NEW-ORLEANS.

Tuesday Morning, May 31, 1831. Elisha, a slave, the property of Mr. Mioton, was yesterday arroigned before a jury of six frecholders, presided by the Hon. J. Pitot, under a charge of assaulting Mr. Paul Pandely with the intent to kill. The prosecution was conand the defence made by A. Pichot Esq. After a short deliberation the Jury returned with a verdiet of guilty; and servence of death, according to the terms of the law, was passed on the ac-

Mr. Planer and lady left this city, yesterday evening on board of the ship Louisa, for Liverpool. Numerous friends, whose esteem their a nimble deportment has ensured during their stay in this city, accompanied them, we are informed, to the vessel. For our part we here test prosperous breezes may swell the sail a mark of attention on the part of the Flench that wasts them to their notive land. In the words of the brist we cordially wish them an ne spicious journey: hushed be every boisterous wind,

By vesterday's had we have received Mobile papers of the 28th, New-York of the 16th and Charleston of the 22; the first contain the int. Ill some received by the Sarah-Sheafe; but we profer extracting from the New-York papers, which bear Liverpool dates to the 9th of April, at New York, by the packet ship Charlemagne, Capt. Robinson. In spite of all conjectures, the intelligence is not as interesting as might have been anticipated.

We learn from the Northern papers that M. Van Buren has been appointed Minister to Eng. land; he was to start with Mr. Vaughan about the end of May.

NEW-YORK, May 7. By the arrival yesterday of the ship Charles magae, Capt. Robinion, from Liverpool, whence she sailed on the 9th April, the Editor of the Mercantile Advertiser are indebted to captain Robinson for files of papers, including London dates of the 5th, Liverpool of the 9th April.

ENGLAND. Parliament adjourned on the 1st of April, to meet again on the 14th, when the question of Reform would be brought focuard. The papers were agitating the question of dissolution. London news says that a new election would give Ministers a majority of one hundred and twenty in favor of the Reform Bill. The Morning Chronicle of the 8th, holds this language on the same subject :-

"The question of dissolution is attended with considerable difficulty. Unquestionably an election would add greatly to the strength of Ministers. But, on the other hand, the delay which it would occasion, could not fail to love the ef fect of occasioning much inconvenience. from the continuance as the agitation and excitement. Such a benefit of a reform in the parliament cannot be purchased at too high a price. We quarrel not with the excitement; but if the measure can be carried without a Dissolution, it is obvious that we should thus obtain it on easier

From the Liverpool Chronicle of April 9. The accounts from France since our last leave the question of peace or war between that coun try and Austria as much in suspense as ever. In the Chamber of Deputies, on Monday last, General Lamarque remonstrated with considerable warmth against the pacific bearing of France towards Ku sia concerning the affairs of Poland, Russians, that large detachments dared not pass and towards Austria in reference to those of Italv. The answer of the minister for foreign af Gairs spoke of the latter as still likely to be cleared up by explanations which had been demandtrians, as will be seen by the account in the letter of Russia as well as of Poland. A report was in circulation, that a communi cation had been oranged between the Poles and the Subline Porte, and that envoys had been muturliy sent from Warsaw and Constantinople; the French papers go the length of saying that wer had actually been declared by the Porte against Russia. An insurrection, it is also as-tected, has taken place in Courleid. These, however, are, in all probability, only to be classed with the amittude of rumors to which the exchement of the times naturally give rise.

Belgium st.R remains a subject of doubt and disquiet to all who feet an inderest in the spread of free povernments and liberal institutions. Agitated by contending factions and a distressed population within, and, from without, bulled by one hostile power, threatened by another, frown ed on by mediators, and coldly encouraged by friends it is scarcely possible that she can much to iger escape both the peals of war on the one hand and the transmels of diplematic intrigue or the other. Between the proclamations of the Regent of Belgium, the operations of the German Diet respecting the Di teny of Luxembourg cand the complaints and threatenings of the Dutch Minister for Foreign Affairs in his speech in the States General, on Saturday last, which falls little short of a declaration of war against the Belgians, no likeliho of remains for an avoidance of hostilities, but by a yielding on the part of the Belgian Government to the suggestions of the protocols of the five powers, which it has already pronounced to be incompatible with the dignity and independence of a free state. - We confess, we look with 10 slight unviety for the

A French feigate and a brig have been cruising for these two days off Civita Vecchia. This is Government; the Court of Rome takes exclusively to itself, and probably with reason, the honors of the presence of these vessels, which it considers as a compliment to the Holy See, and of a proof of the wise precaution իք the French Government, when it feared that Gregory XVI, might be obliged to quit Rome.

There will not be war, and what proves that peace will be maintained is, that notwithstanding the march of the whole of the Austrians quite through Romagna, which march was very well known at Paris yesterday, the Moniteur of this morning announces that nething is changed since the pacific declaration made from the tribune by the Minister, and there has only been occasion for explanations which require answers ind replies.

From the Journal des Debats. A Journal of Warsaw, of the 22d March, aniounces, on the authority of letters from Cracow, that the Sultan has declared war against Russia, and that the Manifesto has been received at Vienna. Bologna, march 22. After four days of combat between Novi and Modena, General Zucchi, yielding to superior force, has retired, taking with him two pieces of brass cannon, six small pieces, much ammunition, and three or four minions of silver taken from the government chest. These sams have been remitted to a responsible agent, and will be devoted to the defence of the free provinces. The government of Bologna, and a part of the Deputies of the United Provinces, have directed themselves upon Pesaro to retire upon. Ancona, if the Austrians continue their march into the interior. The fortifications of this place have been repaired, the citadal provided with provisions and ammunition sufficient to resist for a long time, although the best of the works were destroyed in 1815 by the Austrians, who sold the materials to the Roman government. General Frimont lends himself with much complaisance to the claims for numerous arrests made by Cardinal Apozzoni. Many officers of the National Guard of Bologna, who never quitted the city, have been arrested, and the blood oil the Halian patrio's will soon being to flow. The Germans did not expect to meet with so powerful a resistance in that quarter, and were completely defeated. The patriots lost about 150 men, but they carried away a great many arms, and three pieces of cannon. Gen. Friment, hearing that the patriots will not always be disposed to retreat, has given orders, it is said, for 12,000 more Austrians to enter the Roman States from Verona. The vexations exercised upon strangers become daily more annoying. It is probable, that when the States of the Pope are again placed under the yoke, all foreigners established here will be expeiled.
