The Result.

When we penned the paragraph that precedes the election returns on Monday night, we had, certainly, no idea of the extent of the Democratic success. It exceeds any thing ever recorded in the annals of political contests in this country. It is utterly overwhelming, without parallel. We are glad of it, for it will sweeten its bitterness. Locofocoism lies grovelling in the dust, astounded at its overthrow and crushed by a defeat alike unexpected and tremendous. The result must be hailed by all Democrats as a glorious triumph over the Locofocomongers. In the First Municipality, Gaudet, independent, beats Rawes, Locofoco, by some two hundred votes; in the Second, Peychaud, W. H. has nearly a thousand majority over Hewlett, L. F.; in the Third Municipality, St. Avezac, the present Recorder, is returned without opposition. The Genesis Council will consist of eight Whigs and four Locofocos. The Council of the First Municipality is composed of seven Whigs and two Locofocos; that of the Second is unanimously Whig, and that of the Third Democratic. Every where, except in Carrollton and Lafayette, the Whigs have swept the board by enormous majorities. The vote polled is extraordinary large, and proves plainly that both parties were actively at work, doing their best—the Democrats triumphed in the Second Municipality, and the Whigs in the First, despite the efforts of the Locofocos to defeat them. The Democrats have carried the State by a majority of 15,000, and have elected their Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Congressmen, Senators, Representatives, and Judges, with scarcely an exception. The Whigs have elected Gen. Taylor, Governor Johnson, and a majority of the Congressmen, Senators, Representatives, and Judges in the State. Wherever the Whigs are elected by majorities, they are large; but the Democrats have carried the State by a majority of 15,000. Every where, except in Louisiana, the Whig party has a majority of votes, as compared with the vote cast for Governor last year. In Louisiana, the Whig party has a majority of votes, as compared with the vote cast for Governor last year, of 1,000. In New-Orleans, the Whigs are elected by majorities, ranging from 200 to 1,000. Whenever the Whigs are defeated, they are defeated by Locofocos, and not by Whigs. Whenever the Whigs are defeated, they are defeated by majorities, ranging from 1,000 to 15,000. Whenever the Whigs are defeated, they are defeated by a majority of votes, as compared with the vote cast for Governor last year, of from 1,000 to 15,000. Whenever the Whigs are defeated, they are defeated by a reduction of our majority, as compared with the vote cast for Governor last year, of from 1,000 to 15,000. It may be safely asserted that wherever the Whigs have been defeated, they have been defeated by Locofocos, and not by Whigs.

We congratulate the freemen of New Orleans upon the signal rebuke they have administered to demagogues and rabid partizans, and we rejoice that by the noble efforts they have escaped the threaten of a faction that counts upon Jacobin success and exults in its success. Thank Heaven, such means and appliances cannot be practically employed in order to intimidate, corrupt, or demand the suffrages. The honest and high-hearted denizens of New-Orleans will not give countenance to associations of the First Municipality, Gaudet, independent, beats Rawes, Locofoco, by some two hundred votes; in the Second, Peychaud, W
