DEMOCRATIC DEVELOPMENTS

The [illegible] has been recently, the scene of [illegible] attention touching the Constitution and the Presidency, on the part of the [illegible] of Democracy. In the Senate, Mr. [illegible] has indulged, clearly, to the Free Soil wing of the party, has indulged in prophecy, [illegible] the Democrats that if they endorse the [illegible] of the National Convention they will inevitably be defeated. In the House of Representatives [illegible] pursued with an unusual keenness to make Mr. PRESTON KING, the [illegible] Free Soil member from New York—a man of abundant talent and decided influence—accept the solemn admonition [illegible] Mr. HALE. Intimating, unmistakenly enough, that [illegible] Democrats stuck to the Compromise, they [illegible] as an independent Buffalo organization.

[illegible] with Mr. FITCH, of N. Y., a Democrat who has not been connected with Free Soil movements, and who is well informed on the subject. The Albany Argus [illegible] comments pointedly on the recent speech of Mr. FITCH. Following in [illegible] of Mr. HALE and P. KING, he, says [illegible] in a prepared speech, assails the [illegible] Measures in gross and in detail, [illegible] them as the results of a "truck [illegible] of principles between northern and [illegible] politicians, in which he can see no substantial benefit that has accrued to [illegible] from it." Mr. FITCH says, "a great body of the Democracy, both [illegible] and South, have been doused with this [illegible] and their gorge rises at it [illegible] the Last Compromise, unimproved and unabused at all times, and now [illegible] intolerable," &c. for the most [illegible] this is the whole have little other [illegible] than to [illegible] Mr. FITCH suggests that the Free Soil [illegible] which received a considerable [illegible] the North and South, "may have [illegible] as an experiment upon north [illegible] the world be preferred [illegible] which politicians can do [illegible] improvement on Mr. RAY [illegible] southern dirt. Enter [illegible] knows Mr. FITCH of course as [illegible] devotion to let the Compromise [illegible] agitate a friendly feeling [illegible] Democracy, and [illegible] Democratic party action. [illegible] without further men, as [illegible] Providence and the D[illegible]

[illegible] follow Mr. FITCH through [illegible] speech in which he [illegible] the Compromise, and in savage [illegible] Fugitive Slave Law, but attacks the [illegible] Supreme Court of the United States [illegible] and abet by [illegible] the [illegible] ment of the [illegible] of the Democracy. [illegible] Democratic [illegible] and old-fashioned political grounds, [illegible] considered and [illegible] considering the difficulties [illegible] both, or not crying out "All's [illegible] is not well! Let us hope [illegible] not assume that we are safe [illegible] with tunes and trenches lie [illegible]

☞ [illegible]—By reference to our [illegible] it will be seen that the [illegible] of the Professors in the [illegible] College will leave the city next week [illegible] of the pupils who may be con[illegible] there. The College of St Xavier [illegible] one of the healthiest [illegible] in the city. It is amply endowed, and [illegible] number of able Professors [illegible] attention to the Seminary is [illegible] the discipline and mode [illegible] of study exercise and [illegible] The Rev Director can [illegible] of the Institution, in a gentle [illegible] attainments and profound scholarship [illegible] with him are some fifteen or twenty [illegible] teachers. Pupils are educated in [illegible] with special reference to the [illegible] which their parents may have select [illegible] them. We certainly do not know a better [illegible] instruction than the College of St [illegible]

THE FIRST OF THE SEASON.—Gen. Houston arrived yesterday from the Natchez No. 2, a fine steamer, she has ever [illegible] being the first of the [illegible]

☞ The steamer St. Charles, Captain Appleton, arrived yesterday from Shreveport. To courteous and attentive clerk Mr. Bateman, we are indebted for late Shreveport papers.—Arrival from above the raft reported a rise in Red River, and a subsequent arrival reported still another rise and serious fears of an overflow were entertained.

☞ Thanks to the officers of the steamer W. B. Clifton, for late Louisville papers.

