

OFFICE 78 CHARTRES STREET. BY TELEGRAPH. FROM WASHINGTON. Arrest of Cubans in New York. Officers Will Paid to Make the Arrests. The Proceedings Characterized by a Degree of Ruffianism. Miscellaneous Intelligence. WASHINGTON, June 18.—(Special Telegrams.) Secretary of State, Mr. Taft, today announced that he had received from the United States consul at New York, Mr. ...

CITY INTELLIGENCE. The Metropolitan Police. The Metropolitan Police, under the command of Chief of Police, today received information that a number of Cuban revolutionaries had been arrested in New York City. The arrests were made by the New York Police Department, and the individuals involved are being held in custody. The proceedings were characterized by a degree of ruffianism, and the officers were paid to make the arrests.

MONEY AND FINANCIAL. The market for money and financial instruments today showed a general decline. The price of gold was lower, and the value of the dollar was depressed. The stock market was also down, with many shares selling at a discount. The overall sentiment was pessimistic, and investors were cautious about the future of the economy.

COMMERCIAL. The commercial sector today experienced a period of uncertainty. Many businesses reported a decrease in sales, and there was a general sense of gloom. The price of commodities was volatile, and the market for foreign exchange was unsettled. The overall outlook for the commercial sector was bleak.

PERSONAL. Several personal notices were published, including announcements of marriages, deaths, and social events. The notices provided details about the individuals involved and the circumstances of the events. The tone of the notices was generally formal and respectful.

NOTICE. A notice regarding the liquidation of a company, detailing the assets and liabilities of the entity. The notice also mentioned the appointment of a liquidator and the process of distributing assets to creditors. The notice was published in a formal and legalistic style.

STEAMSHIPS, Etc. Only Direct Lines to France. The General Trans-Atlantic Company's New York and Havre Steamships. The company offers direct routes to France, with regular schedules and comfortable accommodations. The ships are well-maintained and crewed by experienced personnel.

Mutual Insurance. COMPART OF NEW ORLEANS. The company provides mutual insurance services, covering a wide range of risks. The policies are designed to be fair and equitable, with reasonable premiums and prompt claims payment. The company has a long history of reliability and trust.

For New York. The company offers travel services to New York, including ticket sales and travel arrangements. The routes are direct and convenient, with regular departures. The company also provides information about the amenities and services available on the ships.

Morgan's Louisiana and Texas Railroad. The railroad provides transportation services between Louisiana and Texas, connecting major cities and towns. The service is reliable and efficient, with frequent departures and comfortable cars. The railroad also offers freight services for businesses.

INSITUT ST. LOUIS. The institute offers various services, including medical care and educational programs. The facility is well-equipped and staffed by qualified professionals. The institute is committed to providing high-quality care and education to the community.

Dr. Charles E. Kelly. The doctor specializes in various medical conditions, including general medicine and surgery. The doctor has a long and distinguished career, and is known for his expertise and compassionate care. The doctor's office is located in a convenient location and offers a comfortable environment for patients.

REOPENING. The business is reopening after a period of closure. The reopening is being celebrated with special offers and promotions. The business is committed to providing the same high-quality products and services that have made it a success in the past.

Boys' Clothing. The store offers a wide selection of boys' clothing, including shirts, pants, and jackets. The clothing is stylish and durable, and is available in a variety of sizes and colors. The store also offers accessories and footwear for boys.

HAVANA LOTTERY. The lottery offers a chance to win big prizes, including cash and valuable goods. The lottery is held regularly and is open to all residents. The prizes are substantial and the odds of winning are favorable. The lottery is a popular and exciting way to spend some money.