The New Orleans Bee.

OFFICE 73 CHARTRES STREET. NEW ORLEANS, FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 25, 1867. Vol. XXVII—New Series. Vol. XVII—Whole—14 026

THE NEW ORLEANS DAILY BEE.

BUSHROD W. LIBBY, Proprietor.
Office, No. 73 Chartres Street.

TERMS OF THE BEE:

Subscription, per annum, in advance, ... $10
Six months, do 5
Single copies, per week, ... 25
Single copies, ... 5

Rates of Advertising:—Transient advertisements inserted at the rate of $1 per square, first insertion $1 50 per square for each subsequent insertion. Standing advertisements, $1 50 per square.

Advertisements to be changed as often as desired by advertisers, to be charged at new rates. Contract advertisements must be paid for in advance.

All bills with blanks accepted at the rates charged for similar work.

NEW ORLEANS:
FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 25, 1867.

By a dispatch to Messrs. Cooley, Robinson & Co., dated Philadelphia, Jan. 24th, we learn that the steamship Jamaica, Capt. Hinds, hence, arrived before on the 23d inst., in six days and ten hours.

FOR NEW YORK.—The magnificent steamship Gen. Grant, Capt. Couch, of the Dreyfous' New York and New Orleans Steamship Line, will leave for New York on Sunday next, the 27th inst., at 7 o'clock in the morning, from the wharf, at the foot of Toulouse street, Second District. Her agent is Alfred Moulton, 41 Carondelet street.

The British steamship Gladstone, Capt. Lang, sailed last evening for Liverpool, with a full freight.

The steamship Commodore, Capt. McLaughlin, sailed last evening for New York, with a full freight.

THE BALL.—The grand dress ball last night, given for the benefit of the "Southern Hospital Association," was indeed a grand affair, and fully up to the anticipations of all concerned. As on the occasion of the "Jockey Club" ball there was a great crowd present, consisting of the beauty and fashion of our citizens. The existence of invitation cards (or have done their work remarkably well, and are entitled to great credit. We can say but little of it to-night, as this late hour, having stopped out for a few minutes to make this hasty issue; but those who were not present missed a rare treat. It was a perfect success, and we hope a profitable affair to the Association. It would be a difficult matter to get up another ball like this and the "Jockey Club," and not this year, at least, shall we make another.

ARRIVAL OF THE STAR OF THE UNION.—The steamship Star of the Union, Cockroy, commanding, eight days from Philadelphia, and coming, to Messrs. Creevy, Nickerson & Co., arrived at her wharf last evening. Passed a number of sailing vessels inside and outside the bar outward and inward bound. Steamers Morning Star and Hercules on the bar, bound out; steamer Missouri and British steamer St. Thomas on the bar bound in. The following is a list of passengers:

Per J. G. Cooley, Jr., Mrs. M. Scully, Mrs. Greenlaw and three children, Mrs. Wade, Jas. McCabe, Mrs. Kelso, and 6 in the steerage.

Passengers per steamship Vixen, from Vera Cruz:

Mr. De Bode, Mr. Bourgo, Mrs. De Bode, 2 children, Mr. Bayne, Mr. Lewis, 2 Mexicans, Mr. Bayne, 2 Mr. Kelso, 2 Mr. Alexander.

LATER FROM MEXICO.

We have said so much about Mexico lately, and have speculated so frequently upon the possibility of the consummation of the probable results of the contest now between the Imperialists and Liberals, that the subject has become positively distasteful to us. But yet we received much important news yesterday that we can hardly help to say a few words about. Three months ago we were told that the French troops were withdrawing for the purpose of preparing for embarkation for home; that the whole line of march, easily it seems, stubbing the Imperial forces sent to oppose them. This march and victory of the Liberals is a sad thing for the country. They have spurred fire and sword into towns that have been undisturbed for several years; have deceived the plantations and their crops, and murdered and pillaged villages; have killed or murdered the flower of the citizens who were unable to get out of the way, and have seized all the property that they were able to find. American residents fared but little better, and, indeed, it seems to have been a general crusade against all foreigners and capitalists, with the exception of the Juarez faction. There is no longer a doubt that Juarez intends to play the tyrant, and to oppress the country from one end to the other, or be acknowledged as President of the Mexican Republic.

The state of affairs in poor Mexico is very sad, and we hope that this high-handed chicanery has not shocked all his bloody work. This Government is responsible for all the outrages he is now committing. We do not credit all the stories told of the Liberal successes, nor of the extent of country gained by Juarez; but we can see in what he is now doing what he will do if his power increases. It is not surprising that such victories should be gained on this time, for the Emperor is in the midst of many difficulties, and has not yet had time to organize the country without the aid of the French. It is not easy to supply the places of the French troops at once, and for a short time the Liberals may have a wider tract of country for their foreign ground. But we cannot help thinking that, sooner or later, the United States interference, the Emperor will soon have a force in the field sufficient to thwart the forays of Juarez and his band. We have deep regrets for the poor people of the country who have to suffer, and cannot help excessive feeling against Juarez for his cruel and barbarous conduct. How long this state of affairs is to continue we cannot imagine, but hope something may soon bring a change.

