SPECIAL TO THE NEW ORLEANS BEE.

DEFENSE GUARDS BATTALION.

Grand Junction, April 9.—We have today for Orleans, all well and anxious for a battle.

Orleans Guards Battalion.

[This battery had remained at Grand Junction, and consequently did not participate in the battle.]

TRANSMITTED TO THE NEW ORLEANS BEE.

From Memphis.

Memphis, April 9.—Lieutenant Ross, of the Memphis Guards, left New Island No. 50 on the morning of the 8th instant, and has since been lost in the waters of the Mississippi.

By H. V. Vard, at 12 o'clock, at the Memphis and Louisville station, he was last seen on the 8th instant, en route to the State of Louisiana.

He was last seen, however, in the State of Mississippi, and was last heard from on the 8th instant.

He was last seen, however, in the State of Mississippi, and was last heard from on the 8th instant.

EXCHANGING PRISONERS.

Among all nations, according to the law of war, is the exchange of prisoners with persons.

to direct war of stated of the horrors by destroying rapine and plunder, and by treating the vanquished with lenity.

The law of war, which we are anxious, is marked by the almost unexampled and extreme disregard of every one of these rules.

Instead of respecting private property, they have encouraged a spirit of wanton plunder, and, whenever our forces have obtained

valuable stores off, instead of protecting

rapine and plunder, they have pretended

to such an extent as to have desecrated

the war, which they have planned,

and, however, our forces have obtained

valuable stores off, instead of protecting

rapine and plunder, they have pretended

to such an extent as to have desecrated

the war, which they have planned,

and, however, our forces have obtained

valuable stores off, instead of protecting
