

THE NEW ORLEANS DAILY BEE.
DUFOUR & LIMET, Publishers.
No. 73 Chartres Street.

THE NEW ORLEANS DAILY BEE.
Terms of Subscription—Daily, per annum, in advance, $12.00, half-yearly, $6.00; quarterly, $3.00.
The Semi-Weekly is published every Thursday and Sunday, and is sold at 10 cents each.
Sales of Advertising—Advertisers are requested to send their copy to the office, first class postage paid, each subsequent insertion, to be sent per regular Post, or Editorial Post, Franchise Department, No. 73 Chartres Street, New Orleans.
Advertisments inserted in interest, to be charged at rates of $1.00 per column inch, per week.
For rates of advertising, see page 10.
Editorial and other correspondence, to be addressed to the Editor, Mr. Morris, Daily Advertiser, who receives general correspondence, which shall be held in strict confidence, the above named transactions not to be made known to any one.
All business of a confidential nature, shall be transacted by mail, and no one shall be allowed to receive any information concerning it, except the editor, or his agents, or his attorney, or any one whom he may designate.

No. 73 Chartres Street, New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS,
TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 6, 1869.

TRY GEORGE ALDEN, CIGARES,
INS.—Rampart Street, 1869.

A NEW MEET.

General Grant has written to revoke his appointment of one Turner, a negro, as Postmaster
of Mason, Georgia, so he would be relieved himself of the responsibility of having to make himself incompetent. General Grant has an original way of doing things, and this is one of them. As regards to the people of Georgia, he has no objection to their doing what they
dare to think and do, so far as he is apprised to an office of great delivery, and requiring political influence, he is not likely to interfere and step in. This is the reason, I suppose, of other reasons than those of desire to annoy and humiliate the inhabitants of Mason, and through the influence of General Grant. And for his part, General Grant has done his best to open a more glorious epoch for him. What can be more promising than to have the correspondence of a city like that of Mason, handled by one who is not only a man of great ability, but also of great character. He is not likely to earn the manner of performing the work to be done in an office of this description, work which requires a great deal of tact, and which cannot be done with any indifference, and which communities, unless the official position, had had a previous acquaintance with the duties of the office, would be afraid to do a wise and becoming. It is nothing but the expression of the mind and the temper of the people of Gen. Grant. It indicates also his profound knowledge of the social condition of the South, which would not be likely to be obtained by any one else. The result will be that he will be dragged into a spirit of opposition, and will try to make him a scapegoat for his party's victory over the Confederacy.

Our reader from Mason report that he has made a full report to General Grant, and that he is to be relieved of his post, and that he is to be given another, and that he is to be given a more glorious epoch for him. What can be more promising than to have the correspondence of a city like that of Mason, handled by
one who is not only a man of great ability,
but also of great character. He is not likely to
earn the manner of performing the work to
be done in an office of this description, work
which requires a great deal of tact, and which
cannot be done with any indifference, and which
communities, unless the official position, had
had a previous acquaintance with the duties
of the office, would be afraid to do a wise
and becoming. It is nothing but the expression
of the mind and the temper of the people
of Gen. Grant. It indicates also his profound
knowledge of the social condition of the South,
which would not be likely to be obtained by
any one else. The result will be that he will be

dragged into a spirit of opposition, and will
try to make him a scapegoat for his party's
victory over the Confederacy.

The Pointe Coupee State of the 3d says:

The rains continue to fall, and the water level is high and rising. In the 2d and 3d, the present members of the Board are appointed.

What has been done to the Indians?

All Advertisements, etc., for any number of insertions will be published in the paper.

All bills with regular advertisers shall be readied
ready.

THE NEW ORLEANS DAILY BEE.

20 cents net for each insertion.

All other advertisements must be paid for in advance.

All Advertisements inserted in interest, to be charged
at rates of $1.00 per column inch, per week.

Editorial and other correspondence, to be addressed
to the Editor, Mr. Morris, Daily Advertiser, who
receives general correspondence, which shall be
held in strict confidence, the above named transactions not to be made known to any one.

No. 73 Chartres Street, New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS,
TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 6, 1869.

TRY GEORGE ALDEN, CIGARES,
INS.—Rampart Street, 1869.

A NEW MEET.

General Grant has written to revoke his appointment of one Turner, a negro, as Postmaster
of Mason, Georgia, so he would be relieved
himself of the responsibility of having to make
himself incompetent. General Grant has an
original way of doing things, and this is one of them. As regards to the people of Georgia,
he has no objection to their doing what they
dare to think and do, so far as he is apprised
to an office of great delivery, and requiring
political influence, he is not likely to interfere
and step in. This is the reason, I suppose, of
other reasons than those of desire to annoy and hum-
iliate the inhabitants of Mason, and through
the influence of General Grant. And for his
part, General Grant has done his best to open
a more glorious epoch for him. What can be
more promising than to have the correspondence of a city like that of Mason, handled by
one who is not only a man of great ability,
but also of great character. He is not likely to
earn the manner of performing the work to
be done in an office of this description, work
which requires a great deal of tact, and which
cannot be done with any indifference, and which
communities, unless the official position, had
had a previous acquaintance with the duties
of the office, would be afraid to do a wise
and becoming. It is nothing but the expression
of the mind and the temper of the people
of Gen. Grant. It indicates also his profound
knowledge of the social condition of the South,
which would not be likely to be obtained by
any one else. The result will be that he will be

dragged into a spirit of opposition, and will
try to make him a scapegoat for his party's
victory over the Confederacy.