☞ The steamer Choctaw which was snagged and sunk in Red River some time since and was reported as being a total loss, has been raised by Captain Ashman of the "Post Boy," a certainly gallant. It is said that the agent of the Insurance went up and offered Captain A. a thousand dollars if he would have declined [illegible]

CONGRESS

In the SENATE, on the 20th, on motion of Mr. Dodge, of Wisconsin, the Senate took up the bill granting to the State of Wisconsin a donation of public lands to aid in the co...struction of a railroad from the city of Milwaukie; and after debate, it was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

The Senate passed the bill authorizing the President of the United States to designate the places for the ports of entry and delivery for the collection districts of Puget's Sound and Umpqua, in Oregon, and

The bill granting lands to California for railroad purposes.

The Senate then took up the Deficiency Bill. Mr. Hale submitted an amendment repealing all acts authorizing any greater compensation to officers of the navy than is provided by the act to regulate the pay of the navy, approved March 3, 1835. He explained his amendment, when

Mr. Badger replied, saying that the assault of the Senators upon the Navy Department was not authorized.

Debate followed, when the amendment was considerably modified, and then agreed to.

In the HOUSE, nothing was done, though there was an infinite amount of talking.

☞ MAJOR HOLLIDAY has been read out of the party by the Democrats of the Third Representative District. The Major ran last year as an independent candidate for the Legislature, and though not elected, his course appears to have given great dissatisfaction to the "pure stock." The Democrats must fancy themselves strong, if they can thus afford to toss their own friends overboard.

THE LOUISIANA have nominated a popular ticket in the Fourth District—Messrs. DUNBAR KENNEDY and RICHARDS are able men, though we have no fear of defeat with such champions as EDWARDS, EGGLESTON and ANDREWS. We learn, however, that two out of the three, if not all the Democratic nominees, will decline. Our opponents are in bad luck—their soldiers won't stand fire.

☞ JEFFERSON.—A very sharp contest is in progress in the neighboring parish of Jefferson. As the vote is extremely close, there is no telling who will be elected to the Convention The Whig Senatorial candidates stand a better chance, inasmuch as St. Charles, which is strong Whig, votes with Jefferson, for Senatorial delegates. The canvass in Jefferson is particularly animated.

☞ On the authority of a Mobile paper, we announced a day or two ago, the arrival at Montgomery of General HERRERA, ex-President of Mexico. This is a mistake. The gentleman who arrived at Montgomery was Gen. Don JOSE MARIA JARERO, who is on his way to Vera Cruz.

MACAULAY'S HISTORY.—The London Athenæum states, on the authority of the Messrs. Longuman, that the new edition of Macaulay's England "will be verbatim the same as that now on sale," and that "the calling in of copies from the hands of the booksellers is simply a trade arrangement, usual with them when they print off a new impression of any book.

MARYLAND WHIG CONVENTION.

The Whig State Convention assembled at Baltimore on the 20th inst., and was organized by the appointment of Gen. CHAPMAN, of Charles county, as President. Every county in the State was represented. A committee was named to prepare resolutions, and the Convention took a recess until the afternoon.

On re-assembling, the Hon. DANIEL JENIFER reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we regard the acts of Congress commonly known as the compromise measures, embracing the fugitive slave act, as a final settlement and adjustment of the questions involved in them, and would consider any attempt to disturb these battle to be factious in the country and the integrity of the Union.

2. Resolved, That we approve the administration of Millard Fillmore, who has evinced, by the conduct of our national affairs under difficulties, his devotion to, and support of the principles of the constitution, his firmness in the maintenance of the laws, and his just regard for the rights of the States; and, the Whigs of Maryland in Convention assembled, do declare him to be our first choice for the Presidency.

3. Resolved, That the Whigs of Maryland will give a cordial support to any true Whig who may be nominated by the Whig National Convention for the Presidency and Vice Presidency, who stands by the compromise act, embrace the fugitive slave act, and regard them as a final settlement of the measures involved in them, and that this convention will not consider itself bound to support any nominee of the Whig National Convention unless he is known to be in favor of such measures.

