ARRIVAL OF THE HIBERNIA.
FIFTEEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE

The Royal Mail steamsocket Hibernia, Capt. Judkins, arrived at Boston on the night of the 17th inst., after a passage from Liverpool of 13 days and 5 hours, having left there the afternoon of the 4th inst. By this arrival we are put in possession of our files of Liverpool and London papers to the morning of the 4th instant, inclusive.

The Repeal agitation in Ireland still continues unabated; but no disturbances had occurred, although large meetings were of daily occurrence. In Wales some outbreaks of a formidable nature had taken place.

As respects Commercial matters we have pleasure in stating that the Liverpool Cotton Market had sustained itself firmly, and a very large business had been transacted in Liverpool during the fortnight preceding the departure of the steamer. The Public funds were depressed owing to the precarious situation of political affairs.

The Hibernia, from Boston, arrived at Liverpool on the 27th ult., after a passage of 11 days, including her detention at Halifax. The Great Western arrived out on the 26th.

The steamship Margaret, with the passengers of the wrecked steamer Columbia, reached Liverpool on the 23d July.

The mammoth iron steamship Great Britain was launched at Bristol, on the 19th ult., in the presence of assembled thousands, including Prince Albert and the elite of the nobility.

The discussion in Parliament relative to Irish affairs have produced very decided demonstrations in favor of stringent measures, on the part of the Duke of Wellington, Lords Lyndhurst and Brougham. The premier, however, adheres inflexibly to his temporizing policy, and thus far, certainly, it would appear that the course pursued by Sir Robert Peel was consonant with sound judgment and prudence. It is generally believed that Parliament will be prorogued towards the latter end of August.

Mr Henry Wallack has become the lessee of the Covent Garden Theatre.

The Augsburg Gazette of the 29th ult. quotes a letter from Palermo of the 1st, announcing that the treaty of commerce between Great Britain and Naples was signed on the 26th of June, and had been forwarded to London for ratification.

M. Ribiero, Secretary to the Brazilian Ambassador charged with the negociation of a new Commercial Treaty has arrived in London.

Loss of the Pegasus, Hull Steamer, and frightful Loss of Life.—Another appalling steamboat disaster has taken place, near the spot where the Forfarshire was wrecked a few years ago, and where the late Grace Darling so heroically distinguished herself by saving five lives, at the imminent risk of her own. By the present disaster occurred no less than from fifty to sixty human beings have been suddenly deprived of life. The Pegasus, which has plied between Leith and Hull for several years, left Leith Harbor on Wednesday afternoon, the 16th ult., and at midnight struck on a sunken rock just inside Fern Island, near what is called Golden Rock. She immediately filled and sank. Only six persons on board were saved.

There had been repeal demonstrations for Wexford at Tuesdaff, at Toam and for the County of Mayo at Castlebar. At the latter, the repeal papers state that the number present was 300,000 souls. O'Connell spoke at all of them in his usual strain.

THE REPEAL ASSOCIATION.

Dublin Exchange Rooms, Tuesday, July 25th.—On the motion of Mr. O'Neil Daunt, the chair was taken by Mr. O'Brien, of Belmont. Mr. Daunt described the affect of his visit to Scotland, and assured the meeting that if the people of Scotland were not favorable to repeal, they were at all events not against it. After a number of letters were read, belonging to members, Mr. O'Connell entered the room amidst great cheering. He entered to the great meeting at Tuara, which, he said, was all an illusion—multitudes have been there before for the knowledge of the Government, and without any connivance on its part. As regarded Ireland the Minister of Foreign Affairs maintained that although he had no right to interfere with the manner in which passing travellers were treated in Ireland, he was not prepared to say that there was nothing to be done by the perfect tranquillity of the United Kingdom. He also mentioned that order would soon be restored in Belfast, and there would be no more party processions. He then said, how could there be Repeal, with the present Cabinet, which knew how to organize the militia and firmness, would do its utmost to preserve the integrity of the British Isles.

The Queen has agreed to the subject, but the ceremony was postponed by royal ordinance on Sunday, July 30th.

