> St. Martinaville March 7 THE MAILS.

TT The irregularisies of the mails between this place and New-Orleans, for the last six weeks, have been so frequent that there cannot remain a doubt of serious mal-administration in some quarter. Last Thursday's mail brought letters from the 1st to the 28th of Feb. bearing the post marks of almost every day in that month. Many of these we fant au nombre de 15,600, n'auront aucun des ten days since. How is this? No mail on the whole rout has failed, vet these papers from the city have generally arrived in due time. As this matter is $10,000 connected with the interests of our patrons generally, we hope estrict enquiry will be made into it, and all delinquents be speedily displaced.

> We have lately had a few days of fine weather, and we presume the Mississini will be very soon high enough to admit steam boats into the Teche. These is an unusual scarcity of provisions in our district, which a rise of 750 the waters would speedily remedy (Attak Gazette.)

Antaretic Expedition .- We have read the resolution and the remarks thereon of Mr. Hay e which a press of mattel obliged us to defer publishing until to day, relative to the unauthorized expenditures upon the southern polar expe dition, with no small anxiety. We hone the information which the President in called upon to furnish to the Senate will justify, what Mr. Havne's remarks strongly impeach, the steps take by the Secretary of the Navy, towards fitting out the expedition in question, and which is undoubtedly a favourite one with the nation. If it is indeed true that such measures have been adopted prec promptitude, en s'adressant à J. B. FA. prematurely and in advance of the will of Congress, the interference of the Committee of the Senate on Naval Affairs is entirely proper, and the question perverseness. J. B. FAGET -Directeur, at y what authority have ye done things?" is as pertinent as it will prove perplexing. We hope it may turn out better than it now appears; but at all avenue it is important to guard against all abuses of this kind, and rigidly maintain in letter and in spirit that feature in our constitution, which requi res the sanction of the government, in all its leanches; to all appropriations of money whether for specific objects or

A decree of Gen. Lavalle, provisional Governor of the Province, dated 6th Dec. appointed Admiral Brown to the ernment of the Province during his Lavalle's) absence in the country.

He survived but a short England had not put that gentleman 1793 or 1791: into Parliament. The writer introduces himself as the author of the History of the Protestant Beformation, which he states, has been translated at Rome and printed at the press of the Vatican. We have no doubt of the truth of these assertions, for we ourselves know a gentleman to whom the Pope expressed a high opinion of Cobbett in January, 1826; and we also know that an edition of two shousand copies of the History of the melormation was printed at the press of the Propaganda Fide, and that the placard announcing that work was the most prominet placard in the streets of Rome at the time we have mentioned. Cobbatt accounts to his Holiness for the and act of the English and Irish Catholies, by tolling him that they are a et of men counceted with beroughmongers, and only wanting to get into power for the sake of obtaining a share of the taxes. He recounts all his services to the Catholic cause, and complains of the ingratitude of the Catholic leader. He then tell his Holiness how he (Cobbett) was brought up at the plough's tail, and gives him a sketch of to mention the true causes of his being eglected by all parties, namely, his entire want of honesty and consistency, his furious violence and incorrigible

He thence reasoned, that if the Earth itself attract By the Governor. bodies in a sensible degree at the side of a mountain, a weight let down below the surface will be attracted upwards by the mass above, and thus lose a part of its weight; and in proportion as the weight might be lowered, this attraction would become more sensible. If this should be found to be he fact, it would follow that there must be a certain fice of Mr. J. Lewis, Eng. Notary Public, on the try were placed at the mercy of amhindepth, at which a body would lose all its 11th day of April next, 1829, to deliberate upon weight; and if the Earth be solid, this point must be at the centre; but if hollow, the plummet will lose all its weight at somewhat lower than half the thickness of the crust or shell of which the |11 Globe is formed. So sanguine was Mr. Williams that he could determine, by actual egperiment, whether the Earth be solid or hollow, and if hollow, what a blight upon the laurels gained by them is the actual thickness of the shell, that to accomplish this object, but his posensible to the sufferings and degraded at length a gentleman of fortune, to state of the country:-public feeling and whom he communicated his ideas, most liberally came forward, and supplied the means for making the experiment; and one of the deepest mines in the West of England was fixed upon for the purpose. The manner of Mr. Williams' experiment was simply thiscommand of the civil and military Gov. a plummet of sufficient weight was
