, whilst the rest are mute:

ንጽሕት: nē-ts'ē-ht, "pure."      ቅድስት: k'ē-dē-st, "holy."
ርክስት: rē-kē-st, "impure."      ጽድቅት: ts'ē-dē-k't, "righteous."

I. In quadriliteral words, whose three first letters are of the sixth order, the first and second are generally sounded, whilst the third is mute, unless obviated by Lit. C.:

ሕልልተ: ē-lē-l-tā, "the shouting."      ንጽሕፍ: nē-ts'ē-h-nā, "purity."

J. In pluriliterals, beginning with three letters of this order, these are generally formed into one syllable; either the first and third, or the second and third letters being mute:

ክርስቲስ: Krē-s-tos, "Christ."      ፍረምቢያ: frē-m-biā, "breast-bone."

NOTE.—These rules will meet most cases: we refrain from adding more at this place, as it would swell this chapter to too large an extent; while in the further course of the Grammar, especially in those parts which treat on the Pronouns and the Verbs, the rest will be easily deduced.

CHAP. VI.

ON ACCENTUATION, AND POINTS OF DISTINCTION.

1. The Abyssinians have no marks for their accents. Some general Rules for Accentuation are as follow:—

A. In words consisting of long and short syllables (long and short either by the number of letters or by the quantity of vowels), the long syllable generally has the accent:

ጥረ: tērē, "raw," "genuine."      ገረ: gērā, "left."      በገ: bāgò, "good."
ንጽ: nētsū, "pure."      ባደ: bādo, "empty."      ዛረ: zārē, "to-day."

In these two latter instances, the first syllable has the accent, because the long ā of the fourth order is the longest vowel:

ገደም: gādām, "convent."      ንፈቅ: nēfāk'ē, "heresy."
ፈቃድ: fūk'ād, "will."      ቅድስ: k'ēdūs, "holy."
መኖር: mānòr, "the dwelling."      ሆደም: hodām, "voracious."
መልካም: mülkām, "good," "beautiful."      ዝምድን: zēm'dēnā, "affinity."

B. In Verbs, the radix without affirmatives, as well as with light affirmatives (affirmativa levia), has the accent on the antepenultima (on the third syllable from the end):

ገበረ: nābārā, "he was."

ተቀመጠ: tāk'ā'mā'ta, "he sat down."

ገለጸሁ: gā'lats'hū, "I have revealed."

See, however, more under the Verbs.

C. Feminine Adjectives and Substantives of the form ንገሥት: have the accent on the last syllable; e.g. ርገምት: rēgēm't, "cursed."

D. Other Dissyllabic words with short vowels require the accent on penultima:

ልጅት: lédāt, "birth."

ወምበር: wā'mbär, "a seat," "chair."

ገንዘብ: gā'nzāb, "property."

ድንገል: dēngäl, "virgin."

E. The heavier Suffixes (suffixa gravia) and Affirmatives require the accent directly to precede them:

ቀምበር: "the yoke."

ቀምበረ/ችን: k'āmbärätshēn, "our yoke."

መለሰ: "he brought back."

መለሰ/ችሁ: māläsätshēhū, "you brought back."

2. The Interpunctuation of the Abyssinians is very simple. A simple colon (:) serves to divide words from words; and a double colon (::) to separate sentences from sentences.

NOTE (a)—The colon, which is to prevent words running together, and thereby creating confusion, was formerly a perpendicular line (|), as is evident from inscriptions found at Axum; but that line has been divided into two points, as it was otherwise liable to have been mistaken for the numeral I (10).

(b) The double colon (::) is, in Abyssinian manuscripts, generally reserved for the end of paragraphs; when five red points are inserted into it in the form of a cross, in this manner,

IN ENGLISH CONSTRUCTION.

"In the time of the Apostles, there was such an union in the Church, that they (the Christians) were all one body and one soul. Christians were never (in no wise) separated in Christ. As all of them were Adam's children, after the flesh, and as in themselves and without Christ they were lost sinners, so also (now) by faith they were saved through one Christ. They were all called with one calling; justified by one blood; and purified and sanctified by one Spirit. Peter also said to all believers: Ye are a royal and priestly people, a chosen and a sanctified generation, that ye should shew forth the works of Him that hath called you out of darkness unto His marvellous light."

CHAP. VII.

VARIOUS CHANGES OF LETTERS.

In order the better to comprehend the various euphonical changes occurring in the constitution of words in the different parts of speech, it is necessary to point out the rules by which the changes in the letters are regulated.

1. Addition of Letters.

Speaking, in the first instance, of the ADDITION of letters to words, we regard them as they are joined either at the beginning, or in the middle, or at the end,—prosthesis, epenthesis, and paragoge.

A. When a word commences with a liquid letter, esp. ḥ: or ḥ:', the ḥ: is often preposed; e.g. ḥḥḥḥ: for ḥḥḥ: Nārēā. The preformative, also, to the First Person Plural of Verbs, in the Present Tense Indicative and Subjunctive, has ḥḥ—: for the Ethiopic ḥ—:: ḥḥḥḥḥḥḥḥ: "we return"; not ḥḥḥḥḥḥḥḥ—: ḥḥḥ: for ḥḥ: "head." ḥḥḥḥ: for ḥḥḥ: "wet."

B. In the middle and at the end after long vowels, ḥ: is inserted or affixed; e.g. ḥḥḥ: for ḥḥ: "time." ḥḥḥḥḥ: "and the work"; for ḥḥḥ—:

NOTE.—This euphonical ḥ: must not be confounded with the suffixed pronoun ḥ—, which only by the context can be distinguished from it.

2. Contraction of Letters.

CONTRACTION occurs most frequently to the vocal letters ḥ: (ḥ:) ḥ: and ḥ:', besides these to the gutturals ḥ: ḥ: and ḥ—: They answer the ḥḥḥ letters of the Hebrew Language, in their becoming quiescent. This is especially the case—

A. In verbs and words derived from them, which, originating in the Ethiopic, on their transition into the Amharic have dropped the gutturals, as not compatible with the character of the latter language. In compensation for this loss of the consonant, they have retained the vowel, and joined it to the preceding letter :

| Amharic. | Ethiopic. |                              |
|----------|-----------|------------------------------|
| መሃረ:     | for ምሕረ:  | "to pity," "have mercy."     |
| ጻፈ:      | .. ጻሐፈ:   | "to write."                  |
| ተመሃረ:    | .. ተመሀረ:  | "to learn."                  |
| መላ:      | .. መልአ:   | "to be full," "to fill."     |
| ገባ:      | .. ገበአ:   | "to enter."                  |
| ሰራ:      | .. ሰርሐ:   | "to work."                   |
| ሠራ:      | .. ሠርዐ:   | "to order," "to constitute." |
| አፈራ:     | .. አፍረዖ:  | "to bring forth fruit."      |
| ጽፈኑ:     | .. ጽሐፈኑ:  | "writing."                   |

B. When a word beginning with አ: receives a preformative of the first, fourth, or sixth order, the አ—: consonant is dropped, and the vowel absorbed by the preceding letter. If አ—: stands in the first order, it changes the preceding short letter to one of the fourth order; if the fourth order precedes, no contraction takes place; if አ: is of the sixth order, it sometimes changes the preceding short into a long letter, sometimes it does not at all affect it:

|                     |                          |
|---------------------|--------------------------|
| አንገት: "the neck."   | ካንገት: "on the neck."     |
| አርዖ: "a swine."     | ላርዖ: "to a swine."       |
| አደረገው: "he did it." | ዖደረገው: "he who did it."  |
| አገኘ: "he found."    | ተገኝላህ: "thou wilt find." |

C. The same change, without loss of consonant, takes place with suffixes commencing with ā:

ሰራኙሁ: "your work," from ሰራ: and ā ኙሁ::

But when such suffixes are joined to letters ending in ū or o, these letters are changed into diphthongs:

ሰጠኋት: from ሰጠሁ: and āት: "I gave her."

When joined to letters of the fifth form, the suffix ā assumes the ዖ:, as similar to the fifth vowel; and rendering that in the fourth form, deprives the preceding letter of its vowel:

ምሳላዎችን: from ምሳላ: and āችን: "our likeness."
 በርዖቸው: and በረዖቸው: "their ox."

D. In those verbs which are called geminant, the two identical letters,

i. e. second and third radicals, are, in several moods and tenses, contracted into one letter, which letter then is sounded as a double letter:

ቀለለ: "it was light."      ደቀላለ: for ደቀላላለ: "it is light."

ሰደደ: "he sent."      የሚሰደድ: for የሚሰደድድ: "he that sends."

NOTE.—The same change takes place in all languages. Cf. in the English: refer, referring; compel, compelled; man, manned; stir, stirring; stab, stabbed; &c. In the Hebrew, letters so contracted receive a compensative Dagesh (cf. הַבַּד, הַלֵּב); in the Arabic, a Teshdid (حَسَّ, دَبَّ, غَنَّ). In the Abyssinian Languages they have no mark for this gemination; but in pronouncing the contracted syllable, the voice dwells on it for the same length of time as it would on the non-contracted two syllables.

E. The same change takes place in the conjugations of Verbs ending in ኝ: in the Second Person Plural, and in a few other instances; e. g.

ሆኝ: "We became," for ሆንኝ:: ምኝው: ማኝው: &c.

3. Elision.

A complete Elision, i. e. ejection without compensation, takes place—

A. At the end of certain words, with letters of the sixth order, which are not, or scarcely, pronounced; e. g. ሰም: for ሰምዕ: "wax." ብር: for ብርዕ: "pencil." እንደ: "but," for the Eth. and Tig. እንደዳ::

B. With the P: Relative Pronoun, and the P: of the Genitive Case, when Prepositions are prefixed to or precede the word; e. g. ባየኝት: በወንድምህ: ቤት: "In the house of thy brother, which I have seen"; instead of በየየኝት: በወንድምህ: ቤት:: እንደ: ታዘዘህ: instead of እንደ: የታዘዘህ: "As thou art commanded."

C. With the Preformatives እ: and ት: in Verbs and verbal derivations, beginning with እ: and ተ:: e. g.

አደርጋለሁ: "I do"; አሠራለሁ: "I bind"; አስጽፋለሁ: "I order to write"; instead of አደርጋለሁ: አሠራለሁ: and አስጽፋለሁ:: ትቀበላለህ: "thou receivest"; ትመታላችሁ: "you will be beaten"; instead of ትትቀበላለህ: and ትትመታላችሁ::

D. The Preformative ት., with the negative አ., is often suppressed before ተ: ኾ: ጠ: ጪ: ደ: ጀ: ሰ: ሸ: ጸ: and ፀ:: e. g.

አጽፍ: for አትጽፍ: "Do not write."

አጠብቅ: "Do not observe"; &c.

NOTE.—To this rule may be reckoned ድ: before ስ: in one instance: ስሳ: instead of ስድሳ: "sixty."

4. Changes produced and suffered by the letter P: and its corresponding vowels I and Ê.

Some of those changes have been noticed in the preceding. Here is to be added:

A. P: of the sixth order, as preformative to Verbs, resolves into the mere vowel i, when any letter of the same order is prefixed; e.g.

|         |            |       |            |
|---------|------------|-------|------------|
|         | instead of |       | instead of |
| ሊሰራ:    | ልደሰራ::     | ቢመጣ:  | ብደመጣ::     |
| እንደሆን:  | እንድደሆን::   | ሲመለስ: | ስደመለስ::    |
| ከደገር:   | ክደገር::     | የሚቆም: | የምደቆም::    |
| እስኪወርሱ: | እስክደወርሱ::  | &c.   | &c.        |

B. Under the same circumstances, P: not only remains, but, for the sake of assimilation, changes the preceding letter into one of the third order; e.g.

ሊደድርግ:: ቢደልቅ:: እንደያወጣ:: &c.

C. The Vowel I, when applied, changes the following letters:

ለ: into ሦ::    ሠ: and ሰ: into ሸ::    ጥ: into ጥ::    ነ: into ኘ::
 ዘ: into ዠ::    ደ: into ጀ::    ጠ: ጸ: and ፀ: into ጬ::

|                                    |     |               |
|------------------------------------|-----|---------------|
|                                    | FOR |               |
| ሣደ: "painter" . . . . .            |     | ሣሊ::          |
| ነጋሽ: "regent" . . . . .            |     | ነጋሢ::         |
| ምልሽ: "answer" . . . . .            |     | ምልሲ::         |
| ትሙታልሽ: "thou (f.) wilt be beaten," |     | ትሙቲአልሽ::      |
| ትድኻልሽ: "thou (f.) wilt be saved,"  |     | ትድኒአልሽ::      |
| ጋዢ: "prince" . . . . .             |     | ጋዚ::          |
| ወላጅ: "parent" . . . . .            |     | ወላጂ::         |
| ሳጬ: "giver" . . . . .              |     | ሳጢ::          |
| ቀራጭ: "piece" . . . . .             |     | ቀራጺ: or ቀራጢ:: |
| ዐጣጭ: "rebel" . . . . .             |     | ዐጣጂ::         |

NOTE.—Under the same circumstances, P: changes those letters into the fourth order.

D. When words ending in i and é receive any of the heavy suffixes (gravia), or the auxiliary አለ: at the end, the third or fifth order is generally changed into the sixth, and P: follows:

በረ: "ox."    በርዖኛው: and በረዖኛው::
 ጠጣቁ: "guardian," "protector."    ጠጣቅዮችን: "our protector."

ተጠብቅዋለህ: "thou (sem.) observest," for ተጠብቁ: አለህ::
 ጠብቁዋለሁ: "I observe," for ጠብቁ: አለሁ::

E. When letters of the fifth order are shortened, they are changed into the third; when they are prolonged, they are changed into the fourth; and the original vowel é or i is represented by P::

ሐደ: "he went." Imp. ሐደ: go!

ሸጠ: "he sold."

ተሸጠ: "he bought and sold," "carried on commerce."

5. Changes produced and suffered by the Letter ፱: and its corresponding Vowels U and O.

The letter ፱: is often contracted into the vowel o, and still further into û.

A. ፱: is contracted into o. This occurs,

(a) With the second radical in verbs:

ቀመ: for ቀ፱መ:: ዘረ: for ዘ፱ረ:: ጸመ: for ጸ፱መ::

(b) In substantives:

ስጥወጋ: "gift," is contracted into ስጦጋ::

ኻልወጥ: "power," into ኻሎጥ::

ሕይወጥ: "life," into ሕዮጥ::

ጸልወጥ: "prayer," into ጸሎጥ::

B. ፱: and o are further contracted into û.

(a) In the subjunctive, imperative, and constructive in verbs:

ይቁም: "let him stand." ቁም: "stand!" ቁምቀል: "he is standing."

(b) With the suffixed pronoun 3d person sing. masc., which, to nouns ending in a letter belonging to the sixth order, is attached as û; but after a long vowel, and in verbs as ፱·, except after an û, where it is changed for ጥ::

ቤጥ: "his house."

ጌጋ፱: "his master."

ጠባ፱: "he observed it."

ሙጥጥ: "they beat him."

C. o and û, when an ā is joined to them, change the gutturals and palatals into diphthongs of the fourth order, and put other letters into the sixth order, adding ፆ::

ብሎ: "his saying."

ብልቀል: "he is saying."

ሰጠሁ: "I gave."

ሰጠኋጥወ: "I gave them."

ሸንጎ: "senate."

ሸንጎጥወ: "their senate."

D. ፀ: having been reduced to the vowel o in the radicals of verbs, is restored again when the first radical is amplified:

ተቃፀመ: "he stood against," "resisted," from ቆመ: "he stood."

6. Changes occurring with the Diphthongs.

Diphthongs of the first order (ቀ:- ኢ:- ከ:- ገ:-) are, when lengthened, changed into the fourth (ቋ: ኢ: ካ: ገ:); when shortened, into the sixth (ቀ:- ኢ:- ከ:- ገ:-) order:

ቀ-ጠረ: "he counted."

Lengthened

Shortened

ተቋጠረ: "he made accounts."      ይቀጠር: "let him count."

7. Reduplication of Letters.

Reduplication of letters takes place in the formation of nouns and verbs, generally with a design of giving intensity to the original meaning of the word, when the second or third radical is repeated:

ተናሽ: "small."

ተናናሽ: "very small."

ተላቅ: "great."

ተላላቅ: "very great."

መለሰ: "he brought back."

ተመለሰሰ: "he walked," i.e. "went and returned," "went up and down."

ተመለሰሰ: "he returned."

አደረገ: "he did," "performed."

አደራ-ረገ: "a great work."

8. Exchange of Letters.

The following letters are frequently changed one for another, as belonging to the same organ, or at least being similar in sound.

A. Gutturals.—ፀ: for አ:: አ: for ሀ: ሐ: and ኝ:: ሀ: ሐ: and ኝ: for ኸ::
They write:

አረፈ: "he rested," for ሀረፈ::

አበሻ: "Abyssinia," for ሐበሻ::

አዘነ: "he regretted," for ሐዘነ::

አፈረ: "he was ashamed," for ኝፈረ::

ሆኝ: "he became," for ኸኝ::

ሐደ: "he went," for ኸደ::

ኋላ: "behind," for ካለ::

B. Gutturals and Palatals.—ሀ: ሐ: and ኸ: for ከ: e.g.

ኪድከ: in vulgar language, for ሐድሀ: "I go."

መኸል: and መኸከል: for መካከል: "the middle."

C. Palatals and Dentals.—ቀ: interchanges occasionally with ጠ: ጢ: and ጸ:: አንቁት: for አንጢት: "wood."

አስቁኝቸዋለሁ: for አስጢኝቸዋለሁ:: "I will harass them."

Ps. xviii. 38.

D. Palatals and Dentals.—ገ: and ጸ: and ጹ:: e.g.

አረጸ: "to be old," for አረገ::

ተገጋጋ: for ተገጸጸጸጸ: "to rustle."

