YOUNG MEN SHOULD STUDY POLITICS

Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican state committee of Indians. believes it is a patriotic duty of levery young man to take a practical part in the politics of the nation. Mr. Hays himself is a young man. He has written his ideas on this subject in the following exclusive article for the International News Service:

By Will H Hays

To the young men of America I appeal for a larger interest in the polities of the country.

The young men of to-day are the burden-bearers of to-morrow. On the shoulders of the young voters will very soon rest governmental problems measured only by the vastness of the future.

These difficulties must be met. This evolution is inevitable.

Young men are trained to enter. and entering, strive to increase their proficiency in the professions, their sability as artisans and their success in business.

Yet in all their multiplex activities, in all their efforts really to be and do, many young men neglect the one prime duty and privilege of their sovereign citizenship, the richest heritage to which they are born and the one real basic responsibility of their entire temporal welfare.

This is, to qualify to understand the governmental affairs of our state and nation, and, qualified then to participate therein with an increasing interest and thoroughness as our knowledge broadens and our experience deepens.

The fight to have a Federal concentration camp lócated in Louisiand has narrowed down to Camp Stafford, mean Alexandria, and Shreveport, and the chances for ither place are none foo rosy. Shreveport has put up a strong oid for the camp, and sent repsesentatives to Washington. ARMY SERVICE

The War Department is gratified by the spontaneous offers of uncompensated assistance in carrying out the work of registration,

One father in offering to serve as registrar writes: "I have two sons in the guard and one in the regulararmy, but I want to do my own little bil." This is typical of hundreds of letters. Alt such offers properly should be made to the governors, who are the heads of the registration machinery in their respective states,

The War Department wishes to impress upon the people that there is only one day for registration. All males between the designated ages must register on the day set. The fact that five days were allowed for the placing of the necessary blank forms in the hands of registrars appears to have misled some headline writers. One day only, the day fixed in the President's proclamation -will be devoted to registration.

If should be clearly understood that no male resident of the United States between the designated ages is excused from registration unless he is already in the military or naval service of the United States; or that part of the National Guard iow actually in the Federal service.