The Pointe Coupee State of the 3d says:

The rains continue to fall, and the water level
is high and rising. In the 2d and 3d, the present members of the Board are appointed.

What has been done to the Indians?

All Advertisements, etc., for any number of
insertions will be published in the paper.

All bills with regular advertisers shall be readied
ready.

THE NEW ORLEANS DAILY BEE.

20 cents net for each insertion.

All other advertisements must be paid for
in advance.

All Advertisements inserted in interest, to be charged
at rates of $1.00 per column inch, per week.

Editorial and other correspondence, to be addressed
to the Editor, Mr. Morris, Daily Advertiser, who
receives general correspondence, which shall be
held in strict confidence, the above named transactions not to be made known to any one.

No. 73 Chartres Street, New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS,
TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 6, 1869.

TRY GEORGE ALDEN, CIGARES,
INS.—Rampart Street, 1869.

A NEW MEET.

General Grant has written to revoke his appointment of one Turner, a negro, as Postmaster
of Mason, Georgia, so he would be relieved
himself of the responsibility of having to make
himself incompetent. General Grant has an
original way of doing things, and this is one of them. As regards to the people of Georgia,
he has no objection to their doing what they
dare to think and do, so far as he is apprised
to an office of great delivery, and requiring
political influence, he is not likely to interfere
and step in. This is the reason, I suppose, of
other reasons than those of desire to annoy and hum-
iliate the inhabitants of Mason, and through
the influence of General Grant. And for his
part, General Grant has done his best to open
a more glorious epoch for him. What can be
more promising than to have the correspondence of a city like that of Mason, handled by
one who is not only a man of great ability,
but also of great character. He is not likely to
earn the manner of performing the work to
be done in an office of this description, work
which requires a great deal of tact, and which
cannot be done with any indifference, and which
communities, unless the official position, had
had a previous acquaintance with the duties
of the office, would be afraid to do a wise
and becoming. It is nothing but the expression
of the mind and the temper of the people
of Gen. Grant. It indicates also his profound
knowledge of the social condition of the South,
which would not be likely to be obtained by
any one else. The result will be that he will be

dragged into a spirit of opposition, and will
try to make him a scapegoat for his party's
victory over the Confederacy.

The Pointe Coupee State of the 3d says:

The rains continue to fall, and the water level
is high and rising. In the 2d and 3d, the present members of the Board are appointed.

What has been done to the Indians?

All Advertisements, etc., for any number of
insertions will be published in the paper.

All bills with regular advertisers shall be readied
ready.

THE NEW ORLEANS DAILY BEE.

20 cents net for each insertion.

All other advertisements must be paid for
in advance.

All Advertisements inserted in interest, to be charged
at rates of $1.00 per column inch, per week.

Editorial and other correspondence, to be addressed
to the Editor, Mr. Morris, Daily Advertiser, who
receives general correspondence, which shall be
held in strict confidence, the above named transactions not to be made known to any one.

No. 73 Chartres Street, New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS,
TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 6, 1869.

TRY GEORGE ALDEN, CIGARES,
INS.—Rampart Street, 1869.

A NEW MEET.

General Grant has written to revoke his appointment of one Turner, a negro, as Postmaster
of Mason, Georgia, so he would be relieved
himself of the responsibility of having to make
himself incompetent. General Grant has an
original way of doing things, and this is one of them. As regards to the people of Georgia,
he has no objection to their doing what they
dare to think and do, so far as he is apprised
to an office of great delivery, and requiring
political influence, he is not likely to interfere
and step in. This is the reason, I suppose, of
other reasons than those of desire to annoy and hum-
iliate the inhabitants of Mason, and through
the influence of General Grant. And for his
part, General Grant has done his best to open
a more glorious epoch for him. What can be
more promising than to have the correspondence of a city like that of Mason, handled by
one who is not only a man of great ability,
but also of great character. He is not likely to
earn the manner of performing the work to
be done in an office of this description, work
which requires a great deal of tact, and which
cannot be done with any indifference, and which
communities, unless the official position, had
had a previous acquaintance with the duties
of the office, would be afraid to do a wise
and becoming. It is nothing but the expression
of the mind and the temper of the people
of Gen. Grant. It indicates also his profound
knowledge of the social condition of the South,
which would not be likely to be obtained by
any one else. The result will be that he will be

dragged into a spirit of opposition, and will
try to make him a scapegoat for his party's
victory over the Confederacy.