4. Resolved, That the committee recommend to the convention that the delegates to the National Convention, the electors for President and Vice President, be taken one from each of the six Congressional districts, and that they be elected by the general vote of this convention. That the delegates and electors for the State at large be selected, one from the Eastern and one from the Western Shore, to be elected in the same manner.

5. Resolved, That the wise maxims of Washington respecting the foreign policy of this country ought ever to guide the federal government in its intercourse with foreign nations.

Mr. Jenifer, after reading the resolutions, observed that he was requested first to submit the resolutions, and then read the following, which was received with applause, and unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

Resolved, That the Whigs of Maryland, have an unbounded confidence in the patriotism and wisdom of HENRY CLAY, and they deeply sympathize with him in his present affliction.

Delegates to the National Convention were then appointed by ballot. The following gentlemen were chosen Electors: For the State at large—Messrs. T. P. Bowie and J. R. Ricaud: for the Districts, Aug. R. Sellers; J. P. Ronan, Dr. W. W. Howard, H. W. Davis, H. W. Archer, H. H. Goldsborough. The Convention adjourned, after an eloquent address by Gen. Chapman.

☞ COMPLIMENT TO PRESIDENT FILLMORE.—The following just compliment to President FILLMORE and HENRY CLAY, to their purity of heart and uprightness of motives, we extract from Col. Benton's Hillsborough speech:

"A new question has arisen among us, on which I have not proclaimed a public opinion nor concealed the private one which I entertained—that of intervention in the affairs of other nations—and on which the occasion makes it proper for me to speak as I think. I did so, and in a less objectionable case, the once famous Panama mission, and to the same effect, but who, in this age of progress, remembers what was passing twenty-five years back? I am opposed to intervening, and under all its forms, and as much in the form of propagandism to be unsupported by acts if the protest should be disregarded. Of the eminent public men of our country, who have accosted this subject most to my satisfaction, Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Clay, are the two foremost; they have given it a prompt and unqualified opposition in all its forms. This, in my opinion, is the American position.

It is natural, seldom, in this age of bitter partizan feeling, that a politician, especially one occupying Col. Benton's exalted position, and possessing his influence, can be found, who will be found to be a supporter of any administration of those who dabble in politics at all, seem to consider it a cardinal principle in their creed, to find fault with every act, and misconstrue every motive, actuating a political opponent. They seem to think that it is impossible for any good to come out of Nazareth, and with them, the paternity of any measure, regardless of its intrinsic correctness, or error, the simple circumstance of support or condemnation. Of this class of men is composed a large majority of the Locofoco party of this country.—St. Louis Republican.

A Second Daniel Lambert.

The Germantown (Ohio) Emporium has an obituary notice of Mr. John Schaffer, who died in that vicinity on the 24th March, aged 62 years. The notice concludes with these surprising statements:

The deceased was the largest man that we ever saw. The coffin was sufficiently large to contain five men of ordinary size, measuring in the clear three feet four inches in the clear, and three feet in the height. Three men could have worked in it at the same time with convenience. It required six men to take him from the bed on which he expired. This was done by raising a platform, removing the head-board of the bedstead, and taking him out that way. They could not get the coffin into the house without taking off the facing of an old vacated house that stood in the yard; they got the corpse into it by carrying it through. On the empty bags a wagon and four horses stood prepared, and ten men placed the coffin and its contents upon it. In letting down the coffin into the grave they had two lines doubled, one at each end, and one large well rope in the middle, and seventeen men let down this piece of mortality into its last home on earth. His weight was not known.

