Marine

PORT OF N

CLEARED

Ship Ajax, Banks, Bath

Brig Wm Henry, Kno

Steamer Niagara

gn, 273 bbls flour

Howes, 100 do do

leals, 3 M do

J D Brandt, 13

J Blanchard, 13

S D Dixon, 47 bbls

mar lard, 6 L ions, and 6 L

potatoes and app

box bacon, Barn

with, 433 bbls

Steamer Isaac

gn, 6 bales cotto

10 do do Reyno

10 do do Richard

bales wool, 9 ba

Steamer Ar

third mate, H

Steamer Ni

to Wilcox & F

White, 17 do do

10 do do Richard

Cook, and order

Steamer Wa

Shiel, Rebeca, an

Steamer Ni

and 1 do do

ARRIVED

Steamer Ba

to [illegible]

Hence at N

Cleared at

Hence at

Ship Ellen

Bound to ville, L

up at N

The pas

Newfoundl

DIED

On Thursday, 15th August, 1839, after an illness of three days, JOSHUA CLARKE was born in Philadelphia in the year 1806, and graduated, when very young, at the medical school of that city.

Of his professional career on the north of the Atlantic, its education was exceedingly superficial and systematic, has mind deep in divine a shared well imbued with all the learning appertaining to that seventh spring of 1838 found he had abstracts deeply in melting the recent death of his friend Dr. Robert Clarke, who by his great talents and skill, had placed himself first in the foremost ranks of the profession in that city. After a short practice daily succeeded such a friends multiplied for one brain to pour out her rich of gifts and fame upon his path. But alas! how unstable are the hopes of man! what I was destined he should never enjoy. After a short career of eighteen months he was attacked by the yellow fever, and expired on the 13th August, 1839, after an illness of only last hour.

Thus has been overtaken by death, in the meridian of life, the example of a man disarmed of the terrors of death, and tranquilized every heart. That insensibility which sicians are said to acquire from acquaintance with the horrors of dissolution, was never the case at all. He had to pre- that his constitution might be only temporarily, but we never say. His constitution might stronger in ripe years.

The demonstration