

THE BEE.
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED DAILY.
JEROME SAYON,
SUNDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 20, 1832.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

ANDREW JACKSON.
FOR THE PRESIDENT.

MARTIN VAN BUREN.
FOR THE VICE-PRESIDENT.

ELECTORS
OF THE PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT.

First District—JOHN B. FLAHERTY.

Second District—THOMAS W. SCOTT.

Third District—WENDELL LADDY.

Fourth District—ALEXANDER MOUTON.

Fifth District—GRANVILLE H. OVERTON.

Plaistow, Boston, had explained the nomination of elector of president, and his president, account were independent, the central republican committee have nominated general WALTER H. OVERTON, in his place.

GOVERNOR.
J. B. WILSON.

Power Wm.—BOSTONIAN MEETING.

The citizens of the State, friendly to the re-election of ANDREW JACKSON, are requested to assemble at Richardson's Hotel, THIS EVENING, 29th instant, at 6 o'clock, for the purpose of adopting suitable measures for the support of the Democratic Electoral Ticket.

SCHOOL.—A similar meeting will take place at Mr. J. M. Mercer, Bayard room, at the ancient college, on Tuesday evening, at half past 6 o'clock P.M.

By yesterday's northern mail there were papers from New York to the evening of the 18th, Philadelphia of the 16th, Washington of the 16th, Charleston, (it being Sunday), Boston. They contain no news.

The northern mail of Saturday failed from beyond Charleston. The papers from the city, are of the 19th instant; and from Savannah of the 19th; from Mobile—none.

A meeting of the republicans of the third ward was held in pursuance of notice on Saturday evening, at the Tongue College house. Mr. J. F. Wilson was in the chair; Mr. Fernandez was secretary, and Mr. J. Mercer, by invitation, assisted as translator. Resolutions were adopted, by a committee, through Mr. J. Gould Vioce, which we shall publish to-morrow. This meeting was addressed in a strain of thrilling eloquence by Mr. Mercer. Every thing was harmonious and enthusiastic.

Did Mr. Boulingriff wait upon the "other Mr. Douglass," who was named by the Clayites upon their committee? If so, what did he think? Will slaves have the same豪氣 to explain?

The Clayites ought to be more cautious when "there be two Douglasses." Dromo of Ephesus did not relish the trick which he received at the hands of the mistress of Dromo of Syracuse; so said Mr. Wilson, the Pittsburgh hatter, touch Mr. Studd's check for $600, which was intended for Mr. Wilson, the editor of the Pittsburgh Advocate, although he was tantalized with thought of it. Who is the Mr. Douglass, who is quite another man? from the one who figured in the Boe as a great Jacksonian? a few days since, as well as in the official report of the 8th of January? Do they know?

Conflicting events are already casting their shadows before and giving the assurance of what is to happen in November. Wm is elected governor of Pennsylvania; and Lucas of Ohio. The idea of a vacuum in certain states does not affect our fearsful shadows upon the horizon of a political imagination, that returns from the state, received posteriorly, have conjured up before the frightened vision of the Clayites. They may as well dislodge gamekeepers, unless, indeed, they intend to prove that the republicans are in the assurance that Andrew Jackson will be re-elected.

In speaking of the West Feliciana railroad, a few days since, we took occasion to advert to a project that has been conceived in the two Carolinas, Louisiana and Tennessee, of a rail-road to effect the navigable waters of East Tennessee with those of the Atlantic, and to suggest Bayou Sarah as the least eligible point of its termination upon the Mississippi. We are strengthened in the views which we then advanced, by having since read the proceedings of a delegation of delegates from the states of North Carolina and Tennessee, which assembled at Asheville, (N.C.) to aid us, for the purpose devising the means of effectuating so magnificient an enterprise.

