CHARLES THEATRE.—Mr. Adams has beseefit to-night, in: which he appears in his specialty, as the triatful "Lacoch Arden." In this play Mr. Adams has proved himself much superior to our carliest impression of his acting. In the closing scenes of the performance he above himself a master of pathos, and renders the sorrows of "Ensech" in the most impressive manner.

ACADEMY OF Mesac.—The Gaité Company are keeping. a lively honse here with their songs, their dances and their jokes. Then there are the Walhalls gymnistics, with little Bo-Peep, a wonderful child in atrength and agility: prismatic fountains of marvelous beauty, and a ludicrous ple ture of Ecuianism, displayed in a piece entitled "The Fenian's Oath," a seriocomic affair in which fun and roystering predominate.
