The Commodere has obligingly communicated to us information of much interest in regard to the movements of our naval force in the Pacific. Whilst at Monterey on the 29th July, he was put in possession of letters received by merchants there from Matamoros, Saltillo and Vera Crus, communicating the news of the battles of Palo Alto and Ressca de la Palma. In the absence of instruc

The morning after perusing the letters above named he worked was such as the course. named, he weighed anchor and proceeded to San Fran ciaco, Mazatian and other places, took possession of them in the name of the United States, and hoisted them in the name of the United States, and nonsecu-the American flag. Wherever the squadron went, the people so far from offering any resistance, rather synced gratification at the approach of the forces.— Some few showed ill feeling and bitterly complained, but this feeling was confined to the officers of the convergence. Linnanger Famous had arrived and government. Lieutenant Fremont had arrived and the Commodore placed him and his command, consisting of 150 men, on board the United States ship Cyane, to proceed to another point to prevent the Governor of California from committing any outrages upon the persons or property of the Americans resid-ing in that part of the country.

Commodure Steat transferred the command of the squadron to Commodore Stockton, and upon arriving of the declaration of war against Mexico. Anxious to return home and wait upon the authorities at Washington, he proceeded to Chagres, where he took passage in a British steamer for Kingston, Jamaies. The election for members of Congress

The election for members of Congress and of the State Legislature, was held throughout Palmylvania on the 12th instant. In Philadelphia, and probably in many of the adjoining counties, a furious storas of wind and rain prevailed, and the voters were compelled to wade knee deep in mud to get at the pools. The assessment penico to water auce usep in must to get appoils. The aggregate vote is consequently less than might have been expected, from the interior expitement that preceded the election. The styges of Verenave—The most sickens morn of raid and wind which has visited our city for thirty years, was seprenced yesterday. It was at its height between 2 and 3 o'clock. The Is-laware was inside thin a perfect fory and its roar would have drowned the thunder fall of Ningara. The wind being from the south-east, drove the waters up the bay until all the docks were overflowed and the shipping was in great danger. A number of wessels drinted from their moorings. The bark Levani, which had cleared for the West Indies, and was in the stream, was driven by the violence of the wind against the stoop Republish, below Spruce wharf, and acriously injured. A canal bost laden with wheat was sonk near Race street wharf, and with wheat was sonk near Race street wharf, and had to cross over to Gamden. The Balloon, see Williamington, could not make her regular trip, and the barge boats and tows for Baltimore, did not surf. The water was far over the wharves. Gentlement of Municipality No. One.

The gleave to offer in reference to the resolution pissed by your honorable body on the 12th instant, for the erection of draining machines in the rear of the city the following suggestions:

In the first place I would recommend before the contract is ensieved into and made final, that all the work performed be under the supervision of the survey-or of the Municipality, or of such persons as you may please to designate, whose duty it shall be to see that the whole contract is performed in accordance with the plans and specifications in the Burveyor's office.

I would fariter recommend that it be made the duty of Mr Commany, as an additional obligation in his port to drain all the rain waters, or such as may proceed from the hydrams and water works. I am informed he has no objection that this be included in his contract, and I consider the draining of these waters by which the rear streets may sometimes be overflowed as materially important to the inhabitants of that portion of our city for which this contract is contemplated.

I am respectfully,

Your obedient servant,