A resolution was adopted to the effect "that the convention had obtained satisfactory evidence of the practicability of constructing a rail-road from the navigable waters of East Tennessee, so as to pass by Rock Point in North Carolina and thence to Charlestown; and they recommended to the citizens of those states the adoption of such measures as will secure the early accomplishment of this great means of commercial connection." Committees were also appointed, in each of the above states, to push forward the enterprise. It will thus be seen that our Feliciana railroad, if extended, via Liberty, (Madison or Ellaville) in Mississippi, to Burnt Corn Spring in Alabama,—secure that a considerable, in comparison with its importance of the object, will be effected every facility—would connect with the projected enterprise of our fellow citizens of Carolina, Tennessee and Alabama, and form an uninterrupted chain of inland communication between this city and Washington. Is the project chimerical?—These are those of our living, who will witness its accomplishment.

The state subsidies $60,000 dollars to the West Feliciana rail-road, instead of $10,000, as we inadvertently stated, on a former occasion. The balance of the stock is to be taken by the substantial planters of the parish, & of West Feliciana and Williamson, (Mississippi,) through whom the road is to be constructed. Under such auspices the enterprise cannot fail of being successful.

The board of health have printed precautionary instructions to be used during the exciting spasmodic cholera in the city. Having found out in our exchange papers, which will perhaps be found quite as instructive, we hasten to give them an insertion. We are ignorant as what access they owe these patencies:

All sales of logwood and gooseberry Champagne should be prohibited under the severest penalties.

If all money makers, and magnifiers of reports, should be locked up in the graveyard, until the alarm has gone by—after which they might be permitted to multiply the number of copies which claim there, ad infinitum.

As migration decomposes the temper and irritates the negro, all the lawyers who will endeavor to promote favorable arrangements between their clients, should be banished, meanwhile, to Africa.

"All scolds, termagins, speech making politicians, disputatious physicians, should be confined in a lunatic asylum, under the direction of the board of health, until they promote one of the "profoundly symptomatic" in the mean time."

V. Discrepancies in made to be an efficacious preventive, every man, woman and child should endeavor to look as much like the citizens of the 6th ward, as possible; and like him of the 6th, as they can.

VI. Short-pitched and low bows should be discarded as far as possible, bearing on the subject.

As it is the part of wisdom to profit by the experience of others, and as the journals of those cities in which the cholera has raged, have spoken in the highest terms of the foregoing precautionary instructions, we trust that "the example of the board of health appointed to draft recommendations to the citizens" will take them into their serious consideration.

The people of the territory of Michigan lately authorized their several districts, to give their votes on the question, whether they will form a confederation of state government for the purpose of being admitted into the union as an independent state. There is little doubt that the decision will be in the affirmative.

Saturday's western mail brought the first number of a new paper, entitled the "Mississippi Journal," without whose appearance in the offices of Messrs. Smith and Weller, in office is James K. Cook, late of the "Advertiser," who has espoused politics, and promised to make a paper that "shall be useful to the whole people of the state of Mississippi." He has certainly made a good beginning; he is now in full agreement with a delighted colleague of Messrs. Cook and Weller, and with a zealous editor of the "Advertiser," who has agreed to make a paper that "shall be useful to the whole people of the state of Mississippi." This is probably the best paper that has ever been published in both branches.

The Sherman Report of the 16th Inst., says—"the number of slaves and representatives in the lower legislature is considerably increased, that the negroes have a decided majority in both branches."

The schooner South-Carolina has arrived at Savannah from Liverpool (London), bringing some of the "Jameson's Court" to the 22d ult. Inigo. These papers cover the intelligence that the people of that island were still in a very divided and divided state, but at Port-of-Prince, situated within a most populous population, the bold and daring general Sir Philip, the popular, had fled from the island; and that factions and insurrections still rife in Colonia. We remain to adduce the extracts which we make from the "Spanish George" of the 20th instant, for the details of those several items of intelligence.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.
BALTIMORE, October 16th.

Accounts received through a private channel enables us to state that grounds had been received at Harrisburg, yesterday morning, from all the counties of Pennsylvania, from which it appears that Mr. Wolfe's majority is 770. Four-tenths of the members of congress were to be Jackson, and four-tenths were to be Van Buren. Any thing but Jackson, but it is difficult to give this a name, as indeed they know themselves by what name they would like to be called.

