Reminiscences.

As the Sub-Treesury bill is the law of the land and as Locolocoism in all quarters is just now busily engaged in the labor of exhibiting its manifold perfecengaged in the lanor of exhibiting as mainton perfec-tions, it may be worth while collecting from the re-cords of the past a few specimen of judgment passed apon the project by the very men who now sustain and defend it. We acknowledge our indebtednes to the Hon. T. BUTLER KING for the opportunity of rraying this mass of Locofoco evidence against the Sub-Treasury.

The project was first broached about 12 years ago by General Gordon-a representative from Virginia and was ignominiously rejected by a Jackson Conits favor. Mr. Polk, then a representative from Ten eech is to be found in vol. 11 of the Congressiona

From one rucles this emphatic passage is extracted:

"It is well known that the President himself is op-ord to this project, and that his friends in Wash-grow, whether of the Cabinet or not, hearthy concur to him in the course of policy it is expedient to pur-"It General Jackson had suggested such a system the Sute Treasury; what reals of patriotic indignation with bare hurst from e-oquent Senators against the majore and tyrint who desired to get the millions of the Treasury into the very hands of his parisans and pa-rastics."

"It is certainly subject to very strong objections; not the least of which is the very great increase of surronge to which it must give rise, and a patronage of the most dangerous influence, as being so immediately connected with the public money." We might multiply extracts, but it is needless. Whigs can say nothing against the Sub-Preasury, which has not clearly been urged by their

The First Brigade, under General Worth, is now well o o Monterey, and the Second, under Colonel P. F. South, and Taird, under Colonel Garland, are expected soon to follow. Capt. May, with the Second Dra-groons, and Major Monroe, with the Light Artillery, to move forward in the same direction. These with the Texans, Olio and Kentucky volunteers, all under the command of Old Rough and Ready, will oustitute an effective force of 7500. But a portion coses, however, will proceed to Monterey, the remainder will be stationed at different posts in the rear, to guard them and preserve a communication with the upplies. This is not a pleasant service for those who are "eager for the fray," but it can't be helped.
The want of proper means of land transportation severely felt, although General Taylor has an e