E. Linguals and Dentals.—ለ: and ነ: ሠ: and ሰ:: ተ: and ቸ::
(ዘ: and ዠ::) ዡ: and ጸ:: ጠ: and ጸ:: ጸ: and ፀ:: e.g.

ልጥር: "pound," for ነጥር:: ሠመረ: "to please," for ሰመረ::

ግዕፍልግት: "perhaps," for ግዕፍልበኸ:: ተቡዣ: "to redeem," for ተበጃ::

ቀ-ረጠ: "to cut," for ቀ-ረጸ:: ጸ-በ: "quarrel," for ፀ-በ:

F. Linguals and Labials.—Where ነ: precedes በ: ጸ: and ረ:, it is, as in the Greek and in other languages, exchanged for መ: a liquid of the same order.

እግብልተ: "flute," for እንብልተ::

ግግፈት: "a sieve," for ግንፈት::

ለንጳጲ: "a small tent," for the Greek λαμπήνη.

G. Labials.—መ: and በ:: መ: and ወ:: በ: and ወ::

ዘፍግግ: "rain," for ዘፍግግ::

ወንበር: and ወግበር: "chair," for መንበር::

ፍረ: "to remain," (the ወ: resolved into the vowel o) from the Eth. ነበረ::

9. As for the liquids ለ: መ: ነ: ረ: and the changes to which they are liable, they having been embodied in the preceding remarks, nothing further remains to be said concerning them.

10. Transposition, and further Contraction of Letters.

Takes place merely in low language.

መርግት: "light," "candle," for መብራት::

ቅፍቡግ: for ቅግቲግ: "nug-oil."

እዝረ: for እግዚር: contracted from እግዚአብሔር: "God."

ክሶስ: "Christ." ክስዮን: and ኩስተን: for ክርስቲያን: "Christian."

PART II.—ETYMOLOGY.

ON THE DIFFERENT PARTS OF SPEECH.

PRELIMINARY REMARKS.

IN the Semitic Languages, it has been the custom (which also Ludolf has followed, in both his Grammars, of the Ethiopic and of the Amharic Languages) to class the different Parts of Speech under three heads; viz. Nouns, Verbs, and Particles; beginning the Etymological part of the Grammar with the Verb, as containing the roots of the whole language. But modern Grammarians have, for important reasons, adopted another course; following the practice of some ancient Arabic and Hebrew Scholars: and as that tripartition presents several inconveniences, especially to such as are unacquainted with the other Semitic Dialects, we divide the Amharic Language into Nouns, Pronouns, Verbs, Prepositions, Adverbs, Conjunctions, and Interjections. None of the Abyssinian Languages possess the Article.

2. It will, in a great measure, facilitate the study of the language, before we enter on each part of speech in particular, to premise a few general observations on the original forms of words; because it is in them, and in the manner in which from them the various formations have proceeded, that the peculiarity of every language consists. We must observe, however, that the Amharic not being an original but a derived language (see Introduction, I. III.), we must have frequent recourse to the Ethiopic; and it presents several formations which, in the present state of its knowledge, cannot yet be accounted for.

3. Now the principal elements—as it were the skeleton—of words in any language, consists in the Consonants, which are animated by the different Vowels, according to the purposes of formation, flexion, and dialect: and in speaking therefore of original forms, we must look, not to the Vowels, but to the consonants.* This, when applied to the Amharic, where Vowels are constantly attached to Consonants, signifies that the various orders of a letter do not come into consideration, but the letter itself.

4. One characteristic feature of the Semitic Languages is the prevalence of trilateral forms, which are partly derived from original biliterals, and partly amplified to quadri- and pluri-literals; but, for the greater part, are original, and form the majority. This peculiarity applies also to the Abyssinian Languages; although not to the Amharic with equal force, as to its parent, the Ethiopic.

* This is more clear in the Hebrew, Arabic, and Syriac; in which the Vowels are represented by certain marks above and below the line, which are more frequently omitted than written.

5. We do not intend to enter into any inquiry about the logical priority of the Parts of Speech; although we believe, that, in the natural development of the mind, the Noun has the precedence before the Verb; but in the grammatical formation of the Amharic Language, the Verb claims the priority, since all its roots are reducible to the first order, called Gēēz; i. e. "original." For the sake of convenience, however, we begin with the Noun, and follow the order stated under § 1.

3. In speaking of Augmented Nouns, we do not refer to those casual additions they receive by inseparable Prepositions at the beginning, or Pro-nouns at the end; but we speak of those augmentations at the beginning, in the middle, and at the end, by which their original signification is modified. In order, however, not to fall into an unnecessary repetition, we postpone this subject till we come to speak of Derived Nouns. (See 5. c.)

4. Compounds are formed (a) from the Ethiopic status constructus; the nomen regens and the nomen rectum being combined into one word, as in our "house-door" for "house's door," only the reverse of our order. In the Ethiopic, as in the Hebrew, the word (nominative) which precedes, and which, according to our ideas, should have the nominative form, is changed; and the word (genitive) which follows, and which we should expect to be changed, is not changed at all. As this peculiarity does not affect the Amharic Language any further, we do not enter into it, but content ourselves with giving only a few instances.

Compounds.

- ገለቤት: master of the house, self.
- ገልንጅራ: fellow, associate.
- ቤተሰብ: { domestic, one belonging } { to a house or family. }
- ቤተንጉሥ: state-room, parlour.

Analysis.

- ገል: master, and ቤት: house.
- ገል: . . . . እንጅራ: bread.
- ቤት: house . . { ሰብ: Eth. i.g. Amh. } ሰው: man.
- ቤት: house . . ንጉሥ: king.

Thus are many Ethiopic words compounded, especially their Christian names; e.g. ኃይለ: ማርያም: Haila Maryam, "the Power of Mary," commonly Hailu; ኅበረ: እግዚአብሔር: or ኅበረ: አምላክ: Gabra Egziabehêr, or Gabra Amläk, contr. Gabramläk, commonly Gabru, or Zäëgziabhêr, or Zäämläk, "Servant of God," &c.

(b) From Amharic words, combining either noun with noun, or the noun with any other part of speech:

Compounds.

ገራጅ: left-hand.

ገዛጅ: free-will, liberty.

ባደጅ: empty-handed.

አዚታ: O my Lord!

Analysis.

ገራ: and አጅ::

ገዛ: (dominion?) &amp; አጅ: hand.

ባደ: empty, &amp; አጅ::

የኔ: mine, &amp; ትታ: Lord, master.

As the Primitive Nouns are found only among the simple forms, we refer to the above exhibition, N<sup>o</sup>. 2.

A. Biliterals:

Class (a) is entirely derivative.

Class (b) also.

Class (c) contains a number of Primitives; e.g. ረባ: በደ: ቢዛ: በጋ: ካባ: ዋጋ: ገላ: ሸማ: ጨማ: ውኃ: ድኃ: ሥጋ: ነጋ: ሣጋ: ድደ: ለባ: ቃራ::

(d) Primitives of the fourth class: ሉሊ: ሐዲ: መሴ: ሰኔ: ጊዜ: ጦሊ: ቋረ::

(e) In the fifth class, the majority are Primitives.

(f) In the sixth class, ሚሉ: ደር: ጀር: ገጂ: ኮሶ: ደቦ::

B. Triliteral Primitives:

In class (c), መንታ: ሳምባ: ሸህላ: ባርያ: ተልባ: ሣሸላ: ነቀጣ: ወርካ:

none of the third (γ); few of the fourth (δ), ቃሊብ: ታሪክ: ቀመሰ: አረዝ: ነቢይ: ዘቢብ:, and fifth (ε), ልዩብ: ልጊም:; but none of the sixth (ζ) division.

In class (f), the greater part are Primitives.

C. Quadriliteral Primitives:

(a) None.

(b) መንጋጋ: ሠረገላ: ሸምብራ: አለንጋ: ኩብኩባ: ደብተራ:
አቀመጃ:

(c) Few; e.g. መንተሌ: በርበረ:

(d) The majority.

(e) መሰንቀ: ቀርቀር: ወይዘር: ዝንጅር: ጀንቀር:

D. Those mentioned as simple pluriliterals are all Primitive.

6. Derived Forms take their origin either from Nouns, Verbs, or Particles; and are formed in various ways, either by contraction (elision), or by change, or by augmentation of their letters.

A. By Contraction (see Part I. Ch. VII. 2.), and Elision (ibid. 3.), they are changed more seldom within the limits of the Amharic than in their transition from the Ethiopic Language into the Amharic. It takes place most frequently in Biliterals:

Amh.	Eth.	Amh.	Eth.
ንጹ: pure,	from ንጹሕ:	ምሳ: dinner,	from ምሳሕ:
በረ: ox,	.. ብዕራይ:	ላም: cow,	.. ላህም:
መሃር: honey,	.. መሃር:	ሣር: grass,	.. ሣዕር:
ቅቢ: butter, oil,	.. ቅብእ:		sometimes Amharic.

Sometimes in Triliterals, derived from the Ethiopic Quadrilaterals:

Amh.	Eth.	Amh.	Eth.
ብርቱ: strong,	from ብርቱዕ:	ስሙሙ: harmonious,
ባሕሪ: essence,	.. ባሕርይ:		from ስሙ-ዕሙ-ዕ:

B. By change of one, two, or of all the primitive letters, according to the rules laid down in Part I. Ch. VII. 4, 5, 7. A few instances will suffice for illustration:

Derivative.	Primitive.
ቀደም: that which is before,	} from ቀደም: the former time.
ቀደሚ: saddle's pommel,
ቀደሚ: Saturday,
ቀደሰ: holy,	} from ቀደሰ: to sanctify.
ቀደሰ: consecration,
ቀደሰ: sanctifier,

Derivative.	Primitive.
መለሽ : a restorer,	} from መለሰ: to return, bring back.
ምለሽ : return, answer,
ምሳሌ : likeness,	} from መሰለ: to resemble.
ምሳጾ : kind, resemblance,
ንጉሥ : king.	} from ነገሠ: to be king.
ነጋሽ : regent,
አደኝ : hunter,	} from አደነ: to hunt.
አደን : game,

C. *Augmentation of letters in the derivation of Nouns takes place either in the beginning (preformation), or in the middle (reduplication), or at the end (affirmation).** The letters used for this purpose are ሙ: ሰ: ጥ: ነ: ፑ: አ: ወ: ም:. Of these, ሙ: ሰ: ጥ: ነ: አ: ወ: አሰ: and አሰጥ: are prefixed; and ሙ: ጥ: ነ: ፑ: ወ: and ም: are affixed. Reduplication takes place by repeating any of the radical letters.

(a) Preformation:

ሙ: is used for Infinitives, and retained in Nouns derived therefrom:

መጠበቅ: the watching.

መጠበቅም: watch-house, from ጠበቅ: to watch.

ጥ: ጥን: አ: አሰ: አሰጥ: and አን: are retained in Nouns derived from those derivations of Verbs which have these characteristic Preformatives:

Noun.	Verbal derivation.	Radix.
ጥናጋሪ : speaker.	ጥናገረ : to speak.	ነገረ : to say, tell.
ጥንቀጥቃጭ : trembler.	ጥንቀጠቀጠ : to tremble.	ቀጠቀጠ : to bruise.
አፍራሽ : breaker.	አፈረሰ : to break.	ፈረሰ : to burst.
አሰጋጣሚ : nurse for sick persons.	አሰጋመመ : to nurse sick persons.	አመመ ::
አንሻጋኝ : cheater.	አንሻጥጥ : to cheat,	ሻጥጥ : ( non occ. )

አ: is prefixed to Verbs, and one of the radical letters doubled; e.g.

አገባብ: አቀማመጥ: አደራረገ::

ጥ: and ጥ: are prefixed to Verbs to form Nouns of action; e.g.

ጥዕገሥት: ጥምሕርት::

Sometimes the አ: or ጥ: is cut off, and ነ: retained in these Preformatives:

* This is analogous to the Hebrew יִתְקַדְּשׁוּ and the Arabic يَتَسَمَّى Nouns.

Noun.	Verbal Derivation.	Radix.
የጉድገድ: thunder.	አገጉድጉድ: to thunder.	ጉድጉድ: Eth. to beat.
ነጠብጣብ: a drop.	ተንጠበጠበ: to drop.	ጠበጠበ: to trot.

ጠ: occasionally interchanges with the መ: of the Infinitive, the Noun being considered no longer as an Infinitive: e.g.

ጠምበር: (or ጠንበር:) chair.      መንበር: the sitting. (Eth.)
 ነበረ: to sit.

ጠምፈት: (for መምፈት:) or ጠንፈት: "sieve"; from ነፈ: to blow, to fan, to make wind.

(b) Reduplication; repetition of any of the radical letters:

Derivative.	Primitive.
ተናኝ: very small.	ተና: small.
ተላላቅ: very great.	ተላቅ: great.
መልካካም: very beautiful.	መልካም: fine, beautiful.

In Verbal Nouns, which take it from the Verb, Reduplication is retained:

Noun.	Verbal Derivation.	Radix.
ተመላላሽ: walker.	ተመላለሰ: to walk.	መለሰ: to return.

Reduplication with transposition:

ጥርጣሪ: doubt.      ጥጠራጠረ: to doubt.      ጠረረ::

(c) Affirmation of the letters መ: ጥ: ነ: ጅ: ዌ: and ሦ::

α The Affirmation of ሸም: to Substantives, forms Adjectives and Substantives of Fulness, Intenseness, &c., similar to the Latin osus, and English ous and ful; e.g.

Form in ሸm.	Origin.
መልካም: beautiful (formosus).	መልክ: form.
ሆደም: glutton (man of a large stomach).	ሆድ: belly.
ፍርዖም: fertile.	ፍረ: fruit.
ወፍራም: thick.	ወፍር: thickness.

β Affirmative መ: forms Substantives:

አደጥመ: mouse-coloured mule.      አደጥ: mouse.
 ወብመ: fornicator.      ወብ: dog.

γ The Affirmative ጥ: ät, et, it, itu, ät, lä, produces feminine forms:

Form in ጥ::	Origin.
ልደት: birth.	ወለደ: to bring forth.
ትምህርት: doctrine.	ተማረ: to learn.
ንጹሕት: (fem.) pure.	ንጹሕ: (masc.) pure.
ልጅቱ: daughter.	ልጅ: son.
ፍርሃት: fear.	ፈረ: (Eth. ፈርሀ:) to be afraid.
ቅረት: remainder.	ቀረ: to remain, to be left.
ዝቅት: lowness.	ዝቅ: low.

δ The Afformative ἰ: ἄ: forms Substantives of Quality, from Verbs which in Latin frequently answer those ending in tas, in English in ty:

Forms in ἄ.

ἄΔጣን: authority.
ብርሃን: light, clarity.
ከደን: covenant.
ቅልጣን: delicacy, vanity.
ቆርባን: offering, eucharist.

በራ: Eth. በርሃ: to be light or clear.
ከዩዩ: ተከዩዩ:
ቀለጠ: to melt.
ቀ-ረበ: to take the sacrament.

Exceptions are, ኑንደን: "ant"; and ገምረን: "cough."

ε ፍ: and ነት: are affixed to Adjectives, Substantives, and Particles, in order to form Abstract Substantives; generally answering our ence, ance, ness, cy, ty, hood, and ship.

Forms in ፍ: and ነት:

ልቡፍ: intelligence, sagacity.

SECTION II.

On the Species of Nouns.

1. Nouns are to be considered, either as Substantives, names of things, or as Adjectives, names of properties. In the Amharic, as in the other Semitic Languages, they both belong together; and they have been jointly treated in the preceding Section as to their Formation. It remains now to say a few words concerning the Adjectives.

2. As to their Formation, but few of them, as the preceding Tables show, are original: such are,

በኅ: good.

ደህፍ: well.

እሙሉ: bad.

ቆላላ: oblong.

ደጋኅ: prominent.

እርጊ: old.

Even these are but primarily Adjectives; and when isolated, may be, and are, used as Substantives. Most Adjectives are of derivative forms, being derived either from Verbs (see Table II.) or from Substantives; e.g.

ገረም: እዋቁ: መሪር: መልከኛ: መልካም: አሳድ::

Participial Adjectives, ምሳገር: ፆተመነ::

3. As for Comparison, the Amharic Language, like the Hebrew, has no

Adjective form to express the Comparative or Superlative: we therefore must defer this subject to the Syntax.

4. The Numeral Nouns will be treated in a separate chapter.

We now proceed to the consideration of the Gender of the Nouns.

SECTION III.

On the Gender of the Nouns.

1. The Amharic Nouns have but two Genders, Masculine and Feminine. We shall endeavour to point out a few general rules, showing what Nouns belong to either of the two genders, and by which forms they are to be recognised. We have to complain, however, that there is yet much confusion; both masculine and feminine forms being alternately applied to words where the sex is not palpably distinguished.

A. Masculine are:

(a) The names of God, angels, and men; also the names of nations, and of all male animals:

እገዛአብሔር: God.	ሰይጣን: Satan.	ዓረብ: an Arab.
the Lord.	ገብርኤል: Gabriel.	ሀበሽ: an Abyssinian.
አምላክ: God.	ሰው: man.	ፍረንሲስ: a Frenchman.
የሱስ: Jesus.	ዮሐንስ: John.	አንግ: a lion.
መልአክ: angel.

(b) The names of the sun and the stars, of ranks and offices of men:

ፀሓይ: sun.	ሽም: governor.	ጠባቂ: guardian.
ኮከብ: star.	ገዢ: ruler.	ሉሊ: servant.

B. Feminine are:

The names of women and female animals; the names of the moon, the earth, countries, towns, &c.; plants; the names of female ranks and offices; collective names; and the names of several abstracts:

ማርያም: Mary.	ከተማ: city, camp.	ወያኔ: princess, lady.
ደር: hen.	መንደር: village.	እመቤት: mistress.
ዉረቃ: moon.	ጎንደር: Gondar.	ገረቶ: female servant.
ምድር: earth, country.	ዛፍ: tree.	ጉባኤ: assembly, society.
ሐበሻ: Abyssinia.	አበባ: a flower.

And see 2.

C. Common, are several conditions of life; as, "child," "slave," and others, where the termination of the word does not distinguish the sex.