Since the above was written, we received the following:

The Edinburgh Chronicle—Extra—dated on Sunday last, at 11 o'clock a.m., contains the only intelligence that we have received from that city—

THE PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

Mr. Plaistow, Boston, had explained the nomination of elector of president, and his president, account were independent, the central republican committee have nominated general WALTER H. OVERTON, in his place.

GOVERNOR.

Wm. Wm.—BOSTONIAN MEETING.

The citizens of the State, friendly to the re-election of ANDREW JACKSON, are requested to assemble at Richardson's Hotel, THIS EVENING,

29th instant, at 6 o'clock, for the purpose of adopting suitable measures for the support of the Democratic Electoral Ticket.

SCHOOL.—A similar meeting will take place at Mr. J. M. Mercer, Bayard room, at the ancient college, on Tuesday evening, at half past 6 o'clock P.M.

By yesterday's northern mail there were papers from New York to the evening of the 18th, Philadelphia of the 16th, Washington of the 16th, Charleston, (it being Sunday), Boston. They contain no news.

The northern mail of Saturday failed from beyond Charleston. The papers from the city, are of the 19th instant; and from Savannah of the 19th; from Mobile—none.

A meeting of the republicans of the third ward was held in pursuance of notice on Saturday evening, at the Tongue College house, Mr. J. F. Wilson was in the chair; Mr. Fernandez was secretary, and Mr. J. Mercer, by invitation, assisted as translator. Resolutions were adopted, by a committee, through Mr. J. Gould Vioce, which we shall publish to-morrow. This meeting was addressed in a strain of thrilling eloquence by Mr. Mercer. Every thing was harmonious and enthusiastic.

Did Mr. Boulingriff wait upon the "other Mr. Douglass," who was named by the Clayites upon their committee?

The Clayites ought to be more cautious when "there be two Douglasses." Dromo of Ephesus did not relish the trick which he received at the hands of the mistress of Dromo of Syracuse; so said Mr. Wilson, the Pittsburgh hatter, touch Mr. Studd's check for $600, which was intended for Mr. Wilson, the editor of the Pittsburgh Advocate, although he was tantalized with thought of it. Who is the Mr. Douglass, who is quite another man? from the one who figured in the Boe as a great Jacksonian? a few days since, as well as in the official report of the 8th of January? Do they know?

Conflicting events are already casting their shadows before and giving the assurance of what is to happen in November. Wm is elected governor of Pennsylvania; and Lucas of Ohio. The idea of a vacuum in certain states does not affect our fearsful shadows upon the horizon of a political imagination, that returns from the state, received posteriorly, have conjured up before the frightened vision of the Clayites. They may as well dislodge gamekeepers, unless, indeed, they intend to prove that the republicans are in the assurance that Andrew Jackson will be re-elected.

Did Mr. Boulingriff wait upon the "other Mr. Douglass," who was named by the Clayites upon their committee?

The Clayites ought to be more cautious when "there be two Douglasses." Dromo of Ephesus did not relish the trick which he received at the hands of the mistress of Dromo of Syracuse; so said Mr. Wilson, the Pittsburgh hatter, touch Mr. Studd's check for $600, which was intended for Mr. Wilson, the editor of the Pittsburgh Advocate, although he was tantalized with thought of it. Who is the Mr. Douglass, who is quite another man? from the one who figured in the Boe as a great Jacksonian? a few days since, as well as in the official report of the 8th of January? Do they know?

Conflicting events are already casting their shadows before and giving the assurance of what is to happen in November. Wm is elected governor of Pennsylvania; and Lucas of Ohio. The idea of a vacuum in certain states does not affect our fearsful shadows upon the horizon of a political imagination, that returns from the state, received posteriorly, have conjured up before the frightened vision of the Clayites. They may as well dislodge gamekeepers, unless, indeed, they intend to prove that the republicans are in the assurance that Andrew Jackson will be re-elected.

