

THE UNION

PRIVATE AND PUBLISHED DAILY BY JEROME KAYON.

OFFICIAL GAZETTE OF THE STATE AND CITY.

"THE UNION must be preserved."

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 20, 1862.

The mail of yesterday brought journals from the east and west—from Baltimore southward, and from various parts westward in this state. The Washington dates were of the 16th; and we are only confirmed in the opinion that American indemnification (not indemnity) will pass the chamber of peers in France, as it passed that of the deputies; and that the monster trial will prove an abortion. Such at least is the amount of the news received in New York, by the Pacific, three days later than the Rhone intelligence which was last received here via New York. But the dates received here by the Marengo were 6 days later from Paris. So much for a direct communication hence Europe.

The Charleston papers were to the 21st instant; and merely tell us of another inglorious attempt frustrated to burn that city; and that the thermometer there has been several degrees higher than here—also that the number of slaves has been much greater in proportion to the population.

We have been requested to inform such of our intelligent citizens who may be capable of suggesting plans for the better organization of a police, uniform in its duties, effective in its discipline, and as economical as possible, that their intimations will be courteously received if addressed on or before next Monday to the standing committee of the council on the city guard.

On the night of Monday last, manslaughter occurred at the boarding house of Mrs. Armitage in Costi street, in consequence of a quarrel between Messrs Clarkson and Wood, in the employ of Mr. Brand, architect—when Clarkson was stabbed, and Wood gave himself up to the law. It is likely that the case is no one of premeditated murder.

But what became of the sessions of the Criminal court this month? How many names are on the calendar; and how long have they been there?

PROX. SICKELTON'S NEW TERM.

The following table, showing the amount of banking capital of the various states of the Union, posterior to the civil interest. We have compiled it from the last reports made to the several legislatures of the states, and it is proper for us to mention, that since these reports were submitted, nearly all the states have increased the amount of the Northern Bank of Kentucky, the Merchants Bank of Louisville, the Lexington City Bank &c., and that hence, in order to make the table complete, the reader should add the capital of all recently chartered banks. It will be perceived that the Banking capital of this state amounts to little more than seven millions, while in 1861, that of Massachusetts amounted to $29,309,433—and New York is more than thirty million.

The engineer of one of the Massachusetts railroads finds it not allowing points of any kind to the railroad, and therefore, he has a large number of laborers employed, and a very beneficial disservice should say, and one which we hope may be removed.

To Devise Fries or a similar.—Take half a teaspoon full of we powdered black pepper, one spoonful of brown sugar, and one tablespoon full of cream, mix them together, and place them in a ramekin plate, where the fire is open.

Then add a few drops of oil of lavender, and you will soon discover that they have disengaged.

You can wash for the convalescence of the above recipe. We will do the experiments with the cream, pepper and sugar, and,

"in every short time two thirds disappear," via, the green pepper added to the pepper.—Editorial S. C. Garrison.

In New York the holding of abolition meetings, and the fitting out of ships for the slaves, with supplies, etc., are going on at the same time. Northern Philanthropy will never be out of work, while the cause of Africa is open to Northern enterprise.