2. The two Genders are distinguished,

(a) By the addition of distinct words denoting the Male and the Female. These are: ወንድ: and ተባት: for Males, and ሴት: and አንስት: for Females; besides this, አውራ: for several male animals, who are without this distinction considered as females; as, goats, fowl, &c.: e.g.

ወንድ: ልጅ: a son, boy.

ሴት: ልጅ: a daughter, girl.

የንስሳ: ተባት: male of animals.

የንስሳ: አንስት: female of animals.

አውራ: ፍያል: he-goat.

አውራ: ጆር: cock (he-fowl).

In Shoa, they carry this distinction further; calling "clayish earth" ወንድ: or ተባት: ምድር: (male earth), and "loose earth" አንስት: or ሴት: ምድር: (female earth). They call wood which splits perpendicularly, ወንድ: እንጨት: "male wood"; and wood which splits transversely, ሴት: እንጨት: "female wood." Maria-Theresa dollars, which have the requisite coinage, አንስት: ብር: "female dollars"; and those which are any way deficient, being M. T. dollars, ተባት: ብር: "male dollars." The latter distinction obtains in all Abyssinia.

(b) The Female is distinguished by the termination ት: ታ: and ቶ:: (See the Table of Derivatives, II. 4. c.)

(c) The same by ፍ: and ኀት: (See Derivatives, II. 4. c.)

(d) The Primitives are mostly Masculines.

(e) As to the Derivative forms, the following rule obtains:

Classes I. 1. 2. 3. 6. and II. 4. f. g. are predominantly Masculine; and Classes I. 4. and II. 4. c. d. e. predominantly Feminine. The rest are of Mixed Gender.

3. The remaining Nouns are undetermined as to the sex; the Adjective and Verb being promiscuously applied to them in the Masculine and in the Feminine Gender.

4. Several Adjectives and Substantives, whose form is Masculine, are changed into a Feminine form:

Masculine.	Feminine.
ንጹ:	ንጹሕት: pure.
ብሩ:	ብርሀት: clear.
ገረም:	ገርምት: wonderful.
ጠባቂ:	ጠባቂቱ: guardian.
አርጌ:	አርጊት: old.
ወራሽ: heir.	ወራሽቱ: heiress..
ሀኪተኛ:	ሀኪተኛቱ: lazy. X
አረሃቂ: heathen man.	አረሃቂት: heathen woman.

SECTION IV.

On the Number of the Nouns.

1. The number is but twofold; viz. Singular and Plural. We might add the Collective; but that being considered either as a body, when it is Singular, or as an aggregate of individuals, when it is plural, it constitutes no particular form; and we therefore proceed to consider these two, the Singular and the Plural; there being no Dual in this language.

2. As the Singular is that form in which each Noun, before it is changed, presents itself, we need not say any thing about it, but direct our attention at once to the formation of the Plural Number.

3. The truly Amharic Plural is very simple; it has but one form, and that is the termination otsh (Tigrê ot); in which we recognise the Hebrew  $\text{ות}$ , the Arabic  $\text{ون}$ , and the Ethiopic āt; e.g.

Singular.		Plural.
ቤተ:	house.	ቤተኞች:	houses.
ወብ:	dog.	ወብኞች:	dogs.
ልጅ:	child.	ልጆች:	children.
አባት:	father.	አባቶች:	fathers.
ጠባቂ:	guardian.	ጠባቂዎች:	guardians.
በጎ:	good.	በጎች:	good.

NOTE.—The Plural termination of several Nouns ending in the fifth order is divided into two Consonants; the original letter being put into the sixth order, and a P: being added, to which the Plural ኞች: is affixed; e.g.

ምሳሌዎች: similitudes, from ምሳሌ::

4. But besides this Amharic, we have the following Ethiopic Plural forms; which sometimes are applied, although the true Aml. Plural always may be put.

(a) Termination ān.

For the Derivates, I. 1. II. 4. g. and some other forms; e.g.

5. It is well to attend to these various forms, as they frequently occur in the Amharic Bible as well as in conversation: but it must be borne in mind, that they are all of Ethiopic origin, and superseded by the simple Amharic form otsh; and a beginner will never be mistaken in using the latter, until he is sufficiently acquainted with the language to know where he has to apply any of the other forms.

SECTION V.

On the Declension of the Nouns.

The Declension of Nouns is very simple and uniform. Nouns are inflected through four Cases, equally in the Singular and the Plural, i.e. the Nominative, the Genitive, Dative, and Accusative. One example may suffice to show the whole mode of proceeding:

Singular.	Plural.
Nom. ቤት: a house.	ቤቶች: houses.
Gen. የቤት: of a house, a house's.	የቤቶች: of houses.
Dat. ለቤት: to a house.	ለቤቶች: to houses.
Acc. ቤትን: a house.	ቤቶችን: houses.

OBSERVATIONS:

(a) The Genitive answers the Eth. H., and is not to be confounded with the Pronouns Relative or Distributive.

The Accusative Case must not be confounded with the Interrogative Adverb ን፣ nor with the termination ን፣ of Nouns. On the Construction, and on the various uses of the Accusative, see Syntax.

2. It occasionally happens, that they make use of the Ethiopic Genitive or status constructus, i.e. that mode of construction which prevails in the Hebrew, and which has been noticed in the First Section of this Chapter, § 4. The two nouns, which stand in a genitive relation to each other, one of which is the regens (Nominative), and the other the rectum (Genitive), are so closely connected as to appear as one word. The Genitive follows the Nominative, and receives the tone or accent; in doing which, the preceding Noun, the Nominative, is modified: in the Hebrew it is shortened: in our case, the last letter, if it is of the sixth order, is changed into the first, and the two words are considered as one compound, separated merely by the (:) colon; but even this, in the Amharic, is often dropped, especially when the Genitive begins with a vowel consonant, or when it is a short word:

ባለ: ቤት: and ባለቤት: "master of the house."

ባለጃ: for ባለ: ዕጃ: "owner of debts," i.e. "creditor" or "debtor."

Another change is produced by the affixion of Pronouns to Nouns, of which we shall speak under the head of Inseparable Pronouns.

CHAP. II.

ON THE NUMERALS.

1. The Numerals are of two kinds, Cardinals and Ordinals. The Cardinals specify the number of things which are the subject of speech: the Ordinals exhibit the order in which they occur.

2. The Cardinal Numbers in the Amharic are as follow:

Cipher.	Amharic.	English.	Cipher.	Amharic.	English.
፩:	1. አንድ: } / አንዲት: }	One, a. an.	፳:	30. ሠላሳ:	Thirty.

IE: 15. አሥራ: አምስት:	Fifteen.

The same order is observed with all the Tenth's, to a Hundred; e.g.

UP: አንድ:: ሥላሳ: ሁለት:: አርባ: ሶስት: &c.

The numbers upward of a Hundred are joined to the Hundreds by ከ: or ጥ:; e.g.

EX: 106. መጥ: ከስድስት:: . . . . One hundred and six.

EX: 160. መጥ: ጥስባ: or መጥ: ከስባ: One hundred and sixty.

EXE: 199. መጥ: ከዘጠፍ: ዘጠኝ:: . . One hundred & ninety-nine.

3. The Ordinal Numbers are formed by the termination ኛ: affixed to the Cardinals.

አንደኛ:: መጀመርያ: } the First.
 or ፈተኛ::
 ሁለተኛ: the Second.
 ሶስተኛ: the Third.
 አራተኛ: the Fourth.
 አምስተኛ: the Fifth.

ስድስተኛ: the Sixth.
 ሰባተኛ: the Seventh.
 ስምንተኛ: the Eighth.
 ዘጠነኛ: and ዘጠነኛ: the Ninth.
 አሥረኛ: the Tenth.
 አሥራ: ሁለተኛ: the Eleventh.

&c. &c.

The Simple Numbers, Twenty, Thirty, and upwards, scarcely admit of the termination ኛ:, but are generally given to the Cardinal form. In compounds, the last number receives the termination ኛ:; as,

UP: አንደኛ: ምዕራፍ: the Twenty-first chapter.

4. They have no particular form for the Distributive Numbers; but they express them, either by reiteration, as,

አንድ: አንድ: (contr. አንደኛድ:) one-by-one, some, several, one or other, singly, severally.

ሁለት: ሁለት: two-and-two;

Or by አዎ: or አዎ: as,

አያንድንድ: each, every. አዎሁለት: by twos, by pairs, two-and-two, every two, every couple, &c. &c.

በየሶስት ቀን: every three days.

CHAP. III.

ON THE PRONOUNS.

1. The Amharic Pronouns are, as to their logical character, divided, as in other languages, into, 1. Personal; 2. Possessive; 3. Demonstrative; 4. Relative; 5. Interrogative; 6. Reflective; and 7. Distributive Pronouns. As to their forms, they are classed, as in other Semitic Languages, into Separable and Inseparable Pronouns. We begin with the Separable Pronouns. They are Personal, Possessive, Demonstrative, Interrogative, and Reflective.

SECTION I.

They are Three for the Singular, and Three for the Plural. The Singular has some peculiarities. The First Person has not the Gender expressed: the Second and Third have distinct forms for the Masculine and for the Feminine Gender: the Second Person has, besides, three distinctions of honour, as the following Paradigm shows:

	SINGULAR.			PLURAL.
	Masc.	Com.	Fem.
1 Pers.		አኔ : I.		እኛ : we.

3 Pers.	እርሱ : he, it.		አንቱ :	} you.
			እርሷ :
			እርሷ : she, it.	እርሳቸው : they.

NOTE. (a) On the application of the three different forms for the Second Person: አንተ: and አንቺ: are applied to inferiors, to God, to intimate friends; and in universal address, where you need not pay any regard to rank, &c. አንቱ: is used for a lesser; እርሷ: for a higher degree of honour. These two forms resemble the German Ihr (in Switzerland Er), and Sie, and the Italian Voi and Lei, for the Second Person Singular.

(b) In speaking of a distinguished person, the form of the Third Person Plural is used, as a mark of honour.

2. The Declension is the same as with the Nouns.

Thus far the Separable Personal Pronouns. The Inseparable Personal Pronouns are those Verbal Suffixes which will be mentioned in their proper place.

SECTION II.

They are formed by the Genitive of the Personal Pronouns ; and are as follows :

SECTION IV.

Interrogative Pronouns.

There are four: One Personal, ማን: ሢ እለማን: "who?" "which?" "what sort of?" One Impersonal, ምን: "which?" "what?" One Common, የት: "what?" "which?" One Universal, ምንድር: "what?"

The Personal is ማን: "who?" "which?" e.g.

- ማን: አደረገ: ደህነን: Who did this?
- ደህ: ማን: ነው: (or ማነው:) Who is this?
- ከሁለቱ: ማን: Which of both?

The Impersonal is ምን: "which?" "what?" e.g.

- ምን: አደረገህ: What hast thou done?
- ምን: ቤት: Which house?

The Universal Interrogative Pronoun is ምንድር: "what?" e.g.

ይህ: ምንድር: ነው: What is this?

ማን: and ምን: are declinable, thus:

		SINGULAR.
		Pers.	Impers.
Nom.	ማን: who? which?	ምን: what? which?
Gen.	የማን: of whom? whose? of which?	የምን: of what? of which? whose?
Dat.	ለማን: to (for) whom? to (for) which?	ለምን: to (for) what? to (for) which? wherefore?
Acc.	ማንን: whom? which?	ምንን: what? which?
PLURAL.
Nom.	እለማን: who? which?	እለምን: which?
Gen.	የእለማን: whose? of which?	የእለምን: of which? whose?
Dat.	ለእለማን: to whom? to which?	ለእለምን: to which?
Acc.	እለማንን: whom? which?	እለምንን: which?

ምንድር: has no Plural; and is defective in the Singular, having no Accusative Case.

Besides the preceding, they have the Interrogative Pronoun የት: or Euphonic የቶ: "what?" "who?" "which?" It is indeclinable, and used chiefly in forming Adverbs, by joining with Prepositions; as, እንዲት: ወዲት: &c.

SECTION V.

Reflective Pronouns.

They are three, ባለቤት:: ራስ: and ነፍስ: with the signification of self. They assume the Suffixes of the Possessive Pronoun, as in the English myself, thyself, &c. So is in all Abyssinia ራስ: with Suffixes ራሴ: ራስህ: ራስሽ: ራሰዎ: ራሱ: ራሰዋ: ራሳችን: ራሳችሁ: ራሳቸው: "myself," "thyself," &c. ባለቤት:, with Suffixes, is not used in Shoa; but in N.W. Abyssinia, it is common. ነፍስ: with Suffixes is used in all Abyssinia, though not so often as ራስ:: But the reflective mode of speaking is more frequently used in Verbs, without these Pronouns, as will be shown afterwards.

SECTION VI.

Distributive Separable Pronoun.

This is እያንዳንድ: "each," "every," with Suffixes. As it is composed of a double አንድ: and the distributive እያ:, it has been numbered already among the Distributive Numerals.

SECTION VII.

Indefinite Pronouns.

These are the following:

ማንም: any, each, every one, whoever, whosoever.

ማናቸው: m. ማናቸዎቹ: fem. whosoever.

ሁሉ: all, each, every, any.

ሌላ: other.

አንድ: some, something.

1. ማንም: ማናቸው: and ማናቸዎቹ: are used only in the Singular, nor receive they any Suffix. When used with the Verb in the negative, they adopt the reverse to their natural signification, "none," "none whatever."

2. ሁሉ: is rather the Substantive ሁል: "totality," with Suffixes. It assumes all Suffixes, and is declinable; but has no Plural.

3. ሌላ: is used in both the Plural and the Singular Numbers, and is declinable.

4. አንድ: is declinable, and used only in the Singular.

5. አያል: "some," "several," is declinable, and has but one number. Besides this, the words, "some" and "such," are circumscribed by Verbs; e.g. "Some men like it," የሚወዱት: አሉ: lit. "There are men who like it." "Such:" አንዲት: ያለ: or pl. አንዲት: ያሉ:: "who is," or "who are so."

SECTION VIII.

Inseparable Pronouns.

They are, with regard to their character, Personal, Possessive, Relative, and Distributive; and with regard to their position, they are either Prefixes or Suffixes.

1. *Personal Suffixes to Verbs.**

They consist partly in modifications of the Personal Pronoun, and are annexed to any part of the Verb except the Infinitive; for that Mood, being considered in this respect as a Noun, assumes Nominal Suffixes.

* We do not speak of those personal designations the Verbs receive at their beginning or end; because they are so intimately connected with the Verb, that we cannot consider them separately.

The following Table contains them all :

NOTE.—Suffix 3d pers. sing. masc. to Prepositions has ḳ; e.g.
ḳḳ: in him.                      ḳḳ: to, or for him.

3. Prefixed Relative Pronouns.

There are two; i.e. פ: for the Preterite, and פשו: for the rest; e.g. פשוה: הו: "the man who came." פשהוה: פ: "The day which comes"; i.e. "the coming," "following day." See more under the Verbs.

4. Prefixed Distributive Pronoun.

There is but one, which has been mentioned already, under the Numerals: it is, לפ: or לפ:: לפיהן: פ: "Every three days." Prepositions have the power of absorbing the first letter; when care must be taken not to confound the remaining פ — with the Relative Pronoun; bearing in mind, that the Relative itself would be absorbed by the Preposition: nor stands it, except before Verbs.

CHAP. IV.

ON THE VERBS.

The Verb being, next to the Noun, the most essential part of speech, we are to give it our fullest consideration. In entering upon it, we treat, 1. On its Formation and Quality; 2. On the Derivations, or different Forms or Voices of Verbs; 3. On their Flexion; 4. On their Conjugation; 5. On the Affixion of Pronouns to Verbs.

SECTION I.

Formation and Quality of Verbs.

1. The Verb, in general, seems to represent the chief development of those roots of the language which are contained in the Noun. The original idea of the Noun is exhibited as a thing of time, found in a certain condition, and undergoing or producing various actions and changes. This consideration implies, that the Verb, in general, originates in the Noun. In the Hebrew, we can trace its course from the Primitive Nominal Form, through the Participle (in Kal), to the 3d pers. masc. preterite; the latter being, in all the Semitic Languages, the grammatical root of the Verb. In the Amharic, the Constructive Mood, of which we shall speak afterwards, seems to be the medium of transition from the Primitive Noun to the 3d pers. masc. preterite of the Verb.

2. Now the latter, the 3d masc. pers. sing. of the preterite in the Simple Forms of Verbs, constitutes, as has been just now alluded to, the origin of all the other Verbal Forms; the same as, in our languages, the Infinitive; or in the Greek, the Latin, the Italian, and others, the 1st pers. sing. of the present tense: on this account it is put forward, for grammatical and lexical purposes, as the radix, or rather (because the true radices of the Verbs are contained in the Noun) as the stem, from which all the other forms branch off. In the Amharic, it presents various formations, as well as the Noun—bilitera, trilatera, quadrilatera, and plurilatera: but in it, as well as in the Noun, the majority consists of trilateral forms; which majority is still augmented, whenever the present contracted biliteral forms, and many plurilaterals evidently amplified, are restored to their original fulness or simplicity.

3. In reference to Quality, then, the Verbs present two grand divisions; i.e. Perfect and Imperfect Verbs, which again may be sub-divided in other classes. Perfect Verbs are those which are flexible in, at least, several Derivations, and throughout all the Moods, Tenses, and Persons in Conjugation, without losing any of their Radicals. Imperfect Verbs are either Defective, Augmented, or Irregular.

NOTE.—(a) Perfect Verbs may be divided into Primitives, i.e. whose origin cannot be traced to any further root; and Derivatives, which have for their origin either a Noun (Denominatives), or another Verb (Verbals). We subjoin here a few specimens of each.

VERBS DERIVED FROM VERBS.

Original Verb.

መሰገነ: he was glorious.

መሠረተ: he laid a foundation.

ገነ: it flourished, he was glorious.

ሠራ: he built.

(b) Under Defective Verbs, we mean, (1) Those which occasionally lose some of the Radicals; and (2) Such as have not all the Moods or Tenses, or Persons in conjugation. They will be mentioned in their proper places.