In speaking of the West Feliciana railroad, a few days since, we took occasion to advert to a project that has been conceived in the two Carolinas, Louisiana and Tennessee, of a rail-road to effect the navigable waters of East Tennessee with those of the Atlantic, and to suggest Bayou Sarah as the least eligible point of its termination upon the Mississippi. We are strengthened in the views which we then advanced, by having since read the proceedings of a delegation of delegates from the states of North Carolina and Tennessee, which assembled at Asheville, (N.C.) to aid us, for the purpose devising the means of effectuating so magnificient an enterprise.

A resolution was adopted to the effect "that the convention had obtained satisfactory evidence of the practicability of constructing a rail-road from the navigable waters of East Tennessee, so as to pass by Rock Point in North Carolina and thence to Charlestown; and they recommended to the citizens of those states the adoption of such measures as will secure the early accomplishment of this great means of commercial connection." Committees were also appointed, in each of the above states, to push forward the enterprise. It will thus be seen that our Feliciana railroad, if extended, via Liberty, (Madison or Ellaville) in Mississippi, to Burnt Corn Spring in Alabama,—secure that a considerable, in comparison with its importance of the object, will be effected every facility—would connect with the projected enterprise of our fellow citizens of Carolina, Tennessee and Alabama, and form an uninterrupted chain of inland communication between this city and Washington. Is the project chimerical?—These are those of our living, who will witness its accomplishment.

The state subsidies $60,000 dollars to the West Feliciana rail-road, instead of $10,000, as we inadvertently stated, on a former occasion. The balance of the stock is to be taken by the substantial planters of the parish, & of West Feliciana and Williamson, (Mississippi,) through whom the road is to be constructed. Under such auspices the enterprise cannot fail of being successful.

The board of health have printed precautionary instructions to be used during the exciting spasmodic cholera in the city. Having found out in our exchange papers, which will perhaps be found quite as instructive, we hasten to give them an insertion. We are ignorant as what access they owe these patencies:

All sales of logwood and gooseberry Champagne should be prohibited under the severest penalties.

If all money makers, and magnifiers of reports, should be locked up in the graveyard, until the alarm has gone by—after which they might be permitted to multiply the number of copies which claim there, ad infinitum.

As migration decomposes the temper and irritates the negro, all the lawyers who will endeavor to promote favorable arrangements between their clients, should be banished, meanwhile, to Africa.

"All scolds, termagins, speech making politicians, disputatious physicians, should be confined in a lunatic asylum, under the direction of the board of health appointed to draft recommendations to the citizens" will take them into their serious consideration.

The people of the territory of Michigan lately authorized their several districts, to give their votes on the question, whether they will form a confederation of state government for the purpose of being admitted into the union as an independent state. There is little doubt that the decision will be in the affirmative.

Saturday's western mail brought the first number of a new paper, entitled the "Mississippi Journal," without whose appearance in the offices of Messrs. Smith and Weller, in office is James K. Cook, late of the "Advertiser," who has espoused politics, and promised to make a paper that "shall be useful to the whole people of the state of Mississippi." He has certainly made a good beginning; he is now in full agreement with a delighted colleague of Messrs. Cook and Weller, and with a zealous editor of the "Advertiser," who has agreed to make a paper that "shall be useful to the whole people of the state of Mississippi." This is probably the best paper that has ever been published in both branches.

GOVERNOR.

Wm. Wm.—BOSTONIAN MEETING.

The citizens of the State, friendly to the re-election of ANDREW JACKSON, are requested to assemble at Richardson's Hotel, THIS EVENING,

29th instant, at 6 o'clock, for the purpose of adopting suitable measures for the support of the Democratic Electoral Ticket.

SCHOOL.—A similar meeting will take place at Mr. J. M. Mercer, Bayard room, at the ancient college, on Tuesday evening, at half past 6 o'clock P.M.

