forces of our enemy. They could fall upon us in time of sickness. We could not follow them, in time of sickness. We could not follow them, for that would be abandoning our plan by going over the border. No public Treasury could be a section expense—no public sentiment tolerate the disgrace. The line proposed by the Senator from S. C. was to be a will to us—not to the enemy. The force he proposed would allow but one man to each mile of the line.

reace the disgrace. The line proposed by the Senator from S. C. was to be a will to use anotate the term. The force he proposed would allow but one man to each mile of the line.

Mr. Case regretted the opinions expressed by the Senator from S. C. relative to our inability to prosecute the war to the cuty of Mexbo and there conquer a peace. Every word uttered here found its way to the plains of Mexico. It was calculated to do us infinite mischief. Mr. C. went into many views to show that the defense line would be of no use—and would not end the war or its expenses.

Mr. Cass then entered at some length into an ciaborate review of the origin and objects of the war, and gave his views as to the disposal of the territory when Mexico should consent to peace.

Mr. Corwin then obtained the floor, and the subject was passed over.

Mr. Dickinson theu made a report from the Committee of Conference upon the Army bill, recommending in effect that the Senate recedition is amendment, and that the President have power to appoint the Company officers alone, during the recess.

The report was concurred in, and the Senate adjourned.

VINDET.

A circumstance of rather a silocking nature occurred in Talladega county; last week. It seems that a difficulty existed between Mr. Jenkins, who id an aged man and a tenerable incumber of the Baptist church, and histowerseer, and that it was beyond his power to satiate his malicious feelings towards Mr. Bishop, the overseer, only by making his negroes overnower him, and then beat, mangle and abuse him, in a hortful nanner! Bishop has partially recovered from the wounds received, but it will be some time before he is entirely well.—The negroes were arrested as soon as the nature of matters would allow, and some of them committed to the gai of Talladega county—Wetump-ka State Guard.