(c) Irregular Verbs are of various kinds :

- A. Such in which the Affirmatives are irregular.
- B. Such as have either the first or second, or second and third Radical Letters contracted.
- C. Geminants.
- D. Reduplicated and Transposed forms.

All these will be exhibited, with their respective Conjugations, after the Regular or Perfect Verb.

SECTION II.

Various Derivations, or different Forms or Voices of Verbs.

1. In every language, the original idea of a Verb must be determinable by the relation of the subject to the object; and those various relations must be in some way or other expressible by the form of the Verb. The state of any subject of speech, or its action, is either confined to itself, or it exerts an influence on an object, or is itself the object of extraneous influence. This circumstance renders, in every language, three classes of Verbs, or three conditions of the same verb, necessary; i.e. neutrality (immanence), action upon other objects, and suffering. In the English Grammars, these qualities are called Voices; in the Semitic languages, Conjugations, or better, Derivations.

2. The ways to express these Voices are different in different languages, according to the pliability and vigour the latter possess.

The more original and vigorous a language is, we conceive, the more will it be able to derive all it requires, for the purpose of expressing the various relations of the verb, from the original verb itself, without the assistance of auxiliaries, and without circumscription: and this seems to show the superiority of the Semitic over the European Languages; because the former fully possess that power, while the latter are deficient in it.

In the English, the Passive Voice is not expressible, but by the Auxiliary To be. The Greek language has the power of expressing it by a change of the Active in the termination, converting  $\omega$  in  $\omicron\mu\alpha\iota$ , &c. The Transitive is, in a few instances, formed by a change of the vowel, as "to fell" (i.e. make fall), from "to fall"; sometimes by Prepositions, as "to enforce," "to belabour," &c.; but, on the whole, European languages are deficient in this respect.

3. In the Semitic languages, the form of the original verb is altered, either by the mere change of vowels in the same radical consonants, or by an addition of servile letters with a suitable change of vowels, in order to express the various determinations and modifications, i.e. Voices or Conjugations, of which the verb is susceptible. Of these derivations, the Hebrew Verb has seven; the Arabic, thirteen; the Ethiopic, ten different forms. For the Amharic, Ludolf has assigned but four Conjugations; but an attention to the following will show that there are many more.

4. As the Trilaterals are the most numerous and the most perfect words, we present the reader, first, with a list of all the Forms of Conjugation, to which the perfect Trilateral Verb is liable. And since all these forms do not proceed from any single stem, we take several stems together. The Verbs which will serve us for this purpose are the following:

መለሰ: act. he returned.	ሰበረ: he burst.
ከበረ: he was glorious, respectable. (ደረገ: non occ.)
ሰደበ: he reviled.	አደረገ: he did.
ነገረ: he said.	ደነዘ: was blunt.
መግ-ተ: he contradicted.	ፈተለ: spun.
መሰለ: he resembled.	በረቆ: he fulminated.*
ወረደ: he descended.

These Forms are not of equally frequent occurrence. Those occurring most frequently, are, Nos. I. III. IV. V. VI. VIII. X. XIV. and XV. The rest are more rare.*

5. Observations on this List:—Most of the forms it contains are analogous to the forms of derivation in the Hebrew, the Arabic, and more especially in the Ethiopic Verb; which will be evident from the following remarks:

I. መለሰ: comprises the Ethiopic and Arabic I. and II. forms, and the Hebrew Kal and Piel.

---

* We beg to observe here, that, on account of the haste in which the Dictionary was prepared for press, the Forms XVI. to XXIII. were not arranged in it under their roots; as the Author was not then aware, that they were simple derivations from the Trilateral Verb. To this conviction he arrived when drawing up this Grammar.

II. ሳደቦ: of rare occurrence, answers the Ethiopic and Arabic  $\pi\lambda$  form, ኃበረ: and جَلَبَ.

III. አከበረ: answers to the Ethiopic IV. and V., and to the Arabic IV.

IV. ተመልሰ: corresponds with the Eth. VI. and VII., and with the Arabic V.

V. አደገረ: "he made speak," answers the Arabic XI.

VI. ተደገረ: "he spoke," answers the Eth. VII. ተኃበረ: and Arabic VI. تَفَاعَلَ.

VII. ተግዎግጥ: seldom occurs, and has no correspondent in the other languages.

VIII. IX. and X. answer the Ethiopic and Arabic X. አስተገበረ::

استَفْعَلَ.

The rest are peculiar to the Amharic; although modifications of the same forms occur, especially in the Arabic.

G. Before we proceed, we notice the Conjugations of the other classes of Verbs:

I. TRILITERALS WHOSE FIRST RADICAL IS A GUTTURAL.

They are affected by the rules laid down in Part I. Ch. VII. 2. B. 3. C.

The following list contains their several conjugations:

Radices, አመኘ: "he believed"; and አለፈ: "he passed."

I. አመኘ: "he believed."

II. ታመኘ: "he was believed," "creditable," "trustworthy"; "he entrusted."

III. አሳመኘ: "he persuaded," "he made believe."

IV. አስታመኘ: "he entrusted," "accredited," "attested."

V. ተላለፈ: "he trespassed," "varied."

VI. አስተላለፈ: recipr. & trs. "he made pass in different ways."*

* Other Verbs of this class: አረመ: አረሰ: አረቀ: አረዘ: አረደ: አረገ: አረጠ: ዐረፈ: አቀፈ: አበረ: አበደ: አበጠ: አተመ: አነሰ: አነቀ: አነጸ: አከለ: አወቀ: አወከ: አዘለ: አዘነ: አደለ: አደመ: አደረ: አደሰ: አደነ: አደገ: አደፈ: አገመ: አገዘ: አጠረ: አጸረ: አጠነ: አጠደ: አጸፈ: አጸበ: አፈረ: ሀበዞ: ሀረቀ:: The Dictionary shows, that the original Forms of these Verbs are not all of prima አ:; but in the Amharic, they may be all comprised in this form.

II. GEMINANT TRILITERALS.

They are originally Biliterals, whose second radical letter has been doubled. See Part I. Ch. VII. 2. D.

List of Triliteral Geminants.

SECTION III.

On the Flexion of Verbs.

The Flexion of Verbs treats on their Moods, Tenses, Numbers, and Persons.

1. Moods of the Amharic Verb.

The Amharic Verb has Seven Moods: (a) the Indicative; (b) the Conjunctive; (c) the Subjunctive; (d) the Constructive; (e) the Imperative; (f) the Infinitive; (g) the Participle.

* 1. This class is most numerous, and comprises a great variety of Verbs, as the following List will show: መረከዘ: መሰከረ: መሰከወ: መነኩሰ: መነዘሀ: ሰበቀለ: ሰነከለ: ሰነዘረ: ሰነገለ: ሰነጠቀ: ሸመገለ: ሸነከረ: ሸነገለ: ቀለበሰ: ቀለጠጠ: ቀለጠፈ: ቀመጠለ: ቀ-ረጠመ: ቀባጠረ: በረከተ: ተረገ-መ: ተነኩለ: ተነከረ: አመለከ: አነከሰ: አነጠሰ: ወነጀለ: (ወነገለ)ዘነበለ: ዘነገ-ረ: ደነቀረ: ደነገዘ: ደነገጠ: ገ-ለመሰ: ገ-ነቀለ: ገ-ነበሰ: ገ-ነጀለ: ገ-ነጸፈ: ጠረቀመ: ጠፍወተ: ጨነፈ: ጸወለገ: ፈነተረ: ፈነቀለ: :

2. Most of the forms comprised in this List are Derivative; either from Nouns, as መሰከረ: መነኩሰ: ተነከረ: በረከተ: or, as most of the rest, from Triliteral Verbs. The use of the liquid ከ: in this amplification of forms, is remarkable; e.g. አነጠሰ: is from the Arabic عطف, ሰነበተ: from the Hebrew נבש, ሰነጠቀ: from the Eth. ሰጠቀ: : ሰነዘረ: from the Eth. ሰዘረ: &c.

A. The Indicative Mood has nothing particular. It has two Tenses, the Preterite and the Present (or Future); besides which, other Tenses are formed by the Contingent and the Constructive, in connexion with Auxiliaries.

B. The Contingent is the simple verbal form with the Personal Preformatives and Terminations, and serves for the Indicative as well as for the Subjunctive, according as it is either, (1) Simple; or (2) has Conjunctions prefixed, and what the nature of those Conjunctions is; or (3) whether any, and what sort of Auxiliary, is attached to it. (See pp. 66, 67.)

C. The Conjunctive or Subjunctive Mood is not used in the Amharic, except for the purpose of expressing a desire, or request, or obligation. Its peculiarity consists in its Radicals, after the prefixion of the Personal Serviles, assuming the form of the Imperative. (See pp. 68, 69.)

D. A curious Mood, and peculiar to the Amharic and Tigrè languages, having its beginning undeveloped in the Ethiopic Infinitive, is the Constructive. It is formed by the simple root of the verb with Personal Afformatives; and has four forms; one simple, one augmented, and two compound forms. (See pp. 70, 71.)

E. The form of the Imperative (its nature being the same as in other languages) is short. (See p. 71.)

F. The Infinitive, or Verbal Substantive, is formed by the prefixion of ፀፀ: to the Simple Form.

G. The Participle presents five; viz. three Simple, and two Compound Forms. The three former, partaking of a nominal character, have been exhibited in the Table of Derivative Nouns: the two latter are formed by the Finite Verb Preterite and Contingent, to which certain Preformatives are prefixed; and they retain their flexibility, i.e. capability of being conjugated. Besides this, they are all declinable. (See pp. 72, 73.)

We come now to speak,

II. Of the Tenses of the Amharic Verb.

They are not so exactly distinguished in the Amharic as in our European Languages: in fact, the Abyssinians have not, strictly speaking, more than two divisions of time; i.e. the Past and the Present; the Present being used also for the Future. The Past is subdivided into the Perfect, and Imperfect or Pluperfect; the Perfect being rendered by the simple Preterite form, and the Imperfect or Pluperfect, (which are not distinguished from each other) being composed either of the Contingent or the Simple Constructive, with the Preterite Auxiliary ነበረ:: The Present, which might be, perhaps with propriety, called Aorist, because it is applicable to the Future as well as to the Present Tense, is a form composed of the Contingent and the Auxiliary חל: In order to distinguish the Future from the Present, where the context is not in itself clear enough, certain phrases are adopted which leave no doubt that the time is yet to come in which the action &c. of the subject is to take place. But more of this afterwards. (See p. 66.)

3. The Number of Conjugation is but twofold, Singular and Plural.

4. The Persons.

There are, in reality, not more than three for each Number; viz. the person speaking, the person spoken to, and the person spoken of; but the grammatical forms are more, as has been shown under the article of Pronouns, Chap. III.; namely, seven forms for the Singular, and three for the Plural. Now the Semitic Languages have this in common, that the personal distinctions in the Conjugations of Verbs are expressed by certain letters affixed or prefixed, or both, to the Radicals of the Verb; and in so doing, the act of Conjugation is accomplished. We call the prefixed letters Preformatives, and the affixed ones Afformatives. The following List exhibits them.

(a) Preformatives.

SECTION IV.

Conjugation of Verbs.

Before we enter upon the conjugation of the Regular Verb, we give the conjugation of the two Auxiliary Verbs:

አለ: he is.                      ነበረ: he was;

and of the Irregular and Defective Verb Substantive, ነው: "he is."

A. አለ: Eth. ሀለወ: contr. ሀሎ: "he is," "there is" (French, il y a), is used only in the Present; but that has a Preterite form.

SINGULAR.			PLURAL.
Masc.	Fem.	Common.	Common.
3d pers. አለ: he is.	አለች: she is.		አሉ: { they are, he (hon.) is.
2d .. አለህ:	አለሽ: thou art.		አሉትሁ: you are.
.. .. hon. 1. . . . .		አሉ: } you
.. .. 2. . . . .		አሉትሁ: } are.
1st.. . . . .		አለሁ: I am.	አለን: we are.

NOTE 1.— This verb is not to be confounded with the Irregular Verb አለ: "he said"; which will be given, when we treat of the Irregular Verbs in general.

2. The 3d pers. sing. and plur., combined with Suffixed Pronouns, have the same signification as "est" and "sunt" in the Latin, with the Dative of the Personal Pronoun; e.g. Mihi est, "I have." So in the Amharic, ብር: አለኝ: I have (possess) money.

 ልጆች: አሉኝ: he has (possesses) children.

3. As Auxiliary, the 3d pers. sing. masc. is changed into አለ: e.g.
 ያለል: for ያል: አለ: he says.
 ተቀምጥዋል: for ተቀምጦ: አለ: he is sitting.

B. ነበረ: "he was," is used as Auxiliary for the Past Tenses in the Indicative and Subjunctive. It has only the Preterite.

3. ነበረ: } he (ነበር:) was.	ነበረች: she was.		ነበሩ: they were.

.. .. 2. . . . .		ነበሩትሁ: { you were.
1. . . . .		ነበርሁ: I was.	ነበርን: we were.

NOTE.—When used as an Auxiliary, ነበር: serves often for any person Singular or Plural; e.g.

ተቀምጠው: ነበር: they were sitting.

ትመጣ: ነበር: thou wouldst come.

C. ነው: He is.

This verb is singularly anomalous. It consists of merely one radical letter ነ:, to which the Verbal Suffixes are attached, instead of Personal Affirmatives. Is used only in one form, which we may call the Preterite of the Indicative, because it resembles that more than any other form.

This is the regular form of this anomalous verb. Deviations are these: ነዋ:, for the 3d pers. sing. masc. interrogative, "Is he?" In the Shoa Dialect. ነወደ: for the regular ነውን: e.g.

እንዲት: ነዋ: How is it? for እንዲት: ነው::

A second deviation is ነች:, in the Shoa Dialect, "She is," for ናት::

- 1st .. እንከብራለን፡ we are, shall be honourable.

NOTE 1.—Whether this form, when it occurs, is intended for the Present or for the Future Tense, generally depends on the context. In order, however, to leave no doubt when they speak of future things, they use the simple contingent form with additional particles; e.g. እከብር፡ ዘንድ፡ እልን፡ “I have (am) to be honourable.” እከብር፡ ዘንድ፡ ጊዜ፡ እልን፡ “time is for me (to come) that I am to be honourable,” &c.

2. Personal Suffixes, and sometimes the Conjunction ም፡, are infixed between the Simple Form and the Auxiliary.

As this form is used for both the Indicative and the Subjunctive, as well as for the formation of Participles, we have given no translation of it; but shall present a few instances here, to illustrate its use:

ይከብር፡ ዛንድ፡ in order that he may be honourable.

ሊከብር፡ that he may be honourable.

እንደከብር፡ that he is honourable.

ቢከብር፡ or ይከብር፡ እንደሆን፡ if he is (be) honourable.

ከከብር፡ than that he should be honourable.

ሲከብር፡ while he is honourable.

የሚከብር፡ he that is honourable.

አይከብርም፡ he is not honourable.

The Present and Future of the Indicative, also, is a composition of the Contingent with the Auxiliary አለ: which is omitted whenever the word receives any augmentation at the beginning or at the end, except Suffixes or Copulative Conjunctions.

NOTE 1.—As the Subjunctive is so nearly related to the Imperative, always expressing a wish, a request, or indirect command, it is natural that the Second Person Singular, in its direct form, and the same person in the Plural, is less frequently used than the remaining forms; for they use more generally the Imperative.

2. Several verbs are destitute of this form, and they use the Simple Contingent. It may therefore be of service to the Student, to give a list of those verbs of this class which have this form; and another of those which have not.

3. In verbs whose first radical has a diphthong, the latter is shortened into that diphthong which answers the sixth vowel order; e.g. ደቀ-ረጥ: "let him cut," from ቀ-ረጠ:: እት-ጉደል: "do not be deficient."

4. The Subjunctive is so nearly related to the Imperative, that it yields all its forms to serve the latter, where that is deficient. So in the negative orders, prohibitions or warnings, where the Imperative cannot be used for having no Servile Preformatives; e.g.

- እት-ገገር: do not tell.      እት-ወደቅ: do not fall.
- እት-ገደል: do not kill.      እት-ቀረጥ: do not cut.

(d) Constructive Mood.

This is a singular Mood, which has nothing corresponding, either in our European or in the other Semitic Languages; although its form, as far as the Simple one is concerned, answers the Ethiopic Infinitives ገብር: and ገብር:; but this Mood is not an Infinitive. It has nothing of a Substantive character; whereas the Infinitive is the first Verbal Substantive, possessing both the characters of Substantive and Verb. Nor is there any other Mood to which it exactly corresponds: neither Participle nor Gerund, nor Finite Verb, will answer it; although it may be occasionally translated by either, and sometimes by an Adverb. It occupies an intermediate station between the Infinitive and the Finite Verb; has four forms, one of which is Simple, one Augmented, and two Compound; and is flexible, like the Finite Verb, having Affirmatives resembling the Suffixed Pronouns, partly of the Noun, and partly of the Verb. The Simple form is used for amplifying; the other forms, on account of the auxiliaries which are attached to them, for constituting sentences. When the nature of this Mood is understood, we hope the designation Constructive will be justified; not having been able to fix upon any better.

The Simple form ከብር: (a modification of the radix ክብር: "honour"), which may be considered as containing the idea of an agent, and of an action, or a concrete being, and an abstract state or condition, &c., assumes peculiar forms of Pronouns; which must not be taken as Possessive (Nominal), but as Personal (Verbal); nor as the other Verbal Suffices which are in the Accusative; but they are Nominatives. Here it is:

(e) Imperative.

The Imperative has two forms; one which has the first Radical in the sixth, and the second in the first order; and another which has the first Radical in the first, and the second in the sixth order. All those verbs which have the Subjunctive form, have the Imperative in the first; and the rest have it in the second form. As a specimen of the first, we take the Imperative of ከበረ:: and of the other, that of ጠበቁ:: It is used only in the Second Person Singular and Plural.

OBSERVATIONS.

