The Vote Casts. The Vote Cases.

In our article of the 4th instant, on the "Onz-Max Pours," &c., it was stated that during the first first years of the Government the Persistent's power of a mainfard negative on hills passed by Congress had been exercised by ainst more; that doring the mistern billowing years, beguning with Gen. Jackson's accession to the Presidency, that power had been exercised "by the direct rebusal of "Executive assent, and by retaining bills, tawariy-pour timers," and that only one instance of retaining a bill had occurred before the Jackson era. None of these statements has, so far as we have noticed, been formally denied. But as many of the Locofector organs person in asserting that there have statements has, so far as we have noticed, been formally denired. But as many of the Locofoco organs persist in asserting that there have been but thereby, fire veto cases since the beginning of the Government, thus assigning only statem to the Jackson dynasty, we subjoin, in verification of our statement and for fature reterence, a list of all the cases. From thu link, the wild appear that the veto power was exercised by Preputent Jackson clessen times; by Peedicut Tyler fee, time; and by Praident Palk three times; in all the stay favor pases, as we statical. The last is confined to negatives on bills; and does not include every case of what may be culled the veto "improper," as distinguished from the technical veto; not, for example, as a restricted approvals, or years veto; a heading veto; a consequence veto; and the veto of the continuous to the legislation by the intervention of the "One-Main Power" instances were given in the article referred to.

We use the occasion of again noticing this subject to correct an error of the copyont, in the cunton in that article from Mr. Jefferson's opinion to President Washington on the Bank bill. In the work of the veto, and the work of the continuous and a significant is signed for and against this bill, is tolerably clear that it is authorized, "as it is noterably elect that it is authorized by the Constitution," doc. The wood should be unauthorized," as the soader probably perceived:
