

The waiting tree, which is often called “the Fool Tree” in National Hsinchu University of Education, is the breadfruit tree in front of the gate of girl’s dormitory. The reason why the breadfruit tree got its name is that when the boys, who are in love with girls staying in girl’s dormitory, come to visit their girls, they often stand under the breadfruit tree waiting. And this image makes people think the boys are like cute fools. To date, even called “a fool,” the boys still enjoy waiting their girls there under the Fool Tree and finally watching their girls walk to them with a smile.