1. The Simple Participial forms are used in their verbal as well as in a nominal character. This is evident in Active Verbs; e.g. ጠገቁ: “observing,” “watching,” “guarding”; and “guardian,” “observer”: which may have its object connected with it either in the Genitive Case, when it is considered as a Noun, e.g. የበገ: ጠገቁ: “a keeper, guardian, of sheep,” “shepherd”; or in the Accusative Case, በገን: ጠገቁ: “one keeping, watching the sheep.” The Passive forms are resolvable by the two compound forms (ℵ) and (Ⓡ) of the Passive Conjugations.

2. The two compound forms of the Relative or Adjective Participle evince their Participial character (which consists in partaking—participiendo—of the properties of the Verb as well as of the Noun, and forming a connecting link between both) by the position in which they stand when connected with Nouns, as Adjectives; by the treatment they experience from other Transitive Verbs, when being put into the Accusative Case; and by the influence they themselves exercise on Nouns and Pronouns. As this subject, however, belongs more properly to the Syntax, we shall leave it for the present.

Before we leave this subject, we beg to present to the Student those regular deviations which take place in those verbs whose third radical letter is liable to change, by the accession of the vowels i and e, according to the rule laid down Part I. Ch. VII. c. This occurs in verbs ending in Δ: Ω: Ω: Τ: Ξ: Η: Ζ: Μ: Ρ: and Θ:, with (1) the Feminine of the 2d pers. masc. in (a) the Present Indicative; (b) the Contingent Simple and Compound; (c) Subjunctive; (d) Imperative; (2) with the 1st pers. sing. in the Constructive Simple and its Compounds. B. SECOND CONJUGATION.

whose characteristic is a prolongation of the first radical, by which it is changed from the first into the fourth form. Its force is intensity of the idea of the original form.

ԴԻՐՈ: he scolded exceedingly.

Its difference in form, from the First Conjugation, is as follows:

1. It retains the first long radical throughout; on this account, it
2. Has no peculiar form for the Subjunctive, but is served by the Contingent Mood.
3. In the Imperative, the first radical is long, of the fourth: the second short, of the sixth order.
4. In the Infinitive, the first radical is of the fourth; the second, as in all the conjugations, of the first order.

The mode of conjugating being the same as in the first species, we shall give only the Third Person, Singular and Plural, in those Moods and Tenses which have it.

D. FOURTH CONJUGATION.

ተሰደበ፡ "he was reviled."

Its nature is pre-eminently Passive (objective), and reflective. Its characteristic is the Preformative ጥ: to the original form in the Preterite, Constructive, and Imperative, which, in the same manner as in the cognate languages, gives way to the other Preformatives in the process of conjugations. The second radical remains unchanged in all the moods, tenses, and persons, except in the Constructive Moods. So does also the first radical in the Infinitive Mood. These two remarks serve to distinguish this and the other Passive Conjugations from the rest.

ḤḤḤḤ: "He spoke."

The nature and force of this species is intensity, continuation, sometimes reciprocity, either of the original, or of the Fourth Conjugation. It combines the properties of the Second (long first radical) and Fourth (Preformative T;) Conjugations. The T: is found in the Preterite, Imperative, and Constructive Moods: the first radical is long throughout: the second is of the first order, in all moods, tenses, and persons, except in the Constructive.

G. SEVENTH CONJUGATION.

ጥምዋኸረ: he tried.

ጥምዋኸጉ: he disputed.

No other instances of this conjugation present themselves to us, except these two. The peculiarity of this conjugation, i.e. the change of a radical of the first or of the fourth order into two letters, into the radical of the sixth, with the ዋ: of the fourth order, is so frequent in Shoa in other instances, that we apprehend the use of this conjugation itself may be of no small extent. Its force differs not from the sixth conjugation, with which it is identical, except in the change of the first radical.

II. EIGHTH CONJUGATION.

አስከበረ: He caused to honour, caused to be honoured.

This is the most frequent form for the causative voice. Its characteristic is the prefixion of the two letters አሰ: to the original form, with which it has nearly the same mode of conjugation. The second radical is, in the Contingent and all other forms derived from it, put into the sixth order. But it has no Subjunctive form. The Imperative has the Contingent form of the radicals. The Infinitive has the first and second radicals in the first order. The Personal Preformatives are put before the አሰ: absorbing the አ::

I. NINTH CONJUGATION.

አስመሳል: He caused to resemble; he flattered, dissimulated.

The difference of this conjugation from the preceding is so slight, that we do not find it necessary to give its flexion: it consists merely in the second radical being constantly long, except in the Constructive: in all the rest it is similar to the preceding አስከበረ: As to the third radical ል: we refer to the deviations marked under the First Conjugation, No. 1. This conjugation, by the way, is very rare.

J. TENTH CONJUGATION.

አስተነገረ: He made to speak.

The force of this conjugation is Causative, as the two preceding ones. The difference consists in the form being augmented by three letters, አስተ: instead of the two አስ:

ተዋዋረደ: He was entirely humbled; humbled himself entirely.

The force of this conjugation is intensity added to forms D and F: its characteristic is reduplication of the prolonged first radical with the objective ጥ: prefixed. As its conjugation is the same as ተናገረ: we abstain from detailing it.

The force of this conjugation is intense action, represented by a reduplication of the second radical.

N. FOURTEENTH CONJUGATION.

ተሙካከረ: He counselled with others, gave and took advice, advised frequently.

ተሙለለሰ: He went and returned, went to and fro, i.e. walked.

The force of this conjugation is double intensity, reciprocity, and repetition of the action expressed in the verb. This is represented by reduplication and prolongation of the second radical. Its flexion and conjugation is quite the same as in the Sixth Conjugation.

O. FIFTEENTH CONJUGATION.

ተናገረ: He conversed with another, spoke frequently.

The nature of this conjugation is the same as the preceding; and as to form, it differs only in having the first radical long, in conformity with the sixth species, which it resembles entirely in flexion and conjugation.

P. Q. R. S. SIXTEENTH, SEVENTEENTH, EIGHTEENTH, &amp; NINETEENTH CONJUGATIONS.

ደነዘዘ: "To be stiff," "obdurate." Intransitive.

አደነዘዘ: "To stiffen." Transitive.

ተሙለሰሰ: "He returned," "was returned." Passive, & Reflective.

ተሸማጠጠ: "He reviled." Intensive.

The chief peculiarity of these four species consists in doubling the third radical, or gemination.—As we shall have an opportunity of treating more fully upon the Geminant Verbs, we merely mention these forms here; and pass on to the remaining forms of the Regular Triliteral Verb.

T. TWENTIETH CONJUGATION.

አደናገረ: He talked one out of any thing, dissuaded.

This and the Twenty-first and Twenty-fourth species are rather remarkable for their singular Preformatives, which are not in use in the cognate dialects. The conjugation of አደናገረ: is similar to that of አደረረገ: we therefore proceed.

U. TWENTY-FIRST CONJUGATION.

አወሸፍገረ: He folded his hands.

In what the peculiar force of this species consists, we cannot determine.

V. TWENTY-SECOND CONJUGATION.

ፈተተ: He rubbed thin between his fingers.

The reduplication of the second and of the third radical, which constitutes the peculiar character of this species, serves to express, as a sort of diminution, a peculiar modification of the original action.

ጥፈጥፈጥፈ: It was rubbed thin between the fingers.

This is a Passive derivation from the preceding conjugation, to be treated entirely as the Fourth Conjugation.

X. TWENTY-FOURTH CONJUGATION.

አንጸበረቀ: It shone, glittered, sparkled, resplended.

This form seems to be derived from በረቀ: "to fulminate," "to lighten"; and the Preformative አንጸ—: appears to have either a diminutive or a frequentative effect.

2. Conjugation of various Imperfect Forms of the Triliteral Verbs.

Having thus exhibited the conjugation of the various forms of the Regular and Perfect Triliteral Verb, we now proceed to the consideration of the Imperfect Forms of Triliteral, of Perfect and Imperfect Forms of Biliteral, and of the various forms of Pluriliteral Verbs. We shall endeavour to point out, especially by paradigms, where it is necessary, and the peculiarities in the flexion and conjugation of each; not in order to accumulate materials for the memory, but to facilitate the comprehension of the structure of this part of the language. We notice,

I. TRILITERAL VERBS whose First Conjugation is A (አ: or ዐ::)

The chief peculiarity of these verbs consists in the liability under which they are to have the first radical contracted with every Preformative acceding to the Verb, according to the rule laid down in Part I. Chap. VII. 2. A. B. For the purpose of exemplifying, we select the two Verbs አመኒ: "he believed," and አለፈ: "he passed."

B. SECOND CONJUGATION.

Objective Voice.

ተሙ: He was believed, accredited, was trustworthy, faithful, entrusted himself.

Flexion and Conjugation according to the Fourth Conjugation of the Regular Trilateral Verb; with the exception, that the characteristic ጥ: because it has joined to itself the vowel of the first radical, is not dropped, but retained in all the forms.

C. THIRD CONJUGATION.

Transitive Voice.

አሳሙን: He made believe, persuaded.

This form corresponds with the Eighth Conjugation of the Perfect Verb አሰከበረ:: The first radical አ: is absorbed by the characteristic Pre-formative አሰ:: No Subjunctive form.

D. FOURTH CONJUGATION.

Transitive Voice.

አስገሙን: He accredited, attested, entrusted.

This form, which joins the characteristics of the Objective and of the Transitive Voice in nature and form, answers the Tenth Conjugation of the Perfect Triliteral Verb.

E. FIFTH CONJUGATION.

Intensive Voice.

ተላለፈ: Passed and repassed, trespassed, varied.

In this form, which corresponds with the Fourteenth Conjugation of the Regular Triliteral Verb, the first radical, አ:, is dropped; but the ተ: is retained when Prefixes are joined; e.g. Contingent, ይተላለፈ:: Infinitive, ሙተላለፍ::

F. SIXTH CONJUGATION.

*Causative and Intensive Voice.አሰጥላለፈ: He made pass in different ways.In this form the Causative አሰ: is joined to the preceding Conjugation.

II. SECOND CLASS OF IMPERFECT TRILITERALS.

Triliteral Geminants.

(See page 56, II.)

These verbs seem to have been derived from Biliterals which are lost, but whose second radical has been doubled. (See Part I. Ch. VII. 2. D.) In conjugating these verbs, the geminant letters are often contracted into one; but that letter, although the Abyssinians have no mark for distinguishing the accent, shows its origin, by having the tone.

It will be observed, that there are, among the ten different Conjugations of this class, four which have the ጌ:, either with the Transitive አ:, or the Intransitive ጥ: prefixed.

In looking at the numerous verbs of this class, mentioned in the note, page 56, it will be seen that all classes of letters, except the gutturals and the vowel letters, are subject to gemination.

The general mode of conjugating being the same in this as in all other classes of verbs, attention is to be paid especially to those forms which have gemination, and to those which have the contraction.

After these preliminary remarks, we proceed to give the Paradigms.

A. FIRST CONJUGATION.

ለቀቀ: neut. He went away; act. He dismissed.

Gemination exists in this Conjugation—in the Indicative, Preterite, Subjunctive, Imperative, Infinitive and Simple, and Relative Preterite Participles: Contraction in the remaining Moods and Tenses.

ηζΦΦ: He thinned, rarefied, refined.

We need scarcely to mention, that this form corresponds with the Third Conjugation of the Perfect Triliterals. Gemination prevails in the Preterite, Subjunctive, Infinitive, Simple, and Preterite Participles; Contraction in the Indicative Present, the Contingent, and Rel. Part. Present; both Gemination and Contraction in the Constructive and Imperative. Having presented a pretty full view of the preceding conjugation, it will suffice in the present one to give merely the leading types; i. e. 3d person masc. sing. and common plural of those paradigms which have all the Persons, besides the more simple Moods.

Passive or Objective Voice.

ተለቋቋ: He was dismissed.

This conjugation has no peculiar form for the Subjunctive. Contraction takes place only in the Constructive Mood. Besides this, it is regularly conjugated, after the manner of the Fourth Conjugation of the Perfect Triliteral Verbs.

D. FOURTH CONJUGATION.

Active and Intensive Voice.

አለቋቋ: He yawned. አሳደደ: He persecuted.

Both in nature and form, this conjugation resembles the Fifth of the Perfect Triliteral Verb. It preserves gemination in the Indicative Preterite, the Imperative, Infinitive, and Simple and Perfect Participle. In the other Moods and Tenses, it is contracted.

F. SIXTH CONJUGATION.

Causative Voice.

ἠῆσζζαι: He embittered.

Corresponds with the Eighth Conjugation of the Perfect Trilateral Verb, and is conjugated like the first form of this class.

G. SEVENTH CONJUGATION.

H. EIGHTH CONJUGATION.

Passive Voice.

ተንሳተተ: He was cheated.

This is the Passive form of the preceding derivation; and, in gemination, is regulated by the Third Conjugation of this class.

I. K. NINTH AND TENTH CONJUGATIONS.

Reflective Voice.

አንጠራራ: and ተንጠራራ: He stretched himself.

The peculiarity of these two forms, the power of which seems to be the same, consists in the length of both the geminating letters. On account of their length, they cannot be contracted. They assume, therefore, no Subjunctive form; and the Geminants retain their length, except in the Constructive, which retains the last radical short, and enters a ṭ: which servile, also, is as a paragoge added in the Infinitive; thus:

SIMPLE CONSTRUCTIVE.
SINGULAR. ḲṢṢḲṢṢṢ : { he stretching him- self, &c.	PLURAL. ḲṢṢḲṢṢṢṢ : { they stretching themselves, &c.
INFINITIVE.
ṢṢṢḲṢṢṢṢ : the stretching, to stretch, oneself.

III. THIRD CLASS OF IMPERFECT TRILITERALS.

Geminants whose first radical is Ḳ::

This class numbers only a few Verbs. They combine the imperfections of contraction in the beginning and at the end, i.e. the imperfections of both the preceding classes. For an exhibition, we select the Verbs ḲḲḲ: "he commanded," and ḲṢṢṢ: "it was painful."

This class has but four Conjugations, the first of which is Intransitive or Active; the second, Objective, Intransitive, or Reflective; the third, Causative; and the fourth, Intensive.

7. PARTICIPLES.

Simple, ΛΗΥΕ: one who commands, a commander.

Rel. Pret. ΡΗΗ: he who commanded.

Present, ΡΟΥΡΗ: he who commands.

B. SECOND CONJUGATION.

Passive, Reflective, and Intransitive.

ΤΥΣΣ: He felt pain, was sick. ΤΗΗ: He was commanded, he obeyed.

In this conjugation, the τ: is retained throughout; and contraction of the second and third radical takes place in the Constructive Mood only. No Subjunctive. Second radical is treated as in all the Objective forms.

C. THIRD CONJUGATION.

Transitive and Causative Voice.

ΛΥΣΣ: He made sick, gave or caused pain.

The first radical λ:, absorbed in the Preformative υ:, undergoes no further change. Gemination prevails in the Preterite, Indicative, Imperative, Infinitive, and Simple and Preterite Participles; Contraction in the Indicative, Present, and Constructive; and both Gemination and Contraction in the Contingent. Respecting the latter, we think, that when it stands by itself, it is geminated; but when it receives any addition at the beginning or at the end, it is contracted.

D. FOURTH CONJUGATION.

Intensive Voice.

እስታሙሙ: He nursed sick persons.

This conjugation corresponds with the Tenth of the Perfect Trilaterals, and with the Fourth of the First Class of Imperfect Trilaterals. Contraction takes place only in the Constructive Mood.

3. Conjugation of Biliteral Verbs.

Biliteral Verbs are, in the Amharic Language, exceedingly numerous; owing especially, as will be seen hereafter, to the many contractions from Trilateral Verbs, by which they became Biliterals. In treating on these Verbs, it will be best to divide them into four distinct classes; namely, (a) Perfect; (b) Imperfect; (c) Contracted; (d) Irregular and Anomalous Biliteral Verbs.

I. FIRST CLASS.—Perfect Biliterals.

These are Verbs which have the two radical letters in the first form, do not begin with any vowel letter, and are conjugated regularly. They have this resemblance to some of the Contracted forms, that the paragogic ት: is added to most of its Infinitives, and enters into the Constructives. They are conjugated through Eight different Species or Conjugations.

F. SIXTH CONJUGATION.

Causative and Reciprocativ.

አስተያየ: He made look at each other; placed over against each other.

Is not, in form, different from the preceding; save the prefixing of አስ: and the changes which that undergoes; and, that in the Imperative it has አስተያየ::

III. THIRD CLASS.—Contracted Biliterals.

This very numerous class is derived from Triliterals; which, in the Ethiopic and Tigrê Languages, have either a Vowel letter አ: O: P: or ዐ:, or a Guttural ሀ: ሐ: ኀ: or ኸ: contracted with the preceding letter. The letter to which their vowel has thus been joined has been made long; whilst the verb itself has become a biliteral one. In some few cases of Quadrilaterals, two contractions have been made; and we have therefore Biliteral Verbs of two long radicals. Verbs contracted from Triliterals differ, as to whether the lost letter stood formerly in the middle or at the end; and this materially determines their form of conjugation.

(aa.) Verbs with an absorbed Guttural at the end.

A. FIRST CONJUGATION.

The two middle letters remain long; እ: is treated as in all Transitive forms: there is no Subjunctive; and as to the rest, this conjugation is like the others of this class.

K. TENTH CONJUGATION.

Intense Passive.

ተጸጸጸ: Was comforted.

Is treated like other Passives, retains the long penultima, and has the other peculiarities of this class.

In these forms, the original guttural having been in the middle, on its absorption, the first radical has become long. It retains, however, its length only in the Indicative Preterite, the Imperative, and the Infinitive Moods of the Active; and through the whole of the Passive forms, except the Constructive. It has no peculiar form for the Subjunctive; but uses, as is generally done in such cases, the Contingent for the purpose. It has, besides, the paragogic ጥ: extremely seldom; because it appears that letter is intended for compensation for final absorbed letters, of which there are none in this class.

This class has seven different Conjugations.

