

PEGGY ADLER

THE SECOND
ADLER BOOK OF

PUZZLES and RIDDLES

JOHN DAY

THE SECOND
ADLER BOOK OF

BY PEGGY
ADLER

PUZZLES
AND RIDDLES

PEGGY ADLER

THE SECOND
ADLER BOOK OF

PUZZLES
and RIDDLES

JOHN
DAY

Comments on

THE ADLER BOOK OF PUZZLES AND RIDDLES

“Good for family fun – for travel, convalescence, or just any time.”

—The Horn Book

“... puzzles which children will love and have much fun with. It is a book also recommended for mothers who want something very entertaining on a rainy day.”

—Catholic Library World

“... delightful... ideal for the shut-in child or the little traveler.”

—Publisher's Weekly Forecast

“... a great wit-sharpener for the whole family.”

—New York Times

a JOHN DAY book

A 68801

The SECOND
ADLER BOOK OF PUZZLES AND RIDDLES

Written and illustrated by
PEGGY ADLER

Response to The Adler Book of Puzzles and Riddles, published in July, 1962, was so immediate and has continued so strong that we now present herewith a new volume of similar brain-teasers.

Here are all the different kinds of puzzles that were so delightfully developed by Sam Loyd, the greatest puzzler of all time, whose famous Cyclopedia provided the inspiration for the first Adler Book of Puzzles and Riddles. The actual content of almost all the puzzles, however, is new. A small fraction of them are adapted from Sam Loyd. All the hidden geography puzzles, the rebuses, the picture arithmetic puzzles, and the word evolution puzzles are original puzzles by Peggy Adler.

This book is for all ages. It contains puzzles for a bright eight-year-old, others that will tax age eleven. Older children and adults will enjoy them all.

Jacket design by Barbara Beggi

THE JOHN DAY COMPANY
New York

About the Author

PEGGY ADLER, illustrator and co-author of The Adler Book of Puzzles and Riddles, now makes her debut at the age of twenty-one as an independent author-illustrator. The daughter of Irving and Ruth Adler, whose books on science are published in nine languages, she made her first illustration for one of her father's books when she was thirteen years old, and at sixteen was the sole illustrator of another, Hot and Cold. She has also illustrated Numbers Old and New and Your Ears and was co-illustrator with her mother of Weather In Your Life. In private life she is Mrs. Jeremy A. Walsh and lives in New Haven, Connecticut.

PRINTED IN U.S.A.

ISBN: 0-381-99946-7 RE