EDUCATION.

Founded 1844.....INCORPORATED 1856

NEW ORLEANS
Female Collegiate Institute,
AND
BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL
FOR YOUNG LADIES,
Under the Superintendence of Madame ED. LOCQUET,
No. 265 Camp Street,
BETWEEN JULIA AND ST. JOSEPH STREETS.

THIS establishment, founded by Dr. and Mrs. Mc-Causlay, whose high reputation has long been established, continues to be conducted with unabated energy, and has recently undergone its seventeenth session with the most flattering success.

Mme. ED. LOCQUET, assisted by her sister, Mme. FRANCOIS LOCQUET, will use her best endeavors to continue to merit the confidence reposed, for so many years, in her professional services.

Professors of the highest talent are employed in all the branches, both ornamental and solid. Piano, Music and the study of the Solfege, will be taught exclusively by Mr. Rhein. Locquet, whose reputation as professor of music has been so well appreciated by the numerous families who have confided their children to his instruction.

The French language, the native tongue of these ladies, and the acquirement of which is now indispensable in a good education, is taught with the utmost success, and is spoken in the Institution. Young ladies will therefore find in their constant intercourse with them lessons in every facility possible for perfecting themselves in this language.

The safe Allotment, always so commodious and well ventilated, has recently been entirely renovated, with the utmost regard to the comfort and health of the pupils.

Mme. Locquet respectfully invites parents and families to call and visit her school, where she will furnish, with all other information which may be desired on the subject.

Letters of inquiry will be promptly attended to by the Principal. sep1 1y

ACADEMY
Canal street, No. 123, between Dauphin and Burgundy streets.

THIS Academy, founded by Mr. G. Soyer, is about to resume, with the assistance of Mr. C. Legentre, a graduate of the University of France, its 21st session. The establishment, which has always deserved its reputation, will be conducted on a much more extensive plan in all the branches with the assistance of the Professors.

A classical and commercial education will be imparted to the pupils, including the study of the ancient languages, to suit parents with whom private arrangements will be entered into either by Mr. Legentre or Mr. Soyer. The pupils will be taught in the thirliest manner suitable to the study of Geodesy and Surveying.

Book-keeping, being an indispensable qualification, Mr. Legentre will attend to a regular course, from 5 to 6 o'clock, P. M. A month's board must be paid in full. The classes open on the 1st of October. sept

Jefferson Academy,
53.....BOURBON STREET, N. O.....53
Conducted by
G. J. LORD.

THIS establishment, founded in 1838, has long held a high position in public opinion as one of the leading institutions in the South of the United States.

Its system combines a general and extensive system of education. Pupils are admitted at six or seven years of age, and continue till they are prepared for their future vocation in life. They are distributed in classes according to their capacities and acquirements.

The premises, perhaps, the best to be found in the city, with ample space for amusement and recreation, every convenience for an institution of learning.

All the Professors are gentlemen of talent, chosen with care. Good order reigns in the establishment, and strict attention is paid to the moral conduct and improvement of the pupils.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Preservation of the Sight.
M. L. DUHAMEL, optician,
No. 56, Chartres street, has just received a fresh invoice of patent Hydrolical
Spectacles, which he can supply to families in Paris, and the Board, Feuilloux, Crawcour, Bloc and Gamier in New Orleans, through which they can be used without the least danger to the eyesight.

Those skillful opticians have made a report declaring that the above articles are unquestionably the best for the preservation and improvement of the sight.

The superiority over all other consists in the fluid being equally divided over the whole surface, instead of being in the center only, as the lenses now furnished generally. The interposition of the two opthalmical optics makes them besides achromatic, and consequently, much clearer than the others.

Many learned persons will find a great improvement in these glasses.

A pattern, showing the advantages of these, new glasses will be exhibited and explained, on application to Mr. Duhamel, at all those who may be desirous of information on the subject. feb11