By yesterday's northern mail there were papers from New York to the evening of the 18th, Philadelphia of the 16th, Washington of the 16th, Charleston, (it being Sunday), Boston. They contain no news.

The northern mail of Saturday failed from beyond Charleston. The papers from the city, are of the 19th instant; and from Savannah of the 19th; from Mobile—none.

A meeting of the republicans of the third ward was held in pursuance of notice on Saturday evening, at the Tongue College house, Mr. J. F. Wilson was in the chair; Mr. Fernandez was secretary, and Mr. J. Mercer, by invitation, assisted as translator. Resolutions were adopted, by a committee, through Mr. J. Gould Vioce, which we shall publish to-morrow. This meeting was addressed in a strain of thrilling eloquence by Mr. Mercer. Every thing was harmonious and enthusiastic.

Did Mr. Boulingriff wait upon the "other Mr. Douglass," who was named by the Clayites upon their committee?

The Clayites ought to be more cautious when "there be two Douglasses." Dromo of Ephesus did not relish the trick which he received at the hands of the mistress of Dromo of Syracuse; so said Mr. Wilson, the Pittsburgh hatter, touch Mr. Studd's check for $600, which was intended for Mr. Wilson, the editor of the Pittsburgh Advocate, although he was tantalized with thought of it. Who is the Mr. Douglass, who is quite another man? from the one who figured in the Boe as a great Jacksonian? a few days since, as well as in the official report of the 8th of January? Do they know?

Conflicting events are already casting their shadows before and giving the assurance of what is to happen in November. Wm is elected governor of Pennsylvania; and Lucas of Ohio. The idea of a vacuum in certain states does not affect our fearsful shadows upon the horizon of a political imagination, that returns from the state, received posteriorly, have conjured up before the frightened vision of the Clayites. They may as well dislodge gamekeepers, unless, indeed, they intend to prove that the republicans are in the assurance that Andrew Jackson will be re-elected.

In speaking of the West Feliciana railroad, a few days since, we took occasion to advert to a project that has been conceived in the two Carolinas, Louisiana and Tennessee, of a rail-road to effect the navigable waters of East Tennessee with those of the Atlantic, and to suggest Bayou Sarah as the least eligible point of its termination upon the Mississippi. We are strengthened in the views which we then advanced, by having since read the proceedings of a delegation of delegates from the states of North Carolina and Tennessee, which assembled at Asheville, (N.C.) to aid us, for the purpose devising the means of effectuating so magnificient an enterprise.

A resolution was adopted to the effect "that the convention had obtained satisfactory evidence of the practicability of constructing a rail-road from the navigable waters of East Tennessee, so as to pass by Rock Point in North Carolina and thence to Charlestown; and they recommended to the citizens of those states the adoption of such measures as will secure the early accomplishment of this great means of commercial connection." Committees were also appointed, in each of the above states, to push forward the enterprise. It will thus be seen that our Feliciana railroad, if extended, via Liberty, (Madison or Ellaville) in Mississippi, to Burnt Corn Spring in Alabama,—secure that a considerable, in comparison with its importance of the object, will be effected every facility—would connect with the projected enterprise of our fellow citizens of Carolina, Tennessee and Alabama, and form an uninterrupted chain of inland communication between this city and Washington. Is the project chimerical?—These are those of our living, who will witness its accomplishment.

The state subsidies $60,000 dollars to the West Feliciana rail-road, instead of $10,000, as we inadvertently stated, on a former occasion. The balance of the stock is to be taken by the substantial planters of the parish, & of West Feliciana and Williamson, (Mississippi,) through whom the road is to be constructed. Under such auspices the enterprise cannot fail of being successful.

The board of health have printed precautionary instructions to be used during the exciting spasmodic cholera in the city. Having found out in our exchange papers, which will perhaps be found quite as instructive, we hasten to give them an insertion. We are ignorant as what access they owe these patencies:

All sales of logwood and gooseberry Champagne should be prohibited under the severest penalties.

If all money makers, and magnifiers of reports, should be locked up in the graveyard, until the alarm has gone by