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, of Thursday, says:—"Colonel Forney has received a letter from Mexico, dated the 14th inst., in which he says:

We make the following extract from advance sheets of the forthcoming "Life of Alexander H. Stephens, by Henry Cleveland, formerly secretary and editor of the Augusta Constitutionalist:

It was reported to him that he had been provided with a file of the Augusta Sentinel, and made by one who has held high position in the State. In a personal interview with this person, he found that the charge had been stated in the Sentinel, and through the press had been spread over the country, and the person supposed to be guilty of the crime, yet the words used by Mr. Stephens were not to be found in the Sentinel, and he refused to make this hasty issue; but those who were not present missed a rare treat. It was a perfect success, and we hope a profitable affair to the Association. It would be a difficult matter to get up another ball like this and the "Jockey Club," and not this year, at least, shall we make another.

Passengers per steamship Vixen, from Vera Cruz:

Mr. De Bode, Mr. Bourgo, Mrs. De Bode, 2 children, Mr. Bayne, Mr. Lewis, 2 Mexicans, Mr. Bayne, 2 Mr. Kelso, 2 Mr. Alexander.

LATER FROM MEXICO.

We have said so much about Mexico lately, and have speculated so frequently upon the possibilities of the consummation of the probable results of the contest now between the Imperialists and Liberals, that the subject has become positively distasteful to us. But yet we received much important news yesterday that we can hardly help to say a few words about. Three months ago we were told that the French troops were withdrawing for the purpose of preparing for embarkation for home; that the whole line of march, easily it seems, stubbing the Imperial forces sent to oppose them. This march and victory of the Liberals is a sad thing for the country. They have spurred fire and sword into towns that have been undisturbed for several years; have deceived the plantations and their crops, and murdered and pillaged villages; have killed or murdered the flower of the citizens who were unable to get out of the way, and have seized all the property that they were able to find. American residents fared but little better, and, indeed, it seems to have been a general crusade against all foreigners and capitalists, with the exception of the Juarez faction. There is no longer a doubt that Juarez intends to play the tyrant, and to oppress the country from one end to the other, or be acknowledged as President of the Mexican Republic.

The state of affairs in poor Mexico is very sad, and we hope that this high-handed chicanery has not shocked all his bloody work. This Government is responsible for all the outrages he is now committing. We do not credit all the stories told of the Liberal successes, nor of the extent of country gained by Juarez; but we can see in what he is now doing what he will do if his power increases. It is not surprising that such victories should be gained on this time, for the Emperor is in the midst of many difficulties, and has not yet had time to organize the country without the aid of the French. It is not easy to supply the places of the French troops at once, and for a short time the Liberals may have a wider tract of country for their foreign ground. But we cannot help thinking that, sooner or later, the United States interference, the Emperor will soon have a force in the field sufficient to thwart the forays of Juarez and his band. We have deep regrets for the poor people of the country who have to suffer, and cannot help excessive feeling against Juarez for his cruel and barbarous conduct. How long this state of affairs is to continue we cannot imagine, but hope something may soon bring a change.

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, of Thursday, says:—"Colonel Forney has received a letter from Mexico, dated the 14th inst., in which he says:

We make the following extract from advance sheets of the forthcoming "Life of Alexander H. Stephens, by Henry Cleveland, formerly secretary and editor of the Augusta Constitutionalist:

It was reported to him that he had been provided with a file of the Augusta Sentinel, and made by one who has held high position in the State. In a personal interview with this person, he found that the charge had been stated in the Sentinel, and through the press had been spread over the country, and the person supposed to be guilty of the crime, yet the words used by Mr. Stephens were not to be found in the Sentinel, and he refused to make this hasty issue; but those who were not present missed a rare treat. It was a perfect success, and we hope a profitable affair to the Association. It would be a difficult matter to get up another ball like this and the "Jockey Club," and not this year, at least, shall we make another.

BY TELEGRAPH.

[By the New Orleans Bee.]

Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—Ships St. Thomas and Jamaica sail for Wilmington to-day.

The guberine wave deeply snowed to-day to half Gowans on the canal to-day not, who gave way to Mr. Phillips. Quiet.

General Lewis, late colonel third Baron Steuben cavalry of Tennessee, is ordered to report to Gen. Sheridan, chief Reconstructory for Georgia, as Assistant Adjutant General. Gen. Gillem is appointed chief Reconstructory for Mississippi.

The internal revenue receipts to-day were $500,000.

Charleston, Jan. 24.—Nothing to this city.

The colored representatives of that the Civil Rights bill can't be enforced in some parts of Arkansas for want of sufficient force and appointed Centre, Gen. Gregg has ordered additional troops to Gen. Ord, commanding in Arkansas.

The Nebraska and Colorado vote is expected to-morrow.

Senate.—A petition from Ohio wool growers for increased protection, and one from citizens of Indiana against carcetory curtailment, were presented.

The Finance Committee have agreed the Civil Appropriation bill with amendments. The Committee on Conference have reported a bill to prevent smuggling, which recommends.

The bill granting aid to the Central San Francisco Railroad is postponed till to-morrow.

A tariff bill with a large number of amendments was offered, only one of which accepted, relating to the free list, maps and books of public interest. A quorum.

House.—After unimportant proceedings the bill giving agricultural colleges scrip to Tennessee, and an amendment to extend the operations of this bill to all the States provoked a debate. Hayward dubbed having Tennessee joined to the Rebel States. Sexton also spoke and was tainted with his early unspoken history. Stokes said he had supported and entered the Federal army. Sexton replied and entered the Federal army. Sexton replied and entered the Federal army. Sexton replied