A. FIRST CONJUGATION.

These forms are determined by the rule laid down, Part I. Ch. VII. 4. E. On the absorption of the P: its corresponding vowel ē has been joined to the first radical; which, whenever it is shortened, changes ē into a short i; but when lengthened (as in the Fourth Conjugation), the first radical is put into the Fourth Order, and P: is restored. No paragogic ἦ: is in this class.

We take the two Verbs, ἔσθη: He sold, and ἔσθη: He went.

According to the rules laid down in Part I. Ch. VII. 5, and 6. the middle letter ፬: has been absorbed; its vowel o attached to the first radical. In some of these, it forms diphthongs of the fourth order. ## V. First Conjugation of the Verb አከል: "To be equal," "amount to."

The remainder of this verb, ጥካከል: and አስጥካከል: is regular. The anomaly of the First Conjugation consists in its assuming more of the form አከል: or አሀል: than of አከል:, and in its not having all the Moods and Tenses. We give here all that is, as far as we know, extant.

1. INDICATIVE.

These two personal forms only are used with the signification, "Amounting to," "equal to;" e.g. የሚሰጠውን: የህል: "equal to what he gives."

VII. Of the verb ላቀ: (Eth. ልህቀ;) "To be greater," "larger," "excel;" in the First Conjugation, nothing is extant but the 3d pers. masc. Conting. ይልቅ: which is used as a sort of Comparative, "more," "greater," "especially"; and Participle, የሚልቅ: የምሳልቅ: "he, she, or it, who (which) is greater," "superior," "excels."

The Transitive form of this verb አላቀ: "he raised," "made excellent," is quite regular.

VIII. Verb መጣ: "He came," is, in its First Conjugation, destitute of an Imperative; whilst all the rest is regular and perfect. The Imperative is supplied by the form ፍ: Eth. and Tigr. ንግ:: Sing. masc. ፍ: fem. ኒ: and ንጂ: "do thou come." Pl. ኑ: "do ye come." Only in very rare instances they use a regular form ምጣ: ምጪ: ምጡ::; but it is against the custom.

Preterite, አሻ:	Contingent, የሻ:
Present, የሻል:	Infinitive, መሻጥ::

XI. Of the verb የለም: which is negative to the verb አለ: "He is," nothing is extant but the 3d person singular masc. የለም: "he (it) is not," fem. የለችም: "she (it) is not," and plural የሉም: "they are not." With Suffixes, it signifies "has (have) not," e.g. የለውም: "he has not." የለችም: "she has not." የለንም: "we have not," &c.

XII. The negative አይደለም: "Is not," is the negative answering the substantive verb ነው: "He is." Whence it is derived, we know not. It is used only in the Preterite of the Indicative and Participle, which we give here.

SECTION V.

On the Connexion of Pronouns with Verbs.

1. In other languages, this subject would be referred to the Syntax; but in the Semitic family, the Pronouns governed by Verbs are so closely joined to them, that it would be improper to do so, as the form of the verb is modified in no slight degree by this combination. We conceive it to be here the best place for exhibiting the mode in which it is performed, after having explained all the other processes to which the Amharic Verbs are subjected.

2. Before we entered on the consideration of the Verb, in the preceding Chapter, Sect. VIII. we mentioned those Pronouns which are joined to Verbs. We now give a brief statement of the regulations under which they are joined.

(a) All the forms of Verbs assume the Verbal Suffixes, except the two nominal forms, the Infinitive and the Simple Participle, which assume Nominal Suffixes; e.g. እርሱን: መጠበቁ: "my keeping him." ጋዥ: ጦርን: ተሽካሚው: "his armour-bearer."

(b) All the forms which assume the Verbal Suffixes do receive them at the end, except the two forms which are inflected with the Auxiliary አለ: i.e. the Present and Future Indicative, and the Aorist of the Constructive Mood; which place the Pronoun between the radical letters and the Auxiliary, so as to render it rather an Infix than a Suffix.

(c) With regard to the different degrees of power the Suffixes possess, of changing the letter to which they are joined, they are divided into light (levia) and heavy (gravia) Suffixes. The light Suffixes are those which are not preceded by a long ā: those which are preceded by a long ā are heavy Suffixes.

(d) The light Suffixes attach themselves to ultima radicalis of the first order, without change; and to ult. rad. of the sixth order, by converting the latter into the first order, sometimes without change. The heavy suffixes convert ult. rad., in either of those two orders, into the fourth order.

(e) Ultima radicalis of the second and of the seventh order, in accordance with Part I. Ch. VII. 5 & 6.

α. changes Ⓞ: into ṭ::

β. is changed, if it is a guttural or palatine, into a diphthong of the fourth order: if not, the vowel is detached from the consonant; the latter being put into the sixth, and the former becoming ϕ: of the fourth order, before all the heavy suffixes. Before suffix 2d pers. hon. 1., it is either left unchanged, or changed into the sixth order, leaving the suffix as it is.

(f) Ult. rad. of the third and of the fifth order changes none of the light suffixes; but agreeably to Part I. Ch. VII. 4. D., when being attached to the heavy suffixes, it is generally changed into the sixth order; and ρ: is added, to assume the long ā of the suffix.

(g) Ult. rad. of the fourth order neither suffers nor produces any change.

(h) With regard to the insertion or infixion of Pronouns, only this needs to be observed; that λ: of the Auxiliary λΛ: being absorbed by the Pronoun, the latter, or, if it consists of more than one letter, its last letter, is put into the fourth order, υ: being changed into ṣ: or ṭ::

These rules are illustrated by the following Table:

CHAP. V.

ON THE ADVERBS.

1. The Amharic Adverbs are either Separable or Inseparable; and the Separable Adverbs are either Simple or Compound. The Simple Adverbs, again, are either Original or Derived. We have to consider, first, the Simple Original Adverbs.

2. The Simple Original Adverbs are to be subdivided into two classes; the first of which comprehends such Adverbs as express their ideas by themselves; the second, such as are usually connected with the Verbs አለ: "to say," አደረገ: or አሰኘ: "to do," "to make," "to induce."

(a) First Class.

ሙቺ: "when?"

ሰንት: "how much?" "how many?"

ቀስ: "calmly," "cautiously," "quietly."

ብቻ: "but," "only," "singly." Is used also with Suffixes in the Accusative: ብቻዎን: "I alone." ብቻህን: "thou alone," &c.

ተሉ: "quickly," "speedily."

ትላንት: and ትላንትፍ: "yesterday."

አምፍ: "last year."

ዝንድር: "this year."

ዝፍ: "yet." With neg. "not yet."

አሁን: "now."

አንኳ: ስንኳ: Shoa, and Vulgar:

እኮ: "indeed," "even."

አንኳን: "no!"

አንጀ: "but," "except," "not including."

አንጀ: "I do not know."

አወን: "yes!"

ከተ: "thoroughly," "wholly," "fully." With negative "never," "nowhere," "not at all."

ወትር: "always."

ዛረ: "to-day," "now," "at present."

(b) Second Class.

PARTICLE

ሀር: of leaping, jumping.

ምር: of bitterness.

ልገም: of carelessness, idleness, and eye-service.

ሲጢጥ: of cracking.

ሰፈፍ: of soaring.

ሸተት: of gliding.

ቀስ: of caution, silence.

INSTANCES.

ሀር: ያለል: "he jumps."

ምር: አለ: "it was bitter."

ልገም: ያለል: "he acts carelessly," "is an eye-servant."

ሲጢጥ: ያለል: "it cracks."

ሰፈፍ: ያለል: "it soars."

ሸተት: ያለል: "he slips."

ቀስ: ያለል: "he acts cautiously."

በልጭ: of glimmering, glittering.	በልጭ: ይላል: "it glimmers."
በትን: of scattering.	በትን: ይላል: "he scatters."
ተሉ: of celerity.	ተሉ: ይላል: "he does quickly."
ትፍ: of spitting from between the lips.	ትፍ: አለ: "he spat."
ቸል: of neglect.	ቸል: ይለዋል: "he neglects him."
አልል: of shouting.	አልል: በል: "shout!"
አምቦ: of refusing.	አምቦ: አለ: "he refused."
አቢ: of compliance.	አቢ: ይላል: "he yields, "is willing."
አፍ: of blowing, fanning.	አፍ: በል: "blow," "fan."
ክትት: of fulness, completion.	ክትት: ይላል: "it is full," "done."
ከፍ: of highness, elevation.	ከፍ: አደረገ: "he raised," "elevated," "made high."
ዘም: of silence.	ዘም: አሰኘው: "he silenced him."
ዘቅ: of lowness.	ዘቅ: አለ: "he was low," "stooped."
ዘለገ: of tallness, &c.	ዘለገ: ይላል: "he is tall and stout."
ደስ: of joy.	ደስ: አሰኘው: "he rejoiced," "pleased him."
ደፀ: of slipperiness.	ደፀ: አለ: "it was slippery."
ገሥገሥ: of celerity.	ገሥገሥ: አለ: "he went quickly."
ጪ: of completion.	ጪ: አለ: "it was full," "entire."
ጭቅ: of spitting through the teeth.	ጭቅ: አለ: "he spat thro' the teeth."
ጸጥ: of silence, subsiding.	ጸጥ: አለ: "it became quiet."
ፈቀቅ: of moving forwards.	ፈቀቅ: አለ: "he proceeded," "went further."
ፍገምገ: of gliding.	ፍገምገ: አደረገ: "he made to glide."

Most of these particles seem to be originally intended for mere expressions of the natural sound of certain actions. Such is decidedly the case in ሲጢጥ: ትፍ: ጭቅ: አልል: አፍ: ዋደ: And their connexion with አለ: "to say," giving the idea that e.g. "to crack" is "to say sif'it"; to spit, is "to say teff" or "tsh'ek"; "to shout" is "to say ellel" (as is really the custom in the East*); "to blow" is "to say eff"; could lead us to rank the whole of this class rather with the Interjections, but that their connection with Verbs prohibits us, though several of these Particles are Interjections as well as Adverbs.

* See, in the Amharic Dictionary, አልል::

3. Simple Derived Adverbs are very numerous. They are derived from Nouns (Adjective and Substantive), and Verbs, and at least one Pronoun. Those derived from Nouns are not changed in form, but in the sense. Perhaps they may be considered as Accuatives, or having the Preposition በ: omitted. Such Nominal Adverbs are the following:

ORIGINAL SUBSTANTIVES.

ጠገር:	{ "outside," "abroad," "within."
ነገ:	"to-morrow."
ጣልጃ:	"early in the morning."
ቅድም:	"before," "previously."

ORIGINAL ADJECTIVES.

መልካም:	"well," "properly."
ቅርብ:	"near."
ክፋ:	"badly."
ደህና:	"well," "safely."
ተላቅ:	"largely," "greatly."
እጅግ:	"much," "very."

Besides these, perhaps every other Adjective may be used adverbially.

Simple Adverbs derived from Verbs:

አይደለም:	"no."	ደቅር:	Particle of forgiveness; e.g.
የህል:	"nearly," "about."	ደቅር:	ደላል: "he forgives."
ደልቅ:	"more" ( magis ).

The Simple Constructive Mood is altogether used for Adverbs; e.g.

ደገሞ:	} "again."	በዝታ:	"more."
መልሶ:		ቀድሞ:	"before," "previously."
ጣልጃ:	"early in the morning."	አስቀድሞ:	{ "before," "in the beginning."
ቀርቦ:	"near."	ጉድሉ:	"wanting," "but."
ብሉ:	"saying," "thinking."	አድርጎ:	"doing."
አብር:	"together."

Adverbs of uncertain origin are:

በጀ: (Shoa, ባቡ: and ባሰኝ: ) "readily," "with pleasure!"

4. Compound Adverbs are formed, (a) by Prepositions and Nouns; (b) by Prepositions and Pronouns; (c) by Nouns and Nouns; (d) by Prepositions, Nouns, and Particles.

In the other personal forms, the ል: is ejected, and አ—ም: remains. The mere አ—: is used in the Subjunctive, and in all cases where the Negative Verb receives any additional Prefixes; e.g.

CHAP. VI.

ON THE PREPOSITIONS, OR PARTICLES OF RELATION.

1. The term "Prepositions" for that part of speech which falls under the consideration of this Chapter, is not entirely suitable. It is a class which determines the relation between Nouns, Pronouns, or Verbs; and which, because in our European languages they are generally placed before the object of relation, have been called Prepositions, but would be better called Particles of Relation; as this term would suit also in cases where the Particle is placed behind its object.

* Mark the difference in pronunciation of the 1st pers. Present from the 3d pers. Preterite. The latter is pronounced "Almat'am"; the former "Alēmat'am." In the 3d pers. sing. of the Preterite, the ል: is mute; but in the 1st pers. sing. of the Present, it is sounded, because in the latter the Preformative እ: which the ል: absorbs, must be heard.

2. The Amharic Particles of Relation are partly Simple, partly Compound. The Simple ones are always Pre-positions; the Compound ones consist of Pre- and Postpositions. The Simple Prepositions are either Separable or Inseparable. The Simple Separable Prepositions are the following:

ሰለ: "for," "for the sake of," "in behalf," "instead of," "in favour of,"
"because," "on account of," "concerning," "on."

ወደ: "to," "towards."

ያለ: "without."

እንደ: "as," "like as," "according to," "in proportion to."

እስከ: "to," "up to," "reaching to," "till," "until."

Inseparable Prepositions are, ለ—: በ—: ከ—: ጠ—: ን—: or ሀ—:

3. The Compound Particles of Relation are formed by any of the Simple Prepositions, connected with Nouns, or other Particles. The latter (Postpositions) are either directly joined to the former, or follow after the Noun or Pronoun to which they refer. ## PART III.—SYNTAX.

ON THE ARRANGEMENT OF WORDS,

AND THEIR

CONSTRUCTION INTO SENTENCES.

CHAP. I.

ON THE NATURE OF SENTENCES, ESPECIALLY IN THE AMHARIC LANGUAGE.

1. A sentence is an aggregate of words expressing a judgment of the mind. It is either simple, complex, or compound. The constituent parts of every sentence are, a subject, an attribute, a copula, and an object; the latter, however, being less necessary than the three former. Simple sentences are such as have nothing but these parts; e.g.

ምድር: ሰፊ: ናት: "The earth is spacious."

አንበሳ: ፈረሰን: ገደለ: "The lion killed a horse."

NOTE—The Copula, or Joining Verb, which connects the subject with the attribute, is frequently joined with the latter in one and the same verb; e.g. ንጉሥ: መጣ:: Here መጣ: contains the attribute of ንጉሥ: ("king"), which is, "one that came," together with the Copulative Verb "is."

2. Complex sentences are such as are amplified by qualifying words in connection with either the subject or the attribute; e.g.

ልጄ: ዛሬ: መጣ: "My son came to-day."

Here is the subject, ልጄ: "son," qualified by the pronoun ፍ, "my," and the attribute "who came," (contained in the verb መጣ: "came," with the copula "is,") by the adverb ዛሬ: "to-day."

3. Compound sentences are such as have either the subject, or the attribute, or the object, or all of them, augmented by additional or explanatory parts; e.g.

ወተዳርፍ: ነገዳ: ገባረም: የሚጠቅሙ: ሰዎች: ናቸው:

"The soldier, the merchant, and the farmer, are useful men."

CHAP. II.

ON THE SUBJECT AND THE ATTRIBUTE, AND THEIR RELATION TO EACH OTHER.SECTION I.—On the Subject.

1. The subject is the principal or the reigning part of every sentence: it therefore stands always in the Nominative Case: e.g.

ሰው: ደሞጋጎል: "man dies."

2. The ideal subject is always a Noun Substantive: the grammatical subject may be a Substantive, Adjective, Numeral, Pronoun, an Infinitive, or Participle: for words which express no perfect ideas by themselves, i.e. which are not substances, cannot form subjects of thought, unless they be at least ideally converted into substantives.

3. In every sentence, the subject precedes; the attribute and the copula follow; e.g.

እርሱ: ደህ: ነው: "He is good."

This is always the case, whether the Subject be simple, defined, complex, or compound.

4. When the Subject is specified by a Substantive, an Adjective, a Numeral, Pronoun, or Participle, the specifying words precede; e.g.

የሰው: ልብ: ክፋ: ነው: "Man's heart is evil."

ቦጎ: ሰው: ደከብረል:: "A good man is honoured."

ሰባት: ቀን: አለፈ: "Seven days passed."

ደህ: ቤት: ሰፊ: ነው: "This house is spacious."

የተሠራ: ቤት: ሰፊ: ነው: "The house which has been built, is spacious."

እገዛአብሔርን: መፍራት: ከላንተ: ጋራ: ይሁን:

"May the fear of the Lord be with you."—2 Chron. xix. 7.

5. A Compound Subject, which consists of several Nouns, Numerals, or Pronouns, has all these parts in the Nominative Case; e.g.

ሰማይና: ምድር: ያልፋሉ: "Heaven and earth shall pass away."

እልያ: መቶ: ከሰማንያ: ሰዎች: ሔዱ: "Those hundred and eighty men have gone."

6. Where the Subject is connected with subordinate explanatory parts, it follows after them; e.g. Luke xii. 47.

የጌተውን፡ ፈቃድ፡ ለውቀ፡ ያልተዘጋጀ፡ እንደ፡ ፈቃደም፡
 ያላደረገ፡ ባርያ፡ እጅግ፡ ይገረፋል፡

Literally: "His Lord's will knowing who prepared not himself, according to his will and did not the servant, much shall be scourged;"
i.e. "That servant who knew his Lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be severely scourged."

These two rules, No. 4, and 6, are so peculiarly in the Amharic idiom, that they cannot fail to impress themselves at once upon the mind of the Student.

SECTION II.

On the Attribute, and its relations to the Subject.

1. The Attribute may be a Substantive, or an Adjective, or Pronoun, or Participle: it may be separate, or implied in the Verb.

EXAMPLES.

እገዛኢ-ብሔር፡ መንፈስ፡ ነው፡ "God is a Spirit."

ይህ፡ ሰው፡ አዋቅ፡ ነው፡ "This man is intelligent."

ነገሩ፡ ይህ፡ ነው፡ "The matter is this."