The Moniteur contains a royal ordinance promoting the Prince de Joinville to the rank of Rear Admiral.—The ordinance is followed by the marriage act of the Prince with the Princess of Brazils, which was signed on the 31st ult., in the palace of Neuilly, in presence of the royal family, Marshal Soult, M. Guizot, the ministers of the Brazils, Baron Pasquier (Chancellor of France), and the Duke de Cazes (Grand Referendary of the Chamber of Peers), acting as the civil officers. We learn from the Journal des Debats, that the princess brought her husband, as dowager first, 1,000,000f. in specie; secondly, a revenue of 180,000f. arising from Brazilian stock; thirdly, 25 leagues of territory, in the province of Santa Catarina, at the choice of the prince; fourthly, a yearly income of 24,000f., together with jewels to the amount of 200,000f.; fifthly, a present from the Emperor of the Brazils of 200,000f. for her outfit. Independently of these advantages, she is to succeed to the throne of the Brazils, to the exclusion even of her eldest sister, if the Emperor Don Pedro II., and the Princess Januarin, the presumptive heiress to the crown, should die without issue. The Presse, Siecle, and other Paris prints mention a rumor of an intended attack on Tunis, by a Turkish squadron of nine ships of war, which were seen off Cape Carthage the 15th, and by a letter dated the 22th the Maritime Prefect was directed to send the Janissaires and Algerines, four of those ships, to Tunis without delay. The menaced aggression on the part of the Porte is referred to the councils of England and France.

INDIA AND CHINA.

The overland mail had arrived with dates from Calcutta to the 7th June, and from Macao to the 16th April. The London papers say:

The intelligence with which the overland mail supplied us is not merely satisfactory but gratifying. The vigor and vigilance of Sir Charles Napier have determined the Scinde chiefs from refusing the terms of pacification which he offered; and the most pertinacious and pestilent among them, Meer Shere Mahomed, agrees to submit to British authority provided he be secured the possession of his private estate.

As to the future prospects of the newly acquired territory, the most flattering expectations are indulged.—Lake Egypt, the country is visited with periodical inundations, and a trivial attention to tillage secures a teeming harvest. The revenue at one period was quoted as exceeding £1,000,000 sterling, an amount which it is expected the present year will again speedily realize.

We regret to learn that the mission consequent upon the subsiding of the waters had issued in a fever, under which many of the troops have perished. The gallant chief Charles Napier has escaped a severe attack of it. Several of his officers died. It is presumed that the experience which the commander-in-chief has gained during his residence in the territory, will enable him either absolutely to prevent, or materially to mitigate the fatal effects of the climate.

Dost Mahommed has resumed the government of Afghanistan.

The news from China is, so far as it goes, not unwelcome. The occurrence of outbreak or misunderstanding is noted. Sir H. Pottinger, as to whose illness some exaggerated reports had been spread, is awaiting at Canton the arrival of the Commissioner whose presence was expected in the early part of June. In a few months we shall know the result of the anxiously awaited negociation.

RUSSIA AND TURKEY

A letter from our Constantinople correspondent, of the 7th July, announces the termination of the Servian question. Prince Alexander Cara Georgewitch has been reelected unanimously, and his Ministers, Petronievitch and Wutschitch, whose banishment was so emphatically demanded by Russia, have been permitted to remain in Servia. The only results, therefore, which the Servian affair has have been, the humiliation of the Porte, and the establishment of Russian influence, and overflow of British influence at the Porte.

SPAIN.

The revolution in Spain was advancing with rapid strides. The insurgents had entered Madrid, and assembled there on the 24th July. They had appointed the Duke of Baylen provisional guardian of the Queen. Two divisions of the revolutionary troops, consisting of 12,000 men, had marched from the capital for Andalusia, to meet the beleaguered city of Seville. Espartero and Van Halen were also hastening thither on the 23d, and on the 24th a flag of truce was presented. The object of Espartero's attack on Seville was generally believed to be the desire to obtain a contribution of money for some emergency.

When the insurgent army approached Madrid it was resolved by a council of war to defend the city to extremity. The corps diplomatique assembled to take measures for the protection of the Queen; and drew up a note, which the British Minister, Mr. Ashton, refused to sign. Mr. Aston prepared one in English, but the other Ministers refused to sign. Mr. Washington Irving, the American Minister, was then requested to draw up a note, which was approved by all but by the British Minister. On the 16th a new note was drawn up, signed by all the Ministers, and sent by the Count Toreno. That instrument was couched in temperate terms. When the troops of General Narvaez, and those of the Regent under Seaone and Zurbano, after an engagement of about a quarter of an hour, the two armies fraternized. Seaone and a son of Zurbano were taken prisoners. Zurbano escaped. The Municipality then resolved to go out, and surrender the city unconditionally.

