I have examined, with attention, the system of writing it tength by Mr. Dolhear, and it is with pleasure that I can certify to its superiority over any other method, with a which I am acquainted. Mr. Dolhear having given private lessons in my family, I consider it into justice to add, that I believe him as much worthy of public patronage on account of the correctness and mildness of his character, as on account of the raphs impresentes of those who received this lessons.

From the specimens seen, intuite system made, we cannot withhold the expression of a ovacurrent opinion, that the system is greatly superior to any hitherto taught. If to write legibly, elegantly, rapidly, and in good taste, be an accomplishment, useful or desirable, it is upon the principles of this system that it is to be acquired. We therefore anxiously solicit of the public a liberal patronage in favor of an Instructor, whose qualifications are of the highest order, and whose labors promise to be so exceedingly useful to this and other communities.