ፈቃድ፡ የተቀረጠ፡ ነው፡ "His resolution is decided." Acts xix. 7.

ሰዎችም፡ አሥረ፡ ሁለት፡ ነበሩ፡ "And the men were twelve."

እርሱ፡ ይፈራል፡ "He fears," i.e. "is fearing."

2. Complex Attributes (see Ch. I. 2.) have their subordinate parts before them.

EXAMPLE.

ይህ፡ ሰው፡ በስራው፡ ሁሉ፡ ተንኩላኛ፡ ነው፡

Lit. "This man, in his work all, is cunning"—"is cunning in all his doings."

3. The Attribute always follows the Subject. This is evident from the preceding instances.

4. It often agrees with the Subject in Gender, Number, and Case: often does not. As to the Gender, the concordance may be assumed, most of the Nominal forms being of Common Gender; and, in the Adjective Participles at least, the Gender is strictly attended to. Concerning Number, the Singular is more used in Adjectives than the Plural; which may be accounted for by the supposition, that they are regarded as an abstract mass, of which the individual subjects have their share; e.g.

እሌህ፡ ሰዎች፡ ይህ፡ ናቸው፡ "These men are good."

But when the Attribute is a Relative Participle, it must agree in Number, as well as in Gender, Case, and Person, (see Page 73.) with its subject; e.g.

ሱላልቱ፡ ዋጋሙኑ፡ ፍቸው። "His servants are faithful."

The Number is especially uncertain, when the Subject is a Collective Noun; e.g.

ሰው፡ ሁሉ፡ ይሞታል። "All men (or every man) dies."

ሕዝቡ፡ ተሰበሰቡት፡ (Sing.) or ተሰበሰቡ (Pl.) "The people was (or were) gathered together."

With regard to Case, we remember but one instance where the Subject and the Attribute do not agree; ብቻ: with Suffixes; e.g.

እኔ፡ ብቻዎን፡ ነኝ። "I am alone."

Here is the Subject እኔ: in the Nominative, and the Attribute ብቻዎን: in the Accusative Case.

CHAP. III.

VARIOUS USES AND CONSTRUCTION OF THE NOUN.

A. Construction of Substantives with Substantives.

1. Two or more Substantives connected together, denoting the same thing, are in a state of apposition, and must agree in Gender and Number; e.g.

እገዚአብሔር፡ አምላክ። "The Lord God."

ወንድ፡ ባርያ። "a man-slave."

ንጉሥ፡ ደዊት። "King David," & ደዊት፡ ንጉሥ። "David, the king."

ሻንክሎች፡ ባሮች። "Negroes," "slaves"; i.e. "Negro-slaves."

2. Nouns of Quantity are joined to other Substantives in the Nominative Case; e.g.

ጥቂት፡ ብር። "a little silver."

አንድ፡ ነጥር፡ ቡን። "one pound (of) coffee."

አንድ፡ ጎምቦ፡ ውኃ። "one jar (of) water."

3. Substantives of Quality, of Origin, or of Possession, are joined to other Substantives. They stand in the Genitive Case; e.g.

የደንጊያ፡ ቤት። "a house (made) of stone."

የጢፍ፡ ጣቢታ። "Teff-bread-cakes."

ያገር፡ ሰው። "a man of the country"; or the Ethiopic expression, ባላገር።

የገባረ፡ ማረሻ። "the farmer's plough."

More about this when we come to speak of the Genitive Case. (See p. 167.)

4. On the construction of Object-Substantives with Subject-Substantives we shall speak when coming to consider the Verb. (See Ch. VIII.)

B. Construction of Adjectives with Substantives.

Adjectives may be connected with Substantives, (a) either as epithets to the Subject; or (b) as Attributes of the sentence; or (c) as modified by another accompanying Substantive.

1. As Epitheton of a Substantive, the Adjective generally precedes the latter; e. g. በጎ ሰው: "a good man."

2. In Number and Gender, the Epithetic Adjective does not always agree with its Substantive; but the following rules are observed:

(a) The Substantive may be in the Plural, and the Adjective in the Singular Number; never the reverse; e. g.

ጸሀፍ መጻሕፍት: "good books"; never ጸሀፍች መጻሕፍ::

(b) In the same manner, the Adjective is most frequently used in the Masculine form, when the Substantive is of Feminine Gender; but a Feminine Adjective is never used for a Masculine Substantive; e. g.

ክፋ ሴት: "a bad woman," but not ንጽሕት: * ወንድ: "a pure man."

3. The preceding paragraph refers not to Participial Adjectives of the Relative form, as in them the strictest attention is paid both to Number and Gender. (See Page 163. §. 4.)

4. When the Adjective is attribute to the sentence, the rules laid down in the preceding Chapter, Sect. II. §§ 3, 4. obtain.

5. When another qualifying Substantive is connected with the Adjective, a Relative Participle is required as complement; e. g.

በልባቸው ንጽሕን ያሉ ሰዎች: "Men who are pure in their hearts."

C. Number of Nouns.

There is a strong tendency in the Abyssinians to use the Singular Number, where we would use the Plural. We shall point out several cases where the latter never, and others where it but seldom is used, although it would be impossible, in the present stage of our knowledge of the

* We do not quote ክፋላት:; the Feminine form of ክፋ:; because it is not used in the Amharic, nor the Participle የክፋች:; because, when Adjective-Participles are used, the Gender and Number is always strictly attended to. (See the preceding Chap. Sect. II. § 4.)

Amharic language, to give rules for every case, and would exceed the bounds which must be assigned to this head. The following classes are, some of them, never, others, seldom used in the Plural :

1. Nouns denoting a mass ; as, gold, silver, corn, wheat, honey, fat, dust, &c.

2. Several parts of the animal body ; e.g.

ልብ: "the heart."	ሥጋ: "flesh."
ሀድ: "the belly."	ጸጉር: "hair."
ደም: "blood."

3. The soul, and several powers and faculties of the mind :

ነፍስ: "the soul."	ወድ: "love."
ረዳድ: "the will."	ፍቅር: "charity."
እሳብ: "thought."	ደስታ: "joy."
ልቦና: "reason."	እስኝታ: "hope."

4. Most Abstract Nouns, denoting quality, condition, action, quantity. We especially refer to the two Tables of Nominal Forms. Table I: Triliteral Radices of Verbs, No. 5. and Quadriliteral ones of No. 4. Table II: Simple Forms of 3. A. a. 4. 6.; and Augmented Forms, 1. a. c.; some of d.; and almost all of e.

5. The following Collective Nouns are not often used in the Plural :

(a) Generical names of animals and of plants ; e.g.

ኳን: "hyæna."	አበባ: "flower."
--------------	----------------

(b) Names of assemblages of men, or other beings ; e.g. ወገን: "tribe," "sect," "kind," &c. The Plural of this word, ወገኖች: signifies the individuals belonging to the whole assemblage. ስንት: "court of justice," አገር: "town," "country," and other words.

6. Certain periods of time : ቀን: "day." ሊት: and ሌሊት: "night." ሰዓት: "hour." ቀትር: "noon." ረረድ: "forenoon." These are never used in the Plural number. Seldom: ጊዜ: "time." ዘመን: "time," "period." አመት: "year." ሳምንት: "week."

7. Several Nouns denoting confines, borders, shores, &c. ; e.g. ደር: "banks," "shores," "coast." ደርቻ: "borders." ወሰን: "confines," "borders." ዘርፍ: "seam," "hem."

8. As to the agreement in Number between Nouns in the same sentence, either Subjects or Attributes, see the preceding Chapter, Sect. II. 4. ; and in this Chapter, A. 1. and B. 2.

D. On the Various Cases of Declension.

1. The Nominative is, in common conversation, often improperly used where the Preposition ወደ: should stand; e.g. አንገላላ፡ ሐደ: "He went Angollala," omitting ወደ: "to."

2. It is applied in answer to the question, How long? How often? How much? e.g.

ሶስት፡ ቀን፡ ተቀመጠ: "He remained three days."

ብዙ፡ ጊዜ፡ መጣ: "He came many times."

አንድ፡ ማድጋ፡ ጉበሥ: "One mādēga (a certain measure) barley."

3. The Genitive Case expresses:

(a) Possession:

የባቲ፡ ቤት: "My father's house." የንጉሥ፡ ኃይል: "The king's power."

(b) Origin:

የምድር፡ ፍሬ: "The fruit of the earth."

የሐበሻ፡ ሰው: "A man of (from) Abyssinia," i.e. "An Abyssinian."

(c) Quality:

የብረት፡ እቃ: "Iron furniture." የደንጊያ፡ ቤት: "A house of stone."

Here it supplies the place of Adjectives.

(d) Measure of time, space:

የሰባት፡ አመት፡ ስራ: "The work of seven years."

የሁለት፡ ቀን፡ መንገድ: "Two days' journey."

(e) Price and Quantity:

የንድ፡ ብር፡ ቡን: "One dollar's (worth) of coffee."

4. When Prepositions precede the word which stands in the Genitive Case, the የ: is dropped. See Part I. Ch. VII. 3. B.

5. When an Accusative follows the Genitive, the latter adopts the mark ን: of the former, so that the word seems to stand both in the Genitive and in the Accusative; e.g.

የገርን፡ ከተማ፡ አየሁ: "I have seen the capital of the country."

የእገዚአብሔርን፡ የምላክህን፡ ስም፡ ከንጉ፡ አታድርገው:

"Thou shalt not use the name of the Lord thy God in vain." Ex. xx. 7.

6. When the Genitive belongs to several Substantives in apposition, its የ: is to be applied to each; when to a Substantive preceded by an Epithetical Adjective, it is applied only to the Adjective; e.g.

የደዌት፡ የንጉሥ፡ የነቢይ፡ መዝሙራት: "The Psalms of David, (of) the King, and (of) the Prophet."

የደህና፡ ሰው፡ ነገር: "The words of a good man."

7. When the Genitive belongs to a Substantive having several Epithetic

Adjectives, the P: is applied to each Adjective, and may, or may not, be applied to the Substantive also; e.g.

የተላቅፍ፡ የጠቢብ፡ የባላጠጋም፡ የሰሎሞን፡ ቤተ፡ መቅደስ፡
or የተላቅፍ፡ የጠቢብ፡ የባላጠጋም፡ ሰሎሞን፡ ቤተ፡ መቅደስ፡፡

“The temple of the great, wise, and wealthy Solomon.”

8. The Ethiopic Genitive, or Status Constructus, has been mentioned, Part II. Ch. I. Sect. I. 4. and Sect. V. 2.

9. The Dative being formed by the prefixion of the Preposition ለ: (to, for, in favour, in behalf, &c.) to the Noun, we need only to refer to what has been said, Part II. Ch. VI. 2. e.

10. The Accusative Case is formed by the annexion of ን: at the end: it serves to indicate the immediate or direct action of the Subject upon its object; and is required by all Active, Intensive, Transitive, and Causative Verbs; e.g.

ሰውን፡ ለደደ፡ “He sent a man.”

Although this rule is very plain, it may not be superfluous to specify it a little. The Accusative is governed—

(a) By the Verb Finite; e.g.

መልእክትን፡ ይጽፋል፡ “He writes a letter.”

ተገባርህን፡ አድርግ፡ “Do thy business.”

በትረን፡ ይዞ፡ ሔደ፡ “He took his stick, and went.”

(b) By the Infinitive; e.g.

በገውን፡ ስራ፡ መስራት፡ አያውቅም፡ “He knows not to perform (cannot perform) good works.”

(c) By Relative Participles; e.g.

ይህንን፡ ያደረገ፡ “He who has done this.”

ልጁን፡ የሚወድ፡ “He that loves his child.”

(d) By Nominal Active Participles; e.g.

ቤትን፡ ሠራ፡ “One that builds a house.”

11. Besides Active Verbs, there are a few phrases in which the Accusative is used; e.g.

መንገድን፡ አሔዳለሁ፡ “I go my way.”

ቤቱን፡ ገባ፡ “He entered his house,”

ብቻ፡ “alone,” “single,” with Suffixes, assumes the Accusative form, when it is converted into an Adverb; e.g.

ብቻውን፡ ነበረ፡ “He was by himself.”

12. When the Noun which stands in the Accusative terminates in a letter of the third, fourth, fifth, or seventh order, a euphonic ው: is joined before the accusative ን:: e.g.

ጠገቁውን: መንጋውንም: በረውንም: ቀበረውንም: አዋሁ:

"I saw the herdsman, the herd, the oxen, and the fox."

12. Relative Participles in ሷ, standing in the Accusative, have a euphonic ኅ: before the accusative ን::; e.g.

ያዋሁትን: ያገደሉትንም: በረ: "The ox which I saw, and which they killed."

13. Accusative Nouns ending in the sixth order are euphonicly changed into the second; Accusative Participles, into the first order; the latter receiving a euphonic ው::; e.g.

መልካሙን: ጻጅ: "good wine."

ያደረገህውን: ኃጢአት: "The sin which thou hast committed."

14. When a Descriptive Adjective is connected with the Noun standing in the Accusative, the ን: is not generally affixed to both, but sometimes to the Substantive, sometimes to its epitheton; when the latter is a Participle, to the Participle: e.g. it is equally good to say ደህና: ሰውን: or ደህናውን: ሰው: "a good man," but with a Participle; e.g.

የበላሽውን: እንጅራ: "The bread which thou (f.) hast eaten."

15. When several Adjectives are connected with a Substantive in the Accusative Case, the ን: is put to each of the Adjectives, but not to the Substantive; e.g.

ተላቁን: ወፍራሙንም: በኅ: ፍረንም: የምትፈራውን: ዛፍ:
ቀረጡ: "They cut down a large, thick, and good-fruit-bearing tree," i.e.

"a large and thick tree which bore good fruit."

16. Concerning the construction of the Genitive with the Accusative, see §. 5.

CHAP. IV.

ON THE DEGREES OF COMPARISON.

1. The Amharic Language has almost the same mode of comparing things with each other as the Hebrew; namely, especially by prefixing the Preposition ከ: "of," "from," to the Positive Noun or Pronoun; e.g.

ከመታከት: መማር: ይቫላል: "Learning is better than to be idle."

2. In many cases, they add the Postpositive Particle ይልቅ: which gives, however, no additional force to the idea of gradation already expressed by ከ:; but it stands generally at the end of a sentence, and is used more for Verbs than for Adjectives; e.g.

ይህን: ዛፍ: ትረዝማለች: ከዚያች: ይልቅ:

"This tree is tall, more than that one."

Here it would be equally good to say,

ይህን: ዛፍ: ከዚያች: ትረዝማለች: "This tree is taller than that one."

3. The Verbs በለጠ: "is greater," አነሰ: "is smaller," "less," and ተቫለ: "is better," are in themselves of a comparative nature: nevertheless, when brought together with other Adjectives or Verbs for comparison, they require the ከ—: as well as Adjectives or other Verbs; e.g.

ጥበብ: ከከብት: ይቫላል: "Wisdom is better than wealth."

ዘሆን: ከአይጥ: ይበልጣል: "An elephant is larger than a mouse."

አንጎላላ: ከአንቦቦር: ታንሳለች: "Angollala is smaller than Ankobar."

4. Besides the preceding, every verb of quality, condition, or even of action, is capable of expressing a comparison when constructed with ከ: for the adjective is contained in that verb; e.g.

ጥራራ: ከዛፍ: ይረዝማል: "A mountain is higher than a tree."

ንጢአት: ከሞት: ትከፋለች: "Sin is worse than death."

Verbs of action, however, require ይልቅ: e.g.

ከጸጥርስ: ይልቅ: ጳውሎስ: ይከመ: "Paul laboured more than Peter."

5. The Superlative is rendered by ከሁሉ: (with Suffixes) and ከሁሉ: ይልቅ: e.g.

ምድር: ታላቅ: ናት: ዓለም: ይበልጣል: እግዚአብሔር: ገን:

ከሁሉ: ይበልጣል: "The earth is great; the universe is greater; but God is greatest (of all)."

ከሁላቸው: ይልቅ: እርሱ: ጥማረ: "He learned more than they all."

CHAP. V.

ON THE NUMERALS.

1. The Numeral does not, properly speaking, form a particular part of speech, but is either, as the Cardinals, a Substantive, or, as are the Ordinals, an Adjective, or, as the Distributive, an Adverb. We need therefore to say but little about their Syntax.

2. The Cardinal Numbers are always, when connected with other Nouns, to be considered as in apposition with them; and they always precede; e.g.

ሁለት ሰዎች: "two men."

3. All the Numbers, from One upwards, seem to be considered as Plurals; wherefore they are of common gender, except አንድ: "one," which has in the feminine, አንዷት::

4. Notwithstanding this, the noun to which the numeral is joined, is not always used in the plural number. Although they use, in common language, the singular and the plural indiscriminately, the rule seems to hold good, that the round numbers, ten, twenty, &c. up to a hundred, and the large numbers, as hundred, thousand, ten thousand (አልፎ: ሦስቶች), are more frequently constructed with the noun in the singular than in the plural, and the numbers between every ten generally in the plural; e.g.

ሁለት ሰዎች: "two men." ሁያ ሰው: "twenty man."

5. The Numbers ሁያ: ሦላሳ: አርባ: አምሳ: ስድሳ: ስብዓ: ስመንያ: ዘጠኛ: መቶ:: are generally used for Ordinals as well as for Cardinals; or rather, as they do not like to adopt the ordinal form for those numbers, they place the cardinal behind the noun as a predicate; e.g.

መጽሐፍ ሁያ: "book twenty," instead of ሁያኛ: መጽሐፍ: "the twentieth book."

6. The form of the Ordinal Numbers is regularly derived from the Cardinals; except, as in our European and in other languages, the first; although in compound numbers that also is used in the regular form; e.g.

አሥራ: አንደኛ: "the eleventh."

When used in a simple form, አንደኛ: signifies "unique," "sole," "only." In enumeration, they use መጀመርያ: "the beginning," or ፈተኛ: "the foremost," "first."

7. As for the Distributives, nothing needs to be added to what has been said Part II. Ch. II. §. 4.

CHAP. VI

SYNTAX OF THE SEPARABLE PRONOUNS.