Lisbon, Aug. 3d.—No new telegraphic despatch from Spain had reached Paris. The Commerce reports that the negociations between the Foreign Consuls at Barcelona and the Governor of Montjuich are at an end, awaiting the decision of the Madrid government. In conformity with this arrangement, Brigadier Echalaz started for Madrid on the 27th, accompanied by an officer of the garrison. The Barcelona papers have ceased while determined to release each of the Moderados as were imprisoned by the orders on the 20th and 21st.

Madrid, Aug. 2.—We have received by express letters from our Madrid correspondent, and Madrid journals of the 26th ult., together with our usual Bayonne and Paris correspondence. They contain, it will be recollected, the account of the 25th. We refer to their contents, we shall lay before our readers, copied from the Paris Monsieur, the following Telegraphic Despatches:

BAYONNE, July 31.—The bombardment of Seville continued actively on the 29th. The disasters occasioned by it are considerable. On the 23d the fire ceased, a flag of truce having arrived from the city. Espartero and Van Halen were still on the same day under the walls of Seville.

"The expeditionary forces which left Madrid for Andalusia consist of 16 battalions, 600 cavalry, and a few batteries of artillery."

BAYONNE, August 1.

The Duke of Baylen is appointed Provisional Guardian of the Queen.

Espartero has changed the Municipalists—the first alcalde is now M. Domenech; and the second M. Modoz.

General Cortines is named Director of the Staff.

M. Olozaga is reinstated in his functions of fiscal of the Supreme Tribunal of War and Marine.

Generals Ricafort and Minuisoir have sent in their adhesion to the pronunciamiento, from Caceres and Ciudad Real.

Our Madrid correspondence and the journals state that Madrid was perfectly tranquil on the 28th ult.—Espartero remained in Council on that day during several hours, but the result of their deliberation had not transpired.

The Gazette contains a letter of the Duke of Baylen to the Minister of War, announcing his acceptance of the post of Commander of the Royal Corps of Halberdiers. The Queen held a levee on the 25th, at which all the members of the Lopez Ministry, the chiefs and officers of the army, and the deputies of several provinces, paid their homage to the young Queen's hand.

Seville was reported to have hoisted a black flag, and announced its determination to resist to the last.

The Banner of Granada, in which an immense quantity of silks was deposited, had been consumed by fire.

1843.—Received from 4th April to 3d July, £15,789 11s. 3d.

Increase on quarter, £14,709 1s. 3d

On Saturday £10,000 would be funded, and he would hand the scrip to Mr. Ray for that amount. Among a number of subscriptions handed in, £600 from Wexford; £20 from St. Johns, N. B.; £100 from Buffalo, U. S.; £100 from Providence, R. I.; £100 from Albany, N. Y; and amidst great cheering announced the rent for the week to amount to £2,136 19s. 6d. The meeting adjourned to Wednesday.

By a private letter in town, it appears the absconded city treasurer has bolted all vigilance, and Mr. Cox, who went in pursuit, may be expected in Dublin in a fortnight, after his unsuccessful chase in America.

The weekly meeting of the association was held on Tuesday, the 1st of August, but we have not yet seen any account of the proceedings, beyond an announcement of the amount of the repeal rent for the week, which was £2001 10s 8½d.

MILITARY PREPARATIONS—THE ARMY.—The Duke of Wellington is preparing to concentrate the whole force of Ireland, and all the small detachments will be called in. Barracks, long unoccupied, are ordered to be furnished for the accommodation of troops, and stations, where of late only a company was quartered will have a complete regiment. Far more is doing towards placing the country in a state to be defended than merely meets the eye. Troops are at the most convenient points for concentrating, and know that arms and ammunition are disposed of at safe places in this country, for their being sent over when required. The regiments which returned from India within the present month are very much thinned by having discharged their diseased and worn out men they were all be considerably under the establishment of 800 men. This 26th is to go to Scotland; the 41st, it is said, will shortly be sent into the north-west districts; and the 49th, on their arrival, to take their place at Canterbury for a short period only.—Naval and Military Gazette.

