Dr. Cultion's Indiana Vegetable Specific,
For Leucorhon Communit, or Common White.
This vegations and often dangerous disease, is unfortunately so well known among all classes of females, that a detail of its symptoms seems unnecessary.

To the patient hereeft, the disease manifests itself by unequivocal signs; yet from a deleacy, false, and often form the frequently inspired, and the foundation law frequently inspired, and the foundation law of the form of the first seems of the seems of the first seems or falling of the worth. Therations, Atrophy, and Propsy, which end in death.

To enjoy good into the secretory organs must be in a sound condition.

The lachrysnal gland would scarcely depart farther from its office were it to pour forth bloody tears, than do the uterine organs when secreting the fluid which gives in name to the disease in question. Whenever, then, the disease manifests itself, let the patient have immediate recourse to a remedy which will restore the diseased organs to a healthy condition, and all the distressing symptome will speeding disappears, and the death like palor of the check be succeeded by the roseate hue of health.

Such a remedy may be found in "Cullen's Specific."— It is not only a pleasant, safe, and certain remedy from tune. In truth, it is what its name indicates, a "Specific" from all ingredients which have in any degree an injurious effect upon the system.