☞ PUNISHMENT OF A DESERTER.—The Portsmouth (N. H.) Gazette states that at a Court Martial, held at Port Constitution, last week, a deserter who had been absent from duty two years, was sentenced to work on the fort, to keep up his lost time to the department, and to receive fifty lashes on his bare back, the latter part of which sentence was carried into effect on Saturday afternoon.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—A son of Mr. William Spendly, of Binghampton about 13 years old, living with his uncle, Richard Spendly, at Sunbibore, was killed on Tuesday afternoon last, in the following manner. He was engaged in driving a span of horses attached to a roller or leveller, in the field of his uncle. Two hired men and Mr. R. were at work in different parts of the field, in sight of the team. About 4 o'clock they discovered the team had stopped, and supposing the lad had gone to the house for water, took no further notice of it, until a long time the team remained still attracted their attention, when, going to the spot, they found the boy under the roller, dead, with the lines in his hands. The roller had gone over the body upwards of half an hour. How he came under the roller is unknown, but it is supposed he was thrown to many of the poorer inhabitants. The object of this monument is yet a mystery. Bigmor Jacobsen the Minister of Public Works, displays some zeal for embellishing the Roman capital. He has submitted a project to the Government for purchasing all the old houses.

SPAIN.—The opposition journals have resolved to suspend their publication for three months, from the 4th of May, the eve of the day on which the new law of the press comes into operation. The editors intend to appoint a standing committee, who will prosecute ex officio the ministerial journals that should not have complied with all the rigorous conditions of the new law. These resolutions were adopted at a meeting of the directors on the 27th.

The Espana announces that the government has rejected the treaty which France offered for international copyright. The statement requires confirmation.

Government has ordered the suspension of the Imarca de la Marina of Havana, and has withdrawn the subsidy hitherto paid to La Comera of New York.

ITALY.—The frequent representations of the foreign minister at the court of Naples, relative to the treatment of political prisoners, have at length produced some trifling amelioration of their unhappy condition

Death has taken away another of the wretched instruments of the Neapolitan government. The two celebrated presidents of the Criminal Court, Navarro, died on the 22d ultimo. His sufferings were extreme. The Neapolitans look upon his painful death as a visitation of Divine Providence.

According to letters from Florence, of the 29th ult., the ministerial crisis had entered a new phase. The constitution was to be abolished, in order to deprive the Jews of their civil and political rights, and to incapacitate them from holding public functions.

On the 26th ult. the obsequies of Marshal Marmont were celebrated at Venice.

Letters from Tuscany of the 29th ult., state that the ministerial intrigues had assumed a new phase. The constitution will be abolished with the view of disfranchising Jews.

AUSTRIA and ITALY.—The intelligence from Vienna conveys the impression that the Austrians are very sanguine that Prussia will again succumb in the affair of the Customs Union. M. Manteuffel, in reply to pressing solicitations made in the Berlin Chamber, to know the intention of Government, said: "We have not sought the co-operation of Austria. I believe that Austrian commerce has other and separate interests. Let Austria pursue her way; we will follow ours." There is very little news this week from Italy, Spain and Portugal.

Rumors of fundamental changes in the system of Tuscan Government are very general at Florence.

By a decree of the Duke of Modena, of the 16th ult., an additional year's service is to be reckoned in favor of those Modenese soldiers who took a part in the campaigns of Naples and France in 1815, and in the military operations against the rebels in 1831, or, lastly, in the operations of 1849.

RUSSIA.—The Emperor of Russia, by a recent ukase, enacts that Jews who may undertake to colonize uncultivated lands in the Crimea, or elsewhere, a certain quantity of land, and the permission to employ Christian laborers. also that the sons of their laborers shall be exempt for twenty years from military service.

SCANDINAVIA.—The corvette the Antelope, of the Royal Swedish navy, arrived at Gottenburg on the 24th ult., after a voyage round the world which lasted 37 months. This vessel has distributed on the way, in Japan, between Japan and the Leo Choo Islands, three islands not laid down in any map, and situated at 20 degrees of north latitude, and between the 126th and 130th degrees of east longitude from Greenwich. They have received the name of Prince Oscar's Islands.

A letter from Copenhagen, of the 27th ult., states that a crystal palace is to be erected on the site of the open riding school of the palace of Christiansborg.

KEEPING DISORDERLY HOUSE.—No less than nine persons of whom five were females, were arrested in Marigny street, on Wednesday night, charged with fighting and disturbing the peace, and also with keeping a disorderly house