WALES.

The disorders in South Wales again assume a more serious aspect, as the followers of Rebecca became more active. The disturbances have, however, quite changed their site: having originated in the rural districts on the north-west coasts of Pembrokeshire and Carmarthenshire, they now have entirely removed from that quarter; and the state of affairs is clearly more and more desperate in the Southern part of Carmarthenshire, and in the mining and manufacturing districts. There is also much cold boldness in the way of dodging the military.

FRANCE.

On Tuesday the 18th ult. the Chamber of Peers resumed the discussion of the budget of expenses for 1843, when M. Guizot replied to the questions put to him the day before, dwelling chiefly on Spain. He declared that the French Cabinet had always acted a neutral part towards the country. The generals, he said, who had re-entered it were free in France, and had left her by their own means. The arms and funds supplied to the Insurgents, and a firm having applied for permission to furnish 20,000 stand, it had been denied. M. Guizot added, that it was easy to understand that certain conservative knights have taken a high hand of the knowledge of the Government, and without any connivance on its part. As regarded Ireland the Minister of Foreign Affairs maintained that although he had no right to interfere with the manner in which passing travellers were treated in Ireland, he was not prepared to say that there was nothing to be done by the perfect tranquillity of the United Kingdom. He also mentioned that order would soon be restored in Belfast, and there would be no more party processions. He then said, how could there be Repeal, with the present Cabinet, which knew how to organize the militia and firmness, would do its utmost to preserve the integrity of the British Isles.

The Peers having agreed to the budget, both the chamber and the ministry prorogued by royal ordinance on Sunday, July 30th.

CROPS.

We have this week made a short excursion into the country, and have been much pleased with the general appearance of the several plantations that were under our observation. The corn crop is truly abundant, the weather having been throughout the season such as to promote the growth of the plant and produce full, large ears upon the stalk. But few of the ears of corn are blighted or shrivelled, at least of those which we inspected; and we presume that those were a fair sample of the whole. From all we can gather respecting the cotton crop of the present year, there is still probability full short of that of last year, but a large portion of the crop, owing to the season is said to be of a much finer quality than the major part of that produced for some years back. The crops are also beautifully clean, owing to the back-wardness of Spring, we had thought they could possibly be.—Baton Rouge Gazette of the 18th inst.

NEW COTTON.

Messrs. Versiday, Lambden & Co, received two bales of new cotton, yesterday, from the plantation of Thomas Affleck, Esq., near Kingston. This is the first which has been received in Natchez this year. On the 11th of August, 1842, the same house received 11 bales;—this is another evidence of the backward state of the crop this year.—Natchez Courier, 26th inst.

An affray took place in this town on Thursday last, between J. G Whitaker and W. Fisher, both inhabitants of the parish. In consequence of some quarrel, Whitaker had threatened to run-hide Fisher, and meeting him at a Coffee-house kept by the latter, the latter, which Fisher drew a pistol and shot him. The ball passed through his hand and entered his thigh, but we understand the wound is not very dangerous. The pistol with which it was brought before J. R. Nott, esq., and Fisher bound over to appear before the District Court.—Lafourche Patriot.

GIGANTIC MELON.—The Planters' Banner mentions that a melon has been raised on the plantation of A. R. Splane, weighing 40 pounds, and measures in circumference three feet three inches one way, and four feet two inches the other.

INDIANA.—Whitcomb is undoubtedly elected Gover. nor by a small majority probably 2 or 3,000. The whigs have chosen three and the locofocus six members of Congress. One district to be heard from—probably whig. The Legislature is doubtful. The whigs have 25 out of 50 in the Senate, and the locos claim the other half. The lower house is like to run close. Last year the locos had one majority on joint ballot, obtained through the treachery and sergiversation of Kelso, elected as a whig from Switzerland county.

[F The "Democracy" of the different wards in New York, held meetings on the 17th instant, for the expression of their opinions in regard to the district system in the selection of delegates to the National Convention, and also for choosing delegates to the State Convention to assemble at Syracuse some time in September. In a majority of the wards the Van Buren ticket prevailed, and the district system was either openly condemned or given the go-by. Some vigorous denunciations took place in several of the wards, in the shape of broken promises and bloody noses. In one or two instances, the ballot boxes were hurled over