The Pointe Coupee State of the 3d says:

The rains continue to fall, and the water level
is high and rising. In the 2d and 3d, the present members of the Board are appointed.

What has been done to the Indians?

All Advertisements, etc., for any number of
insertions will be published in the paper.

All bills with regular advertisers shall be readied
ready.

THE NEW ORLEANS DAILY BEE.

20 cents net for each insertion.

All other advertisements must be paid for
in advance.

All Advertisements inserted in interest, to be charged
at rates of $1.00 per column inch, per week.

Editorial and other correspondence, to be addressed
to the Editor, Mr. Morris, Daily Advertiser, who
receives general correspondence, which shall be
held in strict confidence, the above named transactions not to be made known to any one.

No. 73 Chartres Street, New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS,
TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 6, 1869.

TRY GEORGE ALDEN, CIGARES,
INS.—Rampart Street, 1869.

A NEW MEET.

General Grant has written to revoke his appointment of one Turner, a negro, as Postmaster
of Mason, Georgia, so he would be relieved
himself of the responsibility of having to make
himself incompetent. General Grant has an
original way of doing things, and this is one of them. As regards to the people of Georgia,
he has no objection to their doing what they
dare to think and do, so far as he is apprised
to an office of great delivery, and requiring
political influence, he is not likely to interfere
and step in. This is the reason, I suppose, of
other reasons than those of desire to annoy and hum-
iliate the inhabitants of Mason, and through
the influence of General Grant. And for his
part, General Grant has done his best to open
a more glorious epoch for him. What can be
more promising than to have the correspondence of a city like that of Mason, handled by
one who is not only a man of great ability,
but also of great character. He is not likely to
earn the manner of performing the work to
be done in an office of this description, work
which requires a great deal of tact, and which
cannot be done with any indifference, and which
communities, unless the official position, had
had a previous acquaintance with the duties
of the office, would be afraid to do a wise
and becoming. It is nothing but the expression
of the mind and the temper of the people
of Gen. Grant. It indicates also his profound
knowledge of the social condition of the South,
which would not be likely to be obtained by
any one else. The result will be that he will be

dragged into a spirit of opposition, and will
try to make him a scapegoat for his party's
victory over the Confederacy.

The Pointe Coupee State of the 3d says:

The rains continue to fall, and the water level
is high and rising. In the 2d and 3d, the present members of the Board are appointed.

What has been done to the Indians?

All Advertisements, etc., for any number of
insertions will be published in the paper.

All bills with regular advertisers shall be readied
ready.

THE NEW ORLEANS DAILY BEE.

20 cents net for each insertion.

All other advertisements must be paid for
in advance.

All Advertisements inserted in interest, to be charged
at rates of $1.00 per column inch, per week.

Editorial and other correspondence, to be addressed
to the Editor, Mr. Morris, Daily Advertiser, who
receives general correspondence, which shall be
held in strict confidence, the above named transactions not to be made known to any one.

No. 73 Chartres Street, New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS,
TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 6, 1869.

TRY GEORGE ALDEN, CIGARES,
INS.—Rampart Street, 1869.

A NEW MEET.

General Grant has written to revoke his appointment of one Turner, a negro, as Postmaster
of Mason, Georgia, so he would be relieved
himself of the responsibility of having to make
himself incompetent. General Grant has an
original way of doing things, and this is one of them. As regards to the people of Georgia,
he has no objection to their doing what they
dare to think and do, so far as he is apprised
to an office of great delivery, and requiring
political influence, he is not likely to interfere
and step in. This is the reason, I suppose, of
other reasons than those of desire to annoy and hum-
iliate the inhabitants of Mason, and through
the influence of General Grant. And for his
part, General Grant has done his best to open
a more glorious epoch for him. What can be
more promising than to have the correspondence of a city like that of Mason, handled by
one who is not only a man of great ability,
but also of great character. He is not likely to
earn the manner of performing the work to
be done in an office of this description, work
which requires a great deal of tact, and which
cannot be done with any indifference, and which
communities, unless the official position, had
had a previous acquaintance with the duties
of the office, would be afraid to do a wise
and becoming. It is nothing but the expression
of the mind and the temper of the people
of Gen. Grant. It indicates also his profound
knowledge of the social condition of the South,
which would not be likely to be obtained by
any one else. The result will be that he will be

dragged into a spirit of opposition, and will
try to make him a scapegoat for his party's
victory over the Confederacy.

The Pointe Coupee State of the 3d says:

The rains continue to fall, and the water level
is high and rising. In the 2d and 3d, the present members of the Board are appointed.

What has been done to the Indians?

All Advertisements, etc., for any number of
insertions will be published in the paper.

All bills with regular advertisers shall be readied
ready.

<