CHIVILLE, CORNER OF Chiville was
the name given by the first arrivals from France.
A small town and many farms in the valley of the Chiville River, about 10 miles from the Otonabee River.
Inhabited by French, Germans, and Americans;
also Americans.
The first settlers were Louis Proulx, Blande, Vassal, Gagnon, Desjardins, and others.
The soil is very good, and the climate is different qualities;
water enough, plains and hilly land.
The first school was built in 1850.
The first teacher was Laurent Trudeau, a man from the village of L'Assomption.
He taught mostly French, printed English and some of his own Creole;
taught black girls on the hills and Pontiac;
do white, colored and charcoal people;
do Embroidery on Muslin, Journeymen and women.