1. The Separable Personal Pronoun is used,

(a) When it is the subject of a sentence. እኔ፡ እሔደላሁ፡ "I go," although it is not necessary to use it.

(b) When an emphasis lies on the pronoun; e.g.

እርሱ፡ አላደረገውም፡ እኔ፡ አደረገሁት፡ እንጂ፡
"He has not done it, but I have."

2. The third person singular and plural is used for demonstration; as is the reverse in the Latin and Greek; e.g.

አሁን፡ ያልሆነ፡ እርሱ፡ ነው፡ ያልሆነ፡ "That which thou hast now been telling me, is the same with what I told thee."

3. The Separable Possessive Pronoun is used only when a stress is laid upon it; e.g. ይህ፡ ቤት፡ የኔ፡ ነው፡ "This house is mine."

Cf. John xvii. 9, 10: ያንተ፡ ናቸውና፡ ለኔም፡ የሆነ፡ ሁሉ፡ እርሱ፡ ላንተ፡ ነው፡ ያንተውም፡ እርሱ፡ ለኔ፡ ነው፡ "For they are Thine. And all that is mine, the same is Thine; and Thine, the same is mine."

Where no such stress lies on the Possessive, Suffixes are used.

4. The Singular Masculine of both the Demonstrative Pronouns forms Adverbs, by the junction of Prepositions with the Genitive Case of those Pronouns. See Part II. Ch. V. 4. (b).

5. The Interrogative ማን፡ "who?" "which?" "what?" is used for persons: it is made use of, also, for inanimate subjects in the phrase ማን፡ ነው፡ ስሙ፡ or ስሙ፡ ማን፡ ነው፡ (ማነው፡) "What is his (its) name?" On the contrary, the Impersonal ምን፡ is employed as a Personal Interrogative, by way of utter contempt, in the expression, ምን፡ አባቱ፡ "What is his father?" Both these expressions are elliptical.

6. The Indefinite ሁሉ፡, which may be considered, as it is in the other Semitic languages, as a Noun, ሁሉ፡ (ካጵ, كَلِّ) with suffixes, assumes no other suffix in the singular than the suffixes masculine and feminine of the third person; but it takes all the suffixes of the plural: ሁሉ፡ ሁሉዎ፡ ሁሉቸው፡ ሁሉችሁ፡ ሁሉችን፡

7. When ሁሉ፡ is absolute, it stands at the beginning of a sentence: when connected with Nouns or Participles, it follows them; e.g.

ሁሉ፡ ሔደ፡ "All is gone."

ሁሉን፡ አደረገ፡ "He has done all."

ሰው፡ ሁሉ፡ "All men," "every man," "people in general," &c.

8. ሁሉ: as subject of the sentence, and without any other suffixes, may have its verb either in the singular or in the plural: when connected with nouns or participles, or with other suffixes, the number and person of the verb are determined by those nouns, participles, or suffixes; e.g.

ሁሉ: ይጠፋል: "All will (sing.) perish"; or,

ሁሉ: ይጠፋሉ: "All will (plur.) perish."

ሁላችን: ባንድ: ነን: "We are all together."

ነገሥታት: ሁሉ: ተሰበሰቡ: ሁላቸውም: ተዋጉ: "All the kings were assembled together, and all of them engaged in war."

9. ኧንደሻ: "some," "something," "any thing"; with negation, "nothing"; e.g.

አንደሻችን: ሰጠው: "Give him something."

ኧንደሻችን: አልተቀበልሁም: "I received nothing."

10. አያሌ: signifies an indefinite number or quantity; e.g.

አይሌ: ሰዎች: ያምኑትል: አያሌ: ገን: ይጠራጠረኑትል:

"Some men believe; others doubt it."

When it is predicate, it signifies a large quantity:

ከብቱ: አያሌ: ነው: "His property is considerable."

11. In order to express Reciprocity, the Abyssinians make use of the form እርሱ: በርሱ—, with the Plural Suffixes ልችን: ልችሁ: and ልቸው: and a Reciprocativ or other Verb; e.g.

እርሱ: በርሱችሁ: ተዋደዱ: "Love one another!"

12. An Indefinite Pronoun is አንተን: which signifies, "The what's his name." Gr. ó deîva; French, chose; German, Dingerich; e.g.

አንተን: አይሄድም: "The what's his name does not go."

CHAP. VII.

ON THE AFFIXED PRONOUNS.

1. As to their position, that is determined, the Nominal Suffixes being joined to the final letter of the Noun (or Adverb); the verbal to the last radical of the Verb, or to the Verbal Afformative. Adjectives do not assume suffixes, except when considered as Substantives.

2. The Nominal Suffixes are to be considered as possessive; the verbal ones as objective; e.g.

ልጄ: "My child."

መታኝ: "He struck me."

Adverbs with Suffixes are treated by them as Substantives, the nominal Suffixes being joined to them; e.g.

በላይ: "over me."

3. Concerning the Verbal Suffixes, enough has been said in the preceding part of this work, Ch. IV. sect. V. We add here, that the suffix of the first pronoun in the singular is sometimes used pleonastically; e.g.

ሐድሁኝ: "I am gone."

CHAP. VIII.

CONSTRUCTION OF THE VERB.

Having discussed the nature and use of the Verb, and its various parts, rather extensively in the preceding part of this work, Ch. IV., we need not here go through it at full length; but shall offer, in the first place, such additional remarks on the Moods, Tenses, and Persons, as are deemed necessary; and, in the second place, to show the agreement of one verb with another, and of the verb with the other parts of speech.

SECTION I.

On the Tenses of the Amharic Verb.

1. The following Tenses are used for the past time: the Simple Preterite of the Indicative, the Compound Preterite of the Contingent, and the Compound Preterite of the Constructive.

(a) The Simple Preterite of the Indicative is used,

α. For the Perfect Tense; e.g.

እንገደ: መጣ: "A stranger has arrived."

ሕዝቡ: ተሰበሰቡ: "The people have gathered themselves together."

β. For the Historical Tenses, the Imperfect and Pluperfect; e.g.

ከተረረገም: በወረደ: ጊዜ: ተከተሉት: በዙ: አሕዛብ:

"And when he descended from the mountain, many people followed him."

Matt. viii. 1.

ጥላላውን: ከረጸመ: በኋላ: ከዚያ: አለፈ:

"When he had finished his command, he passed over from thence."

Matt. xi. 1.

γ. For the Present or Immediate Future, in a very few instances. So when visitors courteously ask leave to go, they do it by saying: ሐድሁ: "I am gone," i.e. "If you allow me, I go now." Or when a person is frequently called, and does not come, he at last answers : መጻ። መጻ። : "I come! I come!"

δ. With Conjunction Prefixes, it serves for the Potential and Optative Moods.—See Sect. II. §. 5. and Isa. i. 9.

(b) The Compound Preterite of the Contingent is used,

α. For the Imperfect and Pluperfect of the Indicative ; e.g.

እኔ ሳልመጣ፡ እርሳቸው ይበሉ፡ ነበሩ፡ "Before I came, they had been eating."

β. For the Imperfect and Pluperfect of the Potential Mood :

ብትላምነው፡ ቢሰጥህ፡ ነበር፡ "If thou wouldst ask him, he would give thee."

ይህን፡ ካላደረገህ፡ ብወድህ፡ ነበርህ፡ "If thou hadst not done this, I should have loved thee."

(c) The Compound Preterite of the Constructive is used chiefly for the Pluperfect, and sometimes for the Imperfect of the Indicative ; e.g.

ሰጥኹ፡ ነበርሁ፡ "I had given."

2. Tenses used for the Present, are, the Present of the Indicative ; the Second, or Aoristic Constructive ; and the Contingent with Conjunctions.

(a) The Present Indicative and the Aoristic Constructive are both used for the Present Indicative ; e.g.

እርሱ፡ ተዉውትዋል፡ እኔ ገም፡ እላለሁ፡

"Whereas he is talking, I keep silence."

(b) The Present Indicative is used for both the Present and the Future tenses : the Aoristic Constructive serves especially for an action, condition, state, or suffering, which continues ; and therefore, although it is more frequently used for the Present, it is likewise made use of for the Perfect. This peculiarity of both these forms is owing to the Auxiliary Verb Substantive እለ : with which they are composed.

(c) The Simple Contingent Mood serves for the Present as well as for the Future Tenses, when connected with Particles ; e.g. the Participles የመጣ፡ "he that comes ;" ሰመጣ፡ "when he comes ;" ሳይመጣ፡ "before he comes ;" Negative assertions : አይመጣም፡ "he comes not," "will not come ;" Conditional expressions : ቢዉርስ፡ "if he end," or "if he ends ;" Final and referential : እንደጻፈ፡ "that he writes" or "write ;" Final : ሊወጣ፡ ተገሣ፡ "he rose to go out," where it is for an Infinitive ; ወንድሙን ደረደ፡ ዘንድ ሐደ፡ "He went to assist (that he might assist) his brother."

3. The Future time is generally expressed by the same forms which serve for the Present, except the Aoristic Constructive. Vide 2. a.—In p. 66 of this work we pointed out another mode of a decidedly future form; besides which they make use of the Contingent with አለ: or with ይህኛል: The one is found in the negative expression, Ezek. xvii. 9: ስሩ: ይህኛል: የለምን: ፍረዎሽ: ይቀረጥ: የለምን: “Shall not its root be extracted; and its fruit, shall it not be cut off.” But these two latter forms are not confined to the Future: they are also used for the Present Tense.

SECTION II.

On the Moods of the Amharic Verb.

On this head, we shall add but little to what has been stated Chap. IV. of the preceding part, and in the preceding Section of this Chapter.

1. The Contingent serves for the Indicative, Subjunctive, Potential, and Participial Moods; as is shown in the preceding Section.

2. The Subjunctive expresses a desire, or an indirect request, order, command, or obligation.—See p. 72.

3. The Infinitive, as Verbal Noun, assumes Nominal Suffixes; but relates to and acts upon other nouns in a verbal capacity; e.g.

ለንጉሥ: መተዘዜ: “My obeying the King,” “my being obedient to the King.”

It is, however, likewise constructed as a Noun; e.g.

የክርስቲስ: መምጣት: “The coming of Christ.”

ፍረን: ለማፍራት: ተተከለኙ: “In order to bear fruit was it planted.”

4. The Participles are of the same character, partaking of the nature of Adjectives (as the Infinitive does of the nature of Nouns), and of the Verb, as has been shown in the preceding Part, pp. 72, 73. The Simple forms, however, have more of a nominal; the Augmented forms more of a verbal character. The Augmented forms are verbally flexible through all the persons; besides their being capable of receiving Prepositions, and the Accusative ን: marking them as Nouns. ልቡ: የጻፈ: ሰው: አንድ: ጊዜ: የለውን: ነር: መለወጥ: አይወድም: “A man of a determined character does not like to change his word which he once has spoken. ፍረዎን: ለቃሚ: ደስ: ያለዋል: ዘርን: ከሚዘሩት: ያልቅ: “The gatherer of the fruit rejoices, more than those that sowed the seed.”

5. There is in the Amharic Language no peculiar form for the Optative Mood: they express it by circumscription; e.g.

በሆንሽ: ባስተማርህን: በወደድሁ: “If it had been, if thou hadst instructed me, I should have liked it.”

SECTION III.

Construction of the Verb with the other parts of the Sentence.

1. The Amharic Verb having all the personal forms connected with it, it is capable of including the subject in itself; e.g.

ጠበቀ: "he observed." ሙታህ: "thou hast beaten."

And by the aid of Suffixed Pronouns and Prepositions, it is further capable of expressing a whole sentence in itself; e.g.

ሙጣብህ: "He came upon thee." ሙታህወ: "Thou hast struck him."

2. But when, as is more usual, the subject is separate from the Verb, the latter should agree with it in gender, number, and person; e.g.

ይህች: ሴት: አትሔደም: "This woman does not go."

ሉላልቱ: ተከተሉት: "His servants followed him."

3. Collective Nouns, however, which admit of a Plural, have the Verb sometimes in the Singular, sometimes in the Plural: e.g.

ሕዝብ: ተሰበሰበች: "The people gathered itself together"; or

ሕዝብ: ተሰበሰቡ: "The people gathered themselves together."

4. When there are more than one subject in a sentence, the Verb stands either in the Third Person of the Plural, or it is determined by what is considered as the chief subject; e.g.

ወንድና: ሴት: ሙጣ: "Male and female came."

ንጉሥና: ሠራዊቱ: ተሙቱ: "The king and his army were beaten."

When the person who is addressed forms one of the subjects, the Verb follows in the Second Person Plural; e.g.

ኪደን: ንበረም: አንተም: ልትማሩ: ናችሁ:

"Kiddan, Gabru, and thou, (you) are to learn."

When the speaker is included, the Verb is to be in the First Person Plural:

እርሳቸውና: እኛ: ተለዩን: "They and we are separated."

5. When the subject consists of several Infinitives, the number is not multiplied, and the Verb is used in the singular; e.g.

መማርና: መስራት: ደጠቅማል: "Learning and working is useful."

But when the subject consists of several Participles, which are considered as Nouns, the Verb must be in the plural; e.g.

ሰራቂና: ገደደ: ሙጡበት: "A thief and a murderer came upon him."

6. Active and Transitive Verbs have their objects in the Accusative

Λ Λ

Case: see Ch. III. 10. Transitive and Causative Verbs may have a double Accusative; e.g.

መልእክትን፡ አስጻፈው፡ "He caused him to write a letter."

But as these Verbs may sometimes be used as Intransitive, the use of Prepositions is frequently applied; e.g.

ፈረደበት፡ "He judged over (or against) him."

ጻፈበት፡ "He wrote in it."

ሰውን፡ አስመጣለት፡ "He caused a man to come for (or to) him."

7. Intransitive Verbs are generally connected with their objects by Prepositions; e.g.

በቤት፡ ነበረ፡ "He was in the house."

ወደገረ፡ ሔደ፡ "He went to his country."

በወምበረ፡ ጥቀመ፡ "He sat upon his chair."

8. When the object of the sentence is another Verb, that is expressed by the Infinitive, or by the Contingent with Conjunctions; e.g.

መማር፡ ይወዳል፡ "He likes to learn"; or,

ይማር፡ ዘንድ፡ ይወዳል፡ "He likes that he may learn."

መድገም፡ ያውቃል፡ "He can read."

9. The reigning Verb should be always at the end of the sentence, whether the object be simple, or complex, or compound; e.g.

CONSTRUCTION OF THE REMAINING PARTS OF SPEECH.

As the doctrine of the Particles, i.e. Adverbs, Prepositions, Conjunctions, and Interjections, has been pretty fully exhibited in the Etymological Part, Ch. V. to Ch. VIII., we do not think it necessary to add any more; and so we finish here the Amharic Grammar, adding only a few Specimens of Common Conversation, and a few Exercises.

PART IV.

SOME SPECIMENS OF CONVERSATION,

AND

A FEW EXERCISES.

I. CONVERSATIONAL MODES OF SALUTATION.

IN conversation, the Abyssinians are very polite towards each other, without using quite such a bombastic style as is common among the Arabs and other Eastern nations. When speaking of the Pronouns and under the Verb, we have mentioned two honorific distinctions for the second person in the singular, and that they speak of a third person of respect in the plural. A neglect of these distinctions is overlooked in foreigners, whilst learning their language; but amongst themselves it is taken as an offence, except with intimate friends, and in a few other instances. In saluting, the various times of the day, the state of health, frequency of intercourse, season of the year, and some other circumstances, are to be regarded as determining the mode of address.

As for the time of the day when persons meet, four times are distinguished, for which four separate Verbs are used; viz. (a) The morning, until the sun has finished half his course from the horizon to the meridian, i.e. between nine and ten o'clock A.M. During this time, when meeting, the verb አደረ: "to spend the night," "to rest," is used in the Preterite: when parting, the verb ረፈደ: "to spend the forenoon," አስረፈደ: "to make spend the forenoon," or ቀለ: "to spend (አቀለ: "to make spend) the middle of the day," in the Imperative or Subjunctive Mood. (b) The forenoon, from about nine to eleven o'clock A.M. At meeting, they salute each other with the verb ረፈደ: "to spend the forenoon," in the Preterite: when parting, with the Verb ቀለ: or አቀለ: (c) Noon and afternoon, to sun-set. When meeting, they use ቀለ: in the Preterite: when parting before five P.M., አቀለ: when after five, the Subjunctive of አስመሰክ: "to make pass the evening," or Imperative or Subjunctive of መክ: "to pass the evening." (d) Evening and night, from sun-set to the first break of the day. When meeting, the Preterite of መክ: when parting, either the Subjunctive or the Imperative of አደረ: "to pass the night," "to rest," or Subjunctive of አሳደረ: "to make pass the night," &c. is used.

እሙር: "May He (i.e. God) be gracious!" and ደፈወሰ: "May He heal," "restore!" both with Suffixes, is used for addressing sick persons. The former wish also is used when a person sneezes. ንባ: in the Preterite, is used when meeting a person who has newly arrived at the place: in the Subjunctive with Suffixes, when parting with a person who goes to another country. ሰነበተ: "to pass the time from one interview to another," is used in the Preterite, when persons meet who have not seen each other for some time. አሰነበተ: "to make pass &c., is used at parting, when they do not expect to meet again for a considerable time. Then they add, ዖገኖኝ: "May He bring us together again!" ከረመ: "to pass the rainy season," and አስከረመ: its transitive, is used in the same manner.

The following Specimens of Conversation will illustrate the preceding remarks. We choose the imaginary meeting of the servant Gabru, with his master Kiddana Maryam, after his return from an errand to a friend, Aito Malku, who lives in a distant part of the country. The meeting is supposed to take place in the morning.

He agreed to do it.

Very well. Now eat thy dinner, and go to Walleta Gabriel, a sick woman, and (give her my respects, and tell her that I sympathize with her in her illness) say for me, "May God have mercy on thee, and restore thee! Doest thou not feel a little better to-day?"

Very well. I go then.
